A Word to Persons in Delicate Health
DR. HOLMAN'S BITTERS,
Compounded from the Original Recipe of
DR. CHARLES HOLMAN, M.D.

THESE well known and much used BITTERS are composed of Roots and Herbs, such as Sarsaparilla, Pyrola, Yellow Dock, Dandelion, Wild Cherry, Prickly Ash, &c. highly prized for their

HEALING, STRENGTHENING AND RENOVATING PROPERTIES.

They are remarkable for giving a tone to the Digestive Organs, assisting Nature and preventing the various Bowel Complaints, so frequent and so dangerous during Summer and Autumn.

No Family should be without them.

Price 25 cents for a single Bottle, or five bottles for one dollar. Quite the cheapest as well as the best Medicine that can be used.

Dr. J. F. HOLMAN, Proprietor, Boston, Mass. Wholesale and Retail Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, Apothecary, Corner of State and Pleasant streets.

Also, for sale by R. K. Oxford, S. W. Moses, W. B. Laskey and Lafayette Laighton. je22 3mis

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep!" How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE,

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st., opp. Kilby st., Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 25 years' practice, extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

G. W. STONE'S

ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to this invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having made his choice, no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: for Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both GRAND and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or parity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, full like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and other improvements, enable pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor. Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address F. X BRENAN,

Morning Chronicle.

RAPID WRITERS.—Speed in composition is a questionable advantage. Poetic history records two names which may represent the swift and thoughtful pen—Lope de Vega and Milton. We see one pouring out verses more rapidly than a secretary could write them;—the other building up in the watches of the night, a few majestic lines; one leaving his treasures to be compressed into a single volume; the other to spread abundantly over forty six quartos; one gained 15 pounds; the other a hundred thousand ducats; one sitting at the door of his house, when the sun shone, in a coarse coat of gray cloth, and visited only by admiring visitors from foreign countries; the other followed by crowds wherever he appeared, while even the children shouted after him with delight. It is only since the earth has fallen on both, that the fame and honors of the Spaniard and the Englishman have been changed. He who finished a comedy before breakfast, now lies motionless in his small niche of monumental biography; and he who long choosing, began late, is walking up and down in his shining robes, and with his laurel round his head, in the cities of many lands; having no home but a welcome in every devout heart, and upon every learned tongue of the Christian world.

LEVEL OF THE TWO OCEANS.—The popular notion which has so long prevailed, that the Atlantic Ocean was many feet higher than the Pacific at the Isthmus of Panama, has been formaly exploded. For a long period of years the alleged discrepancy in height was generally believed. It was variously estimated at from fifteen to twenty-five feet; and whenever the idea of a canal across the neck of land which separates the two oceans was made the subject of discussion, we were treated to grave and learned speculations upon the effect of a sufficient quantity of water passing from the Atlantic into the Pacific to bring them to the same level. One scientific writer, we remember, maintained that the Gulf of Mexico would be lowered sufficiently to drain the swamp lands bordering on the Lower Mississippi, and thus improve the sanitary condition of New Orleans. But hopes of that kind can no longer be cherished.—Col. Totten has decided, after a series of tidal observations taken in Panama and in Aspinwall Bay, and connected by accurate levels along the line of railroad, that the mean height of the two oceans is exactly the same, although, owing to the difference in the rise of tide of both places, there are of course times when one of the oceans is higher or lower than the other; but their mean level, that is to say, their height at a half tide, is now proved to be exactly the same.—Buffalo Commercial.

Salt River, where it debouches into the Ohio river, is not more than fifty or sixty yards in breadth, but very deep. It is never fordable, even in the dryest season; and being navigable for fourteen miles above the mouth had not been bridged above this point. We descended its steep and difficult banks, embarked our carriages on a flat ferry-boat, and were conveyed across. The view looking up the river was very beautiful. Tall elms and sycamores clothed the banks, dropping their boughs almost to the water, and forming a vista of foliage through which the stream curved out of sight between wooded hills. I long to be rowed up it. While on the spot I took occasion to enquire the derivation of the slang political phrase, 'Rowed up Salt River,' and succeeded in discovering it. Formerly there were extensive salt works on the river, a short distance from its mouth. The laborers employed in them were a set of athletic belligerent fellows, who soon became noted far and wide for their achievements in the pugilistic line. Hence it became a common thing among the boatmen of the Ohio, when one of their number was refractory, to say to him, "We'll row you up Salt River"—where of course, the bully salt men would have the handling of him. By a natural figure of speech the expression was applied to political candidates, first I believe in the Presidential campaign of 1840.—Bayard Taylor.

INTERESTING TO ZOOLOGISTS.—For some weeks, Mr Wm. Dwyer of Paxton, has missed numbers of his barn yard fowls in a manner quite unaccountable. He watched in vain for the depredator of his hen roost, and finally concluded to set a trap for him. Accordingly he did so, and upon going to his barn on Sunday morning last, found the midnight robber caught securely by the leg. It was a curious animal indeed, and such an one as has not been before seen in this part of the country, according to the recollection of the 'oldest inhabitant.' Its head presents the appearance of a fox, its body is striped like that of a coon, while its teeth resemble those of a cat. The body is about eighteen inches long, of a greyish color, and it swings a heavy, bushy tail, two feet in length. Some who have seen the animal think it is a fox martin, while others are quite certain it is not. Mr. Dwyer has the animal securely caged, for the purpose of giving all who wish, an opportunity to see it.

THE MILLING BUSINESS OF OSWEGO.—The Oswego Times states that there are in that city at the present time, sixteen flodring mills, with sixty-four run of stone, capable of manufacturing about ten thousand bbls. of flour per day. There is perhaps no point in the United States, or in the world, where the manufacture of flour is conducted upon so large a scale as in the city of Oswego. The facilities for handling grain at that port, are also extensive. The elevating capacity is about thirty-six thousand bbls. per hour, and the storage room equal to about two millions two hundred thousand bushels.

THE STATE FAIR.

MANCHESTER, Sept. 13, 1855.

The Annual Meeting of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society, was held last evening, at the large and elegant hall in Smyth's Block. The attendance of members was large, and considerable feeling was manifested in the selection of officers for the ensuing year. Matters of personal and local interest were brought in to prevent the re-election of Frederick Smyth as Treasurer of the Society. Many angry speeches were made, and there was some fear that the meeting would break up in confusion, when John Preston of New Ipswich, brought the company to their senses by relating the story of the man on the Mississippi steamboat, who played on the jackass. He made no personal application, leaving the audience to do that for themselves.

A ballot was then taken, and it was found that the old officers were re-elected, viz: N. B. Baker, President; James O. Adams, Secretary; and Frederick Smyth, Treasurer.

The wisdom of this decision is apparent to all who are not blinded by prejudice. It is acknowledged on all hands that to Messrs. Adams and Smythe in particular, is due the success of the various Fairs held under the auspices of the State Society.

The first day's business was remarkably good. The sum of $1800 was taken at the business office, for badges of membership and tickets of admission, which is a larger amount than was ever before taken on the opening day of the Fair.

The committees in the various departments attended to their business this morning.—Among the first on the ground, was the celebrated and much talked of Bread Committee. We, in the absence of friend Fuller of the Gazette, had the honor to be of the company to take cognizance of the various specimens of the "Staff of Life." Having made a corrupt bargain with the committee on Butter, Cheese and Honey, the examination was particularly faithful; the more so as the duty was attended to before breakfast. The first prize was given to Mrs. Robert Tilton of Londonderry. It is not often that such bread is seen on the festive board.

The committees have not yet made their reports, but we learn that Mr Wensell of Portsmouth, has been awarded a silver medal for best specimens of Book Binding, and a diploma for Porte Monnaies and Fancy Articles. These awards were well deserved.

This morning a great sale of stock was made by J. M. Whiton of Holderness. The prices were very low. About $1000 were realized from the sale.

This afternoon is devoted to the great Military display. The Orator, Hon. Charles B. Haddock of Hanover, will be escorted to the field by the Veteran Association, the City Guards of Manchester, and the Granite Guards of Concord. Mr. Haddock is celebrated as an orator. He will be succeeded by Hon. John M. Botts, of Va.

The Press is well represented here. Beside the Manchester editors, we see reporters of the Herald, Times, Journal and Ballou's Pictorial, of Boston; Dover Gazette; Nashua Telegraph; Concord Independent Democrat, and Lowell Vox Populi.

The attendance to-day is large, and the appearances are that as much money will be taken as on Wednesday. G.

HONOR TO WHOM HONOR.—In the midst of the prevailing pestilence and consequent panic at Portsmouth and Norfolk, in Virginia, some noble men, filling important places, stay and fulfil their duties—and die. Among them we notice Rev. James Chisholm, an episcopal minister, a native of Salem, Mass., who wrote a letter a few days ago to the clergy of the latter city, to notice the wants of the devoted places, next Sunday in their sermons. In the mean time he has died; and now the clergy will doubtless notice him and his request together.

Another noble man, Hunter Woodis, mayor of Norfolk, has fallen; and the testimony of all is, that he fell a sacrifice to his labors and toils in the midst of danger. The Boston Pilot states that he was a Catholic:—and we mention the two names together, for the purpose of saying, that true humanity and the highest forms of the christian life, belong exclusively to no sect—and that wherever we find good fruit,, we are quite sure it grew on a good tree.

Rev. Anthony Dibwell, of Norfolk, a Methodist minister, has also fallen at his post.

☞ A steam-engine in Newburyport carries the machinery in a comb-factory, and a machine-shop, and a run of stone have recently been attached for the purpose of grinding corn—two attempts to carry on the latter business alone, having failed. Twenty five men are employed in the comb factory.

GIPSY SWINDLING.

We have already given the gipsies a brief notice, but some further particulars of their late swindles may be interesting. A Limerick, Me., correspondent of the Portland Advertiser, states that Mr. Nicholas Pierce of Limerick, was last week swindled out of the sum of twelve hundred dollars, by an old woman belonging to a strolling company of vagrants said to be Gipsies, who had for some time encamped in his neighborhood. In the character of a fortune teller and a discoverer of lost or concealed treasures, she deluded him into the belief that a large sum of money ($4000) was hidden upon his premises, which he would discover and share with him if he would deposit the sum of twelve hundred dollars in a safe place for one week, which by some magic would enable her to find the whole pile. Though ordinarily a cautious and prudent man in his domestic economy—yet having too ready an ear for such a profitable investment—he listened to the wo an, and (borrowing the $1200 from a neighboring lawyer,) deposited the sum in a trunk in his sleeping room, keeping the key in his possession and entirely confident in its security. It was to remain untouched a week, when she would come and discover to him the hidden money, which would make him rich. At the expiration of a week, she came in the evening to his house and told him at once that he had looked at the money and broken the spell—this being the fact, he was more astonished and deluded than before, and promised to leave it another week. She then wished to count and arrange the money, and took away the key, enjoining upon him the strictest secrecy.

After the lapse of the week, the woman did not appear according to appointment, and he became impatient and broke open the trunk, and behold! in place of his bank bills he found a package of worthless old paper resembling the bills, which she had taken away before his own eyes the week previous. In the meantime the Gipsies had flitted away by night, no one knows where, but doubtless "over the border," having a week's start of the runners who are scouring the country in pursuit, leaving Mr Pierce a wiser but a sadder man.

It is said he went at once to his friend the lawyer, and desired him to secure himself on his farm.

This Gipsy family consisted of four persons, an old man and woman, and two girls from 16 to 20 years of age. They travelled with two wagons, two horses each—one an open baggage wagon, one of the horses of which was a large light red animal, thin and bony, light mane and tail—the other wagon a long painted canvass covered carriage, with a large dog under it.

It would seem that such a caravan,—two wagons, four horses, a man and woman, two girls and a big dog,—could be readily found, and easily apprehended.

BOSTON & MAINE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of this corporation was held at Haverhill on Thursday. The Directors were not chosen. Richard Jenness of this city called for a committee of investigation, and for an adjourned meeting. After a sharp debate and against much opposition, both these measures prevailed. A committee of five was appointed, and the meeting adjourned to meet in Boston. Wednesday, Oct. 2.

On motion of Mr. Jenness, it was ordered that the report of the investigating committee be made in print, and distributed three days before the adjourned meeting. A nominating committee of nine (among whom was E. P. Sise, Esq. of this city,) was appointed to select the investigating committee above named—and reported the following gentlemen:

F B Hayes and C P Judd, of Boston; Peter T Homer, of Lancaster; John Flint, of Andover; and John McDuffie—with power to fill vacancies in their number.

It was understood at the meeting, that the committee, in addition to their other duties, are to report a list of Directors to be voted for at the adjourned meeting.

WHALEBONES.—The Boston Post assures its readers that the aisles in all the public buildings, and the sidewalks on the highways, are to be widened, to admit the passage of ladies with their new-fashioned skirts. Several gentlemen have moved out of the city, to allow their wives and daughters room to turn round.

The Pittsburg (Penn.) Gazette notices an advance of fifty cents per keg in powder, and a large advance in saltpetre, caused by the continuation of the European war, which has caused an export demand for these articles.—The Gazette quotes blasting at $4 and rifle at $5.25.

THE WHEELER CASE.—The negroes found guilty of assaulting Colonel Weeler, at the time when his servants were bustled from on board the ferry-boat at Philadelphia, were sentenced by Judge Kelly to one week's imprisonment and to pay a fine of ten dollars.

Solomon Rothschild, whose recent decease at Paris has been announced, left to his two sons the enormous sum of one hundred and twenty millions of francs, or more than twenty millions of dollars.

LOCAL.

POLICE COURT,—Sept 12th,—Before Justice Bennett,—Mrs John Killaher and Mrs James Armstrong, for assault on Mrs Catherine McCartney, were fined $3 each, and costs $3.03 each.

Sept 14th—Before Justice Odell—Stephen Leach, for assault and battery on Abel Mason, was fined $5 and $6.81 costs; also to give $30 bonds with sureties, to keep the peace. He appealed, and gave bonds.

☞ We are requested to state, that on account of the absence of the Pastor, there will be no services at the Pleasant St. Church to-morrow.

☞ We are informed that Rev. Lyman Whiting, of Reading, Mass., is expected to preach at the Temple to-morrow.

LAUNCH.—The beautiful three deck ship "Isaac H. Boardman," of 1500 tons, will be launched from the ship yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

A DIALOGUE.—One day this week, Mr B., a man from a rural district, slightly elevated, was observed supporting a tree on Market square. Presently Mr. B. came along, another man belonging to the same district, but who had been away. A accosted him, and the following dialogue ensued.

A—Where have you been?

B—To ——, Mass.

A—What are you about?

B—Building a meeting house.

A—A meeting house! G—— d—— it! there's too many of 'em now; there's more'n there is grogshops. But n' matter—our party 's beat in Maine.

B—What party?

A—The rum party, and they are a going to have as many grog shops as they want now.

☞ The Bank of New Hampshire, which is to commence operations on the 1st of December, we learn has made arrangements to lease for twenty years, the spacious store No. 18 Pleasant street—now occupied by Messrs. Gilbert and Head. These gentlemen are to take the next store, now occupied by Mr. S. W. Moses, who goes into the building recently the Granite House.

☞ We are informed that Hon. James Bell, U. S. Senator elect from this State, is expected to deliver the Annual Address before the Rockingham Agricultural Society, at their Fair in Exeter on the 27th inst.

☞ Now is the chance to fill up your libraries, and paper your houses. See the booksellers' advertisements.

THE OLD CHICKERING ESTATE.—We congratulate the citizens of South End, Boston, and the residents of Franklin square in particular, upon the deposition of the Chickering estate, and their consequent escape from an intolerable nuisance. The enterprising house of Hallet, Davis & Co., we learn, have stepped forward at a most desirable moment, and purchased the property, which they intend occupying as a manufactory for their pianofortes. We are glad to learn that these gentlemen are so successful in their business as to call for such an extension of their workshops, and congratulate the neighborhood on this satisfactory adjustment of a difficult matter. Messrs. H. & D., as is as well known, stand second to none in enterprise and public spirit, and the occupants of the houses in the vicinity of the squares may feel sure that the present owners will do everything in their power to keep up the respectability of that neighborhood.—Evening Trans.

We fully concur with the Transcript in the high estimate of this firm, they stand first in the rank of Piano Forte Manufacturers, their instruments are the theme of praise everywhere, and a walk through their spacious and elegant show rooms is of itself convincing proof of the magnitude of their business.—In addition to the to the large manufactory connected with their ware-rooms, they have another at Fitchburg, and this last purchase gives them probably the largest space occupied by any manufactory in the country.—They are thorough business men, always at their posts, and act upon the principal that "what is worth doing is worth doing well."—Boston Intelligencer.

"The longest way round is sometimes the nearest way home." A fact, which two of the Newburyport Aldermen became deeply impressed with, on Friday last. It seems, says the Herald, that Messrs. Payson and Coffin had started en route for the "Bluff," to join some friends who and previously encamped there. On arriving at the cross bar, the tide being about half ebb, our tourists concluded to wade the stream to the Bluff, and thus save nearly a mile of travel, judging that the water was not more than two feet deep. They had proceeded about half the distance, when the horse they were driving got off soundings, and the gentlemen found themselves up to their necks in water, with a fine opportunity of realizing the beneficial effect of the practice of hydropathy. The animal not being able to swim with the wagon and inmates, it was found necessary, to save him from drowning, to cut the traces, and disengage him from the vehicle, which on being done, the horse safely arrived ashore, followed by our aquatic friends, who found more truth than poetry in the following quo ation from Herrick:

"What though the stream be calm!—trust to the shore; Ships have been drowned, where late they danced before."

SANTA ANNA AND BARNUM.—The Boston Traveller is informed that the agent of Santa Anna, called upon P. T. Barnum at the Revere House and offered him two hundred thousand dollars for his residence at Bridgeport, Ct. Mr. Barnum offers to abdicate in favor of his Serene Highness for two hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

RATTLESNAKE SHOT.—Philander Markham, of Westfield, Mass., shot a rattlesnake last Saturday, which was four feet in length, and had thirteen rattles. Mr. M. was hunting—saw the snake just as it was ready to jump at him—raised one of his legs and the serpent passed under him; and as it was preparing for a second leap he shot him.—Mail.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The steamship Ariel arrived at New York Sept. 14, from Havre Sept. 1. The news is of little importance.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out. Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take the best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

YELLOW FEVER.

The Salem Gazette has the following seasonable statements and remarks:

So many years have elapsed, since this frightful disease has been known in the more northern states, that people never imagine the possibility of its prevalence among us. The present generation have no knowledge of the terrors which the name excited in their parents or grand parents, fifty or sixty years ago. Yet at that period it gradually crept along from south to north, as it has been doing within the past few years, until, in 1798, cases occurred at least as far north as Portsmouth, N. H.

On the 1st of March, 1799, Mr. Jonathan Waldo, Inspector of Police, published a notice, in the Salem Gazette of that date, in which he said, "This town, notwithstanding the most unremitted attention to preserve cleanliness and remove filth, was afflicted with the malignant fever. The first of its appearance was about the 10th of August. * I was fully and satisfactorily convinced that the fever did actually originate in these particular families in which it first appeared; and was in fact, (excepting the two first instances,) the fatal offspring of filth, intemperance and neglect. The bills of mortality in the town, (from the time the fever first made its appearance, to the time that it ceased,) are nearly one half made up of the names of those who died of this disorder."

Mr. Cushing, the editor of the Salem Gazette, in his paper on the 7th of Sept., 1789, mentions, "by request," "that the use of brandy and other distilled spirits, by their inflammatory and debilitating effects, prepares the human system in a peculiar manner, for the reception of the yellow fever."

According to Dr. Knott's theory, the pestilence may be expected at Washington and at Baltimore and Philadelphia next year, and the following season in New York, Boston, and Portsmouth, thus completing the range of its desolation along the Atlantic sea board. Dr. Knott believes that it has been travelling northward by regular stages from Rio Janeiro, where it reappeared with great virulence, as epidemic, four years ago. In 1852 it ravaged the West Indies. In 1853 it desolated New Orleans; in 1854 it swept over Savannah and Charleston, and in 1855 decimates the towns at the foot of Chespeake Bay. If this apparently regular progression does not sustain a theory, it lends probability to the conjecture, however melancholy, that the scourge is slowly following commerce in its course from north to south.

ANOTHER MURDER IN BOSTON.—On Sunday night last, a party of men had a quarrel with William Burton, a sailor, recently discharged from U. S. sloop-of-war Saratoga, and followed him round from one boarding house to another in North street. About 11 o'clock he left the house of John C. Cann, at the corner of Clark street, and was soon after attacked in North street and had his skull broken in with a slung shot. He was discovered in this condition by the Harbour Police, who conveyed him to the Marine Hospital in Chelsea, where he died on Tuesday night.

On Thursday evening, the above John C. Cann and another notorious boarding house keeper, were arrested on a charge of murder, and have been committed for examination next week. It is supposed they have accomplices. The deceased was about thirty years old, and had no family.

CONNECTICUT.—A correspondent of the Public Ledger states that the known sales of liquor in Connecticut are less than one cent per month to each person. This includes all sales for mechanical purposes, bathing, &c.—Paragraphs have been going the rounds of the papers recently, asserting that the Liquor Agencies have been dispensing alchoholic drinks almost as freely as they could formerly be procured at taverns; but this is emphatically contradicted by those who have opportunities of being fully aware of the workings of the law. Ex-Governor Dutton says: "How a man can justify his conscience in making such assertions regarding the operations of our law, is beyond my comprehension."—Chief Justice Williams also says: "If the law has not done all that we have desired, it has done all that could have been reasonably expected. It has not reformed all the drunkards, there are numbers of wives and children who are thanking God for what it has done for them." The Hartford Religious Herald sums up the benefits of the Prohibitory Law as follows:

"The Liquor traffic has been made illegal, disreputable and unsafe. It has been driven away into the dark, to hide its guilt from the light of day, and the observation of all honest men. It is in vain that boastly assertions are made that more liquor is sold than ever, and more money made by its sale through the State. It is simply impossible that such should be the case. Here and there a single dealer, having some extensive secret patronage, and taking the advantage of the risk run to charge double price, may secure large profits, but the general sale must have decreased immensly. If it were not so, and the boasts alluded to were true, the rumsellers ought to be very friendly to the Maine Law for the impulse it has given to their business! They should oppose its repeal by all means, and join with us in demanding its permanence.—We have not learned, however, of their conversion to such a view, and rather conclude, therefore, that they find it interferes with their business. At all events, Temperance men are well satisfied with the law and with its practical operation."

Every law on the statute book is continually being violated; but it would not do to conclude therefore, that all laws are useless and inoperative.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The President has appointed S. G. Cate of Alabama, associate justice of the Supreme Court of Kansas, in place of R. Ellmore, A. B. Moore having declined. He has also appointed J. M. Burrill of Pennsylvnia, as associate justice of the same Court, vice Saunders W. Johnson, removed.

Two barns in Farmington, Ct., owned by Col. Wm. Rowe, were burned on Monday, and the New Haven Palladium says the fire was caused by a boy throwing down a lighted cigar between the two barns, which set fire to the loose straw lying around.

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it owls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.
SANCHO PANZA
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such benediction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

ALLEGED ROBBERY.—On Monday last, Mr J. M. Adams of Canton, Mass., got somewhat intoxicated in the Market Hotel in Portland street, Boston, and slept during the night. In the morning his pocket book containing about $50, was missing. He suspected the bar keeper, John Morrison, had taken it, and accordingly asked him for it. Morrison in answer struck Adams on the head with a whip. He applied to the police for redress, but in the meantime Morrison had gone off with the money on a spree. He was arrested on Tuesday night, and was held in $500 for the first, and $1500 for the second offence, to appear at the Municipal Court in October.

ANOTHER INSTANCE OF FEMALE BENEVOLENCE.—The Rev. Dr. Bethune stated in New York on Sunday last that the Reformed Dutch Church had lately been very much in need of funds to erect additional buildings and make alterations to their theological seminary at New Brunswick, N. J., but that their wants had been supplied by the immediate donation of thirty thousand dollars by a lady in Philadelphia, belonging to the church of which he was formerly pastor.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which for combined powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. The advantages over medicine given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dyspepsia, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Alliced Ointment and Humor Syrup

will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbug every in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Alliced Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the one now known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

PIANOS.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skillful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

BOSTON, July 25, 1855.
Dear Sir:—We have used "Ward & Boots" Depilatory Salts on about one thousand salted hides, that had been heated so much that they would not bear the usual amount of soaking without damage. By the use of the salts we found the tendency to decay immediately arrested; consequently we have no hesitation in recommending its use, priticularly in such cases.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN
COD LIVER OIL.
Prepared for medicinal use in the Loffodon Isles, Norway, and put up free of all chemical analysis by Dr. De Jongh, who by his literary works and scientific travels has gained for himself in the whole of Europe the well deserved reputation as the highest authority in all that regards this most effectual remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Gout, Rickets, Scrofulous affections, Diseases of the Skin, Infantine Wasting and General Debility. Approved of and recommended by Berzelius, Liebig, Wöhler, Jonathan Brown, Pereira, Pouqier, and numerous other distinguished physicians and scientific chemists.
Specially rewarded with medals by the government of Belgium and the Netherlands and supplied to the leading Hospitals of Europe. Has almost entirely superseded all other kinds on the Continent, in consequence of its proved superior power and efficacy, as well as its being perfectly free from all unpleasant odor, and disagreeable bitter and acrimonious taste, not irritating the throat nor impairing digestion, neither producing nausea and vomiting, nor diarrhea. Bottles labeled with Dr. De Jongh's Stamps and Signatures. Wholesale and retail by LEOPOLD WEZELAR, 397 Broadway, and 15 Dey street, New York. Sold in Boston by CHARLES T. PERUVIAN SYRUP,
DYSPEPSIA,
Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Incipient Diseases of the Lungs and Bronchial Passages, General Debility, &c. &c.
Sold in Boston, for the Proprietors, by
Boston, June 7th, 1855.
As you have requested some account of the benefit experienced in my case, from the Peruvian Syrup, I will state that for several years I have suffered from a catarrhal affection consequent upon Bronchitis. I tried various remedies, including Cod Liver Oil, stimulants, general and topical, but obtained no relief. The system seemed to be failing under repeated congestive attacks, induced generally by sudden changes in the weather and by over exertion, the attacks recurring upon an average every three weeks, the effects not passing off for several days. From testimonials adduced in favor of the Syrup, I made trial of it and soon experienced a decided improvement in strength and ability to resist atmospheric changes. It now five months since I had a recurrence of the congestive attacks, and I have no doubt, adding my experience to that of others, that the Syrup produced the favorable change. Every physician is well aware that there are self-limited diseases and where a disease is so, that it is doubtful, which remedy (where several have been tried) effected the cure; therefore I will answer in advance a question which may be very properly made. Why speak so confidently in this case? Because, having tried various remedies, and all failing, this effected a favorable change in a short time, when the system was becoming daily more debilitated Having the reliable assurance that no ingredient prejudical to the system enters into the composition of the article, I would recommend it where a tonic and alterative effect is desired, and I trust you will be able to make some arrangements by which physicians can recommend its trial in their practice, without seeming to countenance quackery.
FRAS. DANA, M. D.
Dear Sir.—I have been so much benefitted by the use of the "Peruvian Syrup" that I wish to make it known to similar sufferers. For some years I have been feeble and delicate—suffering at times from depression of spirits, with loss of sleep, languor and weariness My food did not nourish or invigorate me. A slight cold would give me a cough, and for two years I had more or less bronchitis. I have used three bottles of the Syrup, and these symptoms have given place to a state of health I never thought of obtaining. My digestion is much improved, debility gone, spirits restored, and throat quite well. As I have made no change in my diet, regimen, or any other external condition, I can attribute this benefit to no other cause than the use of this excellent medicine. ALMIRA C. BARLOW.
Cambridge, July 3d, 1855.
Dear Sir,—I hereby certify, for the benefit of those who are afflicted with the like complaints, that I was troubled for three or four years with neuralgia. I was first attacked in my head, face and teeth, and afterwards in my shoulders, back and legs, and could obtain no permanent relief from any medicine which I tried. When the Peruvian Syrup came into this town, I procured a bottle of it of the agent here, and commenced taking it in February, 1855, and found myself entirely cured by taking one bottle, and have had no farther trouble from these complaints since, which is now about three months.
JOHN C. GEORGE.
LIMA, May 5th, 1855.
Dear Sir:—Having for the last five years made extensive use of the "Peruvian Syrup" in many cases of obstinate disorder of the digestive organs, general debility (especially such as is produced by juvenile indiscretions) and dropsy, I most cordially recommend its use to all such as are suffering under any of the numerous afflictions arising from functional derangement of the alimentary canal
Such of the component parts of this remedy which are familiar to me, as exhibited by chemical analysis, I know to be propitious to health, and such as are not developed by analytic scrutiny, I am also persuaded cannot be deleterious, never having known a single case in which its operation has proved otherwise than beneficial to the patient.
As a physician, I unlike with my professional brethren in discountenancing charlatanic pretensions, but in the present case long years of experience have so satisfied me of its efficacy that I cannot permit the clamor of professional etiquette or obstinate prejudice to drown the voice of conscientious conviction. I believe this remedy is destined to have an unexampled popularity and do not believe that its claims to such distinction have ever been surpassed or even equalled. (Signed,) H. E. KINNEY, M D.
CARD.
The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.
From our own experience, as well as from the testimony of others whose intelligence and integrity are altogether unquestionable, we have no doubt of its efficacy in all cases of Incipient Diseases of the Lungs, and Bronchial Passages, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, General Debility, &c. Indeed, its effects would be incredible, but from the high character of those who have witnessed them, and have volunteered their testimony, as we do ours, to its restorative powers.

IVES & TUTHILL.
A CARD.
TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW ENGLAND.
Having been often solicited to establish a branch of our house in the city of Boston for the sale of LEARY & CO.'S HATS, we have made arrangements with Messrs. IVES & TUTHILL, of the Albion Buildings, Tremont Street, to furnish them with a constant and full supply of all our manufacture and importations, enabling them to issue the new styles, as invented by us, simultaneously with our house in New York.
It is with much confidence that we commend to the citizens of New England, the enterprise of the above named young men, and we can assure our friends and customers, that while we have no pecuniary interest in the firm of IVES & TUTHILL, yet the goods they sell will be identical in quality, style and price, with the articles sold by us in New York.
LEARY & CO., Astor House, New York.
The firm of LEARY & CO., has been established for a quarter of a century, and every year has not only increased its sales, but its manufacturing and importing facilities. One of the undersigned having been connected with this establishment as a salesman for some time, and both feeling convinced that its claim to the leadership of Fashion in all that pertains to the covering of the masculine head is confirmed by the adoption of their styles by the public and the trade, enter with confidence upon the sale of their goods, assured that it will be mutually beneficial to the public and themselves.

Hews' Patent American Action
PIANO FORTE.
From the illustrious Pianist, L. M. Gottschalk, to Mr. Hews' Agent at New York:
New York, Dec. 5, 1853.
MR. N. P. B. Curtiss—Dear Sir:—Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo. Hews' American Patent Action Piano, at the World's Fair in this city, the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the action.—These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales.
Very respectfully, L. M. Gottschalk.

CANCERS CAN BE CURED.
DR. R. GREEN,
Scientific Indian Physician,
36 BROMFIELD ST., BOSTON.
DR. GREEN, in his travels and researches for medical knowledge among the Indians, obtained a perfect remedy for Cancers, Scrofula, and all Humors of the blood His practice has since been attended with greater success than was ever before known.—He is now treating with complete success difficult cases of all kinds of chronic disease from all parts of the country. Persons afflicted with Cancers should immediately avail themselves of Dr. Green's personal attention. Scrofulous Diseases sometimes combine with other diseases of the Stomach, Lungs, Liver, Heart, Kidneys, Spleen, &c., so as to require a personal examination in order to effect a perfect cure, but nine out of every ten cases of all Chronic Diseases are cured by medicine which Dr. Green sends to them, as he understands the nature of the disease by the persons answering the questions upon a circular which also gives reference to cases cured, and which he sends by mail, free, to any one requesting it, and enclosing a postage stamp.
Consultations at the office or by letters free of charge.

STAMMERING CURED!
DR. BRONSON & C. C. BEERS,
Are happy in announcing that STAMMERING can be permanently CURED by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is there treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident, to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Elocution. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience and observation, that stammering is the effect of a NERVOUS DISEASE, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, etc.) can obtain it from our New Work, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes, and Remedies; illustrated by One Hundred Engravings: Price ONE DOLLAR; on the receipt of which, the Book will be sent without expense, and the money then paid, will be credited in the bill for treatment. Board, &c., furnished on reasonable terms. Address BRONSON & BEERS, No. 186 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

Morning Chronicle.

INDEPENDENT DIALOGUE.

N. H. Gazette.—The Chronicle claims to be an independent news-paper.

Chronicle.—It is independent in its sayings, and strictly impartial in its news.

Gaz.—Yet in its issue of Tuesday morning, its editors omitted to record the particulars of the vote in the neighboring towns of Kittery, Eliot, and York, Uncle Toby's preaching district, where the democracy made large gains, from last year when, if we do not mistake, the returns were early given by the Chronicle.

Chron.—Two or three facts will show where mistakes are. 1st, We had no particulars to give. Some friends gave us the majorities in these three towns; and the majority in one town was reported to us in three different numbers. 2d, The editor did write down these returns, imperfect as they were, and they were put in type. 3d, They were taken out of the "form" by the compositor who set up the telegraphic news from Portland, as he supposed them superseded by the general statement.

Last year we reported but one of these towns, viz. Kittery. Eliot and York were not mentioned at all, and in the return from Kittery we mentioned neither loss nor gain, nor even alluded to the politics of the candidates.

Gaz.—Again, if it intends fairness, why did it not inform its readers on Wednesday morning that in 56 towns Morrill was in a minority of nearly 900, instead of having a majority of 119, as stated in Tuesday's publication.

Chron.—We did inform our readers on Wednesday, that there was an error; and in the same column gave a corrected account of 180 towns, including the 56.

Gaz.—As the Chronicle truly observes, these errors do not affect the general result of the election; they only show the tendency to political fairness manifested by our neighbor.

Chron.—So they do: and they show our fairness in this matter to be perfect. We leave it to the editor himself to say if it is not, and request him to reply in his next paper.

Uncle Toby informs us that he cannot imagine what his preaching has to do with Maine election, especially as he has not preached in the State of Maine since last Spring, having been occupied in preaching in New Hampshire, about every pleasant Sabbath.

He takes this opportunity to say, however, that he has by no means forgotten his friends in Maine, but is shortly to visit and address them on important subjects, in the towns named in the Gazette.

ATTENTION!—Stop your noise, children; and hear what the Boston Courier says about politics!

"We breathe freer now." The call far a whig convention, which should have been issued weeks ago, has come at last. * *

Among all the parties of the State which stand upon their legitimate and their proper designation, the whig party has the plurality. It is the only party to build upon, for it is essentially a Massachusetts party. The crowd which voted with the Know Nothings last year is broken into fragments, and thousands of them are asking—"Where shall we go?" We say stand by the Whig party of Massachusetts. * * * * * *

They have only to look at the census returns of the United States to be made acquainted with the fact that the free population is increasing very largely every year in comparison with the slave population and the slave representation, and their fears of the predominance of the latter are both idle and futile. It is true that the Southern politicians talk very impudently and very unreasonably about their reserved rights. * * *

The only other question which comes into our state election, except that of the vexed and useless one of slavery, is that which refers to the prohibitory liquor law. The result of the late election in Maine, where the foolish law was first enacted, is sufficient to show that, as it has been killed in the house of its friends, it is not necessary to keep the enactment alive anywhere else. * * *

[Not Necessary? The writer must mean Not Possible.]

The men who have ridden the Maine law hobby in this state are as much broken down as their friends in Maine. Still there are a great many worthy persons who do not wish to have an unconditional repeal of the liquor law. These men can have such a strin ent license law as they desire—the liquor men we presume, will not object to that—if they do, they can never obtain anything—but they must give up the idea that they can plant a sumptuary statute with regard to the sale of wine and spirits upon the permanent laws of Massachusetts.

* * * People around us talk about voting for "liberal men." Who are liberal men? Not men who are obstinately in favor of the free and uncontrolled traffic in spirituous liquors as those who are as obstinately determined to stop the dealing altogether.—There is no liberality in either of these classes, for all must succumb to the common opinion of the community, which declares that the traffic must be regulated by law.

☞ Alonzo McCrillis, Esq., of Great Falls, was thrown from a chaise in Berwick, on Monday last, and badly hurt. He was living on Friday, but was in a critical state.

MAINE ELECTION.—The votes for Governor, as given in the Portland Daily State of Maine, are Wells 44,322, Reed 10,658, Morrill 46586. Representatives, last accounts, 83 anti-Morrill; 51 Republican.

NED BUNTLINE.

We give place to the following Plea for Ned Buntline, because it is well written, courteous and inoffensive in its tone. But in doing so we must be allowed to say that he is by no means a man to our taste. We give him our good wishes, as the writer requests; and we do the same thing by Captain Rynders and Gen. Stringfellow. If either of the three can do any good, we shall be very happy to see it done. But if we wished to damage any cause in this part of the country, we could think of no better way than to employ either of them to plead for it. Ned Buntline made two visits to this place: the first time he had a good audience and a fair hearing.—The second time he spoke to a handful; and he probably will never speak here again.

If he can do any good in Kansas or Oregon, by all means let him do it; but in this region he cannot do much, unless he should do it as a laborer in tilling the soil.

For the Chronicle.

NED BUNTLINE.—Ned Buntline has not gone to Kansas as yet. He left the soil of York County, Maine, on Tuesday, 4th inst., bound to Massachusetts. His plans are to raise a company of 200 men as soon as possible, emigrate to Kansas near the scenes of the late outrages, and marshal his forces on the side of right, to make that desecrated territory a land of Freedom. These are his intentions, as expressed to the last person with whom he conversed in Maine. His aim, as avowed by him, is a good one, and may or may not be successful. Whatever may have been the past of Buntline's career, he has yet left an impression on the minds of many in Maine, that he has some noble impulses and can appreciate truth. Without making palliation for his wrong acts, which he does not himself palliate,—it may be conjectured from what is known of him, that, in regard to his private character, his meditations often run in the line of the poet's, when he exclaimed—

"I know the right, and I approve it too;
I know the wrong, and still the wrong pursue!"

Principles are an issue at the present day, and not men altogether. Votaries of truth, practically and theoretically, must not at the present standard of human character, pick from their ranks all those who, though theoretically right, are not quite up to their criterion in practice—especially when that practice has but little to do with the principle. When people cease to confound men with principle, the wheels of justice will turn much faster. Error in principle is one thing, error in practice is another, and if the latter occurs, treat it as such, without regard to the other. The authors of the Kansas aggression should be met from Freedom's ranks by men of intrepidity and indomitable courage—men of "back bone," and till then the themes and threats and declamations at the North, will only be so many burlesques on the names of Justice, Courage, and Liberty. Suffer Ned Buntline, by your good wishes, to be yet a servant of the people, and blast not the possibility of his future usefulness by disparagements and references to his antecedents, because they have not been up to the proper standard of moral excellence. ONE WHO KNOWS HIM.

Kittery, Sept. 14.

SEVERE SENTENCE.—In the Boston Municipal Court, on Wednesday, Wm. Smith, for attempting to drown a boy, was sentenced to eight years in the State Prison. Smith at the time of the occurrence, was passing along the street, in an intoxicated state, when some boys raised a laugh at his manner of progression. In revenge he seized one of the boys, carried him to a wharf and held his head under water. The impression received by the Court was that the boy would probably have been drowned had not others interfered to release him. Hence the severity of the sentence.

The impression received by the reader is that men of such character and habits are more dangerous than wild beasts: and that the boys or men who raise a laugh at the drunkard misplace their levity. He is a spectacle of pity, or of horror. Smith, the victim before us, is wretched in himself, and so insanely murderous to others, that he must be shut up for the public safety.

☞ An intelligent and steadfast member of the Democrat party in Maine, who supported Judge Wells and rejoices in the result of the election, informs us that we are somewhat mistaken in our expectations of what the new legislature will do. He expects them to pass a new liquor law, less stringent in some provisions, but more effectual on the whole, than the present. He promises to give us his views on the subject. We shall be glad to give him a hearing.

THE YELLOW FEVER IN VIRGINIA.—Baltimore, 14th.—The deaths in Norfolk for the 24 hours up to yesterday noon were 48.

At Portsmouth, during the same period, the deaths were 11.

There has been a considerable diminution of new cases, especially in the latter city.

There are several cases of fever reported on board the frigate St. Lawrence.

There is no fever at Suffolk, as has been reported.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14th.—Among the naval officers placed on the retired list, are Commodore Stewart at $3,500, and Commodore Skinner at $2,500.

LOCAL.

ADMIRALTY CASE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 14.

Before H. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., U. S. Commissioner:—Edward McNulty, a seaman belonging to the ship Granite State, complained against Samuel Billings, captain, and Wm. Valentine, 2d mate, for an assault and severe beating. The testimony showed that Valentine, on the 27th August, at sea, cruelly beat and abused McNulty, (who was disabled by a lame hand,) for not going aloft as ordered in the night, by the mate. McNulty ran for refuge or redress to the captain, who instead of relieving him, justified the mate.

The Commissioner discharged the captain, on the ground that he was not fully aware of the seaman's disabilities. But he held the mate to answer at the U. S. Circuit Court, Oct. 2, in $200 bonds. Four witnesses were also bound over in $50 each, and committed.

Towle for the U. S. Hatch and Storer for defence.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Sept. 14.

Before Justice Odell:—Jacob Derrick, a sailor, was convicted of stealing a dressing case and other articles, from another sailor named Thomas Thompson. He was ordered to be imprisoned 10 days; to pay $6.13 costs; and to pay Thompson treble the value of the articles stolen.

ERRORS CORRECTED.

The N. H. Patriot of the 12th, speaking of a case in our police court, says:

Mr Preston was bound over in $200 recognizance to appear and answer, and Rev. Drs. Burroughs and Peabody became his sureties.

The Portland Argus of the 14th makes a similar statement, and adds:

We need not add that there is something radically wrong in a law, which the most upright and respectable citizens are compelled to break in the prosecution of their indispensable business, and when broken the necessity of protecting the offender from any disgrace which might result, is so urgent as to draw into voluntary attendance on a police court, men of the sacred character and high position of Drs. Burroughs and Peabody.

We assure our friends of the Patriot and Argus that the above statements are utterly erroneous. Neither of the above named clergymen signed the bond; neither of them attended the police court.

Since the above was in type, we have received the following note from Mr. Preston:

Messrs. Editors:—Will you allow me the use of your columns to state to the public, that neither Rev. Dr. Burroughs or Rev. Dr. Peabody, became my sureties or were ever solicited so to do. The jocose suggestion of the County Solicitor, that it was necessary for the bondsmen to be of undoubted respectability in the important case of a Druggist delivering a pint of alcoholic spirits of camphor, on account of sickness, to one of our most respectable citizens, some one intimated the names of the above gentlemen, and at the instant, without reflection, their names were given; but they were not notified or called upon, and I regret that they were at all referred to.

A great many of our first citizens proffered their names, and among them I obtained what the law required. I hope the present week will decide the case, or at any rate give the Druggists to understand whether or not they are so to construe the law as to stop them from delivering to their customers by the order of a Physician, the necessary medicinal preparations containing any quantity of spirituous liquor.

W. R. PRESTON, Druggist.

☞ The ship Isaac H. Boardman was launched on Saturday afternoon from the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Petigrew, Badger's Island.

☞ The last down train on the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad was detained an hour and a half, on Friday evening, by having two empty freight cars thrown from the track.—The trouble was caused by an ox which was run over and killed.

THE LAW.—We learn that Judge Kelly of the Philadelphia Court, as he let off the two colored men convicted of assault and battery on Col. John H. Wheeler, with a fine of ten dollars and costs and one week's imprisonment,—said that they had a perfect right to go to the boat and tell Jane Johnson of her rights, but he reproved them for the use of violence and threatening words. Passmore Williamson, who did nothing more than exercise the "perfect right," which Judge Kelly acknowledges that he had, is still in jail, and the Supreme Court of the State ackowledges itself powerless to grant him relief.

ROCHESTER, Sept. 14th.—The Genesee powder mills at Brighton, near this city, blew up last week with a tremendous explosion, shaking the earth for miles around. No lives were lost. The buildings destroyed were four in number, and contained between four and five hundred kegs of powder. The mills were owned by A. J. Harlow & Co.

GORHAM, N. H., Sept. 14th.—Sad Case.—Mr. Bourne, wife and daughter, of Kennebunk, Me., left Glen House at Mount Washington at three o'clock yesterday afternoon, to ascend on foot, without a guide, but when a part of the way up, became lost in a cloud and remained without shelter all night. All suffered extremely. The daughter died during the night. The others are now doing very well.

STATE FAIR AT MANCHESTER.

The parade of firemen, military, &c., on Thursday, was elegant and imposing; and the audience and spectators, who gathered to hear and see the orators, were very numerous, say ten thousand or more.

Gov. Baker introduced the orator of the day, Hon. Chas. B. Haddock, late Minister to Portugal, to the audience.

During the afternoon a fresh drying breeze from the north-west had come up and the air was filled with dust. The orator had prepared an address of about one hour's length, but, owing to the condition of the atmosphere, he cut it down to less than half an hour. It was an elegant and eloquent performance. He commenced by alluding to the fact that in some parts of Europe the people cling with such tenacity to the habits and practices of their ancestors, agriculture had made no improvement, even in the lapse of thousands of years.

The plow described by Hesiod, one of the earliest Greek writers, is identical with the plow described by Virgil, who wrote one thousand years later, and the plow of Virgil still turns the furrows of Grenada, while every other mode known to the ancients still lives with that people.

According to an old story, Adam once requested leave to revisit the earth. Leave was granted, and an angel was commissioned to accompany him, but Adam found himself no where at home, except in Portugal, where he found the same practice of Agriculture which he had taught his own sons, in the early days of the world.

Mr Haddock contended earnestly for cultivated talent in the pursuit of Agriculture, and closed his eloquent address by happy allusions to that feeling which is common to most men, and which prompts them to look forward to the quiet of the country as a retirement for their declining years.

Hon. John Minor Botts of Virginia, was now introduced to the assembled multitude. His speech was altogether political. He declared himself to be a compromise man and a compromising man, and said that he who was not a compromise man was self-willed, obstinate, perverse and dangerous. He was for all the compromises of the Constitution, and also for all compromises to settle disturbing questions.

Mr Botts discussed the Nebraska bill and the Fugitive Slave bill, as the two great questions calculated to destroy the peace and harmony of the Union. The fugitive slave bill he said must be executed, and he was in favor of a force bill against the North to enforce its execution, if need be.

Speaking of the Maine Liquor Law, he said there was one thing in it that was a strong recommendation to him. He had invariably found better liquor in the States where the law had been passed, than before its passage.

The speech of Mr Botts was not precisely appropriate to an Agricultural Society, nor was it in the best taste.

After brief remarks from Frank. R. Chase, of Conway, the exercises were closed, and the meeting adjourned. Gov. Metcalf, who was expected to address the Society, was indisposed.

This has been the most prosperous day in the annals of the Society. The receipts for tickets and badges exceed $2000.

DISTRESS IN VIRGINIA.—It is said many of the slaves in Norfolk who have been left by their owners, are sickening and dying, for want of attention.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 12th.—A portion of Santa Anna's family passed through this city to-day, on their way to New York.

NEW YORK AND ERIE RAILROAD.—Much has been said against the practice of reducing the fares over our leading railroads, by people who were supposed to be competent judges, but without any true test by a trial. The New York and Erie road reduced their fares $2 to all important points West from Boston, on the 1st of this month, and what has been the result? The sale of tickets at the agent's office have been as three to one previous to the reduction. We congratulate the company on their success. Their cars have to make their circuit every day, and it must be quite pleasant to see them filled, to say nothing of the additional thousands added to the company's receipts.—Boston Chron.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

25,000 Bottles sold the past year. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. For sale by

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it cuts them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

Family Physic.

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels: Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand.

If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, the bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you live to read this. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these recommendations are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost you but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as THE article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER. A. W. STEARNS.
S. I. THOMPSON. ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without sacrificing the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skill is required after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

Manchester & Candia Stage.

4 HORSES, and a nice NINE PASSENGER COACH, will run daily between Manchester, Candia Railroad Station, and Deerfield.

Leave Manchester every morning at 9:30 or on arrival of the first train from Boston, Lowell, Nashua, &c. and intersect with the 12 o'clock train of cars at Candia Station for Portsmouth and Newburyport, which train connects at New Market Junction with trains for Dover, Portland, &c. and with trains for Exeter, Haverhill, &c. and at Portsmouth with the New Steamboat SILVER STAR, for the ISLES OF SHOALS.

Leave Candia Station for Manchester, every day at 3 o'clock, or on arrival of the train from Portsmouth, Portland, Dover, Exeter, &c. arriving in Manchester in season for the 4 o'clock train to Boston, Lowell, Nashua, &c.

N. B.—Be it distinctly understood that a nice Coach runs out of Manchester every morning at 9:30, to connect with the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad at Candia Station at 12 o'clock; and runs from Candia Station at 2 o'clock train to Manchester, to connect with the 4 o'clock train to Boston and Lowell. People will find this a very pleasant route; the cheapest way to go, and attended with less delay than any other route.

Morning Chronicle.

ROYALTY.—The Queen of England, it is said, is troubled about an affair of the heart, which has sprung up between the princess royal and the young king of Portugal, who is again upon a visit here. Not that there is anything objectional in the latter, either in mind, morals or good looks, that would render him an undesirable husband or son-in-law, or in the throne he is to fill, which is all an anxious mother need aspire after for one of her four daughters—nor that the queen would not gladly see the princess royal well disposed of in marriage—but that the young king is a Roman Catholic, and is thus debarred from allying himself by marriage with an heiress, however distant of the British crown. Meanwhile, the young king has fallen violently in love with the fair girl of fifteen, who is not insensible to his merits, and lets pass no occasion, either by presents or token when he is absent, or by tender looks when present, to manifest her sincere affection. They are not of course suffered to meet except in the presence of others; but there are numerous occasions during the morning walks and rides, or the steamer trips in the bay, when the lover can manifest the sentiments of his heart to the object of his pursuit. It is whispered that among the numerous teachers employed to perfect the royal children in the knowledge of the modern languages, there is one who is a subject of his majesty, and who is devotedly attached to him, and through him communications have passed for a long time which never met with the august scrutiny of the queen.

MISSION CHURCH.—The Newburyport Herald thus describes the new movement in Trinity Church.

Trinity Church, New York, from its great landed estates in the heart of the city, has immense revenues. Originally these lands were but cultivated fields, and were donated to a then weak and poor corporation, that their income should go for the support of the gospel and those acts of charity that accompany a true faith. As population has increased, the property has continued to rise in value, till of late years they have found it difficult in their selfish and exclusive way to dispose of their income. The great Cathedral looking down upon all the mercenary operations of Wall street, has been open morning and evening for prayers and other services; but while its organ pealed out, sending sweet music along the lofty arches, there have been groans and sighs and agonies all around the building, where no hand was lifted in relief. Of late that section of the city has been abandoned by the fashionable and rich, and its chapels have been erected up town, where its priests have followed the aristocracy, little caring what became of the people, who were mostly as much without the gospel as though they had been born heathen. Recently a change has taken place—a genuine revival of God's work has been going on, and this most wealthy church overreaching in its abundance among other religious societies in the land, have resolved themselves into a working missionary body for the benefit of the unregenerate of the poorer classes in the lower part of the city. The doors of its house are thrown wide open through every day of the year, and the multitudes are invited to its free seats.—But its learned priests do not alone minister at the altar; they go out among the poor, native and foreign born, in the crowded and dark alleys, where the sick and suffering are without helpers. Nor do they go with tracts alone, but temporal and spiritual supplies are bestowed together, and thus an endless good may be accomplished, where nothing but evil was feared, from the income of a princely church, if the work is persevered in. This is a reformation of the most favorable kind, and may make the name of Trinity Church blessed in the land.

DAMAGES RECOVERED FOR CARELESSNESS ON THE USE OF A HORSE.—In the Franklin Court of Common Pleas lately, Rufus Washer recovered $78 of John Bray, being the value of a horse hired to drive from Greenfield to Northampton, the plainiff alleging that he drove the horse immoderately and tied him without any covering in the open air, so that he became sick and died.

The Springfield, Ill., Journal says that in no time for many years have we had such an array of favorable reports of the corn crop as we have now. Correspondents and newspapers all over the state are in extacies over the prospect of full crops. In the southern part of Illinois it is now safe from any casualty, and the yield will be unprecedented.

ANOTHER POISONED WEDDING PARTY—A dispatch states that at a party given near Dancyville, in Haywood county, Tenn., a few days ago, forty-five of the guests were poisoned. One man is dead, and several other persons are not expected to recover. The poison was contained in some of the ingredients of cake used on the occasion.

The Portsmouth Almanac
AND ROCKINGHAM COUNTY
HAND BOOK,
FOR THE YEAR 1856.

THE subscriber will issue the first No. of this work the present fall, and designs publishing it annually should circumstances warrant it. It will contain besides the Almanac Calendar, embracing all usual calculations for this meridian, official COUNTY and TOWN STATISTICS, Lists of COUNTY and TOWN OFFICERS, Justices of the Peace, Terms of the various Courts, and all necessary information to the public connected therewith. with Sketches of some of the principal Towns, which in time will embrace all the towns in the County, forming a more complete history than has yet been published.

The work will make a pamphlet of about 75 pages, a few of which will be devoted to business advertisements and professional Cards, which will be inserted on reasonable terms. Of the first edition we shall print from 3000 to 5000 copies.—Retail price 12½ cents. Dealers supplied at the usual discount.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1855.

LAW, FACT, AND PICKLES.

In the High Court of Public opinion—Before Uncle Toby.—On Saturday, Sept. 15th, the New Hamshire Gazette complainant, against the Liquor Agent in Hampton, presented the following case.

LIQUOR AGENT IN HAMPTON.—A correspondent informs us that the agent at Hampton is selling New Rum for the purpose of making pickles. Will "Uncle Toby" please decide the legality of this transaction?

The justice postponed the case till Monday, for advisement. In the mean time he consulted the best authorities, posted himself up in all the points in the case, and on Monday gave his decision, which we publish verbatim.

1. There is no liquor agent in Hampton.

2. The town of Hampton, and the selectmen, are indictable for their neglect to appoint an agent. For though no special penalty is set down for such neglect, in the liquor law, yet the selectmen are liable to fine or imprisonment, to be reached by legal process.

3 The legality of selling new rum to make pickles, might depend in some degree on what kind of pickles the purchaser was about to make. If he was to pickle cucumbers in that way, it would be a mechanical use of the liquor, which is by no means uncommon.—Any man who will take pains to inquire of intelligent grocers and liquor dealers, may learn that there is not cider enough made in some years, to supply the demand for vinegar; and that in years generally, not half enough can be procured for that purpose.—Thousands of barrels of vinegar annually are made from spoilt beer and beer slops; and thousands more from new rum or whiskey, commonly from the latter. Some French chemists prefer whiskey vinegar to any other.

If some Hampton pickle maker was disposed to pickle barberries or cucumbers in in the French fashion, the purchase might be honest and the sale legal.

But if the varlet meant to pickle his own carcase and the carcases of his chums;—then the purchase would be a fraud and the sale probably illegal. Pickled meat of any sort is considered to be about the same as corned meat: and the spirit of the new law is decidedly against all such pretty pickles as topers get into.

Finally, the justice concludes that the complainant has not made out his case—and he would order the prisoner or defendant to be discharged—if he was present, or if he was anywhere. But as the prisoner is a myth or a nonentity—the case may be considered as no case at all, and treated accordingly.

Mr. Crier, please adjourn the court.

ROBBERY AND INTENDED MURDER.

About 9 o'clock, on Saturday evening, says the Newburyport Herald, a horrible attempt was made to murder one John W. Randall, belonging to the town of Jay, in Franklin county, Me. who formerly worked in Newbury, Oldtown, as a farm laborer, and more recently at Hampton Falls, with Moses Batchelder, and then, up to Saturday, with Mr. Chase, the depot master. He has a mother living at Livermore Falls, Me. The man is now at the Alms House, very badly, but it is hoped not fatally injured. His own statement will tell the whole story, the parties and reasons of the attack.

He says, he left Hampton Falls in the 8 o' clock train, upon the representation of one Clinton Tinsley, (supposed to belong to Manchester, N. H.,) who had been living with Capt. Healey, of that place, that he could have $18 a month from a Capt. Weare, who was said to live about a mile and a half from this city, to go as his cook in a ship from Boston to the East Indies. He had saved from his earnings some $69, which Tinsley knew him to have, and which Tinsley advised him to carry to his mother after he had seen Capt. Weare, before he sailed. From our depot he came down to State street, and thence went out to Floyd's lane, and after going along the lane a short way, they turned into a little thicket to go across the marshes, upon Tinsley saying that such was the nearest way to the Capt.'s house. Here a third man met them who said "stop!" Tinsley asked what he wanted. The fellow replied—"have you any money?" He said no. The man told Randall—"you have, and I am going to have it!" As Randall started back, the fellow caught him and demanded that he should strip off his clothes and put on a suit he had for him; and Tinsley advised him to take them off. In doing that he took his wallet and a watch worth $15, and slipped them into Tinsley's hand, still believing him to be his friend. The third man stood by, continually saying—"strip them off, and if you say a word above a whisper I'll blow your d—d brains out!" When he had taken off his shirt and all but his boots, the fellow fired his pistol, and Randall fell, partly stunned, when his boots and stockings were taken off, and the fellow threw his head into the stream of water there, and held him by the ankles. As he struggled he pulled him out again, with the blood running out of his nose and mouth.

The ruffian then caught his victim by the hair of the head, and commenced beating him on the head and face with the pistol. While he was doing this Tinsley says to him turn the but of the pistol, which he did, and this causing another desperate struggle on the part of Randall to escape, the assassin again shoved him head forward into the stream, holding on his ankles to keep his head under, but finding him still struggling hard, pulled him out, and said to Tinsley, "let's have your knife." T. handed him the knife, which was dull, and he commenced sawing with it upon Randall's throat, the latter then struggling to get hold of the knife and pull it away. Suddenly the assassin changed the direction of the knife, and stabbed the victim already mangled and covered with blood, in the left side. This wound caused Randall to give so desperate a jerk that he disengaged himself and instantly ran in his naked condition directly through the stream, leaped over a fence or wall, and ran for the first house where he saw a light. At the first house he told them he had been robbed and asked for relief, but the man who came to him told him to "be off or he would blow his brains out." At the second house the man shut the door against him. He then left the road, got over the wall, and went through a field of corn near the house of Mr. Daniel Lunt. Mr. Lunt was in the yard at the time, and was very naturally startled and alarmed at the sudden rushing in of a man stark naked and so mutilated and bloody as hardly to be recognized as a human being, and his first impulse was to retreat into the house. Randall followed him into the house and remained in the entry some moments, when feeling almost frozen, he started for the barn, followed by Mr. Lunt, who asked him the particulars concerning his situation, and then took him to his house, clothed him and brought him in to town to the watch house, where the officers immediately procured the attendance of physicians to dress his wounds.

The physicians who were called to the injured man found a very large and gaping wound, capable of receiving a large hen's egg on the left cheek, which had broken in the maxillary sinus and broken up all the adhesions of the cheek bone to the other bones of the face—the scalp covered with some ten or fifteen wounds penetrating to the skull, which however was not fractured. There were three wounds on the front of the throat, one of which penetrated the windpipe, but did not sever any important vessel or nerve. There was also a cut or stab some two inches long just below the left armpit, but which did not penetrate the chest. The legs were scratched in many places by the bushes through which he was dragged. His condition was very critical, but it is not beyond reasonable hope of recovery.

Mrs. Ballou, who lives at the toll gate, heard the alarm, and says that a man had been in the neighborhood all day, and three times had been at the well to drink. Another person on the turnpike, also heard the noise, and called at the house of Ballou to get help to go to the spot, but failing to find any, passed on. There can be no doubt that the men described above are the villians, and that it was a preconcerted plan to murder Randall for the little money he possessed. It is hardly possible they can escape.

The villain who met the decoy and his victim at the thicket, was no doubt Delaney, the associate of Tinzley, and he had probably been waiting there some time for the purpose, as a piece of cheese and some 15 pounds of bread of various kinds was found upon the spot, with the clothes and other articles, the ruffians no doubt having decamped in haste when they found the victim had slipped from their grasp and was raising an alarm in sight of the lights of the houses.

The following description may serve to detect the villians: Tinsley is about 5 feet 10 inches high, had on a black broadcloth frock coat, ripped and badly worn—light grey woolen pants—no vest—a straw hat somewhat worn—factory blue woolen shirt—a black silk handkerchief on his neck—hair black and curled behind—black whiskers and mustaches, rather thin, dark complexion—has an anchor picked in his hand, and he said he was marked all over with India Ink, and had initials of his father and mothers name on his stomach—about 26 years of age.

Randall could not tell how the man who met him was dressed, but says he was about the size of Delaney, who is a thick set fellow 25 or 30 years of age, and thinks he had on a black coat. Tinsley and Delaney had previously told Randall that they had sailed together four years. Randall is a steady and industrious young man, as the fact of his having saved nearly $70, while working four months as a farm laborer, is of itself very good evidence. He never before suspected that Tinsley, whom he describes as temperate and intelligent, not even drinking tea or coffee, was other than a friend to him.

A good deal of excitement prevailed yesterday in consequence of this outrage, and the police officers and nearly 50 volunteers were out and searching through Oldtown and Rowley for the desperadoes.

Their object in stripping the clothes from Randall and mutilating his face so much was doubtless to disfigure him so that the body could not be recognized. As it is if the man survives his wounds, which he will probably do unless inflamation reaches some vital part, he will be sadly disfigured for life.

All three of the men, viz. the two robbers and the sufferer, have been living with different farmers at Hampton-falls.—Randall is said by the neighbors to have been a regular, correct young man; the others were said to be, or pretended to be sailors discharged from the Constitution. And Randall had expressed to them a desire to go to sea. There can be no doubt they were both alike guilty.

Rev. G. L. Anthony, of the Andover Theological School, will be ordained as pastor of the First Orthodox Congregational Church and Society at Somersworth, Great Falls, on the 3d of October next. The sermon will be preached by Rev. Prof. Shedd of Andover.

CONVICTION.—In the Boston Municipal Court, Saturday, John W. Gaven was convicted of violating the liquor law of 1852.—There was but one witness, Capt. Eston, of Police Station No. 4, under whose testimony the jury promptly convicted, having, apparently, no doubts of the constitutionality of that law. Gowen is the same person who was convicted of the larceny of about a thousand dollars from a returned Californian.—Bee.

☞ The following papers are wanted to complete files. Daily Morning Chronicle Saturday August 11, and Tuesday August 21. Weekly do. July 28, and August 18. For which, or any of them, cash will be paid at this office.

DANCING.—By Mr. Lamprey's advertisement, it will be seen that he commences a term of lessons in Dancing, on Wednesday afternoon, at Congress Hall. The announcement is sufficient—the teacher is one of the best, the hall excellent, and the time of year favorable. The term is to close with a public Exhibition, and we doubt not will be well attended.

BOOK-BINDING, &c.—There is no occasion for going out of Portsmouth, for any work in this line, whether plain or ornamental. Mr. Wenzell's skill is well known; and the Journal, in speaking of Mr. Rosenfield's work, at the bookstore of Wm. B. Lowd, says, "in point of artistic finish and elegance of style we have no hesitation in saying that his work will compare well with that of any establishment in the country."

CAUTION TO BOYS.—When any thievish boys wish to steal from Mr Oxford's store, they are advised not to leave their hats behind them. If they do, it may lead to their discovery, as it did in the case of one who tried to enter there between Saturday and Monday; but who only got in his head with his hat on, and dropped his hat when he pulled his head out.

By the way, this seems to have been the manner of entering the Brick Market;—viz. that some of the market men left open the fan-light, over a door; one man or large boy, put in a small one; and he either let in the other, or rifled the drawers himself, while the other kept watch. There was no breaking, and probably no unlocking of doors.

☞ We understand that a majority of the Board of Aldermen of this city, after a second inquisition into the case of J. Smith Robinson, signed a certificate that they did not consider him to be insane.

A party of men in submarine armor, were engaged in examining the bottom of our harbor on Saturday and Monday; and on those days they found three anchors.

☞ Nearly all the carpenters at the Navy Yard, had orders on Saturday night to suspend work for a week. Lack of timber is assigned as the reason for the order.

HAY FROM NEW YORK.—A ship fitting out in this port for the South, is taking in Hay, and will carry 200 tons. This Hay comes from New York, where it costs $12 per ton; and the freight is $3, making $15 here. Screwed hay, at the cheapest, cannot be bought here of our farmers, at less than $17; and good hay, loose, brings $20 per ton.

☞ A trial term of the Supreme Judicial Court, commences in this city this morning;—Judge Fowler presiding.

SHIP ISAAC H. BOARDMAN.—This fine ship, built at the yard of Messrs. Fernald & Pettigrew, in Portsmouth, was launched on Saturday in the presence of three or four thousand spectators; and was one of the best and easiest launches of so long and heavy a ship ever witnessed. No pains have been spared to make this a perfect ship, and as far as excellence of model, goodness of material and strength of workmanship is concerned, it is not saying too much to pronounce her the most perfect merchant ship that ever floated. She is a noble monument of the skill and fidelity of the master builder, Mr Pettigrew, and he might rest his fame, as a builder, on this hull alone, in the proud assurance that it has never been surpassed in the past or the present, or can be in the future.—It is in the full fruition in this department of mechanical skill and excellence. The ship is owned by Isaac H. Boardman, Esq., for whom she has been named; by Capt. Henry Cook, who is to command her; Hon. Albert Currier, Mr Edward Blood and others of Newburyport. She is about 1500 tons, carpenter's measurement, and will carry upwards of 5000 bales of cotton.—Newburyport Herald.

Paul Hoyt, from Portsmouth, N. H., has passed the last three months loafing about stables and wharves in this city, annoying others who were at work, and doing nothing himself but smoking an old pipe and drinking. He is yet a young man and strong, but lazy. The City Marshal charged him as a vagabond—sent to the House of Correction for three months.—Charlestown Advertiser.

Murder Case.—Charles H. Brown of Philadelphia was murdered on Tuesday last, while on an excursion to Salem, N. J., on board the steamer Miantonomi. His body was found in Salem creek, with his throat cut and the fingers of one hand chopped off, which was doubtless done while he was attempting to climb back into the boat. A large number of arrests have been made, and about thirty workmen in the Navy Yard were taken into custody as principals or witnesses.

On Monday afternoon, about 8 tons of lead on the sixth floor of the Phœnix Shot Tower, Baltimore, a height of one hundred and fifty feet above the side walk, crushed the floor beneath it; fell through the whole of them to the basement, with a rumbling sound, not unlike the continuous fire of musketry. The heaviest timbers were literally crushed into splinters.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I rank him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Lieutenants—J W Swift, J D Ferris, J S Palmer, George Hurst, J T Miller, H Darcansel, G M White, G L Selden, S Decatur, Francis Lowry, J B Lewis, John Hall. Masters—Wm W Low, Robert Knox, E Mallaby, John Robinson.

Baltimore, Sept. 16.—At Norfolk on Friday, there were 26 deaths, and on Saturday about 20. At Portsmouth on Friday, the deaths number 18—and on Saturday 12.

There was a great decrease in the number of new cases in both cities.

New York, Sept. 15.—Capt. Daniel Chadwick, for many years a successful commander in Grinnell, Minturn & Co.'s line of London packets, committed suicide yesterday, 14th, near his residence in Lyons, Ct.

Capt. Wright, formerly of New Orleans, formerly commander of the steamer Jewess, which, it will be recollected, was wrecked some time since, attempted last night, at the St. Nicholas Hotel, to cowhide a Mr Dean of Baltimore, who drew a huge bowie knife and plunged it into Wright's side. It is feared the wound will prove fatal.

16th.—Capt. Wright is still alive, but his situation is extremely critical, and the chances are altogether against his recovery. Mr Dean is a son-in-law of Hon. Amos Kendall, and once had a dispute with Mr Prentice of Kentucky, which nearly ended in an affray. He hails from Cincinnati.

Census of Boston.—We are indebted to Mr. George Adams the Superintendent of the census, for the following result of the census of Boston for the present year, compared with the City Census of 1850:

Population	162,629	138,788
Males	78,132	66,072
Females	84,497	72,710
FOREIGNERS.
(Including their children under 21 years of age.)
Irish	69,239	52,923
German	4,586	2,666
Other Countries	12,511	7,877
Colored	2,220	2,085

From the above statement it is evident that the increase has been mainly on the part of the foreign population and the children of foreigners.—Boston Trans.

American Board.—Utica, Sept. 14th.—The Board of American Commissioners to Foreign Missions was occupied yesterday morning, hearing interesting reports from various committees, to whom different parts of the annual report of the prudential committee had been referred. In the afternoon, the Lord's Supper was administered to a large and deeply interested audience.

Philadelphia, Sept. 15th.—Fatal Result.—Mrs. Gillespie died yesterday at Burlington, of the injuries received by the recent railroad accident.

Maine Election.—The Portland Argus of Monday says:

There are twenty-four Anti-Morrill Senators elected as far as heard from—namely 15 Democrats and 9 straight Whigs.

The House will have an overwhelming majority opposed to Morrill, leaving the latter hardly a third part of that body.

On the vote for Governor, 267 gives

Wells	45,752
Reed	10,169
	55,921
Morrill	47,947
Leaving Morrill behind	7,947

The Advertiser of the same day has returns from 371 towns and plantations:

Morrill	48,758
Reed	9,825
Wells	45,120

Gov. Morrill leaves Judge Wells three thousand six hundred and thirty-eight behind.

We have elected from 50 to 60 members of the House, and two Senators, probably, from Hancock county.

Accounts from Cuba state that the Sugar crop of the island this year is likely to be the largest ever made. The reports from the sugar districts throughout the island are very favorable, and much of the cane is fully grown wanting only concentration of juice to commence rolling, while the health of the laborers is perfect; so that there seems no drawback against a large crop. A severe gale might of course destroy the present bright hopes of the planter.

Washington, Sept. 16th.—The Union of this morning says, that the story that the President has purchased a farm in Maryland, for his future residence, is an unmitigated falsehood.

A murderous affray has occurred among the land speculators at Nebraska, occasioned by a rivalry respecting the county seat of Washington county. A man named Davis seized upon a claim, and shut himself up, being well armed. The people came from Fort Calhoun to drive him off, but he fired upon them, shot Mr Goss dead, and wounded Messrs Purple and Thompson. Several persons, among them Hanscome, Speaker of the House of Representatives, were busily engaged in rallying a force to visit Davis at all hazards, and many of them swore never to return while a live man remains in the house. Both parties are desperate.

MOSES & DOWNIE,

Merchant Tailors, at No. 37 Market Street,

LOW PRICED CLOTHING STORE,

HAVE just received the largest stock of Cloths and CLOTHING they have ever offered to the public, to which they invite the attention of purchasers. The Low Priced System has been practised by the subscribers long enough to assure them that it is better than any other, and customers may rely upon obtaining of them, as heretofore, Good Clothing at the Lowest Prices.—Their stock of

Ready-Made Clothing

Is very large, made under their own direction, by competent hands, in good style, and will be sold at prices that will defy competition. They pay particular attention to

CUSTOM WORK,

And warrant perfect satisfaction to all who favor them with their patronage. Good work, good style and a perfect fit is warranted, or the purchasers will not be expected or desired to receive the garments.

Their stock of Cloths, Trimmings and Furnishing Goods is very large and varied, and will be offered at slight advance from cost.

They also have a large assortment of

Boys' and Youth's Clothing.

Moses & Downie also keep on hand at all times a good stock of Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, and a variety of other articles for Gentlemen's use, all of which they offer at lower prices than they can be bought for else where. For proof of this fact, call and see

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"Potter's Hair Balm.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing, and those who purchase once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such 'tolerable and not to be endured' tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis

ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, internal or external? HAYES'S Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you see it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All we want is a trial, advertisement itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cankerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Lepra and Scaly Eruptions, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring sight.

Price of the Ointment, 62½; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass; to whom all orders should be addressed.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for one to injure it, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER,

At No. 4 Exchange Buildings,

Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, or $3 if paid strictly in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published as above, every Saturday morning.

TERMS $1 a year, in advance. Delivered on any railroad or stage route leading from Portsmouth, free of expense to subscribers. Postage in Rockingham County, free.

ADVERTISING.

For a Square (sixteen lines nonpareil) or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated.

Unless otherwise ordered, all advertisements inserted in the Daily, also receive two or three insertions in the Weekly Chroniole, without extra charge.

Both papers having large circulation in Portsmouth, Kittery, New Castle, Greenland, Epping; on the Eastern and the Portsmouth & Concord Railroads, &c., renders the Chroniole an excellent advertising medium.

☞ Obituary Communications charged as advertisements. Notices of Funerals, 25 cts. each. Advertisements of articles lost, 25 cents if not found. 50 cts. if found.

☞ All accounts settled semi-annually.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia; and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payments.

Morning Chronicle.

SPAIN AND THE POPE.—There has been no little fault found with some persons in this country, for asserting that the Roman Church and Pontiff meddled with Governments and politics in other countries.

Any reader can judge of this matter for himself, after perusing the following.

The Spanish Ministry has lately published an important exposition addressed to the Queen, of the relations subsisting between Spain and the Romish government, together with the correspondence which has been carried on between the two governments since December last. The exposition begins with the remark, that the allocution of the Pope, in the secret consistory of the 26th of July, with respect to the ecclesiastical affairs of Spain, obliges the government to manifest to the nation, on whose side have been prudence and moderation, and on whose side aggression.

The Ministers say:

Your Majesty's Government desires that even the confidential charges and instructions (documents which it is not customary to publish) should see the public light on this solemn occasion.

Its impartiality will thus be notorious, and the admonition of His Holiness, unjust in its substance and violent in its form, will receive the most complete reply.

The Government does not recognize, as no independent Government has ever recognized, the right which the Holy See seeks to arrogate to itself of declaring null the laws made by your Majesty with the consent of the Cortes; of appreciating falsely the state of our country, establishing a sort of divorce between your Majesty and the nation and the Government; or of placing in doubt the legitimacy of the acquisitions of the estates which were ecclesiastical, alienated in virtue of civil laws to which the Holy See itself had already given its assent and approbation.

ANTIOCH COLLEGE.—The following letter, which we take from the Boston Transcript, will be read with interest and pleasure by the friends of the institution.

To the Editors of the Evening Transcript:—As a number of articles in relation to this institution have recently appeared in your paper, I wish to state the following facts:

1st. While it is true that this College is deeply in debt, it is also true that a sufficient sum of money to pay that debt is nearly subscribed.

2d. That the trustees' meeting, to have been holden on the 4th inst, (to which your last week's correspondent doubtless referred, as being the time when "Antioch's fate was to be sealed,") has been adjourned for one month, on purpose to give more time for raising funds for this object, so that its fate shall be sealed rightly, viz., Antioch College saved—and its debts paid.

3d. While the whole debt is $77,000, thirty thousand of this has, for months, been secured, and since that, twenty five thousand more have been pledged by liberal friends of the institution, on condition that the remaining sum (or $25,000 more) be immediately raised by the Christian denomination themselves.

4th. That the latter sum will be raised forthwith, is evident from the fact that about fifteen thousand of this sum is now already pledged, and active measures are in operation for securing the remainder. My own society stands pledged for one thousand dollars for this object.

Pastor of the Tyler St. Christian Church. Boston, Sept. 15th.

Ann Griffin was the name of a woman who was killed on the Maine Railroad Friday evening. She was a domestic in the family of Daniel Norton, of Melrose, and she was killed near the depot in that town.

SINGULAR RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Yesterday afternoon a singular accident occurred on the northern division of the Toledo Railroad, a few miles this side of Toledo, by which the locomotive "Tiger" was completely demolished, without further injury. The engine was near the apex of a steep grade, attached to a heavy gravel train, when the coupling between itself and the tender gave way and left the locomotive to shoot forward like a flash of lightning, without engineer, fireman, or any other person to check her motion. She whizzed on without regard to rules or regulations, crossing switches and crossings without any monition or alarm on her part. At one time on her course she shot through a gang of hands that were busy leveling and graveling the track. The men had barely time to jump out of the way of sure destruction! On, on, she sped with her head toward the west, until she arrived at a gravel bed switch which she appropriated to her own use, jumped off the track, turned a complete double somerset, and so twisted and turned himself as to land right side up, headed, in a reverse direction, completely demolishing the Tiger, and terrifying a gang of hands that happened to escape destruction at the final smash up. When the coupling broke the engineer and fireman happened to be on the tender, and thus they were deprived the pleasure of this lightning ride.—The engine happened to pass over the road at the time of the down passenger train, but by a fortunate occurrence the passenger train was delayed beyond its time, and thus saved itself from certain destruction.—Cleveland, Oo., Plain Dealer of Aug. 31st.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1855.

INTERESTING EXTRACTS.

The first is from the Portland State of Maine, Sept. 14, under the head False Alarm:

One of the leading arguments used in favor of the Republican party, at the recent election, was that its defeat would be heralded as an administration victory, by all the democratic and pro-slavery papers in the land. * * * Not a single democratic or administration paper that we have seen, has claimed it as a triumph.

The second is from the Portland Argus of the same day, written and signed by J. H. Osborne, Esq. editor of the New Haven Register:

Bless the honest men, who, rising above the fanaticism of the day, the schemes of disunionists, and the contemptible disciples of Neal Dow, have rescued the State of Maine from her disgraced attitude, and set her "Star" in glory again, in the democratic galaxy! We have just received the dispatch announcing your triumph, and the democracy of this city are revelling in the news.

[Query—Revelling?]

The Third is from the Dover, N. H. Gazette, of the 15th inst.

Great Democratic Victory! Bring out the old guns!! Hurrah for Maine!!! It is with the highest gratification that we announce to our readers the results of the late election in Maine. The old democracy of that chivalrous and patriotic State have done a glorious work.

The fourth is from the Skowhegan Free Press.

Judge Wells has received such a vote as to insure the State in the Presidential election, and to satisfy all, that the doctrines of the Democratic party as maintained by that noble patriot, Franklin Pierce, are not unacceptable to the people.

Democracy in the front!—Democratic Maine has spoken in thunder tones, and her verdict is in favor of her old and cherished principles.

We can only speak of general results. The liberal Democratic party have a majority of the House, and, probably, all the Senators.

[Where are the strait Whigs?]

The sixth is from the Kennebec Journal, fusion paper, which offers to sell its remaining votes for Morrill, at a reduced price, and says,

We have, also, on our table, several half sheets of paper density covered with figures which represent the calculations of shrewd Republicans during the week ending Sept. 8. They all exhibit a remarkable sagacity in approximating the vote of both Morrill and Reed; but they equally erred in the stinted allowance which they gave to one Samuel Wells. As the people have since rectified all such little errors, our friends of the opposition will of course not feel offended at our failure to appreciate their strength. We intend to preserve specimens of both the votes and the figures, as interesting souvenirs. They may, at least, recall to us the glory of large expectations, and the vanity of hoping to elect your candidate when you don't know the strength of the other side.

Seventh, from the State of Maine.

Eighth, from the Bath Tribune.

But let them remember that they have but half killed the hydra headed monster "fusion."

Ninth, from the State of Maine, Sept. 14.

A Noteworthy Fact.—The defeat of the Morrill party, by so decided and unexpected an overturn, confirms us in the belief we have long entertained,—that the practice of temperance is not to be enforced by statute.

Tenth, from the same paper, same date:

We have entire faith that Messrs. — — can frame a law that shall end the cause of temperance, without producing the evils that the "atrocious Maine Law" has inflicted on every community where it has been attempted.

Among the first measures to be adopted by the Legislature, we doubt not, will be * * * the obliteration from the Statute Book of the Maine Liquor Law, and the passage of a judicious law regulating the sale of liquors under proper check, restrictions and limitations.

Errors, and Falsehoods.—The State of Maine newspaper very genteelly and courteously charges the Chronicle with lying. It says—

It seems to be incapable of truth on all Maine Law matters. We do not remember ever to have seen in it a fair and honest statement of anything connected with our local politics, or with the execution of the Maine Law among us.

Nevertheless, we have copied very many statements from the State of Maine. The State then adds:

Here is a specimen of its direct and palpable lying:—

"To show that we do not talk without book, we take from the State of Maine the comparison of the votes for Governor in Portland, in the years 1854 and '55. In '54, Morrill had 1728, and in '55 he had 1734. Here was no fallen off. Reed fell off from 890 to 410. Cary (wild cat) had 43 last year and none this. But Farris, in 1854, when the banner was only the word Democracy, received only 809 votes; while in 1855, Wells, with the word liquor added to the banner, received a vote of 1919; making the enormous gain of 1110 in a single year."

The article then closes with the following remarks:

This "comparison" never was in the State of Maine. In 1854 Reed received 490 votes, this year 410, in Portland, and the State of Maine had it so. Cary was not a candidate this year at all. Its other falsehoods, it is not worth while to contradict. They speak for themselves.

Do not be too much in a hurry, but look at both sides of a story. The word comparison was not in the State of Maine at all, neither was the sentence there, which the State of Maine here copies from the Chronicle as a specimen of lying. But the State had an excellent comparative table of votes throughout the state, now lying before us, from which we copied the Portland line. In doing so, (surely without the slightest intention,) we changed Reed's vote for 1854, from 490 to 890.

Cary truly was not a candidate this year. We did not say he was. Our whole design in copying that line was to show the strength of the anti-Maine Law party in Portland this year, compared with last. With the single exception of the error noted we did so.

When the State will show an error of ours which we let pass without correction when pointed out, there may be ground for the charge. But not till then.

PROGRESS IN MORALS.

The papers generally have published brief telegraphic items, stating that one Fulton, of Fletcher, Vt., had killed a neighbor named Chase, and then killed himself. Now we learn from the St. Albans Messenger, that the Fultons, the murderer, his father and son, were drinkers of strong drink, libidinous and quarrelsome. From the Messenger it appears that Chase, the sufferer, was a peaceable and quiet man.

He had had a controversy with Fulton about a fence, which had been decided in Chase's favor. The day before the fatal affray, Fulton's boy was found by Chase stealing melons, was reprimanded at first in mild terms, and upon returning words of insult was pulled off the rock on which he was seated, and sent home. He reported to his father that Chase had violently maltreated him.—The next day Fulton related to some of his friends what had taken place between his son and Chase, and remarked, "I don't know whether I'd better go and kill the d—n cuss or sue him."

He was advised to take the latter course; but Fulton filled a bottle with liquor, and proceeded a short distance where his father was at work and producing the bottle said, "Father take a drink with me, drink a good horn, you will never have a chance to drink any more with me." He then hid the bottle in some bushes near by, and proceeded on to where Chase and his son were making a rail fence. He approached toward them in an apparently laughing mood, and when he had come quite up to Chase, remarked, "Old Jeff has come to see you." Chase said, "Well, what will old Jeff have?" Thereupon he drew a knife which he had concealed about his person, and violently stabbed him in the side between the ribs. Chase turned to escape, when he received another stab in the back. He ran a few steps, and fell never to rise again.

Fulton then fled to the woods, where he secreted himself, and baffled all the efforts of his pursuers from Thursday until Monday, when he was seen and pursued closely. He hid himself in a clump of bushes. Those in chase arriving at the spot, found that he was in the last agonies of death, having cut his own throat with the very knife with which he took the life of his fellow man.

We hear from Marshal Brown that a Mr. Chase, residing in the vicinity of Hampton Falls, was in this city yesterday, and says a young man who has been employed by him was enticed away about six weeks ago under similar circumstances of that of Mr. Randall, by the same ruffian, Tinsley, and has not been heard of since.

No trace has yet been obtained of either of the assassins. It would be well for officers along the seaboard to watch outward bound vessels, as it is probable they will take the first opportunity to slip off to sea. From the route there appears good reason to believe, that the villians followed Randall in his flight, close up to Mr. Lent's gate. Randall, the wounded man, was as comfortable yesterday, as could be expected, and his recovery is confidently looked for.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Frank Leslie's New York Journal for October, 1855, contains among other interesting matter, an essay on the Spontaneous Combustion of the Human Body. Also a great variety of illustrations, including views of Buildings and Scenery in Rome. Frank Leslie, publisher.

Mr Heatherly of New York, who was returning home with his wife from Canada, where he had been ill, leaped from the steamer New World, on the Hudson river, in a fit of delirium, on Friday night, and was drowned. Senator Wilson of Massachusetts, complained to the New York Evening Post that no effort was made to stop the boat and render assistance to the man, though he was seen a quarter of a mile after he left the boat.

Death of Thomas Williams, Esq. of New London, Conn.—We have to announce the sudden death of Thomas W. Williams (2d) Esq., of the firm of Williams & Barnes, at New London, Conn., who expired at his residence there yesterday. Mr W. was among the most prominent and wealthy of the merchants in Connecticut. He had accumulated a large fortune, and was widely known for his liberality and works of charity. He leaves a widow. He was engaged yesterday in getting off the ship North Star; after which, feeling a slight headache, he called at his barber's and was shampooed. Not obtaining relief, he desired the operator to pour cold water on his head, which was done.—Shortly after he was taken with chills and became insensible, and died at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Mr Williams was extensively known also among the merchants of this city, who will feel pained at this sudden announcement of his decase. His age was about 50.—N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, 13th.

LOCAL.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

Tuesday, Sept. 18.

Judge Harvey presiding.—A case of libel for seaman's wages came up, by Joshua Burton, a seaman or steward, for wages due on board ship Albert Gallatin. He claims $143.21.

The defence was that Burton forfeited his wages by being disobedient, dirty and negligent, for which he was turned out of his stewardship—and that he finally left the ship at Liverpool. It was also stated that he brought liquor on board the ship at New Orleans, which liquor the captain threw overboard; that Burton used false keys, and during the voyage helped himself to the captain's liquors and cigars, the loss of which the captain discovered at Liverpool; that Burton brought improper persons on board the ship at that port; and that the captain paid Burton £4 in Liverpool, leaving due him only about $17, which the defence says he forfeited as afore said, by desertion.

There was also some testimony as to the captain's offer to bring Burton home in the ship, but not as steward.

The case, after argument, was submitted to the Judge, who retains it for advisement and decision.

The case of Portsmouth Marine Railway v. bark Mary Annah, tried at the last term, was decided. The Court ruled that the bark was not liable for breaking down the railway—but was liable for damages occasioned by her lying in the railway dock after the accident.—These damages are to be assessed by an auditor.

The Court then adjourned.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, Presiding Justice.

Tuesday, Sept. 18.

The Court was opened at half past 4, P.M. being delayed in its organization by the session of the U. S. District Court.

Rev. Mr. Lamson of this city offered the opening prayer; and Judge Fowler delivered the charge to the Grand Jury,—in which he gave a brief account of the origin and history of the institution of Jury Trials, and Grand Jury presentments. He also gave a brief synopsis of their duties, and a brief an exhortation to their performance.

These and other needful preliminary proceedings, occupied the sitting.

New York Hay refused.—We must make an appendix to our Hay story, which will destroy most of its beauty. We told it as we heard it;—and it was partly true. But alas! the hay was to be received and paid for only if it should be of a satisfactory quality. A sample, ten or fifteen tons, we now understand, came, and proved to be refuse hay in part:—and no more is to be received from that quarter at present.

Merchantable screwed hay is selling here for twenty dollars per ton, and as loose hay brings the same price, while feed is short, there is not much prospect of a reduction in the price of hay in this market very speedily.

☞ Com. John Thomas Newton, is ordered to the command of the Navy Yard at Kittery, Me. vice Capt. Joseph Smoot, placed on the retired list.

Indian Corn.—In this neighborhood the Indian Corn is topped, and is ripening rapidly. The yield is very fair, and as a large breadth of land was planted, we have a heavy crop in the aggregate.

☞ The Free Will Baptist Society of this city propose to hold a pic nic to day near New Market Junction. Should the weather be unfavorable, it will probably be postponed to the first fair day.

Suspense Among U. S. Naval Officers.—It has already been announced that the President has signed the report of the Board of Officers appointed under an act of the last Congress, to retire certain officers from Navy. It is said there are, in all, about 700 officers, and those adjudged will be informed of their doom privately and by mail. The reader may well imagine the anxiety of these gentlemen as they receive and open their letters from Washington. The three grades of decision are "Dismissed" the "Furloughed," and the "Retired." The Retired are adequately provided for, and receive the same salaries that they have been in the habit of receiving when not on duty; a Captain, for example $2500 a year. The furloughed of the same grade will receive but $1250 a year and the dismissed nothing at all.

Love and Temperature.—In one of his letters, Sydney Smith says—"Very high and very low temperatures extinguish all human sympathy and relations. It is impossible to feel affection beyond 78 or below 29 degrees Fahrenheit; human nature is too solid or too liquid beyond these limits."

Card Players Caught.—In Charlestown, on Sunday night, the watch made a descent upon a German boarding house, in "Dublin Row," Warren avenue, kept by C. Rimbauk, and arrested three Germans, who were playing cards. They were provided with lodgings in the lock-up. Monday morning they were examined, found guilty and fined $6 and costs each.

An order from the Post-office Department requires route agents to put an end to the indiscriminate reception of letters in their cars, "by closing the openings in their respective cars through which letters are deposited, and by receiving and mailing such only as cannot be conveniently mailed at the Post-offices."

Warming Silver Ware.—Housekeepers must have noticed how their silver war loses its burnished brightness so soon after using it, but generally are not aware of the reason. It is the washing of it in soap and water that gives it that pewter like appearance. Never put a particle of soap about your silver, and it will then retain its original lustre. When it needs polish, take a piece of soft leather and whiting, and give it a tolerably hard rubbing.—Trans.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17th.—An immense Democratic Demonstration took place to-night in Independence square, in celebration of the ratification of the federal constitution. The square was illuminated, and delegations from the various wards marched in procession with music, cannon, &c. Several speakers, including Mr. Richardson of Illinois, and Mr. Nicholson of Tennessee, addressed the assembly from two stands. The resolutions are patriotic in tone, strongly denounce the K. N.'s, endorse the Nebraska bill, and approve of the course of the national administration. The meeting was discharged by the premature accidental discharge of some fireworks, which were reserved for the finale, and which created great consternation in the crowd, but fortunately without serious results.

NEW YORK POLITICS.—A writer from New York city says:

The millenium of politics seems to have arrived, when the democratic lion shall lie down with the whig lamb, and a soft shell child shall lead them. It may truly be said that so far as the leaders are concerned, there are no principles or parties. It is merely a contest of men for place. A whig candidate attends democratic meetings to get votes and vice versa. One of the most despicable pieces of trickery, however, is one which has occurred in one or two instances, where an active member of Know Nothing lodges appears in denunciation of his brethren, and claiming to be only whig or democrat. Allegiance and truth is better than trickery. In many cases in this city, the present incumbents of office are desirous of re-election. The whole political campaign will be nothing but the appearance of a troupe of stump candidates, caring nothing for principles, taking the nomination at any and every thing they can get, and going in for themselves alone. After they are in, the public goose must afford the feathers.

NEW TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.—A new and important political movement was inaugurated last Saturday evening, by the temperance people of New York city. Five delegates from each ward were chosen to a general committee. A strong platform of temperance principles was adopted, in which the Maine Law, and all forms of coercive legislation are condemned, and the moral suasion policy recommended. The Maine Law of this State was pronounced a failure by several speakers, and the enactment of a stringent license law urged. The carson league and temperance alliance were severely denounced, and a general ward and city organization advocated. Mr Epes E. Ellery presided, and Mr Nathaniel Nesbit explained the object of the movement to be a thorough reorganization of the temperance party of the city and county of New York.

It looks to us, as if this "temperance movement, and temperance party," connected as they are in the item with a license law,—are designed to operate on the election in Massachusetts. But there will be other accounts of them.

An agent of the Kansas Free Settlers, named Abbott, has been in New York for the purchase of guns to arm a company against the Atchisonian invaders. A person was in Massachusetts on a similar mission, last month. If they use these arms to the killing of one man, the probability is that the Missourians would clear the whole territory of them.

FIDELITY OF THE NEGROES.—The fidelity of the negroes is spoken of as not the less noticeable feature in the history of the yellow fever at Norfolk. It is difficult, nearly impossible, to separate servants and mistresses. Forbidden to enter the sick chamber, the blacks will creep into concealed places, hide beneath the beds, crouch in corners, employ every artifice, to remain in attendance upon the mistress. Left to themselves, the negroes are abject, refuse to take remedies, and die rapidly. Their last wish often is that they may be buried near their mistress.—Boston Times.

A beautiful trait in human life and negro character. And these slaves would all rush to the North!—would they?—if they were freed.

RETURNED,—The return of Mr. Edward P. Whitney, the missing teacher of the Williston seminary at Easthampton, Mass. to the home of his father at Northampton, on Friday, was, as may be supposed, a source of great relief and joy not only to his family, but to the community of this vicinity.—He found his way home from New York, in bad health, and has evidently suffered much during the week of his apparently unconscious wanderings.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 11th—The Crops in Ohio.—Hot weather—thermometer only 94 in the shade! No danger of the corn now, and such an abundance—the like quantity of everything—fruits, vegetables, and grains of all kinds, was never known. It is really funny to hear the farmers talk about their hay and grain being stacked out of doors, and not half room enough left for the corn, wheat, oats, &c. Cattle fat, and plenty to keep us from scarcity for two years, even should we have another season such as we had last year.

The Boston Puritan Recorder inclines to have the ancient order of deaconesses revived, by way apparently of blocking the women's rights movement. It considers it clear that the churches constituted by the apostles had such officers.

THE DANGER.—The Portland State of Maine newspaper of the 18th says:

The absurdity of the Maine Law has become so apparent to the commonest mind, that the chief danger to be feared from the reaction against it is a new impetus to intemperance. Indeed, some of our philanthropic Maine Law Aldermen, since the election of this State, have openly declared that liquor could now be sold freely in this city, without fear of prosecution—thus virtually declaring the hypocrisy of all their humane pretensions. While we denounce all such pretended virtue, we do not believe that the public sentiment of this city, or this State, will permit the extension of intemperance.

Potter's Hair Balm.
THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—
"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectrble persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.
A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it curls them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees
It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.
SANCHO PANZA
Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he confer upon the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such "tolerable and not to be endured" tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

GUNPOWDER.—The Russian war is at length felt in the demand for gunpowder and the raw materials of which it is manufactured. Gunpowder has largely advanced recently and is still rising. Many of the mills in the United States are about being closed, being unable to procure saltpetre, not a sack of which is now for sale in the commercial ports. It has advanced in price one hundred and fifty per cent. in the last sixty days, and agents from Europe in New York and Boston, have bought all that will arrive this year from Calcutta. It is said that there is but one powder making firm in the United States that has stock to run more than sixty days longer. They must close then or sooner, and await the result of the Eastnen war, or bid against the European governments for that indispensable ingredient for powder, saltpetre. —Newburyport Herald.

It may be proper to add, in this place, that we feel the Russian war to-day, in the high prices of breadstuffs and of sugars and molasses. The nations are all mutually dependent. One great war affects all of them more or less. And while a few thousands of men grow rich or great, millions suffer privation and loss.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which form the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Costiveness, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skillful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers, and equal to them in elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

Morning Chronicle.

STRANGE PROCEEDINGS.—We have heard of many very strange things being done in city houses during the absence of the inmates in summer; but the most remarkable capers of which we have any account have just been made public in New York. It appears that the rogues not only consumed the choice wines found in the mansion, but ordered articles at the baker's, butcher's, and grocer's, and had them charged to the absentee landlord! This is the very acme of impudence.

The family lived out of town; the husband did business in town, all the while; the wife supposed he visited the house now and then to see all right, but he did not. When they got back, the wife found the wines used up, bottles and crockery broken, and the traces of a revel everywhere visible. She thought her husband had been keeping bachelor's hall at a good old English rate, with a choice lot of bon vivants to help him. She charged him with it.

"How! You have reasons for believing that I have visited the house, perhaps?"

"Alas! I have only too many of them. For example! see there, what is too convincing!"

Without deigning to push the discussion further, Madame X. took her husband by the hand, and led him into a room attached to the dining-hall, and which had remained shut all the morning. "Look there," said she. M. X. looked stupefied. The entire floor and shelves were covered with empty bottles and porcelain, all in disorder; several broken pieces were heaped up in a corner.

"Who in the deuce has done this pretty piece of business?" exclaimed M. X.

"My dear," said Madame X., with a voice of entreaty, "do not add dissimulation to the wrongs you have done. We are rich enough to enable you to drink, without inconvenience, with your friends, in two or three months, an entire stock of champagne, Rhine wine, Bordeaux, or Madeira. I will not reproach you with having exhausted all the boxes of Chateau Margaux, for which you know my preference. But you ought, at least, to have paid more regularly your exorbitant bills at the butcher's, the baker's, and especially the grocer's."

At these remarks M. X. overcome with surprise, found nothing to answer—not knowing where to commence in order to establish his innocence. He took the bills which his wife handed him, posted them up; then, bursting out all at once,

"As true as heaven," said he, "I don't understand a single word of all that you have been dealing out to me."

Then commenced a tedious and interminable explanation, from which it resulted as follows:

Some impudent rascals, or some roguish wags, well acquainted, as it appears, with the customs of M. X., had introduced themselves into the house by means of false keys, immediately after his departure for the country. They had settled themselves there, and with incredible audacity, they availed themselves of the services of those who had furnished the household of the absent proprietor, finding nothing too good for them, having no regard, as one may easily believe, to the expense, and not abandoning the place until the amount of their bills led them to fear discovery of their impudent roguery.

During their stay, however, they had emptied the cellar. One of the causes of their departure had been, perhaps, the total exhaustion of the supplies of fine wines which M. X. had collected—among which, besides the celebrated Chateau Margaux, there were demijohns of Madeira which had made the tour of the globe—all for the benefit of these gentlemen. By a freak not less extraordinary than the act itself, the thieves respected even the most insignificant objects of furniture—and nothing was found wanting in the examination which they hastened to make. By way of recognizing this delicate procedure, M. X. paid the bills, and very wisely made no complaint before a court of justice.

As to the rebel business, the country in this vicinity is very quiet, though down the river and among the islanders near its mouth piracies are constant, the pirates being unemployed rebels—all the same thing. The English war steamers occasionally give them particular hard fits.

The mandarins still call for political offenders to be given up, and many are denounced every day; they are constantly arriving here, and every day there are two executions, at 10 A. M. and 4 P. M. Not many people go to see them—foreigners occasionally. I have misgivings that my stomach will not stand the sights, sounds and smells. The Execution square is now more than four inches deep of thick, clotted, dried blood, and they say the smell is awful this hot weather.

Mr Heard went down the other morning, and saw 161 beheaded. There were four executions only, and the time consumed in taking off the heads was just two minutes and a half! Yesterday there were 300 beheaded, and in the afternoon 250! This morning 280 have been pitched into. This has been going on steadily for some months. Mr Morrison, the interpreter to the English Consulate, tells me that he has seen some of them sitting down waiting their turn, very coolly eating China gooseberries.

Dr. Dana, now in his 85th year, preached at the Federal street church, Newburyport, on Sunday morning, sixty years from the date of his settlement over that society. In the afternoon his son from Charleston, S. C. officiated in the same pulpit.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20, 1855.

A New Platform.—We have already given a telegraphic item about a new liquor movement, or temperance movement, in New York. The Boston Chronicle now informs us, that at a meeting in New York, on Saturday evening, of some of the most respectable citizens, heretofore active in the temperance cause, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, it is deemed expedient and necessary that an organization of temperance men should be effected that would materially advance the temperance cause, and not be simply the tool of wire pulling demagogues and a concerted band of voluntary spies; and, whereas, no such organization is now in existence; therefore,

Resolved, That we, the members of the Temperance General Committee, do organize ourselves for constant action at the ballot box, to prevent the ravages of intemperance.

Resolved, That it is no part of our political creed that men who disagree with us upon the temperance question are to be branded as murderers, assassins, and villain, nor have we any affinities with the fanaticism and bigotry now rampant throughout our land, but we will endeavor to spread our cause through the medium of moral suasion and a stringent license law—a law that will punish any person selling spirit or malt liquors to a minor, pauper, habitual drunkard, or a person intoxicated, not by compelling the seller to pay a paltry fine, but by imprisonment in the county jail.

Resolved, That in nominating candidates for the political suffrages of our fellow citizens, honesty and stern integrity of character, and fitness for office, should be the only qualification we require, providing such candidates are in favor of the temperance reformation as conducted years ago, before the leaders of that reformation sought by coercive meat rea to compel men to be moral, temperate, and honest.

The above preamble is about equally remarkable for its modesty and its accuracy.—The hundreds of temperance organizations throughout this country, embrace thousands of members, and may smile at the idea of being mere tools: but let that pass.

Their first resolution connects temperance with politics.

Their second is for moral suasion, and a license law, with imprisonment for a penalty.

The third is a curiosity; being in favor of the temperance reformation as it was conducted years ago.

We shall look to this new organization with some interest. And temperance men must not be surprised to see it gain some adherents and influence some votes, for the public mind, on that subject, is full of crudities.

Law in Keene.—The Sentinel gives the following account of the first case in Keene under the new law:—

Horatio N. Barrow was brought before George W. Startevant, Esq., on complaint of being intoxicated and disturbing the peace and tranquillity of his family. The trial excited considerable interest, and was made amusing by the ingenuity of the respondent's council in raising questions as to what is intended in law by the terms "intoxicated" and "drunk." It was settled in this case that the act of kicking one's wife was an indication of drunkenness. No disclosures were made on the part of the defendant as to where he got his liquor, and he was found guilty and sentenced to thirty days imprisonment in the county jail, and to pay costs of prosecution, from which sentence he appealed to the court of common pleas.

Another man named Geo. W. Near was complained of for buying liquor at the Ashuelot House. He was arrested by Sheriff Wyman, and appeared near Mr Chamberlain's office for trial; but under pretence of going after a witness, he escaped from the sheriff, and made his way towards Warwick, Mass. Mr Wyman pursued him, but the refugee had too much the start to allow his pursuers to come near him.—Manchester Amer.

No complaint could be entered against the man for buying;—he might be complained of for drunkenness, and called upon to disclose. Or he might be summoned as the witness in a sale case. But whatever it was, if such a loafer ran off, and comes not back, it is a good riddance to the neighborhood he leaves.

Accident.—Moody Kent, Esq., of Pembroke, 76 years of age, and well known in Concord, had his foot nearly cut off, and his arm broken, on Monday afternoon last, by coming in contact with a truck train, on that portion of the Northern Railroad which passes through this city. Mr. Kent, having arrived by one of the afternoon trains walked along the track to the place where he generally resides while here, and when opposite the foundry stepped off while the Northern passed, and stood between two trucks on the side track. His position hindered him seeing some trucks loaded with coal backing up to the spot where he stood, and on stepping on the main track he was struck by one of the trucks, knocked down, and hurt as we started. Amputations of the foot will be necessary.—Patriot.

The Census.—We find by most of the returns of the State census, the children of foreigners, though born in this country, are included in the number of foreigners. This is a palpable violation of the law authorizing the census, and the sworn agents, who take the census in the manner indicated, and make the returns required by the law, will thereby violate the oaths they have taken. We should like to know where this mode of taking the census originated, and who is responsible for it.—Worcester Spy.

NAVAL.

Com. John Thomas Newton, is ordered to the command of the Navy Yard at Kittery, Me. vice Capt. Joseph Smoot, placed on the retired list.

The New York Navy Yard will be next month under the command of Capt. Bigelow, who relieves Capt. Boarman, retired on leave pay.

Commander Chas. T. Platt, who commanded the Albany, off Havana, when Col. Crittenden and his fifty comrades were shot on shore, has been furloughed.

A Good Move.—The benevolent people in Newburyport are making a charitable collection for the benefit of Randall, the wounded and robbed man. A writer in the Herald says—

There is now an opportunity for the "good Samaritans" of Newburyport and vicinity, to render assistance to the wayfaring man who fell among thieves.

You have all heard the details of the murderous assault last Saturday evening, made upon an honest, unsuspecting, industrious laborer, who was returning to his poor widowed mother, with the fruits of his summer's toil.

The fiends who decoyed him away, robbed him of his money, his watch, his very clothing. They were not successful in getting his life, though they mangled him in a most horrible manner.

Strange to say, he will no doubt recover, though his person will be distorted for life.—He has a brother recently from California, in New York, sick and poor. His mother, a widow residing in Maine, gets her support from a few acres of land cultivated by her youngest son, and money earned by this unfortunate son, who is now in the deepest poverty. The particulars of his pecuniary affairs, and all the circumstances connected with his late misfortune have been learned, and it is desirable to collect the gifts of those who sympathize with him, and present them to him immediately, that as soon as he is able he may be removed to his home in Maine.

If there are any in Portsmouth who feel like aiding in this benevolent enterprise, they can send their money to Mr I. P. Seavy, corner of State and Pleasant streets, Newburyport. Mr Seavy was for some years a resident of this city, and is well known to our citizens.

The Grand Jury being in session, the Court adjourned to Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

☞ A member of the bar complains of our notice of the Aldermen's decision in J. Smith Robinson's case as incorrect,—and asserts that a majority of the Aldermen did not sign the certificate of his sanity, as we stated, and as we were told by one of the board.

We have inquired at the city rooms, and find that six aldermen attended the meeting for certifying the result of their inquisition; three of that number voted for the certificate of sanity; three against; the Mayor gave his casting vote in its favor, and signed the document, so that it was signed, not by four Aldermen of the seven, but by the Mayor and three Aldermen.

We understand also that the other three signed a document giving their opinion that he was insane, and that one signed nothing.

☞ We understand that the North Church and Parish in this city, by unanimous concurrent votes, have invited Rev. Lyman Whiting of Reading, Mass., to become their pastor.

The Late Death of Miss Bourne on Mount Washington, which was briefly noticed by telegraph, is more elaborately mentioned in the following letter from the Glen House, dated Sept. 14, to the Portland Advertiser:—

Three of our party, Mr Bourne of Kennebunk, daughter and niece, started yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock for the Summit House, without a guide and on foot, thinking to take it fair and easy, and reach the top before dark. They got along very well till within about one mile of the house, when they were completely enveloped in a thick cloud. The wind blew a gale—they became exhausted, night came on—they lost their path—it was intensely cold, and they wandered about till the cold frosts of death gathering thick around them, settled down upon the fair form of the most fragile of their number, and the fell destroyer had marked her for his own. Ere half the weary hours of night had thus sadly and mournfully passed, her angel spirit winged its flight from the dreary rocks of that mountain bed, to join her spirit mother in her heavenly home. She was the only daughter of E. E. Bourne, Esq., and was in the care of her uncle, who came near perishing in his exertions to save his charge. The survivors, after keeping their ceaseless vigils over the lifeless remains of their friend through the lengthened hours of that awful night, reached the Summit House about daylight, and in a few moments the corpse of their stricken companion was found scarce a stone's throw distant.

Arrest.—Boody Sherburne, alias Job Smiley, charged with robbing the Concord Savings Bank, in conjunction with the brothers Rand, was apprehended, on Friday last, in the cars, while between Worcester and West Brookfield, Mass., by officers Warren and Porter of Boston, and lodged in the Merrimack county jail in Concord.—N. H. Patriot.

The fire which was set in the peat grounds in Topsfield, Hamilton, and Wenham, known as Bunker's Meadow, is still spreading in the dry peaty grounds and among the woods in that region. It is estimated that a thousand acres have been burnt over.—Gloucester Telegraph, 19th.

The Election in Texas proves unexpectedly close. The Democratic incumbent, E M Pease, is probably re-elected Governor over Dickson, (K N) but it seems quite likely that Powers (K N) is chosen Lieut. Governor over Runnels, (Dem.) All the returns have Powers slightly ahead.

Crosby, the K N Land Commissioner, also appears to be running neck and neck with his competitor, Fields. For Congress, in the Eastern District, Evans, (K N) seems, from the returns so far, to have the better chance.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out. Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take this best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Rockingham, ss.—By the Hon Judge of Probate for said County. To the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of BENNING ADAMS, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, testate, and all persons interested in said estate.

YOU are hereby notified that LEVI BRACKETT, Executor of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of November next, at 10 o'clock, A.M., for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Morning Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

Dated at Portsmouth, September 11th, A.D. 1855.

By order of the Judge—
s20 3t W. B. MORRILL, Register of Probate

MAINE.—We have returns from 411 towns and plantations in this State, in which the aggregate vote for Governor is as follows, compared with the preceding year:

1855.		1854
Morrill	49,393	Morrill	43,896
Wells	46,049	Parris & Cary	30,312
Reed	10,446	Reed	13,737

The House of Representatives will contain 63 Republicans, 68 Democrats, and 20 Whigs. The Senate will contain 15 Democrats and 10 Whigs, elected by the union, if the Opposition have elected in Washington, of which there now appears to be some doubt.

Three Republican Senators are certainly chosen in Hancock county, by a large majority. In 14 towns received their majority is 611. In Aroostook and Penobscot there is no choice.—Atlas.

YELLOW FEVER.—New York, Sept. 18.—The Steamship Roanoke which arrived here yesterday from Richmond, had two cases of yellow fever on board during the passage, and one died. She is detained at quarantine.

THE YELLOW FEVER IN VIRGINIA.—Baltimore, 18th.—Advices from Norfolk state that the deaths in that city from Saturpay noon to Monday noon were 48.

At Poetsmouth, there have been only seventeen deaths during the last two days, and the new cases were very few. The disease had entirely disappeared from some parts of the city. Among the recent deaths are those of Rev. Messrs Chisholm, of the Episcopal Church, and Bengall, of the Baptist.

The whole number of deaths from fever in Norfolk, since the commencement of the epidemic, as ascertained by the actual interments, is 1057.

THE YELLOW FEVER.—Baltimore, 19th.—We have tidings this morning of increased mortality at Norfolk and Portsmouth. The deaths at the former place on Monday were 45, and on Tuesday, up to noon, 20. And at the latter, from Monday to Tuesday, noon, the deaths were 17. There were also a large number of new cases.

NAVAL RETIRED LIST.—The Washington Union intimates that some of the published lists of changes in the Navy are incorrect.

THE AFFRAY AT THE ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL.—Mr. Dean, the principal in the tragedy, and a Mr. Montgomery, charged as an accessory, were committed to the Tombs, to await the result of the affair, bail having been refused.

THE CRESCENT CITY.—The conduct of the captain and owners of the Crescent City has caused considerable excitement in New York. This steamer which was taken to the quarantine Tuesday morning, by the order of the city authorities, in consequence of having had yellow fever on board, ran away from Staten Island during the afternoon with her passengers and freight for Havana and New Orleans. One of the health officers it appears went on board the Crescent City at quarantine, about two o'clock, and told the pilot, the captain being absent, that he must not allow any person to pass to or from the vessel. He then left, and went ashore. About an hour afterwards two steamships, one loaded with passengers and the other with freight, came from the city and hauled alongside the steamer, into which they discharged their cargoes. Suspecting that the steamer intended to sail in defiance of quarantine laws, the health officer repaired to her in his boat, with two of his officers. He got upon deck, and read the law to Capt. McGowan, and informed the passengers of the proceedings of the health officers in regard to the infected vessel, but as the Commissioner and his officers were not in sufficient number and strength to offer any physical resistance to the captain and his men, they left to procure assistance. Before they got off the steamer, however, the passengers expressed their indignation and disapprobation at the conduct of the steamship company in sending them on board a yellow fever vessel. The health officer was fearful that he would not have time to go ashore for help, and so steered his barge for the U. S. sloop-of-war Cyane, which was anchored in the vicinity, and made a statement of the facts to commander Wilson. The latter ordered his boats manned and armed immediately, and gave directions to board the steamer. While the men were lowering the boats, however, the paddle wheels of the Crescent City began to move. It was now four o'clock, and as the steam tugs cleared the way, the steamship dashed under full head of steam, and proceeded to sea. The commander of the Cyane then concluded that it was useless to pursue the runaway. Capt. McGowan and the pilot of the Crescent City will be placed under arrest upon their return to New York. The health commissioners are in session to-day at the City Hall in regard to the matter.

At a meeting of the Board of Health this morning, the health officer at quarantine was directed to lay a full statement of the facts connected with the Crescent City affair before the District Attorney with a view of having the steamship company and Capt. McGowan suitably punished. — Telegraphic from New York, Sept. 18th.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

A Word to Persons in Delicate Health

Compounded from the Original Recipe of

DR. CHARLES HOLMAN.

THESE well known and much used BITTERS are composed of Roots and Herbs, such as Sarsaparilla, Pervola, Yellow Dock, Dandelion, Wild Cherry, Prickly Ash, &c. highly prized for their

HEALING, STRENGTHENING AND RENOVATING PROPERTIES.

They are remarkable for giving a tone to the Digestive Organs, assisting Nature and preventing the various Bowel Complaints, so frequent and so dangerous during Summer and Autumn.

No Family should be without them.

Price 25 cents for a single Bottle, or five bottles for one dollar. Quite the cheapest as well as the best Medicine that can be used.

Dr. J. F. HOLMAN, Proprietor, Boston, Mass. Wholesale and Retail Agent for Portsmouth, J. H. THACHER, Apothecary, Corner of State and Pleasant streets.

Also for sale by R. K. Oxford, S. W. Moses, W. B. Laskey and Lafayette Laighton. je22 3mis

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it crisps them up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and not to be endured tormentors; and who has rendered every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

Barnum's Speech.—At the close of Barnum's successful baby show in Boston, he made the following speech, which we copy from the Times. The Courier calls it impudent:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—I am not going to make a long speech at the close of this show, which has resulted so successfully. I thank you for your attendance. You probably think that I got it up on purpose to make money. Well, I did, but that was not all. I got it up to show some folks who said that there would be no New England babes at this exhibition, and that it would be a failure, but I understand my business of a showman better than they did. The codfish aristocracy said it would not go down in Boston, and the old fogy newspapers, of which I am happy to say there are but few, predicted a failure. I predicted that one hundred thousand persons would come to this beautiful show, and I am happy to say that there have been one hundred and three thousand—which is a pretty close prediction. I thank you again for your attendance, and bid you good night.

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity to Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, Aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities to man.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed without Medicine, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to CURE HIMSELF PERFECTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, No. 17 Lispenard Street, New York City. a12 d&w6m*

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of

STOVES:

Among which are the BLACK STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal:

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked.

The CHARTER OAK and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price.

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c.

PARLOR STOVES

Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

Remember the place—No. 46 Market st.

Give us a call and you shall be suited.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who have hitherto doubted what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others as the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received at my dwelling from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little darlings. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Alfred Ointment and Humor Syrup

will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Alfred Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as a rare article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. J. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Chronic Sores, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all these vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

ROMANCE OF THE PARIS EXHIBITION.

[Translated from the Courier des Etats Unis.]

A gentleman was seen making long visits at the palace of the Champs Elysees, but it was not to examine the productions of universal industry, nor to gather up the amusing incidents which are always taking place in the crowd. This eccentric person is well known by the frequenters of the Boulevard des Italiens, as a dandy of five-and-thirty, the inheritor of a property producing an income of ten thousand francs, and who having nothing to do, and possessing a sensitive heart, made up his mind to marry. He was smitten with the idea, but he had his fears. Footing the bills was what alarmed him. The enormous expense which women of the present day lavish upon their toilet, caused him a legitimate terror. Where should he find a young person modest in her tastes, who would resist the ruinous temptations to dress? How should he discover this rare merit? How judge of her sincerity through the flattering appearances that marriageable young ladies know so well how to assume when they are in the presence of a bachelor?

The exhibition of industry seemed to him to be a good occasion and an excellent field to make this trial. To the palace in the Champs Elysees he went then to make his observations, which he kept up day after day.

He was seen stationed beside the cases in which were exposed the wonders of the jeweller's art, or posted in the quarter where the cashmeres are exposed. Sometimes he was found near the rich laces, and sometimes in the gallery where the Lyons silks displayed their magnificence.

Young ladies who did not know they were watched, expressed frankly their impressions and their wishes before these wonderful and splendid articles.

'Oh, what beautiful diamonds, and how fortunate one would be who could marry and have such,' they cried. 'Oh, what admirable cashmeres, I will have one like that in my corbeille, and one like that!' 'But just look at this one!' 'Oh, magnificent, I will have that too!' 'That makes three.' 'Ah, well, we have not got half through the list, a husband who knows how to live could he do less than put six cashmeres into the corbeille.'

Thousands of young ladies expressing themselves thus, showing their covetousness, their vanity, their exaction, their coquetry, came before him, and every evening as he quitted his post, pensive and melancholy, he said, with a sigh:

'They are all the same, I must still remain a bachelor.' Every day the sad truth became more evident to him, which he bewailed in something like these words:

'At the present time in Paris a gallant man who has only ten thousand francs income is not rich enough to marry. He must elect between celibacy and ruin.'

But he was wrong to be so absolute in his despair, and to include all the marriageable ladies in the circle of his reprobation. There are exceptions, at least there was one.

After three months distressing trial the despairing bachelor saw a young lady pass near the diamond case who only threw upon the jewelry a disdainful glance. He followed her to the cashmeres—she barely threw upon them a careless look. Laces stretched out like nets did not detain her a single minute.—Rich silk stuffs found her indifferent—she did not honor them with a glance. But on the other hand this extraordinary young person stopped a long time before the household utensils, examined them carefully, and made, to her mother who accompanied her, very sensible observations upon the advantages of these various objects, and the economy which would arise from their use.

The bachelor, enchanted and ravished, followed this admirable young lady—he did not breathe freely until he learned she was unmarried. He asked her hand—offered her his ten thousand—was accepted, and will everlastingly bless the universal exhibition—at least he hopes to.

A few months ago, the owner of very large estates, not a dozen miles from Manchester, (Eng.) attained his majority; and some hundreds of pounds were spent in the feastings and rejoicings to which he invited his friends, neighbors, tenants, and laborers. Soon after, riding homeward one evening, after partaking of "refreshment" at the house of a friend, he fell (tipsy) from his horse and died not many hours afterwards.

KANSAS.—The Squatter Sovereign of Kansas, speaking of the new Governor sent out by Mr Pierce, says:

Mr Shannon may be a reliable man. We hope he is; but coming as he does from the State that produces a Giddings a Wade and Chase, we cannot but regard him with suspicion. We too well know the consequence that will follow should he prove another Reader, not to express some anxiety as to his predilections. If we know the feelings of the citizens of Kansas Territory, we can safely state that the point has now arrived at which "forbearance ceases to be a virtue," and the further attempts of a President and Cabinet to saddle an abolitionist upon us for a ruler will not be tolerated, but resisted even unto death.

The Portsmouth Almanac

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1855.

WHAT SHALL BE DONE!

Some paper, we presume the Portland Advertiser, has this item:

SIGNIFICANT.—The State of Maine copies the following, without comment, into its list of "echoes for the victory":—

"The natural and proper effect of this election will be to open 100 grog shops in Portland, and 1000 in the State of Maine, as soon as the Legislature shall be organized and proceed to business."—Portsmouth Chronicle.

To this the State of Maine, Sept. 19, replies:

"Significant" of what? We didn't suppose so foolish a paragraph required any comment. No sensible man could think such trash worth comment or contradiction.

The State of Maine did not see fit to copy the next sentence of ours which followed the above extracts. Our next words were "This may not follow as fully as we here anticipate, &c." We do not complain of this: but we put these things together, and will proceed to show, by brief extracts from the State, what its expectations are, on this same subject.

That paper just after the election said,

The attempt to enforce the present intensified Liquor Law, had produced a highly exasperated state of feeling throughout the State; but this was not enough to have aroused the intense animosity that entered into the Canvass. This was mainly due to the introduction of the "foreign legion," and the disunion sentiments of Senator Wade. * * * * The solid men of Maine, * * * put their shoulder to the wheel, and laid Disunion, and the Maine Law together in the same grave.

We supposed, when the Maine law was laid in its grave, there would be a resurrection of the grogshops, in all their beauty and glory. And the State of Maine says, Sept. 18,

The absurdity of the Maine Law has become so apparent to the commonest mind, that the chief danger to be feared from the reaction against it is a new impetus to intemperance.

This is exactly what we ventured to suppose, in the paragraph which the State pleases to call foolish trash.

We foolishly supposed the grog shops would revive next January—but the State wisely apprehends their immediate recommencement. It says,

Some of our philanthropic Maine Law Aldermen, since the election of this State, have openly declared that liquor could now be sold freely in this city, without fear of prosecution.

That is, the Aldermen considered the vote in Portland against the law and its enforcement, to be so decisive as to render it inexpedient to make any further effort in that direction. But the State adds:

While we denounce all such pretended virtue, we do not believe that the public sentiment of this city, or this State, will permit the extension of intemperance.

This last sentence expresses a doubt almost exactly like our own, when we say "this effect may not follow as fully as we here anticipate."

The State, of the 14th, says, in different paragraphs and sentences:

The defeat of the Morrill party confirms us in the belief that the practice of temperance is not to be enforced by statute.

We have entire faith that Messrs. — — can frame a law that shall end the cause of temperance.

They are to do it so wisely, as to aid the cause of temperance,—

Without producing the evils that the "atrocious Maine Law" has inflicted on every community where it has been attempted.

Among the first measures to be adopted by the Legislature, we doubt not, will be * * * the obliteration from the Statute Book of the Maine Liquor Law.

That is doomed, utterly; now read what follows:

And the passage of a judicious law regulating the sale of liquors under proper checks, restrictions and limitations.

We have sifted out these significant sayings, from longer pieces,—not to charge the State with lying, or even with self-contradiction; but rather to show that the professions of doubt and fear in that paper and in our own, are after all very much alike.

The State does not expect the reaction of the people of Maine against the law, to give a new impetus to temperance, but to intemperance.

How? By the removal of restraint. That is it, exactly.

But will all restraint be removed? will temperance be forgotten? No.

Why not? because the public sentiment will not permit it, says the State; and so say we.

How will this public sentiment act? It will make itself felt in the hopes, fears, and plans, of the legislature, which must act, and which will need all its wisdom to preserve its own balance, not to mention the balance of power.

The intensified Maine law and its authors and enforcers in Portland, were overwhelmed as well as defeated, by the tremendous rush of eleven hundred reserved voters, who rose in their might against what they deemed tyranny.

Now these men in Portland, (for there the real battle was fought,) these who have been the opposition, have all at once become the administration:—and the State of Maine expresses some interest in what they will do. So do we.

There are three modes of action on this subject.

1. Prohibitive law: of course not exactly the intensified law; for that had its back broken by the election: but a law which aims at the same result, and which treats the sale of strong drinks as a crime, to be punished by fine and imprisonment: while it allows and regulates the sales of liquor for medicinal and mechanical uses. This, so far as it may operate, will keep the grog-shops closed; but it will not suit those who long to enter.

2. License Law: which considers the trade in drinks necessary but dangerous, and therefore puts it into the hands of trusty men, for the public good, under certain regulations and restrictions. This would be an endeavor to make the business respectable in the eyes of the community, as it used to be. Perhaps it may be possible to do something like this. If so, the 1000 grog shops at least would be opened by authority. More probably there would be 5000. Portsmouth, in 1815, had about 250 licensed shops, with 7000 inhabitants. It is somewhat doubtful whether the people would stand this.

3. The law of Moral Suasion: that is no law at all, or no restriction on the sale, except the moral sentiment of the seller. This amounts to free trade in rum, for which a few thousand voters are in earnest. They will trouble any party which opposes them; and would sink any party that should adopt their platform.

The new law must steer between these difficulties: the navigation is dangerous: the State of Maine sees the difficulty; so do we: it believes temperance cannot be enforced by law; so do we: but it believes a law can be made which will aid temperance. We believe a law may aid in keeping order, by restraining the sale, and cutting off the toper's supplies: but we can hardly go so far as the State does, in reliance on any human law whatever.

We wish the statute laws to do what good they can:—but we regard them, after all, rather as the index of character, to show what people are, than as the cause of any virtue in any man.

We are Washingtonian, in principle and practice. We rely on fact, argument, entreaty, example.

☞ Dickens' Household Words, for October, Vol. 12, No. 1, has just come to hand, from Dix & Edwards, publishers, 10 Park Place, New York. The first article, The Great Baby, is a satire on the reformers who seek to correct moral abuses by law. It is essentially English and Dickensian. It is of course amusing by its naturalness; but a saddening train of reflections come with it to a thoughtful mind. The remaining contents are, Two Days in Rio Janeiro; On the Downs; The Masque of Life; Robertson in Russia; Mistress Hannah Wooley; To Hang or not to Hang; (Our Commission; The Little Chorister—(Five chapters—complete); Judge Not; Wrecks at Sea; School Girls; Brides for Sale; Dreamers; Parish Broils; Wet Garden Walks; Regulars and Irregulars; Comfort; Coralie; The Papyrus; Doctoring Begins at Home; The Worthy Magistrate An Accursed Race; The Child Seer; Wild Court Tamed; Poor Angelica; Something Like a Dramatic Author. Terms—$3 a year, or 25 cents a number. Putnam's Monthly and Household Words $5.

THE NEW MOVEMENT.—Our readers have seen notices, in the Morning Chronicle of Tuesday and Wednesday, of a new liquor or temperance movement in New York. It was said that a meeting had been held in that city, of temperance men who had become satisfied that the Prohibitive Law was working badly, and had made up their minds to take hold and put down the "fanatics" by political action. On Wednesday we copied their resolutions, with remarks. Now it turns out, according to the New York Tribune, that there were "only ten persons present, including several reporters;" that only one of them, Mr Ellery, was ever heard of as pretending to be for temperance; and that Mr Ellery has written a note, saying that he is for legal prohibition, and totally dissents from the character and objects of the meeting.

RESIGNED.—John Kinsman, Esq., Superintendent of the Eastern Railroad, has resigned that office, to take effect Oct. 1. He has been offered the Superintendency of the Mad River and Lake Erie Railroad, and has that offer as a consideration.—Salem Register.

A BOY HUNG FOR MURDER.—The New Orleans Delta states that a boy, ten years of age, was hung recently at Alexandria, La., for the murder of the Rev. J. J. Weems.—When the Sheriff went to his cell on the morning of the execution, the child was playing marbles.

Sydney Smith, says: "It seems necessary that great people should die with some sonorous and quotable saying. Mr Pitt said something not intelligible in his last moments. G. Rose made it out to be, "Save my country, Heaven!" The nurse, on being interrogated, said that he asked for barley water."

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

THURSDAY, Sept. 20.

The Court came in at 9 o'clock,—and adjourned till 12,—adjourned further till 9 A. M. on Friday,—the Grand Jury being still in session.

PROMOTIONS. — Commander George F. Pearson, U. S. N. has been promoted to be Captain, and Lieutenant Charles W. Pickering, Commander.

WOOD.—The prices in our price current are by wholesale. A dealer gives us the following as the wholesale or purchase prices of three grades, also the prices per cord, delivered at dwellings.

Oak	$7 25—$8.00
Other hard wood	$6 25—$7 50
Pine	$4.00—$5.00

APPLES.—Mr Berry, agent in Greenland for the Morning Chronicle, has brought in half a dozen Winter Sweet Greenings, measuring 11 1-2 inches each, in circumference.

FULL RETURNS.—The Augusta Age of Sept. 20, contains returns of votes from the whole of Maine, except 4 towns and 12 plantations, which cast 6 or 700 votes.

Senators—Democrats 15, Whigs 9, Republicans 2, Vacancies 5.

The Grand Jury reported in the U. S. District Court in Boston, on Tuesday, a bill against Jacob K Lunt, Pilot, for resistance of officers in the case of the alleged slaver.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS CONVENTION.— The first evening session of this body was held in Meionion Hall, Boston, on Thursday night, and quite fully attended. The principal addresses were made by Wendell Phillips and Mrs. Lucy Stone Blackwell, who were listened to with deep attention and much apparent approval. Mr. Phillips's main argument was in favor of extending the elective franchise to woman, and he gave as a reason that, if women are hanged and taxed under existing laws, they should be allowed the privilege of voting. The address by Lucy Stone was eloquent and powerful, abounding in sharp and salient points, which would require the ablest advocates of man's superior prerogatives to combat with success.—Times.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Times writes as follows:—

"The Maine election has afforded a new theme for exultation among the devotees of Regular Democracy, as embodied in our present dignified conservative and patriotic administration. They profess to regard it as the harbinger of yet more brilliant triumphs, which are to restore them to power in five-sixths of the States of the Union; to that position of almost absolute control, in short, which they held before the Nebraska agitation began."

RAILROAD ACCIDENT. — An Irishman, named Doyle, formerly a resident of Salem, was struck by a locomotive on the Eastern R. R., on Tuesday forenoon, and fatally injured. He was walking on the track near the Swampscott station, and received so severe a blow that his skull was fractured and one leg broken.—Salem Register.

SAD ACCIDENT AT STONEHAM.—Yesterday forenoon, as Mr James C. Austin of Saugus Centre, who was on a visit to Stoneham, was firing at a mark with a revolver, in company with his friend Col. Gerry, as he raised himself from an observation of the mark, he was met by two balls from the revolver in the hands of Col. G., which by some unaccountable accident was fired off. The balls lodged in the breast of Mr Austin, who at last accounts was lingering in great agony, with no hopes of recovering. He was a young man, and had a wife and child.—Telegraph, 18th.

Middletown, Sept. 14th.— THE UNIVERSALIST CONVENTION.—This body convened in this city this morning. The Council organized by choosing Hon. Lieut. Gov. William Field of this State (Connecticut) as Moderator, and Rev. Mr. Abbott of Maine, and C E Carpenter as Clerks. The annual sermon was preached in the Universalist church by the Rev. Dr Sawyer of New York city.—The discourse was a great and impressive production, and gave satisfaction to a large audience. The Rev. O A Skinner preached an excellent sermon this afternoon.

The celebration is the largest ever assembled. All the hotels and private boarding houses are overflowed.

TAKING THINGS.—We saw a little fellow not more than two feet high, in one of the cells at police station No. 1, the other day, looking lugubriously through the bars, and occasionally brushing away a tear that, stealing down his dirty cheek, left a streak of clear flesh beneath. We asked him what he was doing in there—how he came there, and what he had been doing. 'Only taking things,' replied he with a convulsive sob. 'But didn't you know it was wrong to take things?' said we. With a whimper he replied, 'but I wanted some money to spend, and I took the iron—everybody does!' Here was a little fellow that scarcely knew the difference between taking and stealing, confined in a cell, (and eventually was sent to the house of refuge for reformation,) while men who perhaps know better, such as Tuckerman of Boston, Schuyler of New York, and the Swartwouts that swarm throughout the country, who rob their hundreds of thousands, revel in their fraudulently obtained wealth, and are simply charged with breach of trust—in other words, they only took things. Oh! for some law that would equalize frauds of all kinds, and place the thief of millions, beside the child that takes a bar of iron.—Buffalo Republic.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 19.—The second annual convention of the Young Men's Christian Association assembled here to-day.

About 100 delegates were present, representing societies in all parts of the Union and British provinces. The Committee on permanent officers reported Wm. C. Langdon of Washington, for President. Very interesting statements respecting the condition of the various societies throughout the country, were submitted.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out.

Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take this best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements, and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PEARSON, J. H. HACKETT, and J. KNIGHT, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m ad&w

Consumption not fatal, if properly treated.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.

Dr. and Mrs. Gregorie Lamont,

THE Celebrated Physicians for DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, from 378 Broadway, New York, late of London, member of the Reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors, with a success unknown to the Physicians of this country, invites the attention of the sick and afflicted, laboring under any of the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, ulcerated or tuberculous lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, palpitation, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhœa, Piles, Fistulas, and concealed Abscesses of the Rectum, (Diseases of Kidney and Bladder) gravel, stone, &c, and all Female Complaints, such as Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, and all uterine complaints, such as Cancers, Tumors, enlargements, suppression of the Menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Scrofulous Affections, Spinal Deformities, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the Blood.

Mrs. Dr. Lamont is the only Lady gifted with the power of telling Diseases at sight, by looking into the Eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at and those who are not able to call, by sending a card of address, they will call and give advice free, and as their stay will be short in this place, immediate attention to this card will be required to insure success.

Their terms for Medicines are very moderate in all cases. The invalid may depend on finding speedy relief by calling immediately on Dr. and Mrs. Lamont, as their stay will be short in this place.

☞ Please show this to your friends; it might be the means of saving a Valuable Life. s21

SIX DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP BALTIC.

NEW YORK, 20th.

The steamer Baltic from Liverpool Sept. 8th, arrived last night.

With the exception of the announcement that the Russians on the Tchernaya are again menacing the Allies' lines, and a surmise that England, instigated by France, is about to pick a quarrel with Naples, the papers contain little else than odds and ends of correspondence respecting the battle of Traktir and the bombardment of Sweaborg.

Reports speak of a plan to unite the commands of all the troops on the Tchernaya in one hand, as six weeks, or at most two months, are the utmost limits that can be assured for active military operations.

Attention is turned to the means of supplying the army during the coming winter.

Mr Beatty, civil engineer, has received orders to construct two new lines of railway, one from Balaklava to Kamiesch, and the other from Kadekot to the Worenzoff road, near the Sardinian position over the Tchergoun.

Stores and sheds are being erected as rapidly as possible, and other preparations are going on with energy.

Sept 1st. Prince Gortschakoff briefly says, the fire of the enemy continues as before. There is nothing new.

On the same day General Pelissier telegraphs: All goes well in every way. We are making progress.

Intelligence from Asia Minor is reported to be more favorable to the Turks.

Gen Gortschakoff writes from Sebastopol, that the fortifications have greatly suffered, and that the garrison had experienced considerable losses.

On the night of the 5th, a great fire took place, caused by the burning of a Russian two decker which was anchored in the Bay of Sebastopol. The fire originated in the bursting of a shell from the right attack.

ENGLAND.—There is no political news.

The news of the death of Hon. Abbott Lawrence was received with every expression of sympathy. The American ships in Liverpool displayed their flags at half-mast.

SPAIN.—A despatch from Catalonia to the Minister of War, dated Aug. 27, states that the Carlist chief Borges, had collected 50 or 60 men, and surprised a detatchment of Infantry. The infantry fled, leaving several prisoners in the hands of the assailants. The same band of Guerrillas entered the city of Biosca and attacked the house of the Commandant, whose horse and arms they carrried off.

BREADSTUFFS.—Splendid harvest weather had prevailed through the week, and the bulk of the English corn crops are likely to be secured in excellent condition. Wheat is reported in better demand, and prices improved 1 a 2d.

STORM ON THE LAKES.—Chicago, Sept. 18.—During a violent gale, which commenced here this afternoon, the brig Tuscarora, from the lower lakes, dragged her anchor and had her masts and rigging all carried away. The crew were saved by life-boats. The vessel went to pieces.

During a storm this morning the steamer Sebastopol, at 8 A. M., went ashore two miles south of the Milwaukie river, on the bar, with the waves breaking over her. Men, women and children were seen on board of her.

Sept. 19th.—The passengers on the steamer Sebastopol have all been rescued.

The mate and pilot lowered a boat and attempted to reach the shore, but were both drowned. Subsequently a life-boat was sculled ashore by one seaman, and by that means a hawser was fastened ashore, and all the passengers landed in safety. The Sebastopol parted in three places about 3 o'clock this afternoon, and is a total loss. Her cargo consisted of 800 tons of merchandize, and fifty horses, all lost. She was bound from Buffalo to Chicago. The supposed cause of the wreck is that the government light was out and that Capt. Watts mistook a light on a beached schooner for it. She grounded at 3 o'clock in the morning.

The bark Hungarian from Milwaukie to Oswgeo, with a cargo of wheat, returned to port leaking badly.

The schooner Superior is ashore nine miles this side of Milwaukie, with the waves dashing over her, and a man in the rigging. 3 unknown schooners are also ashore near the wreck of the Sebastopol, but we have no particulars.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 19.—The store of George Baker, on North Maine street was broken open and robbed last night of watches, jewelry, and silver ware to the amount of $6,000. Mr Baker offers a reward of $1000 for the detection of the thieves and the recovery of the property.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 19.—Four floors in one of the Haxall Mills at Richmond, fell in on Tuesday morning, carrying down 20,000 bushels of wheat. Loss estimated at from 10 to $20,000.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18th.—The storm of Saturday night caused great destruction at Pass Christian, Miss., Biloti and Bay St. Louis—all the wharves at these places are destroyed, and several lives have been lost.

NEW YORK Sept. 19.—The Republican meeting at the Tabernacle was largely attended last evening. 32 delegates were ratified to the State Convention, after some confusion, composed of one-half whigs and one-half democrats. Resolutions were adopted, denouncing the Kansas outrage and determining to support no man for office who was not decidedly opposed to slavery. Judge Culbert was the only speaker.

HOUSE ATTACKED WITH COAL TAR.—Some dastardly scoundrels called at the residence of Mr Marshall Kingman, on Walnut Hill, Watertown, Monday evening, and on the door being opened by a lad, several bottles of coal tar were hurled into the sitting-room, badly damaging the carpet and furniture, but fortunately not injuring any of the occupants. This assault is supposed to have been made in revenge for Mr Kingman's active efforts toward the enforcement of the liquor law.—Boston Trans.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"Potter's Hair Balm.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

DEAD SHOT FOR BED BUGS.

A SURE death to these noxious disturbers of our nightly rest. Apply it to insects and it scatters up and lays them out as readily as Sulphur Fumes kills Bees

It has no equal in the market. The whole world cannot produce a substitute of similar value to the comfort of a neat tidy housewife. Its application is of little trouble, while the benefit which may be derived from a single night's undisturbed repose is incalculable.

SANCHO PANZA

Called down "blessings upon the head of the man who first invented sleep." How much more worthy such honorable distinction would he consider the inventor of the Dead Shot, who, by his Pungent and Deadly Preparation, has rendered utterly impossible the ancient bloody forays of such tolerable and the more favored tormentors; and who has enabled every one to guarantee to himself his own particular share of "tired Nature's sweet restorer."

SWEARER REBUKED.—On a certain occasion, General Washington invited a number of his fellow officers to dine with him. While at the table, one of them uttered an oath. The General dropped his knife and fork in a moment, and in his deep undertone with characteristic dignity and deliberation, said, "I thought that we all supposed ourselves gentlemen."—He then resumed his knife and fork and went on as before. The remark struck like an electric shock, and, as was intended, did execution as his remarks, in such cases, were very apt to do. No person swore at the table after that. And after dinner the officer referred to, remarked to his companion, that if the General had struck him over the head with his sword, he could have borne it; but the home thrust which he gave him was too much. It was too much for a gentleman. And it is hoped that it will be too much for any one who pretends to be a gentleman.

FIRE AMONG THE PINES AT NANTUCKET.—Over a thousand acres of the pine lands on Nantucket were burned over on Saturday morning last. A portion of the land was covered with a thrifty growth of pines three years old, and valued at from 10 to $15 an acre. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of STOVES!

Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Provider or BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for cool or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked;

The CLIPPER and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price.

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c

PARLOR STOVES

Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington, 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

INPORTANT TO INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby no patent will be prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Drawings, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1852.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its curative powers over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be effectually removed from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

THE COOLIES.

A writer in the Boston Transcript, signing himself "An old sailor," with the generous feelings so common among that class of persons, calls public attention to the subject of the Coolies, in connection with our ships and clippers. The Transcript states that the writer has the most ample means of information in relation to the subject on which he treats.

Mr. Editor: The whole world acknowledges the evils of slavery, and while the philanthropists of the civilized portion are doing all they can to suppress slavery and prevent the farther extension of it, a new field is open, and "slavery, disguise it as thou wilt, is still a bitter cup." Our ships, including some of our best clippers, and belonging to some of our most esteemed citizens, are engaged in carrying slaves alias coolies from Amoy and other places in the East to Havana, Peru, and elsewhere. These creatures are obtained as it were, under false pretences, decoyed from their native homes by agents, and made to believe they are going to the land of gold, when, in a short time, they will return rich. Poor deluded souls, no El Dorado for them, obliged to keep dark, because from their ignorance they cannot communicate to their friends. On arriving at their ports of destination, they find themselves most egregiously deceived; in lieu of gold fields, where they were promised and expected to find a rich harvest, they are sent to the Chincha Islands to shovel guano, or work on plantations in the West Indies, remote from home and kindred, and believing in transmigration as they do, and that they shall reach their native homes again by way of a high altitude, many of them commit suicide.

Who could enjoy money derived from such a source? Ships go in ballast, with all the preparations of an African slaver. This trade is sanctioned because it is profitable, and it is not thought a sin to make money by carrying slaves (that have straight hair) at from one to two hundred dollars each. The masters are constantly in fear of being overpowered by numbers; and, already, there have been some ships "cut off" and blood shed; and, in this boasted age of progress, is it not astonishing that our American ships could be used for such unholy traffic, for the sake of increasing the wealth of their owners. This traffic is now consigning thousands of human beings to sure destruction, by change of climate, &c., &c. To be sure, "coolies" are called the lowest caste, but they are human, and "even the slightest tincture of the skin may own a conscience pure within," and, for one, I condemn the principles and the whole business; and if this article should be an eye-opener to those who have not viewed it in the light that I do, it will be of good service.

Yours, AN OLD SAILOR.

WOULDN'T CONTEND.—A cross grained, surly man, too crooked by nature to keep still, went over to his neighbor, Mr F., a remorkably cool, calm non-resistant, and addressed him thus:

That piece of fence over there is mine, and you shan't have it.

Why, replied Mr F., you must be mistaken, I think.

No, it's mine, and I shall keep it.

Well, said Mr F., suppose we leave it to any lawyer you shall choose.

I won't leave it to any lawyer, said the other.

Well, continued Mr F., shall we leave it to any four men in the village, that you shall select?

No, I shall have the fence.

Not at all discomposed, Mr F said, Well, neighbor, then I shall leave it to yourself to say to whom it does belong, whether to you or me.

Struck dumb by the appeal, the wrathy man turned away, saying—

WOBURN.—On Saturday last, James Kelly of Woburn, Mass., charged with violation of the liquor law, in conveying liquor to the house of Edward Callahan to be sold there, was tried, convicted and fined $10 and costs with bonds in $1000, and twenty days in the House of Correction. There was no appeal. An additional sentence of one month was given him as a common drunkard. Callahan was also tried for selling liquor and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 with twenty days in the House of Correction. No owner appearing for the fifteen gallons of brandy and three gallons of gin seized on the 28th ult., Justice Nelson ordered its destruction, and it was poured into the gutter in presence of a large crowd.—Boston Journal.

The Pope of Rome has excommunicated the King and Parliament of Sardinia, and the Spanish authorities, for the suppression of ecclesiastical institutions. He grieves over the Spanish Queen but forgives her since her signatures to measures is against her will.—The Swiss revolters he is to bring into judgment at some future time. Of late they have told us that the policy of the Romish Church had changed and she does not now interfere with foreign governments; this does not look different from what she would have done in the Dark Ages, except that the power is now wanting to enforce her decrees.—Newburyport Herald.

The burdens which German ladies frequently carry, are of such magnitude that to merely hear mention of them would stagger belief. Standing on North Clark street in Chicago the other day, we noticed one of said ladies speeding homeward, straight and stiff as an arrow, with six pieces of two inch plank, the longest six feet, a bundle and a half of lath, two or three hundred shingles, a big bag of pickings, a twenty pound ham, and a small slab of pork slung to her back, two patent pails filled with swill, dangling from a wooden yoke across her shoulders, and in her arms a brace of chubby little natives! What would some of our weak backed Yankee feminines, with all their whalebone stays and braces, do under half such a burden as this?

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1855.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The delegate Convention of the Republican party, or fusionists, met at Worcester, Sept. 20.

Hon. Julius Rockwell was nominated for Governor. The other candidates are: for Lieut Governor, Simon Brown; for Secretary of the Commonwealth, George F. Williams; for Attorney-General, E. Rockwood Hoar; for Treasurer, Thomas J. Marsh; for Auditor, Stephen N. Gifford. It will be observed that the candidates for lieutenant-governor, treasurer and auditor are the present incumbents.

Whole number of votes	944
Necessary for choice	473
Henry J. Gardner of Boston had	449
Julius Rockwell of Pittsfield	305
J. W. Foster of Monson	122
E. Rockwood Hoar of Concord	45

and 23 scattering.

Much confused debate took place, after which—

Mr. Clark proceeded to read an extract from Governor Gardner's letter, thus:—"It is earnestly urged upon me to write a letter, that if, in good faith I should allow my friends to propose my name as a candidate for Governor by the Republican Convention, I will never consent to allow my name to be used against its nominee. That is the honest course, and I favor it, but I will not move until I advise at home." This was the severest blow which Mr Gardner received to-day, and the laughter which the extract excited was almost universal.

After this, the formal vote was taken:

Whole number of votes	839
Necessary for a choice	420
Julius Rockwell of Pittsfield had	426
Henry J. Gardner of Boston	395

The platform is as follows:

Resolved, That the increase and advance of slavery, the additions to the number of slave states, the successive triumphs of slavery in the political contests of the last half century, the control of slavery over all departments of the government, the experience of the last few years in the legislature, executive and judicial departments, and more especially the repeal of the Missouri Compromise, have made slavery, in its national relations and in its relations to the free states, the paramount practical question in the politics of the country.

Resolved, That slavery, as a state institution, is not within our power or responsibility; but slavery, in its relations to the nation, concerns every man in the nation; in its relation to the free states, concerns every man in the free states.

Resolved, That Massachusetts, the earliest battle ground of freedom, gives her heart and hand to Kansas, the latest battle ground of freedom.

Resolved, That the repeal of the Missouri Compromise make every inch of the national domain a battle ground between freedom and slavery. It makes the admission of every new state a conflict between freedom and slavery. The issue thus forced upon us, we accept. It shall be by no fault of ours, if another slave state is added to the Union, or any of its territories left open to the possibility of slavery.

Resolved, That we tender no geographical or sectional issue; nor will we be deterred from our duty by the fear of one. The repeal of the Missouri Compromise has erased the geographical line. Our principles are national and general. Our spirit is national and liberal. We seek sympathy and co-operation from all parts of the land; we look for members and candidates from South and North, East and West. Our principles do not justly lead to a sectional issue. If the slave power raises one, the fault is theirs, let the victory be ours.

Resolved, That we require no conformity of opinion on other subjects of national or state policy. No man surrendering or qualifying his opinions on these subjects, we all recognize the duty of making the question of freedom paramount. To secure unity of action here, we attempt no unity of opinion elsewhere.

Resolved, That we accept the name of the Republican Party, which has been adopted by our friends and fellow-laborers in other states. We unite in that party to assert the great principles for which we contend, and to carry them to a triumphant issue.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR.—The Cattle Show and Fair for Rockingham county, comes off at Exeter, on Thursday next, September the 27th.

The great show of teams will take place at 9 o'clock; the Addresses by Hon. James Bell, at 12.

☞ Turks Island, so celebrated for salt, is said to be the only British colony in any part of the world that yields a direct revenue to the mother country. In 1854 its revenue was £900 more than its expenses. The English support a body of negro soldiers there.—There are 3000 whites and 1000 free negroes on the island.

Green velvet coat and breeches, white waist coat, silk stockings and shoes with gold buckles, form the court dress at Paris. Yankees who attend the balls at the palace actually put on this coggery.

Rev. Daniel Lancaster, for many years pastor of the Congregational Church at Gilmanton Centre, and subsequently a resident of Concord for several years, has received a call to settle over the Congregational at Middleton, Orange Co., New York, on the Erie Railroad. He will enter on his labors in a few weeks.

BOSTON CHRONICLE.

This paper, the organ of the Boston liquor party, contains (Sept. 20) the following conclusions and predictions, derived from a review of affairs in Maine.

What has happened in Maine will happen throughout New England. Opinion will be pronounced against the Maine Law. The reaction is general not local. Politicians may not be miracles of sagacity, but they are not much more foolish than other men, and they know that their chains are broken. They have been held in bondage by the ultra coercionists, and have often been made to act against their better sense. But the result of the Maine election has freed them. They see that the tide of opinion is setting against the coercive plan of reforming men. They will now be at liberty to follow the dictates of their own reason. Whether the Fusionists, the Whigs, or the Democrats shall triumph in Massachusetts, the effect will be the same.—The temperance men are virtually dethroned from this time forth. They staked everything on the Maine election, and lost it. That was a test with them. Had they come off victorious there, nothing would have been left for the other States but submission; but their defeat on their own chosen field, and in a battle in which they showed no want of either courage or skill, has settled the question for a long time to come. Men will have to forget the absurdities of the present law, and its utter failure, before another attempt can be made to drive them into any particular mode of life by legislative enactments. If we shall hear no more of such legislation, the world will be able to pardon the fanatics the evil they have done, out of regard for the good that will have grown out of it.

We offer on all this, only the remark that Temperance is quite a distinct thing from any Law which men make to help or hinder it; and therefore "temperance men," who are really and earnestly such, are not quite so dependent on the turn of an election, as the Boston Chronicle supposes. But how are the facts about Maine? To answer this question, we copy the following from the Portland Argus, Sept. 20 The reader may make his own comparisons between the statements, and draw his own inferences.

MR DOW CAVEE.—It is rumored that the Mayor has determined to make no farther special effort to enforce the liquor law in this city; that he says the people voted for rum, and now they may have it. We understand also that, in accordance with this determination, the police stationed at the Atlantic wharf to watch for liquor on the arrival of the Boston boats, have been withdrawn.

We do not vouch for the rumor, but it comes to us from good authority. Our impression is that Mr Dow took an oath as Mayor to enforce faithfully the laws, one of which is the liquor law. That oath was not contingent on the result of the State election.

He is mistaken if he supposes that the people of Portland "voted for rum." They did nothing of the kind. They have no more desire than has Mr Dow, to see liquor freely sold in Portland; and if it is so sold they will justly hold him responsible as their chief magistrate. All they ask is that the law may be wisely and prudently enforced, as all other laws are or ought to be, and not oppressively

CROPS.—The Manchester Democrat of the 19th, says,

The fall feed is very short in some parts of this county. Some farmers are beginning to feed out the sweet apples of their orchards to their live stock. A larger amount of cider will be made than for many years past, and the price has fallen to $1 per barrel in the farming towns.

The frost which occurred the last of August did not seriously injure corn in any part of the state, and the warm weather of the present month has so far matured it as to place it beyond danger. The potato rot does not appear to have been materially affected any part of New England, and such is the abundance of the crop that there is no probability of a scarcity of potatoes during the winter.

We may add, that the sunshine and drouth have perfected and preserved the corn and potatoes; and that there are good crops of both. Yet prices remain high; and consequently the farmers in this region are in a fair way this year, to make up in some measure for the scanty reward of their toil a year ago.

The Newburyport Herald says that no definite information has yet been received from the ruffians who attacked Randall on Saturday night. The prevailing opinion now is that they reached Gloucester and sailed thence in the sch. Hosea Ballou for the gulf of St. Lawrence, on Monday evening. Two of the crew of that vessel failed to be on board till she had started, and the captain refused to send ashore for them; and a man answering the description of one of the ruffians was offering to go that afternoon, and said he had a friend who would also like to ship; and it is thought from the captain's not staying for the absent hands when they appeared, that he had supplied their places. The facts have been telegraphed to the Gut of Canso, and the vessel will no doubt be boarded when she reaches there. We think it quite as likely, however, that they have not left the county of Essex, as any where.

It is rumored that Hon. James Buchanan, when he returns from the mission to London, will marry Mrs Polk, widow of the late President. He is a bachelor of more than three score, but not so old that Mrs Polk may not be re elected Presidentess, if she should marry him.

A writer in the New York Evening Post estimates the expenses of a gentleman and lady boarding at one of the hotels in Newport for ten weeks, with extra charges for washing, bathing, rides, concerts, at the most economical rate, at two thousand dollars!—Hundreds spend that amount in half of that time.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

FRIDAY, Sept. 21.

Court came in at 9 A. M. adj. to half past 2. At 3 P. M. the Grand Jury came in and presented the following bills of indictment:

State v. William F. Lawrence of Epping, for obtaining goods under false pretences.—Plea, not guilty. Recognized in the sum of $1500 for his appearance for trial on Monday.

State v. John Smith Robinson, for an assault with an intent to commit a rape. Plea, not guilty.

State v. Henry Flint of South-Hampton, for an assault with intent to kill. Plea, not guilty.

State v. Daniel H. Willey, for an assault. Plea not guilty. Tuesday is assigned for his trial.

State v. John H. Knox, for store breaking.

State v. Frank Gray, for an assault—recognizance forfeited.

State v. Oren Silloway of Kingston.

At four o'clock the Court adjourned to Monday.

DOCUMENTS DEPOSITED.

At the proper time we mentioned the laying of the corner stone of the new High School House in Daniel street; and said that sundry documents were deposited. One of the actors in the scene has furnished, (late, but better late than never,) the following account of the deposit.

On Tuesday afternoon, 12th inst, was deposited in the north-easterly corner of the foundation of the new edifice now in the process of erection for the High Schools, in Daniel street in this city, a massive leaden box hermetically sealed, containing the following historic literature illustrative of the spirit and character of our time.

New Hampshire Register, 1855.
Map of Portsmouth, by C W Brewster, 1850.
Portsmouth Directory, 1839.

Constitution and list of members of the Mechanic Association, 1802 to 1855.
Dr. Ball's Treatise on the witchery, spiritualism, animal magnetism, &c. manifested in these times.
Report of the Investigating Committee of the Stockholders of Eastern Railroad, 1855.

The collection and arrangement of the materials were made by Dr George G. Brewster, who was employed by City authority to prepare and execute the work. The box was inserted by order of Aldermen A. Q. Wendell, Jonathan Dearborn, and Isaiah Wilson, Building Committee.

☞ We learn that the Directors of the Eastern Railroad have appointed Jeremiah Prescott, Esq., of Boston, the present efficient master of transportation, to succeed Mr John Kinsman, resigned, as Superiniendent of that road. Mr Prescott has been in the employ of the corporation for more than twelve years, and is a practical railroad man in every sense of the term. The appointment is one "eminently fit to be made."

ALBANY, Sept. 20th.—Railroad Accident—Loss of Lives.—This morning an express train on the Central Road came in collision with a cattle train, throwing the engine and tender of the track.

It was the 4 o'clock train from Buffalo, which met with the accident. The locomotives and tenders of both trains were demolished. John Pratt, engineer, of Albany, was killed. Franklin Kirkland, fireman, also of Albany, had his legs and both arms broken, and cannot live. Wm. Griffin, of Buffalo, Express Messenger, it is feared, is fatally wounded. Matthewson Fox, an Express Messenger, had his leg broken. Another belonging to Albany had his back broken. No other passengers were injured. When the express train came up, the cattle train was going off on a switch, but the coupling breaking, one half of the cars were left on the track with which the Buffalo train came in collision. Several freight cars were demolished, and a number of cattle slaughtered.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 20th.—The Convention of Delegates from the Young Men's Christian Association to-day appointed Montreal as the next place of meeting between July and September in 1856. A central committee of thirteen were appointed.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out.

Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take the best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

FASHIONABLE MURDERS.

The recent bloody affray at the St. Nicholas Hotel, would seem to indicate that there is some fatality about that palace-house, and that Old Nick himself has no inconsiderable agency in its internal affairs. The awful murder which was there committed by Dr. Graham was one of the most atrocious cases of assassination that has occurred for years; but yet a New York jury only convicted the Doctor of manslaughter, and seven years imprisonment was the extent of his punishment. But the latest deed of blood is also full of horror. A gentleman is basely stabbed by a man who has slandered him, and what makes the act specially heinous is the acknowledged fact that a friend of Dean's held the hands of Captain Wright when the fatal dirk blows were given.

Hotels have frequently been the scenes of similar exploits. Some eighteen years since the Galt House, at Louisville, was the scene of a bloody affray, in which two persons were killed. The origin of this disturbance was the misfit of a coat! The principal actors in the tragedy were two brothers, named Wilkinson—one a physician and the other a Mississippi Judge, (!) but they were triumphantly acquitted, owing to the eloquence of Hon. S. S. Prentiss, who defended them. The principal hotel in Richmond once witnessed a murderous affray. A young gentleman, both rich and dissipated, was sitting at the dinner table, and being very much intoxicated, he falsely fancied that a stranger, who was opposite, stared at him improperly. Without a word, he deliberately drew a pistol, and shot the imagined insulter dead. The young man was afterwards tried, and it is hardly necessary to add, was acquitted.

These cases do not provoke much surprise, when occurring in Southern latitudes, but when we find the customs of plantations introduced into our fashionable Northern hotels, we cannot but ask what are we coming to?—The dainty liquors which are furnished at the bar, or on the tables of the St. Nicholas, have unquestionably a great effect in manufacturing courage and a novel sense of honor; but when its marble floors are stained with blood, in consequence of such intoxicated ideas, then visitors naturally begin to think that it would be better to go elsewhere.—Boston Mail.

We presume it would be unconstitutional to close the bar. From that flows the inspiration that paints the scene in crimson. Gentlemen must drink.

Wright, the wounded man, is not out of danger,—and many people think he will die.

The New York Herald says:

On Monday afternoon, Messrs Dean and Montgomery (the latter said to have been accessory to the transaction) were conveyed before Justice Davison, at the Second District Police Court, for the purpose of being committed to the Tombs. The friends of the prisoners were in attendance, and strong solicitations were made to the magistrate to have the accused bailed. Bondsmen offering $50,000 as security for their appearance when called upon to answer the charge, were quite willing to lend their aid in behalf of the prisoners, but the magistrate refused to accept bail, and accordingly the prisoners were committed to the Tombs, where they now remain in custody. The wound in Mr Dean's leg is not considered a severe one, although the physician in attendance declared that his removal to the Tombs would be highly prejudicial to his health.

AMUSING ADVENTURE.—The Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune has the following:—

The manner in which Messrs. Grow and Morgan, two members of Congress, were recently taken for domestics of the Emperor, is laughable enough to be worth repeating. On the day on which the diplomatic corps were to be presented to the Queen, at the Palais Elysee, Mr. Platt, Secretary of the American Legation, found himself deprived, at the last moment, of the conveyance in which he had intended to go to the presentation. Rushing into the street with his uniform on, (American diplomats do wear uniform.) to find a public carriage, he saw pass in a miserable carriage, drawn by a horse of the leanest species known to the Paris public—which describes the horse full to those who have seen Paris horses—the two members of Congress, who called to him to know where he was going. Mr. Platt told his dilemma, when the gentlemen inormed him that that was the only carriage they had been able to find in the neighborhood, and invited him to take a seat with them, as they would leave him at the palace. The offer was accepted and one of the gentlemen taking a seat with the driver, the uniform took the interior. When the equipage arrived at the line of soldiers formed around the palace, they were stopped as a matter of course, and it was not till after the uniform got out, showed himself and his ambassadorial "passe purtout," that they were permitted to enter.

In the court, which was already full of brilliant equipages and aristocratic servants, the apparition of this democratic turnout was a signal for a scene of merriment and wonder which might have wounded the pride of more pretensions people. The uniform got out, and was already ascending the broad stairway of the palace, when a lackey ran after him with hat in hand, saying, "May it please Excellency, your servants wish to speak to you." Mr. Platt turned back and found that the servants whose duty it was to arrange the carriages in the court until the presentation had taken place, had supposed that the equipage in question was the property of his excellency, that the persons who attended him were his servants, and had accordingly attempted to arrange them in a line to await the close of proceedings. Mr. Platt soon liberated his friends, who disappeared in the midst of a general laugh, as rapidly as their barebones could travel.

An empty rum bottle and the dead body of Horatio Pease, or cause and effect, were found on the Vermont Central track, near West Randolph, on the 1st. He had lain on the track, and the night train cut his head square off.

The buckwheat crop in both New York and Pennsylvania this year is enormous—supposed to be double that of last year.

Potter's Hair Balm.
THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—
"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purchase once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

THERE ARE TWO PREACHERS.

"There are two preachers ever preaching,
Filled with eloquence and power,
One is old, with locks of white,
Skinny as an anchorite:
And he preaches every hour,
With a shrill, fanatic voice,
And a bigot's fiery scorn,
BACKWARD! ye presumptuous nations
Man to misery is born;
Born to drudge, and sweat and suffer—
Born to labor and to pray;
BACKWARD! ye presumptuous nations,
Back! ye humble and obey!"

The other is the prime of manhood, cries:

"ONWARD!—there are ills to conquer:
Daily wickedness is wrought,
Tyranny is swollen with pride,
Bigotry is deified;
Ever intertwined with Thought,
Vice and Misery ramp and crawl—
Root them out, their day is passed;
Goodness is alone immortal;
Evil was not made to last;
ONWARD! all the Earth shall aid us
Ere our peaceful flag be furled.
And the preaching of this preacher,
Stirs the pulses of the world."

PROPOSED ABOLITION OF SLAVERY IN KENTUCKY.—The Newport (Ky.) News, at the suggestion of some prominent slave holders in Kentucky, proposes that a convention be held in Frankfort, to adopt a plan for the gradual abolition of slavery in that State.

GRATIS.

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity for Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cond MMAKE PERMANENT CURE AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

G. W. STONE'S

ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are medicined what to select from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, internal or external? and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as our article, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. SEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all other (surgical) Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithograph signature F. X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor. Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address F. X BRENAN,

TO TANNERS AND LEATHER DEALERS.

BOSTON, July 25, 1855.

Dear Sir:—We have used "Ward & Bootts" Depilatory Salts on about one thousand salted hides, that had been heated so much that they would not bear the usual amount of soaking without damage. By the use of the salts we found the tendency to decay immediately arrested; consequently we have no hesitation in recommending its use, principally in such cases.

Yours respectfully, WEBSTER & CO.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN

COD LIVER OIL.

Prepared for medicinal use in the Lofodon Isles, Norway, and put to the test of chemical analysis by Dr. De Jongh, who by his literary works and scientific travels has gained for himself in the whole of Europe the well deserved reputation as the highest authority in all that regards this most effectual remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Gout, Rickets, Scrofulous affections, Diseases of the Skin, Infantine Wasting and General Debility. Approved of and recommended by Berzelius, Liebig, Wothler, Jonathan Pareira, Fonquier, and numerous other distinguished physicians and scientific chemists.

Specially rewarded with medals by the government of Belgium and the Netherlands and supplied to the leading Hospitals of Europe. Has almost entirely superseded all other kinds on the Continent, in consequence of its proved superior power and efficacy, as well as its being perfectly free from all unpleasant odor, and disagreeable bitter and scrimonious taste, not irritating the throat nor impairing digestion, neither producing nausea nor vomiting, nor diarrhea. Bottles labeled with Dr. De Jongh's Stamps and Signatures. Wholesale and retail by LEOPOLD WETZLAR, 307 Broadway, and 15 Dey street, New York. Sold in Boston by CHARLES T. Boston, June 7th 1855.

As you have requested some account of the benefit experienced in my case, from the Peruvian Syrup, I will state that for several years I have suffered from a catarrhal affection consequent upon Bronchitis. I tried various remedies, including tonics and stimulants, general and topical, but obtained no relief. The system seemed to be failing under repeated congestive attacks, induced generally by sudden changes in the weather and by over exertion, the attacks recurring upon an average every three weeks, the effects not passing off for several days. From testimonials adduced in favor of the Syrup, I made trial of it and soon experienced a decided improvement in strength and ability to resist atmospheric changes. It is now six months since I had a recurrence of the congestive attacks, and I have no doubt, adding my experience to that of others, that the Syrup produced the favorable change. Every physician is well aware that there are self-limited diseases, and where a disease is not so, that it is doubtful, which remedy (where several have been tried) effected the cure; therefore I will answer in advance a question which may be very properly made. Why speak so confidently in this case? Because, having tried various remedies, and this following, this effected a favorable change in a short time, when the system was becoming daily more debilitated. Having the reliable assurance that no ingredient prejudical to the system enters into the composition of the article, I can with confidence recommend it where a tonic and alterative effect is desired, and I trust you will be able to make some arrangements by which physicians can recommend its trial in their practice, without seeming to countenance quackery.

FRAS. DANA, M. D.

Dear Sir.—I have been so much benefitted by the use of the "Peruvian Syrup" that I wish to make it known to similar sufferers. For some years I have been feeble and delicate—suffering at times from depression of spirits, with loss of sleep, languor and weariness. My food did not nourish or invigorate me. A slight cold would give me a cough, and for two years I had more or less bronchitis. I have used three bottles of the Syrup, and these symptoms have given place to a state of health I never thought of obtaining. My digestion is much improved, debility gone, spirits restored, and throat quite well. As I have made no change in my diet, regimen, or any other external condition, I can attribute this benefit to no other cause than the use of this excellent medicine. ALMIRA C. BARLOW.

SALEM, MASS., May 18th, 1855.

Dear Sir,—I hereby certify, for the benefit of those who are afflicted with the like complaints, that I was troubled for three or four years with neuralgia. I was first attacked in my head, face and teeth, and afterwards in my shoulders, back and legs, and could obtain no permanent relief from any medicine which I tried. When the Peruvian Syrup came into this town, I procured a bottle of it of the agent here, and commenced taking it in February, 1855, and found myself entirely cured by taking one bottle, and have had no farther trouble from these complaints since, which is now about three months.

LIMA, May 5th, 1855.

Dear Sir:—Having for the last five years made extensive use of the "Peruvian Syrup" in many cases of obstinate disorders of the digestive organs, general debility (especially such as is produced by juvenile indiscretions) and dropsy, I most cordially recommend its use to all such as are suffering under any of the numerous affections arising from functional derangement of the alimentary canal.

Such of the component parts of this remedy which are familiar to me, as exhibited by chemical analysis, I know to be propitious to health, and such as are not developed by analytic scrutiny, I am also persuaded cannot be deleterious, never having known a single case in which its operation has proved otherwise than beneficial to the patient.

As a physician, I unite with my professional brethren in discountenancing charlatanic pretensions, but in the present case long years of experience have so satisfied me of its efficacy that I cannot permit the clamor of professional etiquette or obstinate prejudice to drown the voice of conscientious conviction. I believe this remedy is destined to have an unexampled popularity and do not believe that its claims to such distinction have ever been surpassed or even equalled. (Signed,) H. E. KINNEY, M. D.

CARD.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

From our own experience, as well as from the testimony of others whose intelligence and integrity are altogether unquestionable, we have no doubt of its efficacy in all cases of Incipient Diseases of the Lungs, and Bronchial Passages, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, General Debility, &c. Indeed, its effects would be incredible, but from the high character of those who have witnessed them, and have volunteered their testimony, as we do cure, to its restorative powers.

A CARD.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW ENGLAND.

Having been often solicited to establish a branch of our house in the city of Boston for the sale of LEARY & CO.'S HATS, we have made arrangements with Messrs. IVES & TUTHILL, of the Albion Buildings, Tremont Street, to furnish them with a constant and full supply of all our manufactures and importations, enabling them to issue the new styles, as invented by us, simultaneously with our house in New York.

It is with much confidence that we commend to the citizens of New England, the enterprise of the above named young men, and we can assure our friends and customers, that while we have no pecuniary interest in the firm of IVES & TUTHILL, yet the goods they sell will be identical in quality, style and price, with the articles sold by us in New York.

LEARY & CO., Astor House, New York.

The firm of LEARY & CO., has been established for a quarter of a century, and every year has not only increased its sales, but its manufacturing and importing facilities. One of the undersigned having been connected with this establishment as a salesman for some time, and both feeling convinced that its claim to the leadership of Fashion in all that pertains to the covering of the masculine head is confirmed by the adoption of their styles by the public and the trade, enter with confidence upon the sale of their goods, assured that it will be mutually beneficial to the public and themselves.

PIANO FORTE

New York, Dec. 5, 1853.

Mr. N. P. B. Curtiss—Dear Sir:—Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo. Hews' American Patent Action Piano, at the World's Fair in this city, the present year, and other of his Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the action.—These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scales.

Very respectfully, L. M. Gottschalk.

CANCERS CAN BE CURED.

DR. R. GREEN,

Scientific Indian Physician,

36 BROMFIELD ST., BOSTON.

DR. GREEN, in his travels and researches for medical knowledge among the Indians, obtained a perfect remedy for Cancers, Scrofula, and all Humors of the blood. His practice has ever since been attended with greater success than that of any other known. He is now treating with complete success difficult cases of all kinds of chronic disease from all parts of the country. Persons afflicted with Cancers should immediately avail themselves of Dr. Green's personal attention. Scrofulous diseases sometimes combine with other diseases of the Stomach, Lungs, Liver, Heart, Kidneys, Spleen, &c., so as to require a personal examination in order to effect a perfect cure, but nine out of every ten cases of all Chronic Diseases are cured by medicine which Dr. Green sends to them, as he understands the nature of the disease by the persons answering the questions upon a circular which also gives reference to cases cured, and which he sends by mail, free, to any one requesting it, and enclosing a postage stamp.

STAMMERING CURED!

DR. BRONSON & C. C. BEERS,

Are happy in announcing that STAMMERING can be permanently CURED by their Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident, to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Elocution. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience and observation, that stammering is the effect of a Nervous Diseases, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, etc.,) can obtain it from our New Work, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes, and Remedies; illustrated by One Hundred Engravings: Price One Dollar; on the receipt of which, the Book will be sent without expense, and the money thus paid, will be credited in the bill for Treatment. MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1855.

JUDGE KANE.

We have more than once remarked that a singular but general apathy prevails among the American press and people over the false imprisonment of Passmore Williamson, and the bad law and detestable tyranny of Judge Kane.

Scarcely anybody has defended the Judge's wretched law. Senator Sumner, some time ago, denounced it in a letter. And now, we are happy to see the Portland State of Maine take up and discuss the matter, very ably and properly. That paper says:

We have before noticed the Habeas Corpus case before Judge Kane, of Philadelphia.—But, as it is probably destined to make a considerable figure in the politics of the country, it seems to call for more attention. It looks to us very much like the next step, which the slaveholders propose to take, to establish slavery throughout the country, as a national institution.

On the 13th of July, Col. Wheeler, Minister to Nigaragua, arrived from Virginia, at Philadelphia, on his way to New York, to take passage for that country, having with him, three slaves, a mother about 35 years of age, with two young children, of the age of 7 and 12. After taking his dinner at a hotel, Wheeler went with his slaves on board the steamer, and just as the boat was about to take her departure, Passmore Williamson, secretary, we believe, to the first anti-slavery society formed in America, of which Dr. Franklin was the founder and the first president, went on board, and informed the woman that she was free, and at liberty to leave her master and the boat if she chose. The woman, taking him at his word, quietly walked out of the vessel, preferring freedom, with all its cares, to the charms of slavery.

A number of colored persons had by this time collected on deck, by whom the children were taken, and led out of the vessel, and these liberated slaves were put into a carriage, and driven off to a place of safety — Williamson gave to Wheeler his name, and told him he was responsible for his own actions. The whole was done in a quiet way, without any tumult or noise, or anything looking like a riot, nor would there have been any approximation to violence, if Wheeler had not interfered, and stepped before the woman, and attempted to prevent her leaving the vessel, when two colored men took hold of him, and held him back, and used threatening words toward him, if he made resistance.

Thereupon, Wheleer applied to Judge Kane for a writ of habeas corpus, directed to Williamson, ordering him to appear, and bring before him, the persons of the rescued slaves. He appeared before the Judge, and made a return on the writ that he had not then, nor had at the time of issuing the writ, or at any other time, in his custody, power or possession, either of the persons named in the writ. The Judge took time to consider the return, and on the 27th of the month, he adjudged him guilty of contempt, and ordered him to be committed to prison, and there be held without bail or mainprise, during the pleasure of the court, for a contempt of the court, in refusing to make a return of the writ. The pretext for this extraordinary decision was that Williamson did not state in his return all the circumstances connected with the transaction, as to the acts of the persons in the vessel at the time, and the part they had in the pretended rescue of the slaves. He only told such facts as legally entitled him to a discharge, but as this did not satisfy the Judge, he asked for leave to amend his return. This the Judge refused, and ordered him forthwith to prison.

In this stage of the history of the case, it being both a novel and extraordinary one, the question naturally arrises, what authority had the Judge to issue this writ of habeas corpus, and we believe it may be safely answered that he had none.

In the first place, the judge holds his commission under the United States, and whatever wrong Williamson may have done, he had violated no law of the United States. If Wheeler had any cause of complaint, his remedy was under the law of Pennsylvania, and not of the United States.

Secondly, when Wheeler brought his slaves into Pennsylvania, they became free as soon as they had passed the boundary of the State, and he had no more power or right over them than any other person. They were not fugitive slaves, but were legally emancipated.

Thirdly, the judge, as far as his opinion is intelligible, seemed to consider them as fugitives that might be reclaimed. He says Wheeler did not lose or forfeit in property, by the laws of Pennsylvania, by bringing it into that State. He looked at them simply as property. We would respectfully inquire of the learned judge, whether there is no such title in the laws of Pennsylvania, as Rights of persons? In all the other States of the Union we have understood that this forms a pretty large chapter of the laws. In Virginia, these slaves might be property only. When their masters brought them into Pennsylvania, we have a strong suspicion that they became persons, and were to be treated and dealt with as such.

Fourthly, concede to the judge his assumption, that they were living and self-moving mortals, and belonged to the same category as horses, and that Williamson had been instrumental in depriving Wheeler of his property, what judge before Judge Kane, ever issued a writ of habeas corpus to recover the body of a horse. If, as judge Kane says there is no law of Pennsylvania, which deprived Wheeler of his property in these slaves in bringing them into the State, (and on this question, if judge Kane is right, everybody else is wrong,) and if, as he intimates, there were such a law he should disregard it, he could not be ignorant that Wheeler's remedy in the case, was not by a writ of habeas corpus, but by an action at law, which must be submitted to a jury.

We have observed that the decision of Judge Kane looks to us as though it was intended to be subsidiary to a new movement toward the establishment of slavery by law, in all the free States. Are the free States prepared to accept this law? In the case of the Lemmon Slaves, the New York court decided that by the owners voluntarily bringing them into that State they became free.—He indeed, expressed his regret that he was obliged to inflict so great an evil upon them, but the law was imperative. The State of Virginia is not satisfied with the New York law, and has carried the case to the Supreme Court at Washington.—If the Supreme Court adopt the opinion of Judge Kane, we do not see but that slavery will be established as a law in all the States. The first step in the process will be to decide that slave owners can take their slaves with them in passing through a free State. When this point is gained, all the rest follows, of course. If the owner has a right to hold his slave a day, he has for a week, for a month, or a year, and slavery becomes established by law in all the free States.

For the Chronicle.

DOUBLE WINDOWS.

Messrs. Editors:—I wish to call the attention of the public to the subject of "double windows," and as I do this with primary reference to public buildings, I will thank you to deliver a copy of this article to our city authorities and those having charge of the construction of the new School House. There are two principal points in the argument, viz: economy and health:—

1. Economy. Not only in the days of chimnies 14x6 feet at the base, have people consumed and wasted more fuel to heat the "out doors" than the "in," but down to this day; and the practice is almost in full force still, only in a different form. In the former instance the heat went straight up through the chimney; in the latter case it goes out sideways through all the single panes of glass. A substance about as thick as stout brown paper, is placed between an inside atmosphere attempted to be kept heated to 65 or 70 degrees, and an outside permanent atmosphere ranging from 40 and 50 degrees above zero to 10 and 15 below, and there being no air-chamber or non-conducting space to intervene, the absorption of the warm air must be very great, to supply which loss resort must be had to the wood pile, and when the wood pile is gone, to the pocket for money to supply the wood pile, and then if the pocket gets empty——

It was said of the late Dr. Charles A. Cheever, that he once asked an acquaintance if he had double windows to his house. The reply was the same as it would now be from three fourths of the public, that he could not afford the expense. But you can afford to buy wood, said the Dr. The argument is irresistible; and the writer of this is fully of the opinion that if the practice was adopted in regard to common sitting rooms where there is a northern exposure, and all public buildings which are frequently used during the cold months, there would be less complaint than there now is of the expense of keeping comfortable in our houses, our churches, and our schools. Especially does this point of the argument have force on account of the increased expense of fuel, while window sashes are comparatively cheap.

2. Health. This point embraces the first, as what is conducive to health must also be economical, for it is not often if ever the case that it is very cheap to be sick. It would seem that it only required a slight observation to enable us to perceive the present prevalent practice to be monstrously absurd. For instance, how would it answer for a person to take a seat within two or three feet of an ice berg, while on the other side of him was a stove with a fire raising the heat up to 60 or 80 degrees—and yet what difference would there be in reality between this, and being in the same position with regard to warm air inside and the cold outside.

It surely looks very pleasant to see a lady sitting by a window, busily engaged in work or study; or to see the well filled school, showing through the windows, but we can hardly forbear the conclusion that the most insidious and dangerous colds, neuralgia, rheumatism, &c., must almost inevitably follow from the practice of sitting near single windows in cold weather. In regard to our churches, as people generally keep on their outside garments, they are not so liable to colds, and the adoption of double windows can only be urged on the score of economy and general comfort.

If it be argued that there would not be sufficient ventilation, I should contend that there is in reality no circulation of air, with the single windows; and that other and more proper modes of ventilation should be adopted. Windows can be so constructed that access can be had to the open air as often as may be desired. P.

☞ Rev. Dr. Peabody of this city, is to deliver the annual discourse at the General Sunday School Convention to be held in Concord, Mass., on the second week in October.

POLICE COURT,—Sept. 20th.—Before Justice Odell.—Richard Seeley for an assault on Jane Seeley, was fined $5, and costs $4,42.

MAINE EXPOSITOR.

Hear all sides, and then judge for yourself, is a good motto. Now, therefore let us hear the Portland Expositor. And first of the triumph let him sing.

The triumph is indeed a brilliant one.—Our democratic brethren, and the old sterling whigs, fought this battle with equal zeal, honesty of purpose and patriotism throughout the State.

Next, let him sing a doleful psalm of the sorrow.

And we look forward now with a sorrowful feeling to the not distant period when upon national politics, we can see these nobly allied forces diverging from each other, to take up a final position of antagonism—the straight-out whigs, and immense masses of the democracy, with a host of Morrillites filing i at the rear, going in one direction, and other masses of the democracy filing off in an opposite direction. Mr Pierce, in all probability, will be the representative of the banner of the latter class, and one, or perhaps more candidates, yet undesignated, will head the other classes.

[The plurality principle will probably make only two parties.]

Thirdly, let us hear him pray.

But our prayer is, that none of these distant dissensions will induce any heartlessness on the part of either the democratic or whig wing of the combined forces, who have achieved the State politics.

Fourthly, listen and hear him exhort the legislature.

They ought on the day succeeding the organization of the Legislature, in a bill of six lines, repeal every law, act, and resolve (saving only vested and consummated rights under them) that was passed by the last Legislature.

Lastly, attend to the improvement of the subject.

The people now want, and will accept of no policy, apart from true honesty; and however much Neal Dow's law may be tinkered, a large portion of them will never rest satisfied with any part or parcel of a statute, however modified, that had its origin with him, or its support from him or his party. If we want union in future, let us set ourselves entirely apart from Neal Dow and the present administration, and render obedience to law however odious, knowing the remedy is at hand. If we want a prohibitory law, let us remain as we are, until we can wisely and judiciously meet our wants by the passage of a law applicable to those wants. Let it be the people's law; of the people and for the people, founded upon constitutional and individual rights.

The last extract is from a Buxton correspondent;—and does not seem to agree exactly with the 4th. But we give them as we find them.

GRAND LODGE OF I. O. of O. F.—This grand body has been in session at Baltimore the past week. Timothy G Senter, Esq., of this city, has forwarded copies of the Annual Communication, Grand Sire's Address, and other documents. The condition of the order is represented as steadily prosperous.

On Friday the Grand Lodge, by a two-thirds vote, rejected the amendments to the constitution offered last year, proposing to strip therefrom all reference to encampments. Other important amendments were also rejected. The adjournment was to take place on Saturday.

WHO GET UP NEW POLITICAL PARTIES.—In answer to this question we copy from R. H. Dana, Jr., in "Two Years Before the Mast," who, in speaking of California, while under Mexican rule, says:

Revolutions are matters of constant occurrence in California. They are got up by men who are at the foot of the ladder and in desperate circumstances, just as a new political party is started by such men in our own country. The only object, of course, is the loaves and fishes; and instead of caucusing, paragraphing, libelling, feasting, promising, and lying, as with us, they take muskets and bayonets, and seizing upon the presidio and custom house, divide the spoils, and declare a new dynasty. As for justice, they know no law but will and fear.

Miss Virginia Frost, aged 17, daughter of Austin Frost, of Raleigh, N. C., on Monday morning, was reproving a negro girl in the employ of her father, for insolent language, when the girl shot Miss Frost with a pistol, instantly killing her.

This strikes us as being too intensely chivalrous, and altogether too Southern for our puritanical notions.

It has been ascertained by experiment, that a cow will drink about eighty seven pounds of water in twenty four hours.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. Its sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectrble persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

25,000 Bottles sold the past year. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. For sale by

NEW YORK, Sept 29.—Gen. Scott and the Secretary of War.—The Washington correspondent telegraphs that a bitter controversy is going on between the Secretary of War and Gen. Scott, in regard to the 6 months leave of absence granted by the latter to Gen. Hitchcock. The Secretary countermanded Scott's permission, and demanded his reason for granting it.

Gen. Scott replied that he was not responsible to the Secretary for his action in such cases, and that hereafter he would oblige him by addressing official communications to him through the President, to whom alone he was responsible.

The correspondence is not yet closed.

Heavy Robbery.—Two boxes, containing $50,000 in gold coin, were stolen from Wells Butterfield's Express recently, while in transmission from Dubuque, Iowa, to this city.—The money belonged to the U. S. Sub Treasury. On arrival here, the boxes supposed to contain the gold were found to be filled with bullets.

PITTSBURG, 20th.—Last evening two freight trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad, near Altona, came in collision. A fireman, named Wilhelm, jumped off the engine and was killed. No other person was hurt.

ONE PROFITABLE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the Hartford and New Haven Railroad Corporation, was held in Hartford on Wednesday. It appears from the annual report that the earnings for the last year have been $730,012; expenses and interest $433,167. A semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent. and an extra dividend of 5 per cent. were declared, making 15 per cent. for the year.

FIRST NEW CORN OF THE SEASON.—We saw on 'Change this morning, a sample of new white corn from Georgia, near Savannah, the first of the season. It was sent to Mr James Girvin, and, in all respects, is a very superior article, of fine texture, perfectly dry, and in good condition. This samples argues most favorably for the coming corn crop.—Baltimore Patriot, 19th.

VALUABLE AUTOGRAPH LETTER.—The London Critic reports that—

At a sale of autograph letters in that city the other day a characteristic note from Benjamin Franklin brought 11 19s. It ran:

"Mr Strahan:—You are a Member of Parliament, and one of that majority which has doomed my country to destruction. You have begun to burn our towns and murder our people. Look upon your hands! They are stained with the blood of your relations! You and I were long friends; you are now my enemy and I am yours.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

SENTENCED TO BE HUNG.—Wm. Schaffenbergh, convicted, of the murder of his betrothed, was last week sentenced to be hung on the 16th of November, at New York.

WHITE MOUNTAINS CAPPED WITH SNOW. We learn from Mr Hobbs, conductor of the inward morning train, that on the 20th the weather was very cold, and heavy snow squalls prevailed among the mountains the day and night before, and that the summits of Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Madison, Moriah and Carter, were completely capped with snow. In consequence of the cold, the Tip-Top and Summit houses were evacuated and closed up for the season. The Glen House is still open.—Portland Argus.

NOT COMING.—Gavazzi writes to the Crusader that owing to the state of things in Italy he will not be able to visit the United States, as contemplated.

The Columbia (S. C.) Times states that the cotton crop of that section will probably be as large as that of last year. The Montgomery (Ala.) Mail expresses the opinion that Alabama will also raise at least an average crop.

There is no subsidence of the Rachel fever in New York. The rum shop where Bill Poole was murdered, hangs out the placard, "Rachel's Little Neck Clams."

A lady who died of the fever at Norfolk, and whose friends deserted her, left all her money ($2,100) to her two nurses.

In Rockport the springs and wells have been dry for several days, and the drought has been so severe at Pigeon Cove and Lanesville, that five cents per bucket has been paid by the stone contractors for water to supply their cattle.

The Colonization Society in Maine have under consideration the project of building a ship and presenting her to the American Society, to be run regularly between Liberia and the United States.

The most remarkable fountain in the world is that of Chatsworth, the seat of the Duke of Devonshire, which plays to the height of 267 feet.

There are now three State tickets in the field in New York:—"Hard," "Soft," and Liberal party. There are to be added to the list, Whig, K. N., Republican and Temperance—seven in all.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ROCKINGHAM, ss.—By the Hon. Judge of Probate for said County. To the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of BENNING ADAMS, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, testate, and all persons interested in said estate.

YOU are hereby notified that LEVI BRACKETT, Executor of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the second Tuesday of November next, at 10 o'clock, A.M., for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Morning Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, the last publication whereof to be at least thirty days prior to said Court.

Dated at Portsmouth, September 11th, A.D. 1855.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER!

PREPARED BY
DR. J. W. POLAND
Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a Standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the Genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
AND
Family Physic.

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains; such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhoea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—It needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you would be free from Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

READER, are you suffering from Humors, in (terna) or external? HAYES'S Alterative (Sarsaparilla) and Humor Syrup will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to the individual, and he will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

SANDWICH, N. H., June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the other doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as THE article, and the ONLY one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. SUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of
GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without sacrificing the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, ball like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s Instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

OFFICE OF THE MARYLAND CONSOLIDATED LOTTERIES.
Baltimore, Maryland, 20th June, 1856.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithograph fac-simile signature of F. X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor. Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address F. X. BRENAN, SURGERY SIXTY YEARS AGO.—Gov. Baker, in his Address onlaying the Corner Stone of the City Hall, Concord, N. H., related some circumstances regarding the mode of amputating the finger of Mr. Benj. Rolfe and the leg of Mr. Richard Potter, rising 60 years ago. The latter met with his loss while engaged, in company with Capt. Reuben Kimball, in getting out the frame of the Town House. The finger of Mr. Rolfe was injured while the timber was being framed or raised. The operation on the maimed finger of Mr. Rolfe, was spoken of in the Statesman some time ago. It was very simple, though hardly so delicate as the modern practice of the surgical art. He was directed to place his finger upon a block, when the surgeon placed a mortising chisel upon the finger and severed the crushed part by a single blow of his mallet. The result was that the bone ever after protruded far beyond the flesh.

Mr. Potter had lain five or six days after his limb was crushed, and had become nearly or quite unconscious. Dr. McCarrigain of Concord, Dr. Peterson of Boscawen, and perhaps one other medical man, were at his bedside. The general conclusion was that he could not survive. Carrigain, however, dissented; or at least resolved that an effort should be made to save him. Amputation was determined upon. The surgical saw owned by Peterson was the instrument with which they commenced operations, after severing the flesh just below the knee. The instrument was found to be both rusty and not adapted to the purpose. A carpenter, then at his bedside, said he could produce a better, and ran and obtained it. The Peterson saw was then removed from the bone of the sufferer, and the saw of the carpenter, after being re-sharpened, placed instead. After a while the crushed portion of the limb was disengaged, and the fearful wound dressed; soon after which Mr. Potter so far recovered as to recognize the people who stood around his bedside.

The most surprising portion of the occurrence is, that Mr. Potter fully recovered; constructed with his own hands a stump, called a wooden leg; appended it to the mutilated member; became an expert workman at farm labor; engaged sometimes in the ancient game of wrestling, and survived the loss of his limb fifty years,—dying within the recollection of the middle-aged people of Concord.—Statesman.

The ropewalk east of Hancock street was bought by the Commonwealth—not, however, with any view of going into that business.—It was used as the residence of the Messenger of the State House, there being a narrow dwelling house erected on it, with a yard in front lying along the Street. Here for many years lived Jacob Kuhn, the honest, vigilant, and courteous guardian official of the edifice. It was he who, when a young lad, was passing along the Granary Burying Ground, shortly after Mr. Adino Paddock had caused a row of young trees to be set out on the sidewalk.—He took hold of one of the slender saplings, and thoroughly began to shake it, (a feat, by the way, which would now be a difficult performance. In a moment Mr. Paddock darted out from his door opposite, and served him as he served the tree. Mr. Kuhn was the agent for collecting the bills for the old Acqueduct Corporations.

He presented, on one occasion, a bill to the late Dr. Bowditch which he paid accordingly. The next day Mr Kuhn called and said: "In paying the bill yesterday you made a slight mistake." Dr. B. said: How can you tell what I gave you?" "I always tear off the blank paper at the edge of the account, write on it the name of the party, and pin to that paper the particular bills in which it is paid. I did so with your bill, and am sure that you made a mistake." Dr B. said, "I am satisfied, and will cheerfully correct the error." "But" said Mr Kuhn, "the mistake is in your favor." You gave me a $50 bill instead of a $5."

Dr. B. then said, "It is delightful to me to meet with a man who is so exact and methodical in his business habits, and who at the same time is so perfectly upright. You must keep the $45, and purchase some dress, &c., for your wife, telling her from me that she ought to feel proud of her husband."

SINGULAR.—The schooner Shooting Star, of this port, was taken upon a marine railway last week, for the purpose of discovering a leak in her bottom. Upon examination, a place about one foot in length and eight inches in width was discovered to be worn nearly to the thinness of a wafer. On taking off the plank, two pebble stones, each a little larger than a hen's egg, were found, and their constant rolling, caused by the motion of the vessel, had worn the plank, which was upwards of two inches thick, nearly through. It is supposed they were dropped inside of the ceiling while she was building, and there remained. Had the vessel gone to sea again without discovering this leak, she might have suddenly filled and no cause could have been assigned for it.—Gloucester Tel.

A German employed in the Eagle Factory, Glastenbury, Conn., by the name of Jacob Kellogg, was murdered on Monday evening by Andrew Sin, another German. Sin was pursued so closely, that, in order to gain a long point, he dashed into the factory pond, and attempted to go across it at a place where the water was not deep, but sank in the mud, and was drowned. The water was soon drawn off and the body recovered. A love affair was the cause of the trouble.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 25, 1855.

GREAT FALLS AND CONWAY RAILROAD.

On the first day of October next, regular passenger and freight trains will commence running on this road as far up as Union Village, Wakefield. As this road is to materially affect our city and all of the towns above as which we regard as our neighbors, and as it is to make all our interests one, we have thought it might not be uninteresting to our readers to peruse some statements and speculations on the subject, from the Great Falls Journal.

It required no extraordinary perceptive powers to see that a road passing through the portion of country that this does would be a profitable investment. It is a section which no other road reaches, but which is not only well populated, but is doing an immense transportation business with Boston, which would naturally increase when this new and convenient avenue is opened to them. It passes through Rochester, Milton, Wakefield, Ossipee, Centre Ossipee, West Ossipee, Tamworth, Conway, and numerous other smaller villages, and in addition thereto is vastly more accessible and convenient for Waterford, Bridgton, Fryeburg, Brownfield, and the towns in the southerly portion of Oxford and the north-westerly portions of Cumberland and York counties in Maine which lie south of the Atlantic & St Lawrence, and north of the York & Cumberland Roads, and to the numerous towns west of the Great Falls & Conway and east of the Boston, Concord & Montreal Road, than any other one, and consequently must take all the business of those towns. When we consider the enormous quantity of excellent timber land which surrounds the road on every side and which is needed and must be had in our seaboard cities, and the great amount of goods of all descriptions which our country towns in return need and must have, it will be seen at a glance that an immense amount of transportation will be done by the road. In addition thereto it will be recollected that there are but 45 miles intervening between the terminus of this road and the nearest station of the Atlantic & St Lawrence, and a road from that, commencing at Gorham and uniting with this at Conway would save Canadian passengers as it now does White Mountain passengers, some fifty miles of travel.

Let us look for a moment at the statistical information concerning the business. The following has been submitted to competent judges who have decided it to be a fair estimate, the population being according to the census of 1850.

Towns.	Population.	Tons fr't.	Passengers.
Tamworth	1766	2500	1550
Ossipee	2122	1500	2000
Albany	455	200	300
Eaton	1743	1200	1200
Freedom	910	1000	600
Effingham	1252	800	600
Conway	1767	1868	2000
Chatham	516	500	200
Bartlett	761	738	1000
Jackson	589	600	500
Shelburne	480	237	200
Fryeburgh	1523	532	1000
Stowe	1193	600	400
Lovell	1330	1508	1000
Brownfield	1208	793	800
Porter	2322	500	300
Parsonsfield	1210	500	300
Hiram	1100	500	300
Baldwin	300	400	200
Denmark	1293	400	100
Harrison	1416	300	100
Sweden	696	300	300
Waterford	1448	800	500

It has been ascertained from records that about 6000 persons visit the White Mountains during July, August and September which we can safely compute will pass, at least, once over this road. These estimates of freight do not include cattle and lumber. As many as 100,000 head of cattle and sheep are driven from these towns to Brighton and intervening markets during the year. In regard to lumber, some 2,000,000 feet are yearly floated down the Saco from the two towns of Jackson and Bartlett, and from four to five millions from Lovell alone.

It will be borne in mind that railroad facilities greatly increase the business and enterprise of a country. On the Bear Camp, Chocorua, Swift and Saco rivers are numerous Mill and Factory sites.

The inexhaustible iron mines of Baldface mountain in Bartlett, and of Thorn mountain in Jackson will give much transportation. The tin mines of Jackson, and the tin and zinc mines of Eaton and Shelburne will also require the services of the road.

It appears to us that no road in our country could open with better prospects. We are only surprised that it was not built earlier.

The receipts of the road increased from $11,798 the fifth to 13,092 the sixth, 15,348 the seventh, and 18,348 the eighth year, or from the fifth (which was the first year the company ran trains,) to the eighth—a period of four years—the road has nearly doubled its net income. The net earnings have been for the 5th year $5 436, 6th 7,017, 7th 7,784 and the eighth 8,650.

When the road shall be completed, or the farther it extends into the country, the greater will be the profit on the portion now completed. The route is one of the pleasantest in the country, agreeably diversified, presenting in fact, every variety of scenery, thereby relieving the monotony of railroad travelling.

It has also wise men as its managers, and careful and prudent men to watch over its interests, and none who know them will for a moment doubt that it will be well and faithfully done. Its Superintendent, Treasurer, Freight Agent and Conductor are so well and favorably known that it were vain for us to endeavor to add new laurels to their fame in this vicinity.

With all these advantages its future must be glorious. It will well repay those whose wisdom first planned and enterprise commenced the road and it will build up the villages contiguous to it, and be a source of wealth to the stockholders. Silence will be felt wherever the stately vessel, built with timber conveyed by it to the seashore, shall spread her snowy sails and bear the treasures of commerce; it will be felt in trade, in politics and in religion; and it will be felt around the fireside of many a home whose circle is made glad by the return of some long absent member who, but for this road, must still have remained away.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

The accident to the express train on the New York Central Railroad 2 1-4 miles from Albany, on the 20th inst., was caused by the coupling of the cars breaking as the cattle train was switching off upon the turn out to allow the express train to pass, which accident left part of the train upon the main track. The express train had been detained at a way station 20 minutes for the purpose of allowing this cattle train to get out of the way, and the train was then urged forward at the highest speed, in order to make up for lost time.

There was a dense fog at the time, and it was impossible for the Engineer to have seen more than five rods ahead. Thinking the track was entirely clear, he pushed on, and when within 2 1-4 miles of the city, he discovered, but too late, that he was coming down at lightning speed upon the freight train. The engine was reversed, but of course without avail. A collision ensued—the engine and tender piled upon the freight train, smashing the cars badly, and instantly killing the engineer, John Pratt, a young man about 25 years of age, badly wounding the fireman and several others connected with the train, and slightly injuring several passengers.

There were six cars containing passengers in the express train.

One car loaded with cattle was smashed to atoms, and the cattle nearly all killed.

The express train, under the circumstances, should have proceeded with more caution.

Mr Hall, editor of the Steuben Courier, was a passenger in the train, and occupied a seat in the second passenger car. He says, the first intimation he had of approaching danger, was the engineer calling three times, to put down the brakes. Immediately after, he felt a check in the speed of the cars, and then the collision followed; and almost instantly, he saw the first passenger car crushing through the car he was in, and either its roof or platform came ploughing up the seats against his arm and breast. Its force, however, appeared to be somewhat checked, as he thinks, by the timely intrepidity of the engineer in reversing his engine—and thus he was saved from instant death.

We published not many days ago, a growling complaint against the express trains on the Boston & Maine, and Eastern Roads, because of their slowness, and especially because of their stops. The writer should have been in, at the above smash up.

CHARITY.—The charity of political parties is indeed wonderful. The Boston Bee, organ of the American party, is earnest in the hope that the Whig party will not fuse with the Republicans, though the latter have nominated Rockwell. The Bee says:

Can it be possible that we have fallen upon such times in old Massachusetts, that the Winthrops, Choates, Everetts, Stevensons, Quincys, Curtises, Grinnells, Hilliards, Walleys, and Appletons, will allow themselves to follow the lead, to play the secondary part, to sanction the doings of the Wilsons, Burlingames, Slacks, Swifts, Danas, Ellises, Webbs, Griffins, and Brighams, who are now controlling the fusion movement? If so, from the bottom of our heart we would supplicate God to save the Commonwealth of Massachusetts!

Let us hope for better things.

What better things does the Bee hope for? Why it hopes that the Whigs, by voting for a separate ticket of their own will make both their own party and the Republican party so small, that the American party can choose their own candidate for Governor.

This year a plurality of votes will elect the governor of Massachusetts. This circumstance has made one fusion already, and will probably make another. We shall soon see.

ENCLOSING MORE THAN ONE LETTER IN THE SAME ENVELOP.—It is a penal offence to deposit in any post office, to be conveyed in the mail, any envolop or packet containing letters addressed to different persons. The law upon which the above is based is frequently violated by persons who are perhaps not aware of its existence. The thirteenth section of the Act approved March 3, 1847, reads that every person offending in the manner indicated above, "shall forfeit the sum of ten dollars, to be recovered by action qui tam, one half for the use of the informer, and the other half for the use of the Post Office Department." There is one exception, however, and that is in the case of letters addressed to foreign countries.

If this be a law, it is one of the most impracticable and useless. It is a simple absurdity. A father, away from home, may not address three little notes or billets to his three juveniles, under cover of an envelope superscribed to the mother. Well; how is any body to know? The envelop is sealed. Nobody knows, and nobody cares. The provision is a silly relic of our old Post Office law, which used to talk about single, double and triple letters. The provision, if it be one, has never been enforced or executed in a single instance, that we have heard of.

☞ The captain and four men, all the crew, of sch. Joseph James, of and for Bangor, from Georgetown, S. C., are sick with fever at Edgartown, where the vessel has put in. She was picked up at anchor on Great Rip, by some fishermen.

FIRST IN THE FIELD.—Gov. Price of New Jersey, has recommended Thursday, Oct. 4, as a day of Thanksgiving for the 'seasonable, providential and especial bounty, which has been so mercifully granted" the citizens of his State.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

MONDAY, Sept. 24.

Owing to a delay of the cars, the Court did not come in till nearly 11 o'clock, and the remainder of the forenoon was occupied in calling the docket.

The first case called was, State v. Oren Silloway, for assault on Jeremiah Carter, of Kingston; and also against Oren Silloway, Leonard S. Shilling, Nathaniel C. Brown and Enoch Bean, for assault with intent to kill the same Jeremiah Carter.

The respondent, on the first charge, wished to withdraw the plea of not guilty, and enter a plea of nol. con. which was objected to by the Solicitor, as he wished to try the second charge first. The decision of the Court was reserved.

On the second charge, the counsel for the defence argued that these respondents had been tried and convicted before a justice of the peace for the same offence, which was then called a simple assault, and from that decision had claimed an appeal to the November session of the Court of Common Pleas, and therefore could not at this time be tried on another charge for the same offence; and asked leave to enter a plea ore tenus. The Solicitor maintained that a further charge of intent to kill could be made to one of assault. Time was given to enter the plea.

Jonathan Prescott of Epping, plead guilty to a violation of the old license law, and was fined $25 and costs. In a second charge a nol. pros. was entered.

Charles B. Carr, formerly of Epping, retracted his plea of not guilty, and "owned up" to a violation of the license law. Fined $25 and costs.

The forieiture of Frank Gray's recognizances was taken off, and he appeared and plead not guilty of assaulting officer Adams on election day in March last.

Jeremiah W. Rand was put on trial for an assault on a house owned by Lyman Prescott of Epping, in August of last year. Before any progress was made a nol. pros. was entered by the Solicitor.

In the afternoon, the case of Oren Silloway was resumed, and he was suffered to retract his plea of not guilty. He then plead that he would not contend; and his counsel desired time to present affidavits in mitigation of sentence, to the effect that the person assaulted had furnished liquor to his father which made him drunk, against the family's request, &c. The Solicitor would also be heard for the State. Sentence to be given on Wednesday morning.

The solicitor allowed the second charge to go by, as the other three respondents were in the course of justice before the Court of Common Pleas.

The respondent being a young lad 16 years old, the Court, having been informed that up to the time of the commission of this offence he ha borne a good character, ordered him to be discharged on condition that a responsible party should recognize for his appearance at the next term of the Court in the sum of $50.

The first case for trial in the afternoon was State v. Frank Gray. The respondent plead not guilty. The indictment alleged that Gray assaulted officer Adams, a constable, in the discharge of his official duty, on the 13th day of March last, the day of the annual election. The defence set up was, that Adams was a police officer, acted in that capacity on said day, and not as a constable, and hence respondent could not be indicted under the statue. The only question submitted to the jury was, whether Adams acted as a police officer or constable. The jury after consultation agreed, and will bring in a sealed verdict this morning.

The first case for trial this morning, is State v. Henry Flint of South Hampton, for an assault with intent to kill.

The Court adjourned to 8 1-2 o'clock this morning.

POLICE COURT.

On Monday afternoon, Patrick Conolly was brought before Justice Odell on complaint of Marshal Hanscom, for being found drunk on Congress street, on Sunday morning. The complaint being proved, His Honor sentenced him to ten days imprisonment in the House of Correction, and to pay costs of prosecution.

☞ The report that Rev. Lyman Whiting has accepted the invitation of the North Church and Society to become their pastor, is premature. His reply has not yet been received.

☞ Capt. Brevoort, of the U. S. Marine corps, who has for some years been attached to the Portsmouth Navy Yard, has been ordered to the steamer San Jacinto, now fitting out at New York. Maj Sheafe Waldron will take his place at this naval station.

INSTRUCTION IN FRENCH. — It will be seen by the advertisement, that the Fall and Winter session of Mons. Leon's Institute opens this day at Hanover street Chapel.—Mons. Leon has given proof of his ability as a Teacher of French both in this city and in Portland, where he has taught for several years. A good practical knowledge of the French language has become almost indispensable as a part of a complete education. For those who are travelling either in this country or in Europe, it is extremely convenient, and in many places absolutely necessary. Young gentlemen and ladies should improve this opportunity to acquire a full knowledge of lingue Franagis.

☞ The Carpenters at the Navy Yard, who were suspended a week ago for want of timber, were again sent off, on Monday morning, for an indefinite period.

The steam engine in the saw mill will soon be obliged to stop for want of water, unless a rain should soon fall, the reservoir which supplies it with water, being nearly dry.

ROCKINGHAM FAIR. — This interesting show, and as we trust large and pleasant assemblage, will take place on Thursday. We hope a large representation of Portsmouth people will be present.

☞ Boys who wish to enter the High School this Fall, will please notice the time for examination, as advertised by the Committee.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purchase once are sure to go again. The proprietor has received testimony from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of the hair and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

THE YELLOW FEVER.—Baltimore, Sept 23d.—The steamer from Norfolk brings as intelligence to noon on Saturday. The weather had been exceedingly unfavorable, and nothing can be more appalling than the present prospect of affairs.

Mr Ferguson, the President of the Howard Association, died on Saturday morning, and his death adds greatly to the despondency of the people. The physicians say that the disease has lost none of its malignity.—At Norfolk on Thursday there were 40 interments, and on Friday 28. Thirty orders for coffins had been left with undertakers up to ten o'clock on Saturday.

At Portsmouth on Thursday there were twenty-two deaths; on Friday, twenty-five; and on Saturday about thirty.

Acting Mayor Holliday was taken to the hospital yesterday. It is estimated there are now about 2200 persons in Portsmouth, of whom 2000 are either convalescent or still sick. Acclimated physicians and nurses are much needed, but the authorities hope no more will come from the North who have not had the fever, otherwise they will only furnish fresh victims.

The shipping in our harbor, engine-houses, &c., displayed their flags at half-mast to-day, in respect to the memory of Mr Ferguson, formerly a citizen of Baltimore.

Wm. Fowle of this city was killed on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to-day, by jumping from the cars while in motion.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 21.—The yellow fever is making terrible havoc at Natchez, Vicksburg and Waterproof. In the latter place nearly all the inhabitants are sick

Sept. 22.—The deaths by the fever at the hospital for the past week were only forty-four, which is a gratifying reduction as compared with the previous six or eight weeks. We have alarming reports of the ravages of the fever in the towns on the river. The accounts from Memphis to-day represent the fever as raging there with much violence, and the citizens were leaving in great numbers.

APPOINTMENT.—The President has appointed Ex-Gov. Pillsbury of Maine, Consul at Halifax, in place of R. M. Frazer, removed.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 22.—Senator Douglas addressed a large meeting here last night. He denounced the fanaticism invoked by the fugitive slave law, and Northern men who pronounced it unconstitutional—discussed the Nebraska bill, and said that Congress had no right to interfere in the local laws of States or Territories. The know nothings were bitterly denounced.

LOWELL, 22d.—In the Police Court, this A. M., Fiske and Barton, the alleged burglars at the Merrimack House, were held in $5000 for trial in the Court of Common Pleas in this city, next month. No clue has yet been obtained as to their identity. Without doubt they pass under assumed names.

RACINE, Sept. 22.—The brigs Black Hawk and Young America, came in collision at about 3 o'clock this morning, near this place. The Young America went down almost instantly, with a cargo of about 17,000 bushels of corn. She was bound from Chicago to Oswego. She was owned in Oswego. The crew were all saved.

WHERE DID HE GET IT?—A correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce says that, at the late Agricultural Fair in Manchester, N. H., J. H. Arey of Boscawen, presented a pair of toilet boxes, one of which was constructed of wood obtained from the tree from which the witches were hung in Salem, from the big elm on Boston Common, from the Charter Oak at Hartford, and from the house in which Benedict Arnold once lived—a fusion quite as strange as some political fusions of which we read. This same Mr Arey exhibited a pair of violins of his own manufacture, that he values at $30 and $50. They are said by our best musical judges to be equal to the finest violins manufactured in Italy.

The wood from the witch-tree part of the story needs explanation and confirmation before we can vouch for the assertion in these diggings.—Salem Reg.

That is, there is some bogus wood in the box. Quere, who gave him a piece of sound wood from the Boston big tree?

COST OF FLOUR.—The Boston Traveller states that, some weeks since, a gentleman of Boston was travelling in the West, and, while at Chicago, purchased half a dozen barrels of fine flour for his own use, at $5.87 a barrel.—He sent it to Boston, and the extreme cost, delivered at his house there, was $7.75 a barrel. At the time the same brand of flour was selling there at fourteen dollars a barrel, or for nearly double what the gentleman's cost him.

High School for Boys.

AN examination of Boys who are candidates for admission to the High School, will be held on WEDNESDAY next at 9 o'clock, A. M. in the Boys' High School Room.

Every boy who expects to be examined must be punctual. WM. LAMSON,

Consumption not fatal, if properly treated.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.

Dr. and Mrs. Gregorie Lamont,

THE Celebrated Physicians for DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, from 578 Broadway, New York, late of London, member of the Reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors, with a success unknown to the Physicians of this country, invite the attention of the sick and afflicted, laboring under any of the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, ulcerated or tuberculous lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, palpitation, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhœa, Piles, Fistulas, and concealed Abscesses of the Rectum, (Diseases of Kidney and Bladder) gravel, stone, &c, and all Female Complaints, such as Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, and all uterine complaints, such as Cancers, Tumors, enlargements, suppression of the Menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Scrofulous Affections, Spinal Deformities, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the Blood.

Mrs. Dr. LAMONT is the only Lady gifted with the power of telling Diseases at sight, by looking into the Eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at and those who are not able to call, by sending a card of address, they will call and give advice free, and as their stay will be short in this place, immediate attention to this card will be required to insure success.

Their terms for Medicines are very moderate in all cases. The invalid may depend on finding speedy relief by calling immediately on Dr. and Mrs. Lamont, as their stay will be short in this place.

GRASSHOPPER TRAPS.—This is the way the California Indians lay in their winter stores—

"In our rides in the grasshopper country, we saw thousands of deep holes, which had been dug in the earth by the Indians, to entrap their luxurious (?) food. These holes contain about a bushel and a half, and we believe we saw holes enough in Yuba, Butte and Sutter counties to have collected fifty thousand bushels of grasshoppers. The Indians will grow fat this winter.—California Farmer.

The Poughkeepsie Press is informed by Santa Anna's agent, that "Spring Side" and Forrest's residence on the Hudson, are the only places he has visited with a view to purchase, and that Barnum's Iranistan has not been thought of.

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of STOVES:

Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance;

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked;

The HEAP and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price;

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c.

PARLOR STOVES

Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st. opps. Kimby st. Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents, remitting one dollar of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ATTORNEY ST., 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have official intercourse with them. I have had official intercourse with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine; let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, in the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

LIFE INSURANCE.—All men of education and reflection should ponder well upon the advantages of Life Insurance, and should promulgate their acquired knowledge throughout the whole circle of their acquaintance. They should remember that it recommends itself in many instances not merely as a measure of expediency, but as a bounden duty—a duty easily discharged by the payment of a moderate sum. In those solitary hours when woman is left to her own reflections—when the busy and bustling husband is stirring with the world, and floating on the stream of an imaginary affluence—how often does the future present itself to her view, unselfishly as regards herself—but painfully as regards her offspring! How can she bring the subject to her husband's notice without startling his affection, or in many cases without subjecting herself to a bitter and brutal insinuation? Her delicacy—her affection revolt from the idea of proposing to him the necessity of that which she feels to be his duty, and which he should be the first to suggest. She listens to his tale of future wealth and independence, of speculative thousands, and regrets to think that a paltry sum is withheld, which, under a sudden affliction, might be the saving of herself from destruction, her infant from a bleak and dreary childhood. The husband, if spoken to on the subject, often mistaking his wife's delicacy—his wife's diffidence—his wife's dislike to allude to a period which must bring to her so all absorbing a loss—will declare that he "has spoken on the subject, and has been requested never to mention it again. Strange that man, who owes to his wife the chief charm of his existence, the every-day comfort of his life, should be able to look heartlessly to that period when their last parting shall take place—when removed to that world where, to him, all is hope and consolation—he shall have wilfully left her in darkness and desolation, steeped in poverty and wretchedness, to struggle with the hard justice of a hard-handed world.

A FRENCHMAN AND A FREE COUNTRY.—"When I lived in la belle France, sare, zey used to say to me: "you should go to Amerique. Dat one great countree, where everybody do shust as zey like."

"Zat pleased me, so I picked up my box, and go on board the sheep, and pretty soon after a long time, I landed in ze Amerique.

"A porter seize my trunk wheder I want him to or no, and carry him off. So I have to run after him and try to get him. Tell him I report to ze gens' d'armes.

"Zis be a free countree," sez he "and I want a quarter dollar."

"I gave it to him, for I very much afraid I lose my box. As I go along the street, a man spit tobacco juice and it fall on my coat, and I say to him: "Sare, you have soil my coat, you should take out your mouchoir and wipe him off." But he only say,

"Zis is a free countree."

"I saw a man cruelly peat his lectle boy with a poker, so my heart fill with compassion and I say to him: "Sare, you are one very bad man to hurt ze lectle enfant wiz ze poker.

"'Go about your business, you rascal,' sez he, 'I guess zis is a free countree.'

"A lectle while after, I met a great pig Irish Paddy wiz what he called a shillelah in his hand. Hh came to me, and pointed to a lectle ribbon which I wear in my waistcoat and says: 'Be jabers, are you one of zem bloody Know-Nothings?'

"Sare' said I, 'here shall tell you I not bloody at all.'

"'Are yees a Know-Nothing?' said he. I know not what he means, so I say: 'I don't know.' 'Ah,' he exclaimed, 'you don't know, you Know-Nothing. I will make you know zat zis is a free countree, as free for me as for you;' and wiz zat he raised his shillelah, and lay it on my head. I run away very much frightened.

"Mon Dieu! that I should come into a free countree where everybody do just as they like, and nobody to stop zem. I sail ze next sheep for France; I no want to live no more in a free countree."

PROSPERITY AND ADVERSITY.—The virtue of prosperity is temperance: the virtue of adversity is fortitude. Prosperity is the blessing of the Old Testament; adversity is the blessing of the New, which carrieth the greater benediction and the clearer revelation of God's favor. Yet, even in the Old Testament, if you listen to David's harp, you shall hear as many hearse-like airs as carols; and the pencil of the Holy Ghost hath labored more in describing the afflictions of Job than the felicities of Solomon. Prosperity is not without comforts and hopes. We see in needleworks and embroideries that it is more pleasing to have a lively work upon a sad and solemn ground, than to have a dark and melancholy work upon a lightsome ground: judge therefore of the pleasure of the heart by the pleasure of the eye. Certainly, virtue is like precious odors, much fragrant where they are incensed or crushed; for prosperity doth best discover vice, but adversity doth best discover virtue.—Lord Bacon.

One of the most interesting objects in the British camp before Sebastopol is the sappers' church. It is built wholly of siege apparatus, but these are neither injured nor rendered unfit for their ultimate purpose; on the contrary, the materials are so arranged that they are only in store, as it were, ready for use as soon as required. The articles employed in the construction have been scaling ladders, gabions, fascines, timber ready to cut and shape for gun platforms, a few planks, and some pieces of rope. Two scaling ladders, locked into each other at the top, form, at certain intervals, the columns which separate the aisles from the body of the church, and bear the roof.

PLEASURE-SEEKING.—No. 1.

MILFORD, MASS., Sept. 24.

Deeming it somewhat essential to our contentment, that we should endeavor to satisfy the eye with seeing something of the yet unknown beauties and attractions of New England, we dropped business for a couple of weeks, and on the 17th inst. commenced our usual annual ramble. The day was very hot and dusty, and of course uncomfortable; and the night not much less so—the first half being spent in the Boston Theatre, and the remainder in one of the diminutive and ill-aired sleeping rooms of a fashionable hotel.

The Boston Theatre is a splendid building, and the "School for Scandal" and a farcical afterpiece were well put upon the stage; and on the whole we deemed our evening well spent—since it led us into a train of reflections comparative of the comforts of a city and country life, which resulted in a desire to get out of the crowded, dirty, jostling city as soon as possible.

On Tuesday morning, we took passage on the Boston & Worcester Railroad to Milford—through Brighton, Newton, Natick, Framingham, &c Milford is about thirty miles from Boston, and twenty from Worcester, on the Blackstone river, and is famous for its great manufacture of Boots, and as containing within its limits the celebrated Hopedale Community of Rev. Adin Ballou. More boots are made here, we are told, than in any other town in America; but no shoes. Straw bonnets (doubtless of the latest Parisian style) are also manufactured throughout this region. There are also cotton mills here, and all along the banks of the Blackstone, which is said to carry more spindles than any other river of equal length. We were attracted to Milford to attend a Musical Convention under direction of Prof. B. F. Baker; and found a busy population of about eight thousand inhabitants; and a very pleasant home at Felton's new hotel, which we cordially recommend.—From our window, half a mile distant, on the side of a hill, could be seen about forty houses, cottages of a story and a half, exactly alike, and ranged down on both sides of a street, presenting a singular appearance. This village is called "Whistley Beer," from the fact that strong beer was formerly sold here, so old and mean that it would whistle when uncorked, instead of popping; and from which the customers took the hint to whistle for the delectable stuff, after its sale was prohibited by law. The occupants are all Irish of a low order; but have greatly improved since the passage of the anti-liquor law. The houses have no cellars, and were built by one wealthy man, who has made money by the speculation. The occupants are mostly engaged in boot making, but we observed the women wore no shoes but flesh-colored, or toad-skin, as a companion remarked. We could hardly conceive of a more revolting place, here in the clear air and amid such beautiful scenery. About twenty five hundred Irish live in Milford, we were told, and they have a church which much resembles an old reddish brown barn with a steeple.

We deem the subject of Musical Conventions to be of sufficient importance to merit the notice of all who take any interest in music. Although the first was held in New Hampshire, (in 1829, we think,) there are now but few such gatherings held in any portion of the State. In Massachusetts nearly every County has its Musical Association, holding one or two sessions yearly,—alternating in the different towns, according to invitation or vote. Worcester county has two such societies; and the South division met at Milford, as before stated. Prof. Baker took a pianist and a trunk full of his new church music books, and held a session of four days and evenings,—concluding with a fine concert.—The members of the Association from abroad, are invited to make themselves at home with those members and other friends of music who reside in the town where the Convention is held. There is no expense attending membership of the Association, and but a trifling charge for admission to the Convention; and only rules and regulations enough to systematise the operations somewhat. The concerts are given to pay the expenses. All the clergymen of Milford took part in this Convention, and many of the most prominent citizens of the town. The exercises throughout were entertaining and improving to the student of music or language; and the social features by no means to be slighted. The Convention was held in a new and excellent Town Hall, just erected at a cost of more than $20,000. It has a clock with illuminated dials, with sixteen gas burners.

We shall have something to say anon, of our visit to Hopedale, &c. Y.

The New Orleans Delta says that in more than three thousand cases, during the present season, inoculation for the yellow fever has been tested, and with entire success.

THE NAVAL RETIRING BOARD.—The Washington Union contains a correspondence that has taken place between the Secretary of the Navy and the President, relative to the action of the Naval retiring Board.

The Secretary, while not agreeing with the Board in its action in individual cases, has a clear conviction from his own knowledge of the correctness of the opinion of the Board in a large number of cases, and has such confidence in the superior knowledge of the Board as to what constitutes efficiency in officers, that he cannot withhold his approval, nor advise the President to do so. The President briefly says that he examined and deliberately considered the report of the Board, and approves its finding.

The Washington Star of the 26th, publishes the official list of the naval officers placed on the retired list. It differs somewhat in its arrangements from that already published, but not very essentially.

FINANCIERING ON A LARGE SCALE!—It will be recollected by the newspaper readers, that six months ago, a woman by the name of Margaret Robinson, who at that time had a husband living in New York, but by some folly became tinctured with Brigham's Young's spiritual wife theory, and wish to sever her matrimonial ties which had linked two loving hearts together for several years. She became acquainted with an amiable young man by the name of Johnson, a resident of Greenland, which acquaintance ripened into a hymeneal engagement, and the twain were duly made one flesh. While in the enjoyment of the honey moon, at Greenland, and just previous to their leaving in the cars, an altercation arose at the depot, between the two husbands, in relation to the right of possession of the lady in question, which resulted in a charge of adultery against Johnson, and whose bonds were forfeited at the present session of the Supreme Judicial Court.

The happy couple (says the Newburyport Herald) arrived in this city, some ten days since, and booked their names at one of our hotels. The lady seemed very much pleased with the place, and proposed settling in or near the city, provided she could find a suitable residence. After some considerable research, she negotiated for the Dr Dearborn estate, in Seabrook, for which she was to pay the sum of seventeen hundred dollars. This purchase being proposed, she set herself about furnishing the house; calling on Mr B G Parker, she selected her furniture, which was speedily delivered. Mr E S Sweetser had orders for a large bill of carpeting; a $300 piano was also bargained for. Mr John Sumner was the favored one who was to furnish her stoves and hollow ware, and the articles were put up and delivered with promptness and despatch. The crockery ware, and plates for her chateau were to be furnished by Mr Joseph Moulton, whose clerks were employed during the day in carefully packing the goods, ready to deliver. Mr R G Lucy received her order for the purchase of a span of horses for which she was to receive the sum of $400. The horses, on examination and trial proved satisfactory, and a carriage was bargained for, from Capt. Aaron Bancroft. The representation which she made on purchasing, was that she had some $10,000 on deposit in Boston; and our tradesmen who were congratulating themselves on the acquaintance of so valuable a customer, were somewhat chagrined a few days after, when the expressman, with whom she had entrusted her check to draw a sufficient amount to liquidate the claims of her creditors, returned with the reply, that no money was deposited by the lady in Boston. About that time, teams were in active demand, to go to Seabrook, driven by gentlemen, with elongated countenances; and the return procession, looked very much as though some one had broken up housekeeping. The last exploit of our heroine, was on Saturday evening last, when in a state of great mental excitement, produced by the too frequent habit of looking into a glass tumbler, which habit is acknowledged to be very injurious to the vision, as well as to the senses. She entered a saloon near the bridge road, and being somewhat noisy and pugilistic, the keeper tried to persuade her to return home, but in vain. The Police on being sent for, took her into custody, and conveyed her to the "County House" on Vernon street, where every attention was paid to her, that her situation demanded, until Monday morning, when she was arraigned before the Police Court, for indulging too freely in contraband fluids, against the peace and dignity of said Commonwealth, and to the great terror of the quiet and humble citizens into whose company she thrust herself. The Court considered her offence, and sentenced her to pay a fine of two dollars and costs, and if not paid, three months in the House of Correction. Marshal Brown escorted her to the house of Correction, at Ipswich, in the afternoon.

RENUNCIATION.—Rev. Woodbury M. Fernald, a native of this city, has sent us a pamphlet of 32 pages with the following title. Eternity of Heaven and Hell; or, a Renunciation of the Error of Universalism. By Woodbury M. Fernald.

Mr Fernald was a Universalist minister for some years, and was pastor of churches in Newburyport and Stoneham; then he became a Rationalist; then a Spiritualist; and now, as in this book, a Swedenborgian. The form of the essay is that of a letter to Prof. Bush. The writer quotes freely from Swedenborg, as undoubted truth and authority—and yet he says, p. 15, "I know not how much authority to attach to Paul's language," in I. Cor. XV. 24—28.

The pamphlet will interest many who know the author; and stir the thoughts of many who do not.

The New Orleans Delta of the 14th inst., speaks of large quantities of Western produce arriving, and of a general revival in business. The yellow fever was fast disappearing.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

TUESDAY, Sept. 25.

The Court came in at half-past 8, when the jury, in the case of the State v. Frank Gray, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

[Nobody doubts he committed the assault: his counsel admitted it in his plea—but he got clear on some technical distinction between a constable and a police officer; and on the ground that the assault was a police offence, and did not rise to the dignity of a crime.]

The case, State v. Henry Flint, for an assault with intent to kill Barnard Jewell, with a hatchet, at South Hampton, was put on trial. It appeared in evidence that the respondent, on the 3d of May last, used certain threatning language towards Jewell, to the effect tast if the latter approached he would "split his head open;" that Jewell pursued the respondent nearly to his home with the intention of "taking hold of Flint," as he had previously done on two or three other occasions; that Flint then threw a hatchet at Jewell, which struck the latter on the left shoulder; and that subsequently, on the same day Flint drew a horse pistol, and flourishing it, threatened to give Jewell the contents if he, Jewell, dared to lay hold of the respondent. It appeared, also, that the respondent was a peaceful man, except when in liquor, and that he was a little intoxicated on the occasion of this assault.

The defence set up was a justification,—that as Jewell had on previous occasions used violence to Flint, and in this instance having pursued the respondent to his door, that Flint had the right to defend himself. The counsel for the defence further contended that there was no real intention of killing proved.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty of assault and battery only.

In the afternoon was put on trial, the case State v. Dudley Nason, of Stoneham, Mass. for stealing a bay horse valued at $100, at Plaistow, belonging to Justin E. Bradstreet, of Bradford, on the 29th of June last. The respondent is also represented as residing in Acton, Me. The evidence proved that the horse was stolen out of the pasture of Bradstreet, but there was no direct testimony to fix the guilt upon this respondent. Many circumstances, however tended to show that Nason might be the guilty party.

The case was still before the Court when an adjournment took place, to 8 1-2 o'clock, Wednesday morning.

ASHORE.—We are informed that the Br. schooner Gipsey, captain Brit, of about 70 tons burthen, bound from Boston for St. Andrews, N. S. where she belonged, went ashore near Frost's Point is Rye, on Saturday evening last, about 7 o'clock. She had no cargo except a few barrels of flour; vessel uninsured.

OFFICIAL CORRUPTION.—On the 22d, in New York city, there was great excitement among the city officials, in consequence of an announcement that the Grand Jury had indicted for official misdemeanor, three Aldermen, three common councilmen, and two police justices. The Grand Jury made their presentiment in the afternoon, but the names of the indicted were not made public. Nearly all the city officials manifested much anxiety, as well they might. This anxiety lasted over Sunday. On Monday it came out, that the indicted men were Aldermen Mosher, Drake and Herrick, and Councilmen Healey, Cooper and Wendell.

They are all charged with demanding and accepting bribes of from $100 to $1000.—They were arrested and held to bail to answer the indictments. The report that two police justices have been arrested proves to be incorrect.

☞ Dr. Henry Willard died suddenly at a caucus of the American party in Boston, on Monday evening. He had just been speaking; sat down and complained of pain about the heart; and died in his chair about fifteen minutes afterwards.

COUNTY OF BRISTOL, MASS.—The following liquor cases have been disposed of within a few days at the Court of Common Pleas which has been holding its session at Taunton. Some twelve different sellers have already been sent to the House of Correction. Only one case was under the old law. The juries have no difficulty in convicting.

At New Bedford, Thomas Fillborn, common seller, fined $50—House of Correction 3 months; Margaret Ring, common seller, fine of $50 and House of Correction 3 months; Mathew Moffet, single offence, appeale 1 case, Jury returned a verdict of guilty; Harvey Cables, appealed case, single offence—guilty; T J Eagleton, common seller—guilty; Michael Flannagan, common seller—guilty; John Strong, common seller—guilty; Martha Brown, single offence—appealed case—verdict guilty; A Perry, common seller—guilty; Adoniram Negus—guilty.

At Seekonk, Susan W Parris, common seller—fine of $50 House of Correction 3 months.

At Fall River, Ellen Hardy, single sale—fine of $10.

At Lowell, Mary Campbell was convicted on two counts, and was sentenced to House of Correction. She was committed. Hannah Sullivan, guilty on two counts and committed to House of Correction.—Boston Tel.

In Boston, they do not convict. Two cases were tried; jury did not agree—all cases postponed to October, when new juries come on.

The moral condition of Bristol county is more elevated than Suffolk. That's all.

The old custom of lighting up the mills of Lowell, and continuing the work until half past seven o'clock in the evening, is discontinued the present season. Work now ceases at half past six o'clock, thus giving the operatives the use of the long evenings.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural hardness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purchase once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25th.—The Secretary of the Navy has retained Lieut. Maury on duty at the Observatory, Com. Stewart in command of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, and Com. Smith as chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks.

Capt. Folsom, deceased, late Quartermaster in California, who was reported to have been a millionaire, was a defaulter for upward of $200,000.

COLLISION ON LAKE MICHIGAN.—Milwaukie, Sept. 23—The propeller Forest City from Buffalo, with 400 tons of merchandize and 60 passengers, came in collision with the schooner Asia, bound from Chicago to Buffalo with 16,000 bushels of corn, near Grand Traverse, on Thursday last. Both vessels sunk, but the passengers and crews were all saved in boats, and were picked up by the schooner Hamlet which arrived here this morning.

RAILROAD TAKEN UP.—The track of the Harvard Branch Railroad, extending from the Fitchburg track to the Colleges, has been taken up, the trains having been discontinued. This railroad originally cost about $21,000 and was lately sold for $10,000. The purchaser, Mr Whitney, expected to continue running the trains, but found no encouragement, so he has taken up the track and sold the iron. He may release the road bed to the abuttors, and very possibly get his money back, but will not be likely to make anything by the operation.—Bunker Hill Aurora.

A WEIGHTY ARGUMENT.—We hear a good deal about the war being necessary to preserve the balance of power, which is no doubt the case; but there is another balance—and a pretty powerful balance it is—which is likely to be destroyed rather than preserved by the existing state of things. There is not a state in Europe which will not find its balance—if it happens to have any in its treasury—seriously jeopardised by the hostilities which have broken out.—Punch.

THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—A letter from Pictou, N. S., dated Sept. 10, says:

The operation of the reciprocity begins already to exhibit some of the beneficial effects anticipated by the friends of the measure.—The trade between this port and ports in New England States has already increased many fold, and the demand for articles of American manufacture is much greater than in any former year.

EMBEZZLEMENT.—The Chicago Tribune says that Mr O. T. Caldwell, a well-known conductor on the Chicago & Burlington Railroad, was arrested on the 18th inst. on the charge of embezzling a large amount of the funds belonging to the company. Mr C. was bailed in the sum of $6000.

Mr Thomas B. Harvey, acting ordnance storekeeper in Quebec, is reported to have absconded with $9000 of the public money.

BATTLE WITH THE INDIANS.—St. Louis, Sept. 24.—A great battle took place at Sand Hills near the North fork of the Platte river, between the Sioux Indians and the entire force of troops under Gen. Harney. Major Cady commanded the infantry, and Col. Cook the dragoons, mounted infantry and artillery. The battle lasted several hours, the Indians fought desperately, but were routed, when a running fight for a distance of ten miles followed, when the Indians made another stand, but were finally completely routed, having 80 men killed, and leaving 50 women and children prisoners. The Indian women fought furiously. Gen. Harney had six men killed and as many wounded. No officers were killed. The Indians were the party which massacred Maj. Grattan's command, and murdered the mail party. The way bill of the mail was found with them.

BAILED.—On Saturday, at New York, on the strength of a certificate from the physicians attending Capt. Wright who was recently assaulted at the St. Nicholas Hotel, to the effect that they consider him out of danger, Mr Dean was admitted to bail in $5000, and Mr Montgomery in $2,500.

LONG SICKNESS.—The Three Rivers (Canada) Inquirer says:—

A maiden lady residing in this town was recently released by death from an almost unprecedented affliction. She was confined to her bed for the last nineteen years. She was wasted to a skeleton, and many of the sharper pointed bones protruded through the skin. A post mortem examination was held on the body, which was found to contain several ossified tumors, one of them nearly the size of a quart bowl. The muscles on one side of the neck had become so contracted that the head was drawn completely over, causing dislocation.

CHANGES IN CITY CHURCHES,—Of the 27 Presbyterian churches in New York city, 20 years ago, only four societies are now worshipping in the houses which they then occupied.

STEEL CANNON.—The English papers mention that cast steel has recently been employed in the manufacture of cannon, its greater durability pointing to its advantageous use in warfare.

The Portsmouth Almanac
AND
HAND BOOK,
FOR THE YEAR 1856.

THE subscriber will issue the first No. of this work the present fall, and designs publishing it annually should circumstances warrant it. It will contain besides the Almanac Calendar, embracing all usual calculations for this meridian, Official COUNTY and TOWN STATISTICS, Lists of COUNTY and TOWN OFFICERS, Justices of the Peace, Terms of the various Courts, and all necessary information to the public connected therewith. with Sketches of some of the principal Towns, which in time will embrace all the towns in the County, forming a more complete history than has yet been published.

The work will make a pamphlet of about 75 pages, a few of which will be devoted to business advertisements and professional Cards, which will be inserted on reasonable terms. Of the first edition we shall print from 3000 to 5000 copies.—Retail price 12½ cents. Dealers supplied at the usual discount.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.
Dr. and Mrs. Gregorie Lamont,

THE Celebrated Physicians for DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, from 378 Broadway, New York, late of London, member of the Reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors, with a success unknown to the Physicians of this country, invites the attention of the sick and afflicted, labouring under any of the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, ulcerated or tuberculous lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, palpitation, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhœa, Piles, Fistulas, and concealed Abscesses of the Rectum, (Diseases of Kidney and Bladder) gravel, stone, &c., and all Female Complaints, such as Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, and all uterine complaints, such as Cancers, Tumors, enlargements, suppression of the Menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Scrofulous Affections, Spinal Deformities, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the Blood.

Mrs. Dr. LAMONT is the only Lady gifted with the power of telling Diseases at sight, by looking into the Eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at
Mr. WALKER'S, No. 9 Vaughan st.,
and those who are not able to call, by sending a card of address, they will call and give advice free, and as their stay will be short in this place, immediate attention to this card will be required to insure success.

Their terms for Medicines are very moderate in all cases. The invalid may depend on finding speedy relief by calling immediately on Dr. and Mrs. Lamont, as their stay will be short in this place.

The New York Sunday Times has seen the baby elephant that was born recently in that city, and gives a very pretty account of the little creature:

"These baby-elephants are very interesting objects. They are perfectly formed throughout, and differ from their parents only in size—but that difference is so amazing that it becomes ludicrous: and when you see the 'baby' walking to and fro under its mother, you cannot resist the impulse to laugh at the oddity of the comparison. And then the bulky mother's care of her 'baby' is so humanlike and affectionate! Give the baby an apple, for instance. The mother-elephant first takes it in her trunk, examines it closely, and then returns it to her infant to eat, having satisfied herself apparently of its innocuousness. And so with every thing else. The watchful care, the jealous fondness, the assiduous and untiring attention of the parent-monster is eminently worthy of imitation by many a being who makes profession to a much greater share of intelligence."

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Inexpertness for Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself PERFECTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, No. 17 Lispenard Street, New York City. ol2 d&w6m*

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of

STOVES:

Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal stove, very powerful in heat and design, and perfect in arrangement; has and three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance;

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked;

The HARPand SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price;

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Alled Ointment and Humor Syrup

will cure you just as sure as you are it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. The bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BURKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfect soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup $0 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold in Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartic pills in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, free the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Liver Complaint, the proprietor of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

THE DAILY MORNING CHRONICLE is published by FRANK W. MILLER, SAMUEL GRAY, & THOS. W. MILLER, At No. 4 Exchange Buildings, Pleasant Street,.....PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

TERMS $4 a year, or $3 if paid strictly in advance.

The Weekly Chronicle,

A family newspaper, containing the news of the week, with carefully selected miscellany, &c., is published as above, every Saturday morning.

TERMS $1 a year, in advance. Delivered on any railroad or stage route leading from Portsmouth, free of expense to subscribers. Postage in Rockingham County, free.

ADVERTISING.

For a Square (sixteen lines nonpareil) or less, one insertion 50 cts., three insertions $1, and liberal terms for continuance.

Yearly, quarterly or monthly advertisers liberally accommodated.

Unless otherwise ordered, all advertisements inserted in the Daily, also receive two or three insertions in the Weekly Chronicle, without extra charge.

Both papers having large circulation in Portsmouth, Kittery, New Castle, Greenland, Epping; on the Eastern and the Portsmouth & Concord Railroads, &c., renders the Chronicle an excellent advertising medium.

☞ Obituary Communications charged as advertisements. Notices of Funerals, 25 cts. each. Advertisements of articles lost, 25 cents if not found, 50 cts. if found.

☞ All accounts settled semi-annually.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING promptly executed.

V. B. Palmer, American Newspaper Agent, is the only authorized agent for this paper in the cities of Boston, New York and Philadelphia; and is duly empowered to take advertisements and subscriptions at the same rates as required by us. His receipts will be regarded as payment.

Morning Chronicle.

LETTER FROM BARNUM.

Revere House, Boston,
Monday Morning, Sept. 17, 1855.

Lyman Mason, Esq., Cor. Sec'y of the Board of Trustees of the Artizan's Recreative Union:

Dear Sir—A telegraphic despatch received Saturday evening, calls me home this morning. Hence it will not be in my power to keep an engagement made with a friend of your institution, to confer with some of your Board upon the subject of Lyceum Hotels, referred to in your circular; but I cannot leave Boston without saying to you how much I approve of the ideas and principles embodied in the enterprise now started at 15 Brattle street. In my opinion it is just the thing required by the age; it is the one step forward which must be taken, or the demands of society are not met.

The Hotel embracing within its walls a Lecture and Concert Hall, a library and reading room, restaurant, rooms for instruction in music and adult evening schools, and a large saloon for the social enjoyment of families and friends, and all this without the use or presence of intoxicating drinks, will beyond question do more to elevate labor, advance the moral and intellectual education of our youth, infuse happiness into many a domestic circle, (where is now a lack of comfort, and often a vice which destroys even the hope of comfort) than any other movement for humanity which has been originated these eighteen hundred years. When a line of such houses has been established over the country, the traveller will find a good 'home' wherever he may journey, and the last excuse it seems to me will then be removed for forsaking the fireside in search of comfort in places where no pleasure can be found, whose sting is not armed with misery and ultimate ruin.

Every man who owns a hundred dollars' worth of this world's goods, will find his interest in contributing his mite to build up this enterprise; for it will reduce taxes, and enhance the value of property in an important degree.

For my own part, I intend at an early day to prepare a series of amusing and instructive entertainments, suited to these houses; and if I live a short time longer, I will erect in New York, or Brooklyn, or Bridgeport, Ct., or in all of them, hotels on the plan your circular suggests, and which Mr Gilson's 'Our House' foreshadows.

There is nothing visionary about this plan; good hotels where temperance prevails are wanted—the people want amusements and will have them; and in no way that I can think of, can they get them so rationally, nor so economically, as at these Lyceum Hotels.

(Signed) Respectfully,
P. T. BARNUM.

LIFE IN BOSTON.—The Boston Bee gives us the following item of local news, under the head of "Assault upon an Officer—Arrest of a Ton Rowdy."

The police took into custody on Sunday morning about 1 o'clock, a well known character named Phillip Perkins, for committing an outrageous and unprovoked assault u on officer D. N. Hill. Perkins, in company with several young men, more or less drunk, and quite rowdyish, met Mr Hill near the head of Brattle street, in Court, when Perkins, without a premonitory word, struck the officer in the face. This he followed up by a second blow, at which Hill seized and felled him to the sidewalk. His drunken companions rallied to his aid, and each beat Hill without stint. On the approach of other officers the valiant fighters dispersed. Perkins only was arrested. He was sent to jail, but was bailed out on Sunday by Judge Russell, who visited the jail. Such outrages upon the city's servants merit the severest penalties of the law; even though committed by a scion of the aristocracy.

The Boston Herald states that the half-dozen drunken gentlemen were noisy, and being reproved by officer Hill for their bad conduct, they turned upon him, and beat him severely about the head and breast. The officer used his club in protection of his person, and literally smashed it to pieces over the head of the principal assailant, (Perkins) who bears marks of a severe conflict. The same paper understands that Mr Hill was confined to his bed on Sunday, from the injuries received.

It strikes us that the sympathies of Justice Russell were misplaced. He should have been by the bedside of the disabled policeman, rather than at the jail of the battered roue. The latter however, had friends, able to give $1500 bonds; while the former is only a poor police officer. He's a man, for a' that; and as an officer, who risks his life to keep drunken gentlemen in order in the night time, he ought to have not only ample pay, but also the countenance and aid of every city officer and judge.

ROYAL AND REVEREND JOKERS.—The young King of Portugal, on Sir Edward Landseer, the great painter of animals, being introduced to him, is reported to have said "he was very glad to make his acquaintance, for he was very fond of beasts." This reminds one of the celebrated story of the late reverend joker, Sydney Smith, who, when Landseer invited him to sit for his portrait replied, "Is thy servant a dog that he should do this thing?"

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

MILFORD, MASS., Sept. 26.

Among the objects of interest in this vicinity, the Hopedale Community is by no means least. A visit to their little village of about fifty dwelling houses, impressed us very favorably, and we propose a sketch of what we saw and heard of them, as a matter of general interest. We quote somewhat from their newspaper, the Practical Christian, a very neat and good-sized sheet, creditable to any country town.

The Hopedale Community, originally called Fraternal Community No. 1, was formed at Menden, Mass., in 1841, by about thirty individuals from different parts of the State. They purchased "The Dale," in Milford, their present location, joining the word Hope to its designation, as significant of the great things they hoped. The Community commenced its practical operations in 1842, with a joint stock capital of less than $4000, on a worn out farm of 250 acres, with a single dwelling house and a few out buildings; without a shop, mill, or mill dam on the premises. Seven or eight families, numbering about thirty persons, old and young, located themselves at that time in the ancient domicil.

The Community has now about one hundred regularly admitted, constitutional members, a collective population of towards three hundred souls, joint stock and individual capital amounting to nearly $100,000, a domain comprising between five and six hundred acres of average quality land, about fifty new dwelling houses, several mechanic shops with water power, a sawmill, gristmill, commodious new barn, a small chapel used also for educational purposes, and sundry useful buildings of less note. It has also a Union grocery store, a Juvenile Home Boarding School, a Printing establishment, a Bindery, and semi-monthly newspaper.

The dwelling houses are mostly what may be called cottages, and owned in connection with small lots by the members as individual property, yet revertible to the Community at a fair appraisal whenever they shall cease to be owned within the pale of its membership. Thus they are inalienable from the domain.—The Community as such owns the general domain, water privileges, mechanic shops, barns, and a considerable number of dwelling houses. A Unitary Mansion has always been contemplated, when numbers and pecuniary resources should be such as to secure one worthy of the Institution.

The joint stock capital is now owned almost entirely by resident stockholders, and is variously parceled out among the several Industrial Branches, so as to best subserve the general welfare, and to afford the largest amount of subsisting employment to the resident operatives, not otherwise provided for. Thus, they have an Agricultural Branch, and Orcharding, Horticultural, Transportation, Carpeting, Cabinet Making, Machine, Printing, Binding, Soap-making, Printing, and other Branches,—each taking care of itself, and yet cared for by the Community.

The Community limits the interest on its capital stock to four per cent. per annum, and provides that any excess of clear profits, above the said four per cent. shall be devoted to educational and other purposes, for the benefit of the Community at large. It guarantees to all its members and dependents employment, at least adequate to a comfortable subsistence; relief in want, sickness or distress; decent opportunities for religious, moral and intellectual culture; an orderly, well regulated neighborhood; fraternal counsel, fellowship and protection under all circumstances; and a suitable sphere of individual enterprise and responsibility, in which each one may by due self exertion elevate himself to the highest point of his capability. It is a purely voluntary Association, and joint stock partnership. Its members never asked for any act of incorporation from the State, preferring to rely on the safeguards of moral principle. Consequently, its legal responsibilities are those of a general partnership, so far as respects property and business transactions. No serious evil, but much substantial good, has resulted thus far, from this implicit confidence in conscience, honor, and discretionary precaution.

The Hopedale Community stands forth before the world as the beginning of a new order of human society, called The Practical Christian Republic. It is contemplated that an indefinite number of Practical Christian Communities, freely differing in their local arrangements, but all based on the same platform of fundamental principles and polity, will gradually be established in different parts of the earth. All such Communities are to be constituent and federative bodies of the one universal Republic. Thus it is proposed to establish, by voluntary association, a grand confederacy and body politic, such as has never before existed. It is the seedling of the true Democratic and Social Republic, wherein neither caste, color, sex nor age stands proscribed, but every human being shares justly in Liberty, Equality and Fraternity.

Rev. Adin Ballou is the author and founder of this system of life, and resides among his people—editing the paper and other productions with which their local press teems, and preaching in their Chapel. He is much respected and beloved by the Community. We found several old acquaintances here—the family of Mr Richard Walker, and Mr George Hatch and lady, all formerly of Portsmouth. There is some expectation of founding a new Community in Minnesota, and Mr Hatch and another young man are to start immediately on a tour of examination. We enjoyed our visit much, and had rather risk our happiness in this than in many more pretentious communities. At any rate, these Practical Christians mind their own business; and we are rather inclined to set their enterprise down as successful. We will state, what is perhaps unnecessary, that the family relations are entirely unchanged.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

WEDNESDAY, Sept. 25.

The case State v. Dudley Nason, for stealing a horse, was concluded. The Jury after being out about two hours came in, and reported that they were unable to agree. The jury were thereupon discharged, and the case continued.

Henry Flint was sentenced for the assault upon Barnard Jewell to pay the sum of $25 and costs.

Oren Silloway was sentenced for the assault upon Jeremiah Carter to pay the sum of $1 and costs.

On Wednesday afternoon the case State v. William R. Preston was presented to the jury. This respondent it is well known, was indicted for selling to Mr John K. Pickering of this city one pint of alcohol on the evening of the third day of September instant.

The city marshal, Hanscom, testified that on said evening about 10 o'clock, Mr Pickering came into Preston's apothecary store and there seeing him, (the marshal) present, asked of the respondent Will you sell me a bottle of alcohol, in the presence of the Marshal? that the respondent answered in the affirmative; that the marshal thereupon informed the respondent that it would be his duty to prosecute if the alcohol was sold; that the respondent replied, he didn't care, he would sell, and immediately put up a bottle full of alcohol and delivered it to Mr Pickering; that the latter inquired the price of the same, and was told seventeen cents; and that Mr Pickering handed the respondent the money (either a bill or silver) in payment.

Mr Samuel Gray substantially testified to the same; also that the respondent put up some ether in another bottle for Mr Pickering.

Mr William Chase also testified to the conversation which took place between Mr Pickering and the respondent and the marshal on said evening, in corroboration of marshal's statement, and the putting up of the bottle of alcohol, the delivery and payment.

The defence set up was 1st, the denial of any sale of alcohol; 2d, that alcohol is a drug, and not intoxicating or spirituous liquor, within the meaning of the enactment for the "suppression of intemperance."

Drs. Oliver, Laighton, and Hutchings of this city, and Page of Chicago, testified that alcohol is classed as a drug—is rarely used as a beverage, and that the same is a spirituous and an intoxicating liquor.

Mr Pickering testified that on said evening he bought of the respondent two oz. clo. ether, one pound chloride of lime, and some alcohol; that the alcohol was for a spirit lamp, and that he paid the respondent "what he asked."

The argument of the counsel for the respondent was calculated to operate upon the sympathies of the jury; that of the Solicitor for the State presented the law as it applied to this case, and a review of the evidence.

His Honor Judge Fowler, in his able charge to the jury, stated that inasmuch as this is the first contested case, he should detain them a few moments in explaining the intention of the law, particularly as they might have been led into error by the counsel on both sides.—He then went on to state that the law of 1827, embracing some features of the law of 1791, was enacted to prevent the sale of intoxicating liquors, except by licensed houses; that this was substantially revived in Nov. 1842, and again re-enacted in 1849, with some slight modification; that the spirit of this law is as old as the history of the State, and that the the principle in the enactment of the present law, is the same substantially as that in the former laws, but with some additional features—particularly in the establishment of agencies; is more stringent in its features; and that this case has nothing in it of novelty as to its general principles.

He then stated to the jury that a new question arose in this case—an important one—whether or not alcohol is spirituous liquor within the meaning of the act; that this question as a question of law would be reserved for the adjudication of the Supreme Court to be holden in December next. His Honor then defined the nature of alcohol, as laid down in the authorities, to be "a pure spirit, and is the only intoxicating principle in all spirituous and intoxicating liquors."

He then ruled that if the jury, upon the evidence, found that there had been a sale of alcohol, they were bound to find the respondent guilty; but that if upon the testimony they should find the alcohol to be a gift, the respondent was not liable.

PICTURES OF THE DEPARTED.—What would we give?—what would we not give, in some circumstances, for a good portrait of a departed friend?

So thought a lad, a mere boy, of this city, (a son of Mr Jonathan Dearborn,) who had lately lost a beloved and beautiful little sister of eight summers. The family had daguerreotypes of every member but the departed, strange to say. And the friends, all but the boy, gave it up, as hopeless.

He insisted that a good painter might, under his direction, and from his recollections, create a likeness. And against all advice and remonstrance, he went to Boston on this errand, carrying only a lock of the little girl's hair, and his own vivid, undying mental picture of the loved and lost.

His plan was, to select one feature from one picture, and another from another, as he could find them in picture galleries in Boston, and combine and alter the whole, by his dictation to a finished artist.

The artists there admired the boy's enthusiasm,* and the owners of galleries gladly made him welcome to their pictures for his purpose; but doubted unanimously, and disbelieved almost universally, that a likeness could be thus produced.

At last one artist made the trial; and after days of patient toil, gave it up as impracticable. But the boy's faith stumbled not. He enlisted the friendship of Mr J. A. Whipple, of 96 Washington street, and procured his services to take a photograph from the unfinished and condemned portrait by the first painter. With this, with the lock of hair, and with his own self-reliant knowledge of the face to be reproduced, he went to another painter, Mr Ransom, of 7 1-2 Tremont Row, and stated his case; Ransom replied that a portrait could not be obtained under the circumstances, and that he never heard of such a thing; but the boy at length persuaded him to commence a picture. After working a long time on it the painter threw aside the picture in despair, thinking it was impossible to paint a portrait of one he had never seen, and of whose features he had seen no copy. The boy insisted that it could be done; saying, I know I can get such a correct picture of my sister as I desire. By the perseverance, determination and persuasions of the boy, the painter was induced to try again, and in his second attempt obtained a most beautiful and correct picture of the little girl, which has been recognized at once by all who knew her, as an excellent likeness; and which is also a good painting.

The boy has his reward; the artist deserves great credit for his skill and patience.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Confusion party in Boston is very large and rapidly increasing. There were two great meetings in that city on Thursday evening. We learn from the Courier that the Whigs of Boston met at Cochituate Hall to appoint delegates to the Whig State Convention at Worcester. They were full in numbers and earnest in spirit, and but one feeling was manifested at the meeting, which was, that the party was not dead, nor dying, but that it should make a single stand point at the ensuing election, regardless of all fusions. Harvey Jewell was unanimously appointed Chairman, and Peter Butler, Jr., and Bradbury M Cummings, were made Secretaries.

The Anti-Maine Liquor Party held a meeting in Faneuil Hall. The hall was crowded, the music (by Hall's Brass Band) was first rate, and the speeches bold and earnest.

Among the speakers Hon. Francis O Smith of Portland (?) was introduced, and testified to the experience of the people of Maine, whose legislation had excited the countless curses of the States of this Union, and had been a reproach to the people of that State.—Rev. Mr Lovejoy also made a speech.

The principal resolution was the following.

Resolved, That we hereby pledge ourselves to the most active and persevering efforts for the election of the Liberal ticket in this state, for the purpose of securing the repeal of all illiberal and unconstitutional laws, and the substitution of a wise and beneficial license law for the present foolish, impracticable and injurious liquor law.

Mr John Burrows of North Billerica, is 98 years old, and his wife, Bridget, 100. They have lived together 79 years. They are natives of Ireland, and reside with their son, Valentine Burrows, at North Billerica. It is doubtful whether there is another couple in America who have been married so long.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectrble persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

YELLOW FEVER.—A Baltimore dispatch of the 25th, says:

At Norfolk, on Saturday, the number of deaths from the yellow fever was 33, and on Sunday 31. At Portsmouth, on Saturday, there were 17, and the same number on Sunday. Five physicians died on Saturday, namely, Drs Capre of New York, Hilliard of Montgomery, Ala., Burns of Norfolk, Rizer of Philadelphia, and Walters of Baltimore.

A Richmond dispatch of the same date says:

There were only seven deaths at Portsmouth on Monday. At Norfolk the first frost of the season occurred last night. There were about twenty deaths there on Monday, among them Drs Richard Tunstall and John D. Gordon. Drs Rizer and Hatton are said to be recovering, instead of dead, as previously reported. The citizens expect no alleviation of their sufferings before the 10th or 15th of November.

A letter from Norfolk, several days ago, says:

Between now and frost, a space of 60 days at the least, unless a kind Providence should interpose and arrest the disease, I fear that the greater part of the remaining population, about five thousand, will be swept off.

Norfolk is the most complete wreck you ever saw or could imagine. Two thousand or twenty-five hundred of the people have been snapped off; and whilst the obscene and profligate, that filled our lanes and alleys, have been removed like autumn leaves—the very stamina and bone of our society, the mechanics, merchants, physicians, lawyers, ministers, are nearly all gone. And still they fall.

MISSING EMIGRANT VESSEL.—The beautiful clipper ship Guiding Star, Capt. McClelland, of about 2000 tons, built at St. John, N. B., and owned at Liverpool, has not been heard from since February last, and there is great reason to fear that she is totally lost.—She sailed from Liverpool for Melbourne, Au., on the 9th of January, 1855, with over 400 Australian emigrants on board, and made a capital run during the first thirty days, as she was spoken on the 12th of February by the Boston bark Kate Hastings, in latitude 16 6 S., longitude 33 48 W. This is the last seen or heard from her. How much insurance is effected on the vessel and cargo in Europe is not known; about $40,000 is insured in New York and Philadelphia, distributed through various offices in small sums. Within a week or two the agents of the owners here have freely offered 35 1-3 per cent. premium for insurance, and yesterday 50 per cent. was offered without being accepted. The vessel was valued at $130,000; the cargo, consisting of coal and iron sufficient to bring her into fine ballast trim, and general merchadise, was worth about $60,000.

HARTFORD, Sept. 25.—Gov. Minor removed, to-day, Adjutant General Hodge, on the ground that he refused to obey the Governor's order disbanding the Irish companies. Capt. I. D. Williams of this city has received the appointment, and has issued the order disbanding the six Irish companies of the State.

It is said that Pennsylvania now produces as much iron as was manufactured in Great Britain 30 years ago.

ECCLESIASTICAL.—Rev. Mr Dean of Quincy has received and accepted a call from the Universalist Church in South Boston to become their pastor, and will commence his labors with them early in October.

Rev. Mr Goodwin of Connecticut has received a unanimous call from the Baptist Church and Society of South Boston to become their pastor.

COLLECTOR OF SACO.—Hon. Nathaniel M Towle having resigned the Collectorship of the port of Saco, the President has appointed Alpheus A. Hanscomb, Esq., in his stead.—Mr Hanscomb is the editor of the Saco Democrat.—Portland Argus.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 25.—The delegates to the Whig and Republican Convention, which assembles to-morrow, are arriving, and the prospects indicate coalition and perfect harmony.

The Seward branch of the Know-nothings assembled here in convention to-day, but, after organizing, adjourned over to await the action of the Whigs and Republicans.

SAD ACCIDENT IN MANCHESTER.—Monday morning at 10 o'clock, as Mr Plummer Wheeler, formerly of Warner, N. H., was engaged in digging a well in Manchester, Essex county, Mass., the planking gave way and the sides caving in, he was left wedged solidly up to his neck in earth. In this state he lived three fourths of an hour, when death terminated his sufferings. Before his body could be extricated more of the soil fell in and it was not till 3 o'clock in the afternoon that it was finally taken from the well. So firmly was the body wedged in the ruins, that it required a windlass moved by four men, to effect the extrication. Mr Wheeler was 60 years of age, and leaves a son and daughter. The former had just left for Chicago and the West, and has yet to hear the melancholy tidings.

The Lafayette (Ia.) Courier says, that contracts have already been made for large amounts of corn, to be delivered during the winter, and previous to the opening of the canals in spring, at twenty cents per bushel.

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of STOVES:
Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked;

The HARP and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price.

PARLOR STOVES

Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st. oppo. Kilby st. Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, Patents (Letters Patent instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all papers in the Patent Office, drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.

August 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER!

DR. J. W. POLAND
Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a Standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the demand for DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.

For sale by Wm. H. Preston, J. H. Thacher, D. Kimball and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; C. A. Merrill, Exeter; J. H Pendergast, New Market; Palmer & Brewster, Dover; J. Mason, Hampton; and by Medicine dealers everywhere. 2awf6mjy20

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity for Study and Labor, Dulness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled TO CURE HIMSELF PERFECTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY. No. 27 Lispenard Street, New York City.

G. W. STONE'S
ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, containing no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured duly justify the assertion that every family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 25 cts.

Call on G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of
GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any one who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure music is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skillful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

MALTESE WOMEN, PRIESTS AND STONE—A letter in the Boston Journal dating from Malta, says:

The women one meets in the streets certainly do not give an exalted idea of Maltese beauty, their dark complexion, small eyes and coarse features indicate a race of Moorish blood. For the edification of your numerous lady readers, their dress consists of a black skirt, with a silk mantle called faldetta, of the same color, which is thrown over the head, but not so effectually as to conceal the face, or everpresent gigantic ear rings. The far famed grace of their movements is more mythical than actual, and their costume, according to a shrewd French writer of the last century, makes them look like nuns. Every other man is a dirty monk, with a long beard and short cropped hair, prowling for alms in cowl and coarse brown habit. The priests wear tights that buckle at the knee, dress coats and shoveled hats. It is amusing to notice the gallantry of the younger theologians; they flirt desperately with the prettiest damsels in the parish, openly walking by their sides; indeed a shoveled hat is usually shriving some fair penitent at the corner of the streets, which makes it necessary for an uncommon amount of whispering to be carried on.

Any one who imagines that such a state of things, has any peculiar tendency to the purity which is claimed for the Roman church, must be extremely ignorant of human nature.

The dining, drawing and bed rooms are all floored with Malta stone, a cream colored stone, so soft, on being first quarried, as to be hewn with an axe, but which hardens on exposure. Everything in Malta is monotonously prodigal of this material; barns, churches, fences, castles, and huts are all constructed of this stone. The streets are paved with it—balustrades made of it—tombstones are cream colored—even the street lamps are guarded by saints and ghostly fathers of Malta stone. It gives an air of wealth to every building; a brewery looked a palace—I mistook paltry villages, particularly if on an eminence, for impregnable citadels—an edifice which the party considered a magnificent suburban retreat proved an extensive carpenter's shop. The softness of the stone induces such a lavishness of ornament that there is not a poor looking dwelling in the place. Filthy, half-naked children come whooping out of aristocratic looking mansions. The corner of a building with sculptured cornice and architectural mouldings is sure to be a grocery; and a dirty face had the impudence to demand alms from the steps of a house that would have done credit to Beacon street.

EPISCOPAL.—The following sentence of deposition by a father against his son, will be perused with painful interest by a wide circle of friends and relatives:

Diocese of New Jersey. Sentence of Deposition from the Ministry, in the case of Rev. Geo. Hobart Doane, M. A., Deacon. To all, everywhere, who are in communion with the one, Holy Catholic and Apostolic Church:

Be it known that George Hobart Doane, M. D., Deacon of this Diocese, having declared to me in writing, his renunciation of the Ministry, which he received at my hands, from the Lord Jesus Christ, and his design not to officiate in future in any of the offices thereof, intending to submit himself to the schismatical Roman intrusion, is deposed from the Ministry; and I hereby pronounce and declare him to be deposed in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Given at Riverside, this fifteenth day of September, in the year of our Lord, 1855, and in the twenty third year of my consecra-

G. W. DOANE, D. D., LL. D.,
Bishop of New Jersey.

In presence of Milo Mahan, D. D., Presbyter, Marcus F. Hyde, A. M., Presbyter.

This sentence was not executed until the provision of the canon, "where the party has acted unadvisedly and hastily," which is preeminently the present case, had been offered, urged and refused. It only remains for me humbly to ask the prayers of the faithful in Christ Jesus, that my erring child may be brought back to the way of truth and peace; and, for myself, that I may have grace to bear and do the holy will of God.

G. W. DOANE.

The Melbourne Journal of Commerce says that an unknown rock exists in the mid channel at the Heads, opposite the flagstaff. The Alpha, from Gottenburg, lately arrived, drawing 15 1-2 feet water, struck heavily with her keel on what the captain supposed to be the point of a rock, hitherto totally unknown to the pilots. The shock was so great, as to upset the man at the wheel.

An ingenious trick has just come to light in the Liverpool corn market. At this season, the grain dealers keep a watchful eye on the barometer, and for some time past it has been noticed that the barometer in the Liverpool Exchange rooms has, mostly on market days, indicated approaching storms. Watch was set, and a speculator was detected in the act of tampering with the indicator.

THE BURLINGTON CALAMITY.—Dr Heinsken has entered a complaint against the Camden & Amboy Railroad Company, charging the engineer and conductor with negligence in not giving the alarm and blowing the whistle, on occasion of the late calamity. Mr Shreeve, a passenger, entering a counter complaint against him, on the same day, for carelessness, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1855.

WHAT WILL BE DONE.—We gave, a few days ago, the views of the Argus, of present affairs in Portland—also those of the Expositor, as to the Maine legislature. Now we copy an extract from the Portland Advertiser, on the latter subject. After giving a history of the Maine law, that paper says:

But will the dominant party in the next Legislature give as a suitable prohibitory law, or will they return to the license system, a stringent license law with restrictions, &c.

We do not hesitate to predict that they will pass a license law. Many of them will, unquestionably, be opposed to it, but the majority of the party is in favor. The rumsellers and rum drinkers of the State, who, in a solid body have voted for them, will clamor and insist, as they have a right to, as will also the liquor dealers of Boston and New York, whose money has contributed in no small degree to achieve this temporary triumph—and a license law they will have! It is barely possible that the avowed friends of effectual prohibition, by uniting with a portion of the opposition who are not quite prepared to return to the license system, might preserve upon the statute book the semblance of a prohibitory law—but it would be only the semblance, the name and form only, without the provisions to render it efficient. And, if thus passed, the friends of prohibition would be held responsible for it, while it would continue to be hawked and pecked at, and held up as a scarecrow against any effectual prohibitory legislation. Nothing could be more disastrous to the cause of prohibition—to its final and complete triumph—than such a course. The opponents of prohibition have occupied the position of mere fault-finders long enough. It is time now that they should give us their plan—let them give us a law embodying their views upon this subject, and see how long it will be sustained by the popular judgment. We believe that the time has arrived in the history of prohibitive legislation in this State, when it is only necessary for the people to see and feel once more the practical workings of the license system, to place the principle of prohibition on a basis so firm that it will be henceforth immovable—and let us once demonstrate, in a straight-out contest, that a decided majority of the people are in favor of it, and the trouble will be over. The Argus will then be in favor of it. Nathan Clifford will again asseverate, as he has in times past, when he wished to secure the votes of Maine Law representatives for himself as a candidate for U. S. Senator, that he was in favor of the law, and "would see his right arm drop from its socket" before he would repeal or in any way impair its efficiency or stringency. And when we do reach the point at which such politicians shall feel and know that they have nothing to gain by opposing this principle, the battle will have been fought and won for all time.

We don't undertake to say how it will be; but the coming winter will show us. For that we wait patiently.

TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF PASSMORE WILLIAMSON.—The following card is signed by several of the most prominent merchants of Philadelphia, many of whom do not sympathize at all with Mr. Williamson upon the slavery question:

"As Judge Kane, in imprisoning our fellow citizens, Passmore Williamson, for an alleged contempt, assumes that he has not made a full and correct return to the writ issued by the Court: We, the undersigned, who know Passmore Williamson well, desire to testify to his entire truthfulness and to his upright character, and to express our firm belief that he is entirely incapable of evasion or equivocation, under any circumstances. We believe that if he had a fair trial, such as it had been supposed, prior to the action of Judge Kane, that every American citizen was entitled to, before condemnation upon so grave a charge, that it will clearly appear to every unprejudiced mind that his return was 'the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth,' and entirely correct in all particulars, without evasion or omission." The Demerara Gazette, gives some interesting particulars regarding the trade of our country with British Guiana. Formerly it was the custom of our merchants to take specie in exchange for the goods which they disposed of at Demerara, and buy a return cargo at the Spanish colonies. But lately they have begun a system of barter at that port. The Gazette attributes this fact to the probability of the establishment of a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the British West Indies. Our merchants have therefore established the system of barter to secure, in that event, a portion, at least, of the trade which they now enjoy.

A SCHOOL MISTRESS IN LUCK.—It is said that a young lady, an assistant in the Webster school in Cambridge, has received information from the proper authorities in Para, Brazil, of the death at that place, of a Mr S., who has left property to her, by will, to the amount of $70,000. This bequest, so unexpected, comes from a disappointed suitor of the lady.—Boston Chron.

A hoax respecting a 'melancholy tragedy in North Cambridge,' appeared in the Boston Times, and has been copied by papers which should have known better—among them, the Journal of Commerce. The tragedy consisted in a fight between a dog and cat, closing in the triumph of the former and the death of pussy.—Boston Chron.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

THURSDAY, Sept. 27.

The jury in the case State v. Preston, for sale of alcohol, returned a verdict of not guilty.

The case State v. Lawrence, for obtaining goods by false pretences, was put on trial.

The respondent was indicted the present term for obtaining certain goods under false pretences, viz: 3000 bottles of "Myer's Compound Extract of Rock Rose," of the value of $1,144.24, from the Rock Rose Company, a corporation located at New Haven, Conn. It appeared in evidence on the part of the State, that previous to the 13th day of April, 1854, the day alleged in the indictment on which said bottles were obtained, the said Company had consigned to this respondent a number of dozen bottles of Rock Rose; that this Company having certain suspicions concerning Lawrence's responsibility, sent one Webster to Epping to ascertain the same before entering into any extensive negotiations with him; that Lawrence represented to said Webster that he owned the dwelling house which he then occupied; also the store house near by, and a lot of land, situated in Epping; that he owed no debts and it would be perfectly safe to trust him for such a large amount of said Rock Rose as he desired; and that said company, in consequence of these representations, from time to time thereafter forwarded to said Lawrence or his order, in the aggregate, the said 3000 bottles of Rock Rose. It was then proved by the State that on the 13th day of April the respondent did not own the property as before described; that the same belonged to Mr George W. Lawrence, to whom also the respondent was largely indebted and responsible on several notes.

The defence set up was that the respondent on the said 13th of April did not make any false representations for the purpose of cheating and defrauding said company, and that he was at that time doing a large and flourishing business at Epping; that in December last the respondent failed, having a stock in trade to the amount of about $10,000, and thereafter in the month of January gave the said company his notes for the amount of money then due.

Evidence was also put in to rebut the statements of the chief witness for the government, (Webster) and to show that the respondent possessed the amount of stock above represented, up to the time of his failure. The material witnesses in the cross examination disclosed the fact that they held much of the property of the respondent as collateral security.

A certain letter was put in the case by the State, written by respondent to one Allen Quackenboss, in Aug. 1851, which set forth that he, Lawrence, owned real estate in Epping, of the value of seven or eight thousand dollars, and other property to the value of ten or twelve thousand dollars. This latter evidence was objected to—ruled in and exceptions taken.

In the evening, the case was argued for the defence by Hon. John S. Wells. The court then adjourned to 8 1-2 o'clock, on Friday morning, when the counsel for the State will be heard, the case summed up and given to the jury.

THE YELLOW FEVER.

The malignity and mortality of the fever now raging at Portsmouth and Norfolk in Virginia, and the consequent distress prevailing there, remind us of the fact that Portsmouth in New Hampshire was visited with a similar scourge more than fifty years ago. It is manifest that our climate and location were not a full safeguard then. Why should they be now?

Mr Adams, in his Annals, says, in the year 1798, in the summer, an epidemic disorder, commonly called the yellow fever, broke out at the north end. The inhabitants in the vicinity generally removed, and by that means stopped its extensive progress. The town appointed a committee, consisting of five physicians, and requested them to publish from time to time such regulations for the observance of the inhabitants, as in their opinion may have the greatest tendency to prevent the spreading of the fever. It proved very fatal to those who were attacked with it. At the same time the dysentery prevailed at the south end. From the 20th of July to the 6th of October, one hundred and seven persons died, fifty five with the fever, and fifty two with the dysentery and other disorders.—Among the fifty two were twenty nine young children.

The population two years later, in 1800, was 5339.

During the prevalence of the fever little or no business was done, except to take care of the sick. The two Doctors Cutter, father and son, were active and useful, especially the latter, who himself contracted the fever, having first worn himself down by his labors. His recovery was watched by the people with anxiety and hailed with joy—and he ever afterwards till his death, held a warm place in their affection and esteem.

CONCERT.—The programme of Mr J. M. Mozart's Concert which is to be given on Wednesday evening next, is of such a character as should call out every lover of good music. We seldom get so large an amount of talent at once, "so far from Boston" as is comprised in this party—first we find on the bill Miss Bothalmy, whose voice all Boston critics allow to be of the first quality—then Miss Jenny Twichell as a native Contralto unapproachable, while Adams as Tenor is sure to please. All these in aid of the Primo Basso Mozart, with Lang as Pianist, form the strongest party we remember having heard of in this city. Look at the Programme—then go get your tickets.

☞ The late storm and heavy sea has brought ashore at Rye harbor, a keel, and some other pieces of a boat, supposed to be the whale boat in which Messrs Mitchell and Lewis of Kittery were lost on the 31st of August.

☞ New Castle Bridge, which has been closed for repairs, is again open for public travel.

ECHOES FROM THE CABINET.—This is a well printed and neatly bound volume of 106 pages, laid on our table by Mr R. B. Marsh, agent for the work in this city.—It is a useful book to those who wish to be informed correctly of the contradictions and inconsistencies of our national course; and indispensable to all such as undertake to harmonize the Declaration of Independence with the Constitution of the U. S., or the other documents in the book with either of them.

SCAN. MAG.—The Newburyport Herald says,—Mrs Johnson, whose late financial operations in this city waked up our merchants and bankmen, to say nothing of what she did to our friend Gillette, the express man, is the same woman that Col. Fremont's wife fired the pistol at, in Panama, for allowing too free use of her tongue in relation to private matters.

SEIZURES.—The Boston Mail states that on Wednesday, at Dedham, at the Agricultural Fair, two liquor seizures were made. In the woods, near the race ground, there was one spot that seriously roused the suspicion of the Dedham Police. Accordingly in the afternoon, about four o'clock, they plunged into the woods, and found three demijohns and one gaming table. The contents of the demijohns were bad rum, worse gin, and worst brandy. The proprietor of the place was arrested, much against his inclination, and lodged safely in jail. His name is John Adams, as he stated, a hack-driver.

In a tent near the Society's Hall, some liquor was sold during the day. The Dedham Police here found a cask, on which a meek looking Irishman was seated, with an infant in his arms. An investigation disclosed that it contained liquor to be sold, and it was taken possession of, notwithstanding the innocent protestations of the Irishman. Two women were also guarding two demijohns which also contained something contraband. They were seized; and when they were asked who was the owner, the answer was—"Faith and be sure we doesn't know. Go where the liquor was bought, and they'll tell ye." No arrests were made on this disclosure.

☞ Mr John Colby of the Theological Institution at Andover, and formerly of Dover, has received an invitation to become the pastor of the Congregational Society at Hampton.

THE FATAL SHOOTING ACCIDENT.—The following are the facts of the sad occurrence by which a boy was fatally shot in Boston on Tuesday afternoon. A number of boys at play entered a dwelling house in Spring street place, from which the occupants were removing, when a lad of 10 years, named John Roberts, took up a fowling piece, which he supposed to be unloaded, pointed it at another boy of nearly 11 years, named Thomas R. Churchill, and snapped it. The gun proved to be loaded, and the charge passed in at the neck of Churchill, and probably took an upward direction to the brain. He died almost instantly. The deceased lad was a son of Mr Otis Churchill, and the agony of the mother, when the corpse of her boy was brought to her dwelling, was heart-rending.

The boy Roberts was for a time delirious in consequence of his agency in thus unsuspectingly causing the death of his playmate, but has since become comparatively restored.—Traveller.

It is proposed in one of the New York papers that a sum of money be raised by subscription for the purpose of founding in the city of Philadelphia an institution for the benefit of colored people, to be called the Williamson Institution, as a substantial and durable testimonial of the admiration felt for Passmore Williamson's "patient and magnanimous endurance of the grossest wrong which was ever inflicted by a legal functionary upon an American citizen."

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out.

Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take this best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Side ache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. TRACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m a1 d&w

SEVEN DAYS LATER NEWS.

ARRIVAL OF THE AMERICA.

We are under obligations to Conductor Cram of the Eastern Railroad for a copy of a late edition the Boston Traveller, containing the important news of the capture of Sebastopol, by the combined English and French forces.

HALIFAX, Sept. 27th.

The steamship America has arrived with Liverpool dates to the 16th inst. The news is in the highest degree important, Sebastopol having at length fallen.

The bombardment was re-opened on the 5th and continued without interruption until the 8th, when the assault commenced.

The French attacked the Malakoff and the Careening Bay, and the English the Redan. Six repulses were sustained by the French before the Malakoff, but on he 7th attempt they carried the work in splendid style, and hoisted their eagles on the Malakoff.

The slaughter was terrible, and is estimated at 2000 English, 15,000 French, and as many Russians, making the aggregate upwards of 30,000 men.

During the night succeeding the assault the Russians evacuated the entire south side, first blowing up the defences, sinking all the ships, firing the town and leaving nothing but smouldering ruins.

A large allied force was marching along the coast to interrupt the retreat of the Russians inland.

It is reported that instructions have been put to the allied Generals in the event of Gortschakoff seeking to capitulate, to demand that Russia shall surrender at discretion all the troops, stores and fortified places including Odessa.

DISTURBANCE AT PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND.—The Charlottetown, P. E. I. Examiner, of the 17th says:

We regret to learn that a serious row took place at Georgetown on Friday last, between a party of American fishermen who had just put in there, and a number of Georgetown men who were occupied in digging a drain.—The row was occasioned by some insulting expressions being used on both sides as the Americans were proceeding up the town from their vessels. Sticks, stones and shovels were freely used on the occasion, by which several persons were considerably hurt, and one man had his thigh broken with a shot fired from a revolver by one of the Americans. An investigation of the whole affair was to take place before the magistrates of Georgetown on Monday last.

THE FEVER AT NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH.—Advices from Norfolk report an improvement in the health of both cities, the cool weather having had a favorable effect in diminishing the number of new cases.

There were but two new cases at Portsmouth on Tuesday, and four deaths. The new cases at Norfolk were twelve, and the deaths thirty.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Toledo, Sept. 26. The 1 o'clock morning train from Chicago to this city, ran off the track near this place yesterday. Four passengers were injured, and the baggage master, it is feared fatally. The accident was occasioned by the tender leaving the switch open.

HEAVY LOSS.—Joseph M. Folsom, of Upper Gilmanton, lost at the Eastern Railroad Depot, in Boston, on Friday the 14th inst, a carpet bag, containing $4000 in money. He set it down upon the floor, not far from him, while purchasing a ticket, and when he turned round after making the purchase, the bag was gone. The robber has not not been heard from.—Dover Enquirer.

BOSTON MARKET, SEPT. 27th.—Flour—Ohio and Mich common, $8 a 8 12 1-2; fancy $8 25 a 8 59; extra $8 75 a 9 75; and Genesee extra (new) at $9 a 10 50 per brl, cash. Mxd Corn, 2500 bu, at 96c; white 96 cts, and yellow 98c a $1. Northern Oats sold at 48 cts per bu. cash. Hay—eastern at $22 per ton, cash. Rice—small sales at 6 1-2 c per lb, 4 mos. Sugar—Cuba yellow at 8 1-2 a 8 3 4; and Muscovado 8 c per lb, 6 mos.

HARRISBURGH, Sept. 26.—President Pierce arrived here at noon, to-day, and was received with a national salute. The President and suite, accompanied by a committee, visited the Fair Gardens, and were received by James Gowen, President of the State Agricultural Society, who welcomed the President in an appropriate speech. The President replied at length, complimenting the Managers of the Fair the splendid development of the resources of Pennsylvania, &c.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 24th.—The Yellow Fever, as an epidemic, may be considered as over in this city. The deaths from it during the past week amounted to 89—out of a total of 200 from all causes. The fever is raging badly at Alexandria, and many cases are reported along the Ouachita and Chafalag rivers.

Miss Clara Haskins was found dead in her bridal dress and chamber near Natches, Miss., on the 2d inst. After being dressed by her bridesmaids, she requested them to retire for a short time, and when they returned they found her lying lifeless upon her couch, with an empty phial which had contained prussic acid still clasped in her hand. She had adopted the desperate alternative of self-destruction rather than marry a man she could not love, in obedience to parental authority.

G. W. STONE'S
LIQUID CATHARTIC,
—AND—
Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as
RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. A family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup
will cure you just as sure as you are. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All I ask is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from many others of the same:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:
LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The treatment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as THE article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.
A. S. BUNKER. A. W. STEARNS.
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly.) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face, leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.
CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canada, Lawrence, Mass, to whom all orders should be addressed.

Sold by Portsmouth, by Jos. H. Thacher, at the Good Samaritan Store, and W. R. Preston; and by Agents everywhere.

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity for Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to CURE HIMSELF PERFECTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,
WOULD invite attention to his Stock of
STOVES:
Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked;

The HARP and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price;

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c.

Morning Chronicle.

DON'T KNOW HIS AGE.

To persons brought up in a land where all the new comers are accurately entered, with date of arrival on the family-register, in the big Bible, it seems strange that individuals can be found, not only too uncertain of the day and hour of their coming to suit the purposes of astrology, but absolutely ignorant of the number of years they have attained.—That such is the case, however, is forced up on our mind every day.

It was but a short time since, that a Daughter of Erin, in reply to a question touching her age, informed us that she was almost fifty.

Why, Hannah! said we, you can't be more than twenty.

Well, said she, I knew 'twas near twenty or fifty—somewhere about there

This case is completely thrown in the shade by one that we heard during a residence at the South.

Old Uncle Jeff, as he was called, was a simple hearted, thick skulled darkey, in the service of a family to whom he had been willed, when quite a child, with the understanding that he was to be liberated on reaching the age of twenty-one. His master, to secure his continued services, took advantage of his ignorance, and persuaded him that he was in his teens till he grew grizzled. By the time Jeff got on the shady side of fifty, he began to "smell a mice," which, with an increasing desire for emancipation, led him to bore everybody, to know how long before he would be twenty-one.

It'll be a mighty long time, before you are that old, said a waggish neighbor, one day, after being teased with the usual inquiry for about the fortieth time.

Why, I tought I was mos' dat now.

Do you know old Black Pete? said the wag, alluding to an Uncle-Ned-style of an individual in that vicinity.

Lor' yes; why, dat nigger is as ole as Methusalem, he's so ole dat his teeth all drapped out, and dar aint no more hair on his head dan dar is on Missus' new teapot.

Well, Jeff, old Pete was twenty-one last spring.

De Lor'! said Jeff, his eyes expanding, as this new "light of ages" broke upon him, sure enuff dis nig'll have to wait till all his grand-children gits growed up, and his families fust.

Jeff didn't worry anybody about his age, for some time after that.

He had about as clear an idea of time as another old darkey, who, when asked how old he was, said,

Don't know, Massa.

How old should you think, Sam?

'Bout five or six hundred, I guess. I'se mighty ole, Massa.

Daniel Hodgkins, the old non compos homicide, who lived round our county jail years ago, used to say, and probably to think, that he helped Noah build his ark; and sometimes would describe the timber and fastenings. It is said, also, that he pointed out an old concealed well, which he represented himself to have seen covered over an hundred years before. He had no idea of his age, nor any proper notion of the lapse of time.

HOUSE OF REFORMATION IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Commissioners appointed by the Governor and Council of New Hampshire to locate and erect buildings for a House of Reformation in that State, consisting of Hon. Frederick Smyth, of Manchester, Judge Harvey, of Concord, and Hosea Eaton Esq., of New Ipswich, are now in Boston to obtain information relating to similar institutions here. Tuesday they visited the House of Reformation, House of Industry, and House of Correction at South Boston, and received very polite attentions from Mayor Smith, Lieut. Gov. Brown, Deacon Grant, and the officers of the institutions. Short speeches were made to the boys at the House of Reformation by ex-Gov. Brown and ex-Mayor Smyth, of the Board of Commissioners, and by Deacon Grant, of this city, and were listened to with marked attention. The Commissioners expressed themselves highly delighted with their visit. To-day they visit the State Reform School at Westboro', and on Wednesday the Farm School on Thompson's Island, accompanied by State and City officials.

We are glad that New Hampshire is now moving in this good work. The Commissioners intend to purchase the site this autumn, and commence the erection of the buildings early the coming spring. They are men who will promptly accomplish what they undertake.—Boston Jour. 25th.

A NEBRASKA ELECTION.—Purple, who is "the gentlemen from Burt county" just at this time, gives the following account of the mode of electing members of the legislature in Nebraska. He said: Cummings, the secretary, said to me one morning, 'Purple, we want a member from Burt county.' So I harnessed up and took nine fellows with me, and we started for the woods, and when we thought we had got about far enough for Burt county, we unpacked our ballot-box and held an election, canvassed the vote, and it was astonishing to observe how great was the unanimity at the first election ever held in Burt county. Purple had every vote! So Purple was declared duly elected, and here I am!"—Telegraph.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1855.

ROCKINGHAM CO. FAIR.

We have received from our correspondent at Exeter, the following account of the County Fair, held at that place on Thursday. We were unable to be present.

EXETER, Sept. 27.

To-day has been an important one to the people of Exeter, and, being the only public holiday during the year, has been duly observed. Fourth of July is usually passed quietly here, except by the urchins who "celebrate" with pistols and fire-crackers, but Fair Day is one which all endeavor to appreciate. Accordingly, at an early hour this morning, notwithstanding the rain, it was evident to the most casual observer that a day of unusual importance had dawned; and when, at noon, the clouds broke away and the sun appeared, the streets presented such scenes as we seldom witness. Every one thought he must appear his best, put off the busy cares of life, and for one day at least enjoy himself.

The rain, unfortunately, rather lessened the interest in the procession, which was therefore rather small, although creditable to those engaged in it. The most prominent features of this, was a team from Hamptoa Falls, drawn by 27 yoke of oxen, and elaborately trimmed with evergreens. Around the cart were the words, "Farmers' Club, Hampton Falls, N. H." formed by an arrangement of different vegetables, and, on the back of the cart, a half of a pumpkin with ears of yellow corn as rays—formed a good representation of the sun; the daughters were inside the cart. Hampton Falls has always taken a deep interest in the Rockingham Co. Fair, and the inhabitants of that town are worthy of all praise for the assistance they have constantly and readily afforded to make the affair pass as pleasantly as possible.

A new uniform company, recently organized in this place, and under the command of Capt. Chas. H. Bell, did escort duty on the occasion. Besides these, a company of Continentallers, under the leadership of R. H. Parker, made a creditable appearance, dressed in short-clothes, such as were worn during the last century. Fountain Engine Co. of Exeter, also paraded in uniform. The Lawrence and Portland Brass Bands were in attendance and discoursed sweet music.

At the field, a fine display of cattle, horses, &c. was made; but the only entry we observed from Portsmouth was a Devon full blood Bull, 3 years old, offered by A. K. Warren, and which, we think, took the second premium for that class.

At the ploughing match only three teams entered, one single and two double. The single team came out first, but it was thought it did not cut quite so nice a furrow as one of the others.

At the Hall, a truly splendid collection of fruit and vegetables was displayed, of which apples and pears seemed to form the greater part. The peaches, although few, were fine specimens of that delicious fruit, and it seemed hardly possible to believe that they were originally poisonous, and useless, except as affording means to poison arrows. The only collection of fruit from Portsmouth that we could see, were two fine dishes of Washington Plums, exhibited by Mr. Joseph Fuller. We also noticed a beautiful boquet, arranged by Mrs. Marcellus Bufford.

Among others, we noticed a very large collection of vegetables from Mr N. P. Cram of Hampton Falls. Also, some sweet potatoes raised by Asa Robinson of Brentwood, and Joseph A. Pierce of Dover. A handsome lot of cheese was presented, among which were two fine looking ones, made by a daughter of Robert Sanborn of Sandown, aged 15 years. There were only two boxes of butter, of which that made by Mrs J. Tucker of Kensington looked particularly nice.

Brentwood and Exeter seemed to take the lead in extent and variety of contributions, although all of the neighboring towns were handsomely represented.

Mammoth squashes and pumpkins, enormous turnips and potatoes, seemed to be the order of the day, and the most unnatural was the highest in estimation. There were two squashes each weighing 53 pounds, and a cucumber 47 inches long.

The only carriages on exhibition, were a chaise and wagon from the well-known establishment of Head and Jewell of this place. Mr J. H. Diman of Stratham offered a splendid collection of boquets, by which "Highland Nursery" lost none of its well-earned reputation. James H. Hill of Greenland, offered 20 varieties of apples. A. Littlefield, also of G., exhibited a splendid table of fruit. Hon. John S. Wells furnished about 20 varieties of fine looking pears.

Miss Cordelia Avery of Greenland, exhibited a beautiful frame, of leather work, to a looking-glass, and Mrs M. L. Lamprey, several fine crayon drawings.

Mr Jos. E. Chapman exhibited a model of Russell's Improved Chimney Cap and Ventilator. We see no embroidery or needlework from Portsmouth.

But the chief attraction at the hall seemed to be the articles contributed by Mr Phillip Wenzel and Dr Fuller of your city. Mr W. exhibited some splendid specimens of his skill in blank-books, plain and fancy binding, and fancy work. To this part of the hall all eyes were most frequently turned, and all were lavish of encomiums bestowed upon his work. Mr W. deservedly received this attention, and he was only justly treated when one of the highest premiums paid for any article exhibited was awarded to him. When to this is added the recollection of the fact that he was so successful at the State Fair recently, we feel assured that he can but congratulate himself that he is so well appreciated, and we congratulate ourselves that he so richly deserves it.

Dr. Fuller contributed numerous elaborate specimens of Dentistry, and his display also attracted marked attention. An ingenious working model, representing a life-sized bust, in which an elegant set of teeth was kept in constant motion by machinery, the whole, we understand, the invention of Dr F, was surrounded during the entire day by an admiring crowd. His specimens of Gold filling in natural teeth, as well as the elegant artificial teeth mounted in gold, were acknowledged by competent judges as far superior to any ever before exhibited in N. H. His display also received one of the highest premiums.

Mr J B Rosenfield also presented some specimens of Book-binding, which although not so extensive as Mr Wenzel's still made a display, creditable to him as an artist, and for which he received a premium.

The address by Senator Bell we were unable to hear, but it was highly spoken of by those who were so fortunate as to do so. *

SCRIPTURE QUOTATIONS.—In passing through Lawrence, a few days since, (says the Newburyport Herald) we were amused at two large posters, placed in juxtaposition.—The first was posted by some zealous friend of temperance; the latter by one of the Liberals.

"Look not thou upon the wine, when it is red, when it giveth its color in the cup, when it moveth itself aright. At the last, it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

'Avoid extremes.' "Give strong drink unto him that is ready to perish! and wine unto those that be of heavy hearts! Let him drink and forget his poverty, and remember his misery no more." Prov. 31st chapter, 6th and 7th verses.

Both these are scripture quotations.—We would remark for the benefit of any readers who don't know it, that the 4th and 5th verses of the same chapter, Prov. 31st, read thus:

"It is not for kings, O Lemuel, it is not for kings to drink wine, nor for princes strong drink; lest they drink, and forget the law, and pervert the judgment of any of the afflicted."

We suppose however, the other verses were more agreeable to the Liberals who placed the bill, viz. Give strong drink, &c.

We see a number of men every day, who are ready to perish,—and who are perishing, not for the want of strong drink,—but in consequence of using it. Their skins are full, their step unsteady, their judgment clouded,—and they—don't know it. They drink—forget their misery for an hour—they awake and feel all gone; they seek their old enemy as their chief comforter,—and day by day they die by inches.

☞ Rev. Charles Lowe was installed pastor of the North Church in Salem, Mass., on Thursday. Sermon by Rev. Dr. Peabody of this city.

Morrill,	51,522
Wells,	48,287
Reed,	10,581
Scattering,	64

The plantations to hear from, voted last year as follows—Morrill, 22; Parris, 32; Reed, 16; Cary, 27.

Rev. Wm. Case, the oldest Wesleyan minister in Canada, was thrown from his horse on the 12th instant, and fractured his thigh bone. A few weeks since, this venerable man preached his half century sermon, before the Conference assembled at London, Canada West.

SUICIDE.—Isaac B. Pierce, an American, committed suicide in Boston, on Thursday evening, by hanging himself with his cravat, from a bed post. He was fifty years of age. It is supposed that he was moved to the fierce act by poverty.

Over two thousand dollars were raised by contributions at the various churches in Portland last Sunday, for the yellow fever sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth. Well done, Portland!—she has shown tangible evidence of her heartfelt sympathy.

A correspondent in Elkhart county, Indiana, writes to the Philadelphia Sun, that he and his neighbors planted an unusual quantity of potatoes this season, the result of which is that they do not know what to do with their heavy crops. They are selling there nominally for fifteen cents per bushel, but they have no markets sufficient to take up one half the crop.

Mr Kent, who was injured at Concord, on the railroad, is doing well.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

FRIDAY, Sept. 28.

The argument of the Solicitor was given in the case State v. Lawrence: the Judge charged the Jury and sent them out about 11 o'clock.

The jury after being out some hours, came into Court and declared themselves unable to agree; standing 9 for acquittal and 3 for conviction.

[A party to the trial complains of our report of the case as inaccurate,—and promises a correction of some errors.]

The case State v. J. Smith Robinson, for assault with intent to ravish, was put on trial.

The testimony for the State was clear and unquestionable, as to the act and intent.

The defence set up was insanity.

The case occupied the afternoon and evening sessions of the Court,—and will be continued on Saturday morning.

LAUNCH.—The ship "S. C. Twing," of 1300 tons burthen, will be launched from the yard of Samuel Badger, Esq., in Kittery, this afternoon, at 3 o'clock. She is owned by Messrs D. & P. Marcy and S. Badger. As ship will bear examination the Boston inspectors are invited to look at her.

☞ Rev. Mr Whiting has accepted the call of the North Church and Society of this city to become their pastor. He will probably be installed in a few weeks. His salary is to be $1500 per year.

AUTHORIZED VERSION OF THE BIBLE.—Mr James Heywood has placed a notice on the order book of the House of Commons for an early day next session for an "Address to Her Majesty, praying that Her Majesty will be graciously pleased to appoint a commission to inquire into the state of the authorized version of the Bible, and to prepare a plan for the further revision of that translation."

KNIGHTING BY THE POPE.—The Pope has conferred upon Mr Wilson, of Montreal, the title of 'Knight of the Order of St. Gregory.' Mr Wilson was Mayor of that city at the time Gavazzi was so rudely treated by the mob, and this compliment doubtless is in return for the valuable services he rendered his Holiness on that occasion.

Contributions in aid of the sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth, were taken up in the Providence churches on Sunday. The amount collected at New Bedford, up to Saturday, was $1570.

LONGEVITY.—Rev. Dr. Emerson, who is now in the fifty first year of his pastorate, preached in the South Church pulpit, last Sabbath forenoon, to the aged, from the text, "When I am old and gray headed, O God, forsake me not." The venerable doctor stated that in his congregation there were yet living eighty persons who were upwards of seventy years of age.—Salem Register.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Wednesday Mr Jesse Gault of Hooksett, died very suddenly at Concord, under the following circumstances: He was at Mr Isaac Clemment's at Concord, eating dinner, when he moved back and asked for some water, and complained of faintness. He was laid upon a bed, and died in less than ten minutes. He was 64 years of age.

LAMENTED DEATH.—William Tuckerman, Esq., for many years a hardware merchant in Liberty square, died very suddenly on Wednesday, at his residence on Broadway, South Boston. The Traveller says he had no particular disease, but the dishonesty of his son, the defaulting Treasurer of the Eastern Railroad, weighed very heavily on his mind, and the mortification and distress which it caused was, it is said, one of the causes of his death.

It has been stated in the British House of Commons that no less than 974 inventions of warlike implements have been laid before the select committee of the Ordnance, of which 696 had been rejected.

About 6 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, the boiler of a stationary engine in the repair shop of the Lowell Railroad Co. at East Cambridge, exploded, severely injuring John A. Cornel, the engineer. He was taken to the Hospital, but lived only a short time. He leaves a wife and two children.

A free negro in Tennessee, for an outrage committed on a respectable married woman, lately, was hung by a mob till he confessed his crime; then taken down till he could get breath, and then hung again till he was dead, for a punishment.

CAPTURE OF A BURGLAR.—On Sunday night, between eight and nine o'clock, a German, named Wm. Goosman, entered the house No. 157 West Thirty-fifth street, New York, by means of false keys. He had picked up about two hundred dollars worth of jewelry, and being alarmed by some person in the house, jumped from the third story window into an adjoining yard. In his fall, Goosman broke his leg and was unable to escape. The police found him, and he was removed to the hospital, where his leg was amputated.

ENAMELED LEATHER.—The establishment of Mr Jas C. Stimpson, in Salem, for the manufacture of enameled and patent leathers, employs in this business, at the present time, 17 men, and, during the favorable weather for drying and finishing has manufactured between 400 and 500 sides (patent and enameled) per week. The sales frequently amount to $3000 per week, and the aggregate value of the product of these descriptions of leather during the year, is between $100,000 and $150,000.

THE POETRY OF PHYSIC.

AYER'S PILLS glide, sugar-shod, over the palate, but their energy, although wrapped up, is there, and tells with giant force on the very foundations of disease. There are thousands of sufferers who would not wear their distempers if they knew they could be cured for 25 cts.—Try Ayer's Pills, and you will know it.

Purify the blood and disease will be starved out. Cleanse the system from impurities and you are cured already.

Take th e best of all Purgatives, and Scrofula, Indigestion, Weakness, Headache, Backache, Sidache, Jaundice, Rheumatism, derangements of the Liver, Kidneys, and Bowels, all derangements and all diseases which a purgative remedy can reach, fly before them like darkness before the Sun.

Reader if you are suffering from any one of the numerous complaints they cure—suffer no more—the remedy has been provided for you, and it is criminal to neglect it.

That Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best medicine for a Cough, is known to the whole world, and that Ayer's Pills are the best of all Pills is known to those who have used them.

CAPTURE OF THE MALAKOFF.

After a tremendous storm, the Malakoff tower was taken by the allies, with a frightful loss of men, and after a series of attacks.—The Russians retreated across the bridge upon the great bay, which divides the north and south side of the town, having blown up and burnt everything in their rear, and then destroying the bridge. Gen Pelissier says the burning Sebastopol defences constituted "a furnace," the heat of which his men dared not to encounter, and of course they could not advance upon the retreating enemy.

The two parts of Sebastopol are compared by the Boston Courier to Boston and Roxbury, as to position. The Allies have taken the south only, and the Russians now hold the north. To illustrate the position of the parties now, we may suppose that Boston is Sebastopol south, and Roxbury is Sebastopol north, with a bay between them. The works of the allies covered all the front of the south part, and when they captured Sebastopol south, they had to look at the fortifications on the north side. The north side of the bay is covered with defences which command the southern side, and which slope toward it.—The allies have now to go round the bay, attack the Russians in flank, and invest the place. Their ships cannot enter the bay while it is blocked up by sunken vessels, and the forts on the north side command the whole water, for all purposes of navigation and position. North Sebastopol has not yet been attacked.

We copy some further particulars:

Report from Gen. Simpson.—Sebastopol is in possession of the allies. The enemy during the night and this morning evacuated the south side, exploding their magazines and setting fire to the whole of the town. All the men of war were burnt during the night, with the exception of three steamers, which are plying about the harbor, and the bridge communicating with the north side is broken down. Our casualties are great. During the night the Russians have sunk the remaining line-of-battle ships in Sebastopol harbor.

CRIMEA, Sept 10—11 P. M.—Subsequent from Gen. Pelissier.—I inspected, to-day, Sebastopol, and its lines of defence. The mind cannot form an exact picture of our victory, the full extent of which can only be understood by an inspection of the place itself.—The multiplicity of the works of defence, and the material means applied thereto, exceed by far anything hitherto seen in the history of war. The capture of the Malakoff, which compelled the enemy to fly before our eagles, already three times victorious, has placed in the hands of the allies an amount of material, and an immense establishment, the importance of which it is not possible to state, exactly. To-morrow the allied troops will occupy the Karabelnia and the town, and under their protection an Anglo-French Commissioner will be occupied with making out a return of the material abandoned to us by the enemy. The exultation of our soldiers is very great.

Sept. 12—11 P. M.—The enemy has destroyed the remainder of his fleet. Nothing now remains in the harbor.

ANTICIPATED BATTLES.—The allies are hastening preparations in case of Gortschakoff attempting to reach Perekop, or to unite with Liprandi.

LOSSES OF THE ALLIES.—The London Post says:—The English loss in the assault on the Redan was 500 to 600 killed, and 1400 wounded, including 141 officers.

The Paris Moniteur says:—To the morning of the 11th, 4500 were wounded, including 240 officers, who had gone to the ambulances. Dead not ascertained, but probably short of 2000.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times writes that five French generals were killed, besides ten superior officers. It is also stated that Generals McMahon and Trochcau had died of their wounds and that Gen. Bosquet was either killed or wounded.

RUSSIAN STATEMENT.—The resolution of Prince Gortschakoff exhibits the energy of a great commander. It saves Russia from an inextricable position, into which a false interpretation of points of honor would have thrust her. The Russian army concentrated north of Sebastopol will henceforth have that unity of movement and action which until now was wanted.

Sebastopol of the south is replaced by Sebastopol of the north, which is a formidable position, bristling with innumerable guns, which a compact army henceforward will defend.

Impartial history will do justice to Gortschakoff, who by making no sacrifice and avoiding useless effusion of blood, has preserved for Russia an army trained to war by a struggle of a year's duration, and placed that army in a position which enables him to command a situation.

FRANCE.—An attempt was made on the Emperor, by a man named Belleonani, who fired two pistols at a carriage supposed to contain the Emperor, but only contained some of the ladies in waiting on the Empress. The attempt was made at the door of the Italian Opera. The assasin was arrested, and being considered insane, was sent to an asylum.

LATEST BY TELEGRAPH.—London, — 11 A. M.—Paris correspondents say it is reported that 25,000 men have embarked at Balaklava for the north of Sebastopol; also that the Russians are in full retreat towards Perekop.

It is rumored at the clubs to-day that the allies found 1200 guns within the lines of Sebastopol, also that the Russians were falling back on Backschairi, but French rumors say that Gortschakoff will certainly hold the north side to the last extremity. Also, that the allied Admirals have sent a despatch saying it is not expedient to enter the harbor of Sebastopol until Fort Constantine is silenced. Probably the allies would attack.

Ready-Made Clothing

Is very large, made under their own direction, by competent hands, in good style, and will be sold at prices that will defy competition. They pay particular attention to

CUSTOM WORK,

And warrant perfect satisfaction to all who favor them with their patronage. Good work, good style and a perfect fit is warranted, or the purchasers will not be expected or desired to receive the garments.

Their stock of Cloths, Trimmings and Furnishing Goods is very large and varied, and will be offered at sight advance from cost.

They also have a large assortment of

Boys' and Youth's Clothing.

Moses & Downie also keep on hand at all times a good stock of Boots, Shoes, Hats, Caps, Trunks, Valises, Umbrellas, and a variety of other articles for Gentlemen's use, all of which they offer at lower prices than they can be bought for elsewhere. For proof of this fact, call and see

A large shipping house in Wall street, New York, has just closed a contract with one of our prominent ship builders, for four first class ships of 1200 tons each, half clipper, at $75 per ton, or ninety thousand dollars each, which is an advance, as established by recent sales. This will give plenty of work, this winter, to ship carpenters.

After a long interval, capable seamen are again becoming scarce, so that vessels are occasionally detained in making up their crews. This is in consequence of the increased demand for ships in the carrying trade.—N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Assistant of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in the U. S. and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about $60 per cent less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries, besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. G. W. STONE'S
Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis
ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will instantly relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine. Let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.
MANUFACTURERS of
GRAND AND SQUARE
PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE—also our PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,
NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,
No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound is in them produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

TO TANNERS AND LEATHER DEALERS.

BOSTON, July 25, 1855.

Dear Sir:—We have used "Ward & Bootts" Depilatory Salts on about one thousand salted hides, that had been heated so much that they would not bear the usual amount of soaking without damage. By the use of the salts we found the tendency to decay immediately arrested; consequently we have no hesitation in recommending its use, principally in such cases.

Yours respectfully, WEBSTER & CO.

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT BROWN

COD LIVER OIL.

Prepared for medicinal use in the Loffodon Isles, Norway, and put to the test of chemical analysis by Dr. De Jongh, who by his literary works and scientific travels has gained for himself in the whole of Europe the well deserved reputation as the highest authority in all that regards this most effectual remedy for Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Gout, Rickets, Scrofulous affections, Diseases of the Skin, Infantine Wasting and General Debility. Approved of and recommended by Berzelius, Liebig, Wothler, Jonathan Pereira, Pouquier, and numerous other distinguished physicians and scientific chemists.

Specially rewarded with medals by the government of Belgium and the Netherlands and supplied to the leading Hospitals of Europe. Has almost entirely superseded all other kinds on the Continent, in consequence of its proved superior power and efficacy, as well as its being perfectly free from all unpleasant odor, and disagreeable bitter and scrimonious taste, not irritating the throat nor impairing digestion, neither producing nausea and vomiting, nor diarrhea. Bottles labeled with Dr. De Jongh's Stamps and Signatures. Wholesale and retail by LEOPOLD WETZLAR, 397 Broadway, and 16 Dey street, New York. Sold in Boston by CHARLES T. PERUVIAN SYRUP,

DYSPEPSIA,

Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, Incipient Diseases of the Lungs and Bronchial Passages. General Debility, &c. &c.

Sold in Boston, for the Proprietors, by

Boston, June 7th 1855.

As you have requested some account of the benefit experienced in my case, from the Peruvian Syrup, I will state that for several years I have suffered from a catarrhal affection consequent upon Bronchitis. I tried various remedies, including tonics and stimulants, general and topical, but obtained no relief. The system seemed to be failing under repeated congestive attacks, induced generally by sudden changes in the weather and by over exertion, the attacks recurring upon an average every three weeks, the effects not passing off for several days. From testimonials adduced in favor of the Syrup, I made trial of it and soon experienced a decided improvement in strength and ability to resist atmospheric change. It is now six months since I had a recurrence of the congestive attacks, and I have no doubt, adding my experience to that of others, that the Syrup produced the favorable change. Every physician is well aware that there are self-limited diseases, and where a disease is not so, that it is doubtful, which remedy (where several have been tried) effected the cure; therefore I will answer in advance a question which may be very properly made. Why speak so confidently in this case? Because, having tried various remedies, and all failing, this effected a favorable change in a short time, when the system was becoming daily more debilitated. Having the reliable assurance that no ingredient prejudicial to the system enters into the composition of the article, I would recommend it where a tonic and alterative effect is desired, and I trust you will be able to make some arrangements by which physicians can recommend its trial in their practice, without seeming to countenance quackery.

FRAS. DANA, M. D.

Dear Sir.—I have been so much benefitted by the use of the "Peruvian Syrup" that I wish to make it known to other similar sufferers. For some years I have been feeble and delicate—suffering at times from depression of spirits, with loss of sleep, languor and weariness My food did not nourish or invigorate me. A slight cold would give me a cough, and for two years I had more or less bronchitis. I have used three bottles of the Syrup, and these symptoms have given place to a state of health I never thought of obtaining. My digestion is much improved, debility gone, spirits restored, and throat quite well. As I have made no change in my diet, regimen, or any other external condition, I can attribute this benefit to no other cause than the use of this excellent medicine.

Groveland, Mass., May 18th, 1855.

Dear Sir,—I hereby certify, for the benefit of those who are afflicted with the like complaints, that I was troubled for three or four years with neuralgia. I was first attacked in my head, face and teeth, and afterwards in my shoulders, back and legs, and could obtain no permanent relief from any medicine which I tried. When the Peruvian Syrup came to this town, I procured a bottle of it of the agent here, and commenced taking it in February, 1855, and found myself entirely cured by taking one bottle, and have had no farther trouble from these complaints since, which is now about three months.

JOHN C. GEORGE.

LIMA, May 5th, 1855.

Dear Sir:—Having for the last five years made extensive use of the "Peruvian Syrup" in many cases of obstinate disorders of the digestive organs, general debility (especially such as is produced by juvenile indiscretions) and dropsy, I most cordially recommend its use all such as are suffering under any of the numerous afflictions arising from functional derangement of the alimentary canal.

Such of the component parts of this remedy which are familiar to me, as exhibited by chemical analysis, I know to be propitious to health, and such as are not developed by analytic scrutiny, I am also persuaded cannot be deleterious, never having known a single case in which its operation has proved otherwise than beneficial to the patient.

As a physician, I unite with my professional brethren in discountenancing charlatanic pretensions, but in the present case long years of experience have so satisfied me of its efficacy that I cannot permit the clamor of professional etiquette or obstinate prejudice to drown the voice of conscientious conviction. I believe this remedy is destined to have an unexampled popularity and do not believe that its claims to such distinction have ever been surpassed or even equalled. (Signed,) H. E. KINNEY, M. D.

CARD.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public.

From our own experience, as well as from the testimony of others whose intelligence and integrity are altogether unquestionable, we have no doubt of its efficacy in all cases of Incipient Diseases of the Lungs, and Bronchial Passages, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Neuralgia, General Debility, &c. Indeed, its effects would be incredible, but from the high character of those who have witnessed them, and have volunteered their testimony, as we do ours, to its restorative powers.

IVES & TUTHILL.

TO THE CITIZENS OF NEW ENGLAND.

Having been often solicited to establish a branch of our house in the city of Boston for the sale of LEARY & CO.'S HATS, we have made arrangements with Messrs. IVES & TUTHILL, of the Albion Buildings, Tremont Street, to furnish them with a constant and full supply of all our manufactures and importations, enabling them to issue the new styles, as invented by us, simultaneously with our house in New York.

It is with much confidence that we commend to the citizens of New England, the enterprise of the above named young men, and we can assure our friends and customers, that while we have no pecuniary interest in the firm of IVES & TUTHILL, yet the goods they sell will be identical in quality, style and price, with the articles sold by us in New York.

LEARY & CO., Astor House, New York.

The firm of LEARY & CO., has been established for a quarter of a century, and every year has not only increased its sales, but its manufacturing and importing facilities. One of the undersigned having been connected with this establishment as a salesman for some time, and both feeling convinced that our claim to the leadership of Fashion in all that pertains to the covering of the masculine head is confirmed by the adoption of their styles by the public and the trade, enter with confidence upon the sale of their goods, assured that it will be mutually beneficial to the public and themselves.

PIANO FORTE.

New York, Dec. 5, 1853.

Mr. N. P. B. Curtiss—Dear Sir:—Having had the pleasure of performing upon Geo. Hews' American Patent Action Piano, at the World's Fair in this city, the present year, and other Hews' Pianos at your Warerooms, which afforded me much gratification, I cheerfully recommend them to the public. I am very glad of the improvement in the action.—These instruments likewise are of excellent tone, owing, no doubt, to the perfection of the scale.

Very respectfully, L. M. Gottschalk.

CANCERS CAN BE CURED.

DR. R. GREEN,

Scientific Indian Physician,

36 BROMFIELD ST., BOSTON.

DR. GREEN, in his travels and researches for medical knowledge among the Indians, obtained a perfect remedy for Cancers, Scrofula, and all Humors of the blood His practice has ever since been attended with greater success than was ever before known He is now treating with complete success difficult cases of all kinds of chronic disease from all parts of the country. Persons afflicted with Cancers should immediately avail themselves of Dr. Green's personal attention. Scrofulous Diseases sometimes combine with other diseases of the Stomach, Lungs, Liver, Heart, Kidneys, Spleen, &c., so as to require a personal examination in order to effect a perfect cure, but nine out of every ten cases of all Chronic Diseases are cured by medicine which Dr. Green sends to them, as he understands the nature of the disease by the persons answering the questions upon a circular which also gives reference to cases cured, and which he sends by mail, free of charge, to any one requesting it, and enclosing a postage stamp.

STAMMERING CURED!

DR. BRONSON & C. C. BEERS,

Are happy in announcing that STAMMERING can be permanently CURED by Medicine and Vocal Gymnastics. It is first treated as a Nervous Disease, (like St. Vitus' Dance, Epileptic Fits, etc.) and then the habit, incident to the disease, is corrected by exercises in Elocution. Mr. Beers has been an inveterate stammerer for thirty-five years; has attended many institutions for the cure of stammering, and expended hundreds of dollars without any permanent benefit, but cured himself 18 months ago, and has ever since remained so. With the same means, we have cured others, to whom we would gladly refer any applicants—not having failed in a single instance. Being satisfied from reason, experience and observation, that stammering is the effect of a NERVOUS DISORDER, and can be perfectly cured by the above means in the course of two or three weeks, we assure all interested of these gratifying results, and guarantee a permanent cure, or refund the small fee paid in advance. Those desiring further information on these subjects, (including terms, guaranty, etc.) can obtain it from our New Work, just issued, on Stammering, its Effects, Causes, and Remedies; illustrated by One Hundred Engravings: Price ONE DOLLAR; on the receipt of which, the Book will be sent without expense, and the money thus paid, will be credited in the bill for Treatment. PLEASURE-SEEKING.—No. 3.

ASSONET, MASS., Sept. 27.

Coming here solely to meet an old and valued friend, we were very agreeably disappointed to find a delightful summer retreat. Freetown is divided into East and West villages by Taunton river, which winds hence to Newport, R. I., about twenty miles distant. The Westerly settlement on Assonet Bay, retains the Indian name given it by King Philip's tribe, who found here a delightful rendezvous, fishing and hunting ground. We are only six or seven miles below Taunton, and about the same distance from Fall River.—Mount Hope, the head-quarters of the great warrior-king Philip, is but a short stage to the rest. But perhaps it may be as well to tell of our journey here, a little, before disclosing all the beauties we are enjoying here. Having passed the four Convention days very pleasantly in Milford—thanks to the politeness of friends and acquaintances,—on Friday morning we were ready for a new start. William R. Hill, Esq., of Sutton, Vice President of the Worcester County Musical Association, had on short acquaintance proved himself so thorough a gentleman, that we regretted parting from him; and were glad to accept his invitation to accompany him home. A span of beautiful greys were hitched on for us, and my companion, with our host and myself, enjoyed a delightful drive of a dozen miles—one most agreeable and surprisingly pleasant circumstance being, that neither of our party, nor the driver, were addicted to the filthy habits of smoking, chewing or drinking. And here it may not be amiss to say, that we have never yet seen the first man of this sort,—a real temperance man, totally abstaining from intoxication,—who had a word to say against the prohibitory liquor laws, nor to deny their good effect, which we have everywhere seen evidence of.

Our road to Sutton was literally strewn with autumnal flowers, and finely wooded, chiefly with the rich chestnut and oak. It was to us a singular sight, to see the fruit trees along the highways, and even the streets of towns and cities, (after getting a few miles from Boston,) with their burdens of the season untouched—though frequently within reach of the passer by.

Sutton lies on the Blackstone river and branch, and, like all the villages hereabouts, is engaged in manufactures. On our arrival here, we found the Episcopal church opened for a wedding; and accepted the rector's invitation to attend. The parties got through with their parts after rather a clumsy fashion, and were received on their reappearance in front of the church, by a salute of two muskets! A neighbor wishing to witness the interesting ceremony, took her baby with her—an untamed youngster of perhaps eighteen months,—who kept up a racket of some sort all the while, so that we longed to pitch him out of the window. Babies are doubtless well enough in their proper places; but we don't believe in making nurseries of churches, railroad cars, etc.

Our next stage was to Leominster, over the Worcester & Providence and Worcester & Fitchburg railroads. Here we were received by old friends with such a welcome as "the prodigal son" of whom we read, might rejoice in; though in our case there was no drawback in the shape of an envious looker on.—We found a pleasant home at the house of C. Ingalls, Esq., whom many will recollect as the clerk of the contractors for building a dry dock, at Portsmouth, a few years since.

Leominster is celebrated for its large manufacture of combs; and piano forte making, with other varied branches of industry, keep the people busy. We spent Sunday here; and found rather a prosy minister, a very sleepy choir, and a lady organist to match.—The organ was a fine one, the choir large, and the hymns bright and joyous; but

> Hosannas languished on their tongues,
> And our devotion died.

The general ignorance of spelling and punctuation is lamentable. Frequent instances of this are seen in writing, printing, and painting, anywhere—everywhere. For instance, will anybody tell the propriety of inserting an apostrophe for the plural number, as is done so often, thus: K. N.'s,—and a thousand other ways. A millinery establishment at Leominster has a large sign, with gilt letters "millinery." Pity that a woman with spirit enough to do business for herself, should employ such a blockhead of a painter—though if he makes all the similar mistakes, he does a large business.

But our letter is long enough; we wish to enjoy a stroll along this charming Assonet Bay, by moonlight; and must postpone the story of our trip from Leominster hither, till another time. 'Tis cheering, invigorating, to be in sight of salt water once more. "O, give me a home by the sea."

CHURCH ECONOMY.—One of the pastors of our city last Sunday preached strongly against the costliness of religious privileges. He condemned the paying of high salaries to clergymen, as thereby pews were often made to rent at from thirty to fifty dollars, and poor people could not afford to hire them; he added that a church had no moral right to pay seven hundred dollars a year of its worshipers' money for a choir, nor anything like it. Such preaching is needed.—Lowell Courier.

It is not certain after all, that all this preaching is true, nor even that the preacher believed it himself. If he has declined a large salary in favor of a smaller one, it is something—but the mere declaiming against a large income by one who cannot get it, does not amount to much. Salaries may be too high, and they may be too low.

Societies not able, should not pay $700 a year for a choir—but if they are able, and choose to spend some of their money in music, it seems to be their own concern and not their neighbors'. No one in this country is obliged to go to any particular church. It does seem to be a pity, after all, that the rich and the poor should not worship together. For that reason we like large, plain churches, with ample galleries, where the poor and the stranger can hear the same choir for which the wealthy pay $700, and the same preacher to whom they pay the high salary.

PUTNAM'S MONTHLY, for October, is just received from Federhen & Co. Boston, via J. P. Morse of this city. There is an interesting chapter of Life among the Mormons, by a woman. The other contents are:—Original Portraits of Washington; Wind and Rain; The Willey House—A Ballad of the White Hills; Benito Cereno; Unknown Tongues—Language of Animals—Part II.; My Darling; Alfred Tennyson; Living in the Country; The Helmet; Experience at Mount Lebanon; The Drama of France—Classic and Romantic; The Legend of Goodman Poverty; Born, but not Buried; Reminiscences of a Tempest-tost Life—Lafayette; The Kansas Question; Editorial Notes.

We have received a second copy from Fettredge & Co. per J. H. Foster of this city.

FRANK LESLIE'S GAZETTE.—We have received the October number of "Frank Leslie's Ladies Gazette of Fashion and the Beau Monde." The dressy ladies in the fashion plate wear multitudinous flounces, and have brown skins and rosy cheeks, looking a great deal heal thier than such very fashionable ladies are wont to do. The New York Herald says of it:

There is a noticeable improvement in the style and contents of each number of this magazine over the preceding number, and it now constitutes a really interesting, and to the ladies at least—a most useful periodical. We remark one new feature in it particularly, which strikes us as a very admirable one. It is that the leading article is devoted to a description of the fashions as they are found in this city—not as they were one, three or six months ago in London or Paris. It is entitled "Our Monthly Review of Fashions and the Industrial Arts," and if we may judge by this first article, the subject is one which, if continued to be elucidated so well, will be of the most immediate interest to ladies, in and out of the city, who desire the best and most intelligible information on the prevailing fashion. In the way of prints, the Gazette makes a very creditable appearance, and its selections of reading matter are very apropos.

CROPS IN THE MOUNTAINS.—The Newburyport Herald has a private letter from the region of the White Mountains, dated September 20th, showing that even in the most out-of-the-way places, where we least expect it, the produce of the farms is excessive. The writer says:

"I am stopping now at Randolph Hills, with T. Hodgdon Esq., about three miles from the Atlantic & St Lawrence station house in Gorham. His farm consists of 300 acres of excellent land, which is 300 feet above the level of the railroad; and those not acquainted would hardly believe that such lands are among these hills. He will dig 1200 bushels of potatoes this season. His corn, though that is the poorest crop in New England, this year, looks well; and the wheat is very heavy. He tells me that he had over 60 bushels from two bushels of seed. The hay has also been very good; and the barns of all the farms hereabouts, are overflowing. Fruit they have not so much; but the railroad has worked wonders, and by bringing them close to markets made it an object to raise what otherwise would be of little value; and it would not be wonderful if in a few years, fruit was as plenty here as vegetables."

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—A suit has been commenced in the Circuit Court against Passmore Williamson for the value of the abducted slaves belonging to Mr Wheeler.

We would suggest that somebody should get up a criminal complaint against him for perjury. That would bring him to trial before a jury. And we suppose no jury unless they were packed, would agree on a verdict against him on either charge. In the mean time he is held in prison in defiance of all law, by the detestable tyranny of Judge Kane, aided by the contemptible cowardice or ignorance of the Pennsylvania Bench.

As a train on the Hudson River Railroad was approaching a particular point just below Greenbush, on Wednesday, an Irishman named Patrick McGillish, laid a wager that he would cross the track within a given distance in front of it. He tried it and lost his wager and his life together.

LOCAL.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY—TRIAL TERM.

HON. ASA FOWLER, PRESIDING JUSTICE.

SATURDAY, Sept. 29.

The case State v. J. Smith Robinson was submitted to the jury this morning, without argument. The verdict returned was, not guilty by reason of insanity.

The last case of this term was State v. Daniel H. Willey, for an assault on Jeremiah Leary.

Willey was a police officer, and was called upon to go into a house of drunken and quarelling Irishmen. He did so, and very imprudently went in alone and without a warrant. He made a prisoner of Leary and carried him to the lock up; but in the fight which preceded the capture, he inflicted some severe bruises on Leary.

The officer, Willey, brought his complaint against Leary for being riotous, before Justice Parker, then of the Police Court. And solicitor Hatch at the same time brought Willey before the same justice for assaulting Leary. Justice Parker promptly discharged Leary, and held Willey to answer at the higher Court, where the arrested rioters were witnesses against him.

The jury found him guilty—and he was fined $15 and costs: in all at least $50.

It is worthy of remark, that this is the only full verdict of guilty, found during the session. In one case, where the charge was assault and battery with intent to kill, the jury rendered a verdict of guilty without the intent.

It is also worthy of remark, that the same jury which acquitted a rowdy for assaulting an officer,—condemned officer Willey for assaulting Leary.

The Court adjourned.

LAUNCH.—The ship "S. C. Twing," of 1300 tons burthen, was launched from the yard of Samuel Badger, Esq., in Kittery, on Saturday, at 3 o'clock. She is owned by Messrs D. & P. Marcy and S. Badger. As she will bear examination the Boston inspectors are invited to look at her.

HARD CASE.—Under all restrictive laws, circumstances may arise where they bear with undue severity upon honest and upright persons. A case in point. A man who has been at work at the Navy Yard, on Friday afternoon last sprained his ankle badly. His wife went to one of our apothecaries for an application to relieve the injury. The druggist recommended certain articles which would only operate effectually by steeping in rum or brandy. He sold her the various articles, but as the matter now stands in regard to the privileges of apothecaries under the prohibitory liquor law, refused to sell the rum, and sent her to the City Agency for that article. The agency was closed, it being after 7 o'clock P. M., and the agent away from home, so that she could obtain no spirits, and in this case it was a necessary article. The woman was obliged to wait till next morning before a proper remedy could be applied to relieve the pain of the injured man. If the druggists are to be stopped entirely from selling alcoholic preparations under all circumstances, there should be at least two agents appointed by the city, one of whom should always be in the store, and should be ready to answer calls for liquors at all times, night or day. *

There is something in the above suggestions, worthy of attention. The city of Manchester has one Agency, like ours, but it has two Agents, who believe each other, so that neither of them is confined too closely, and yet the Agency is constantly accessible for a large number of hours every day.

One other thought, on quite a different topic, is suggested by this case, viz., that a bath made of one pint of cold vinegar, costing 3 or 4 cents, mixed with one pint of boiling water, costing nothing, will generally reduce the swelling and ease the pain of a sprained ankle or knee, quite as effectually as any alcoholic preparation whatever.

Showering the sprained joint with cold water, poured from a good height, is often a cure, almost instantaneous.

Bathing with volatile liniment, opodeldoc, &c., are also remedies of repute. Spirits in any form are not the only remedies for the ills which flesh is heir to; in most cases they are not the best.

CHANGE OF TIME.—The times for the starting of trains on the various railroads change to-day. On the Eastern Railroad the cars leave for Boston at 7.15 A. M., 11.15 and 5 P. M. For Portland, and towns on the Great Falls & Conway road, at 9.45 A. M., and 4.15 P. M.

For Concord, at 6.35, 10.50 A. M., and 4 P. M.

The outside of to-day's paper was printed before the alterations were received.

☞ Signor Blitz is coming! He performs here next Thursday and Friday evenings.—We need not invite any body to go. See advertisement.

☞ Our readers may be assured, on the word of those who have heard them, that Mr. Mozart, and his assistants Misses Bothamly and Twichell, are singers of great merit and high reputation. His instrumental performers, also, Messrs. Adams and Lang, are masters of their respective instruments, the Violin and Grand Piano. Their concert on next Wednesday evening will be worthy of a full house.

☞ It will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, that Mr Clark commences a Singing School this evening. Mr Clark has been teaching music in Portsmouth longer than any other person now residing here, and is too well known to need an extended notice from us.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday evening, an Englishman named George Rose, a sawyer at the Navy Yard, fell overboard from Pier wharf, and was drowned. He was looking after his boat, which lay in the dock, to prevent her being crushed by the new ship S. C. Twing, which some men were hauling up to the wharf, and fell backward over a cable. His head struck on a log between the ship Robert Parker and the wharf, and he was probably instantly killed. He was about 40 years old, and leaves a wife and five children, who reside in State street, in this city. His body has not yet been found.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

ROBBERY AND ROMANCE.—A few days ago a young Frenchman employed as a barkeeper at the Railroad House, Fredericksburg, left suddenly for parts unknown, taking with him a gold watch (which had been placed in his possession for safe keeping by a gentleman from Richmond) and the contents of his employer's money drawer. A short time previous to his departure a young woman arrived in town, stopped at another house, sent for the Frenchman, and had a long conference. As soon as it became known that the young man had made tracks, the woman showed much distress, and stated that she came on for the purpose of marrying him; that she was a factory girl from Lowell, and had a rich uncle to whom she was ashamed to return. By selling some of her clothing, however, she raised money enough to get home and went sorrowfully on her way.—Washington Union.

The Milwaukie Sentinel says that reporters on the spot found it very difficult to obtain any particulars with regard to the loss of the steamer Sebastopol, as those of the crew who were not engaged in attempts to save life, were too drunk to know their own names, much less those of others,

We presume these men were not fanatics, but straight-out-liberals,—and they show their fruits by their works.

The corn crop in Ohio, Illinois, Indiana, and Kentucky, is said to be the heaviest and healthiest, this season, ever grown in the West; it is now being topped.

FOREIGN MARKETS.—The Liverpool cotton market was without a shade of change from the last week. The British cloth markets are not in a condition to make any note upon. In the latest breadstuff markets a slight advance was obtained. The London Shipping Gazette of Sept. 14 says:—"All eyes are now directed to America. Twelve French buyers went out by last week's steamer, and large orders have gone from England for breadstuffs, so that we shall soon know whether the boasting accounts of their crops can be substantiated." [They come to a high market.]

The Osceola, Missouri, Independent, says, It is of no use to say anything more about the corn crops in this section. They are so large and heavy that the farmers are actually complaining that they have raised more than they know what to do with.

A little advice: Don't waste your corn because you have a superabundance. Use it bountifully because you have plenty, but build additional cribs and store away the balance.

The Dorchester Know Nothing Lodge held a meeting on Thursday night, instructed their treasurer to pay all demands against the organization, and dissolved forever—then formed a procession, marched to Shepard's bakery and burned their books in the oven. So ends the lodge in Governor Gardner's birthplace and residence.—Boston Courier.

BENEFACTORS OF MANKIND.—It is not he who invented Brussels Carpeting or Gold Brocade, whom the masses have reason to hold in regard, but he who furnishes something useful to every-body. One of our government officials lately returned from his mission in Brazil, tells us an anecdote that among the first enquiries made of him about his acquaintance with our public men, was whether he knew the American Chemist, DR J C AYER, who invented the Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills. As these articles (more particularly the Cherry Pectoral) are in general use in the cities of South America, they are the most prevalent representations of American products, and as many thousands there as well as here, owe to them the recovery of their health from malignant diseases, it is got strange they should hold the inventor in esteem, but it is rather simple in them to suppose that the Doctor is the only man of mark we have among our twenty-five million people.—Christian Advocate.

Removal.

MR. CARL MEINERTH,
TEACHER OF MUSIC,
Has removed to 56 Daniel street—the house next below his former residence. o1 2w

DR. J. W. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER!

DR. J. W. POLAND

Goffstown Centre, N. H.

THIS Wonderful Medicine for the Sick and Nervous HEADACHE, as well as for Tic Doloreux, Neuralgia and all forms of Nervous Diseases, after an impartial trial of more than six years, has established its reputation as a Standard Remedy. Other Headache Remedies have "waxed and waned" since this was introduced to the public, but the genuine DR. POLAND'S HEADACHE KILLER has been, and is now increasing in sales every month.

Within three months, more than seven tons in weight of the Headache Killer have been sent over the Railroads to fill orders for it.

Please to read the Circular, which the Agents have, and you will get the history of the Medicine.

☞ Price Fifty cents a Bottle.

For sale by Wm. R Preston, J. H. Thacher, D. Kimball and B. Hutchings, of Portsmouth; C. A. Merrill, Exeter; J. H Pendergast, New Market; Palmer & Brewster, Dover; J. Mason, Hampton; and by Medicine dealers everywhere. 1awSmjy20

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only produces all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, TIC DOLOREUX, GOUT, PAIN IN THE HEAD, SIDE, STOMACH, &c.

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup

will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a line to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We cubjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

LAWRENCE, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, relatives of Mr. Hayes, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the Doctor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the counter claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results, after vainly seeking relief by the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. W. STEARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, (a preparation expressly,) Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Mercurial sores, however long standing. It removes all little vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In no case will it leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of

GRAND AND SQUARE

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE as also our NEW GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they are forth the most perfect, bell like tones, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once trying their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

Press Forward your Claim.

ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS, SOLDIERS, both Regulars and Volunteers, Sailors, Marines, Flotilla-Men, Musicians, Wagon Masters, Teamsters, Indians, and all persons who may have served fourteen days in any of the Wars of the United States, since the year 1790, the law of 1855 gives each of you, who have not heretofore received a Warrant for Land, One Hundred and Sixty Acres! And to all who have received Bounty Land, enough more to make One Hundred and Sixty Acres.

In the case of the death of the person entitled to Land, his Widow, or if no Widow, the minor Child or Children, are entitled to the Bounty.

We are prepared to promptly prosecute all claims for Land, and will supply Justices of Peace, County Clerks, Commissioners of Deeds, Notaries Public, Lawyers, and others, with the necessary instructions and Blank forms, free of cost, on application, by mail, or otherwise.

When desired, we will sell the Warrant at the market price, and remit a check for proceeds.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F. X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor. Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the drawing of these frauds, address F. X BRENAN,

Morning Chronicle.

CENSORSHIP OF THE PRESS IN FRANCE.—The spread of "progress" appears to have called forth more restrictions on the press.—The Moniteur publishes a notification from the Minister of the Interior, that no individual can, for the purpose of private printing, have in his possession or employ presses, without previous authority. Persons infringing this this law will be liable to six months' imprisonment and 10,000f. fine. Type founders, stereotype founders, &c., must keep a book in which they are to enter the names and addresses of persons purchasing any of their articles, and they are from time to time to send a copy of such entries to the Minister or to the Prefect.

Horace Greely offers, if the State Agricultural Society will take charge of the matter, to give $50 to the New York boy under 18 years of age who shall grow the best acre of corn in 1856, and a like premium to the New York boy who shall grow the best acre of roots of whatever kind.

Mr Greely adds: "Of course, the quantity produced is not to be the only criterion of merit; but each competitor must plow his own land and cultivate it with his own hands throughout, keeping an exact account of all labor and outlay of every sort, giving notice in due season that he intends to compete, and sending to the secretary of the Society a full, clear account of his management. Should the Society think well of this offer, we have no doubt it will prompt many of a similar tenor."

Now, boys, show the world what you can do!

Dr Arnott's death is announced in the English journals. He was physician to Napoleon at St. Helena. The Emperor, on his death bed, desired that a valuable gold snuff-box might be brought to him, and having with his dying hand and last effort of departing strength, engraved upon its lid with a penknife the letter "N," he presented it to Dr Arnott as a parting memorial of his esteem and heartfelt gratitude.

Dr A published, in 1822, a clear detailed "Account of the Last Illness, Decease, and Post-Mortem Appearance of Napoleon Bonaparte."

The Woonsocket (R. I.) Patriot says the drought has almost wholly suspended manufacturing operations in some portions of Burrillville. The mills at Mapleville, Oakland and that vicinity, were all silent last week.

Thomas Downing, said to be a respectable, wealthy and well known oyster dealer in Broad street, New York, where he has been for thirty years, was ordered out of one of the Sixth Avenue cars the other day, simply because he was a man of color. He refused to go, and an effort to eject him was unsuccessful.

A CRIMEAN HERO.—A private of the 17th Hussars, English, who was in all the battles in the Crimea, and who took part in the attack on the Redan, has arrived at Montreal, he having got his discharge, with a pension of about 2s. per day. This hero was wounded in each battle.

It is definitely decided to locate the thelogical institution of the Free-will Baptists at Lewiston, Me.

The New York Times has a very sensible article on the wretchedly inconvenient wharves at which steamboats land their passengers in that city, and the nuisance of two or three hundred whips and greasy cards thrust in the faces of passengers.

A number of young American physicians in the Russian army at the Crimea find themselves unexpectedly bound to keep their places till the close of the war. They can get no discharge, lest they communicate some information injurious to the cause of their employer.

The Portsmouth Almanac
AND ROCKINGHAM COUNTY
HAND BOOK,

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 2, 1855.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

PLEASURE-SEEKING.—No. 4.

FREETOWN, MASS., Sept. 27.

On Monday morning we took a trip from Leominster, over the Fitchburg & Worcester and Peterborough & Shirley railroads, to what was formerly known as a part of Turkey Hills, but now rejoices in the name of Townsend. We were not a little surprised to hear the conductor call out, at one of the stations, Townsend Harbor; and on looking about found a little manufacturing village, prettily situated on an inviting sheet of fresh water, a branch of Nashua river. So we bore to, and under the guidance of a very agreeable pilot, made the voyage about the voyage about the Harbor and vicinity in the most satisfactory manner; and rather than be all night "At anchor laid, remote from home," we took passage in the last down train for Groton Junction, after a fair-weather cruise in those waters, of only a couple of hours.

At Groton is the Junction of several railroads, and the forty or more trains which arrive and leave here daily, keep up an almost incessant ring, sizzle, shriek, and rumble. The only hindrance to our satisfaction was, that no newspapers were to be had on this entire route, including a two hours' waiting at the Junction—when we could have devoured a dozen of most any sort.

Monday night and Tuesday were agreeably spent in Worcester, which has much improved within a few years, and is pushing ahead with enterprise. Among other things, a new Mechanics' Hall is being built, which it is said will excel all in New England out of Boston. We received the hospitable welcome always extended to Portsmouth residents, by Rev. J. G. Adams and his pleasant family. He was a native of our good city, and has been settled in Worcester for about three years. Besides attending devotedly to his large and flourishing Society and Sabbath School, Mr Adams as is well known, finds time amid his various studies, to be a good deal of a poet, and is a painter in crayons and oil, of no small attainments. He is at present engaged in preparing a biography of the late Rev. John Moore, of Concord, N. H., which work is looked for with high expectations.

Great preparations were being made for the annual Cattle Show at Worcester, which is the holiday occasion for the year throughout the county. The severe drought, which extends throughout this region of sandy soil, rather detracts from the comfort of all.

The route we had marked out for ourselves, allowed but one night in Worcester; and our friend Hill's invitation to ride with him again to Sutton, on Tuesday afternoon, was duly honored. One would suppose from reading the guide-boards about here, that selections from the Old Folks' tunes had been freely made—as Mendon, of stirring memory, and Uxbridge, Upton, Milford, Worcester, &c., successively appear.

Early on Wednesday morning, we took the cars from Worcester for Providence, at Sutton. Some fellow, doubtless of the opinion that "there's nothing like leather," smashed in a pane of glass, broke off the nails which fastened the window down, and entered the depot; he then ripped open two boxes of boots, and selected a couple of pairs—leaving the rest strewn about. The depot master "only wants to catch him"—and we only hope he may. Probably he wanted to appear at the Cattle Show in good rig.

It was decidedly pleasant to meet in the cars, our friend Israel Plummer, Esq., of Northbridge, President of the Musical Association before mentioned, whom we had found an agreeable companion at Milford.—The interest of our ride was much increased by his information respecting the numerous thriving manufacturing villages in the valley of the Blackstone—the chief being Woonsocket and Pawtucket, at which latter place the first manufacture of cotton cloth in this country, by water power machinery, was commenced.

A couple of hours were pleasantly employed in Providence, under the kind escort of our friend, who exhibited to us the chief objects of interest. There is a fine depot here, of singular construction, with spires; and the Arcade, built of granite, with massive pillars, is a handsome structure—a large number of stores or stalls, perhaps fifty, being arranged in two stories, and covered with a glass roof.

We again entered the Providence & Worcester cars, which we changed at Mansfield for the Taunton & New Bedford route, and on reaching Myrick's, found a chance to wait three hours or so, ere the Fall River train would take us to Assonet. So we again put horse-flesh into requisition, (though it was chiefly bones this time, with an old rattle-trap of a phaeton, a break-neck harness, and a slouchy boy for driver,) and a four miles drive brought us here to Assonet, one of the most picturesque little places a person could dream of.

Here we find our old and valued friend, Rev. A. G. Comings, enjoying a quiet and retired life, though by no means an idle one. His many friends in Portsmouth, as well as the denomination generally, will be glad to learn that the Christian Society here, whose pastor he has been since January last, is in a flourishing condition. They have recently painted and otherwise improved their church, which occupies a beautiful site on a hill overlooking the river and bay. Their choir is an excellent one, owing in a good degree, to the interest manifested therein by the pastor. Our host is a worker, and not a drone, anywhere. He has had some experience in husbandry, but has reversed the old song, and "left ploughing the land, to go ploughing the sea;" and was desirous that we should take a sail with him in his boat. We must confess we entertained a higher opinion of his skill in musical, clerical, and most any matters, than in navigation; but thinking that the worst we could get would be a ducking, we took a seat in his flat-bottomed craft, which was without ballast, and had rather a lofty looking sail. The wind was somewhat flawy, and we were not at all displeased when the sail came down by the run, owing to the giving way of the block; though we were obliged to put our sculling and pushing powers into practice, having but one oar aboard.

Lovers of the old music, will rejoice to learn that Mr Comings is revising and improving a new edition of the "Ancient Harmony Revived," which is being stereotyped by S. K. Whipple, of Boston, the same publisher as heretofore. The new (fourth) edition will be out shortly. This revision is a laborious work, and could not be in better hands. Many errors will be corrected, and the selection of tunes be somewhat varied from former editions.

We have had a fine shower this morning, though of late the rain is rather loth to fall on either just or unjust; and as we have been detained over one train, the next must take us to New Bedford—of which more anon. F.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—The Report of the Investigating Committee on the Boston & Maine Railroad has been printed; and shows that an Investigation was necessary. Among other things, the committee found that the system of borrowing, for the payment of dividends, commenced in 1854, and that money was borrowed for the purpose of putting the Company in funds to pay each of the last two dividends.

They recommend not to borrow for the next.

The adjourned meeting of the stockholders takes place in Boston to-morrow.

BEAUTIFUL NAMES.—Readers of political papers have heard of Hindoos and Boobooes, of Barnburners and Wildcats. Now some papers inform us of a new secret order in this state, on whom they bestow the appellation of Nightmares,—and who, as their opponents say, are devotees of rum, slavery and mob law. We believe all the above names were bestowed by opponents—but most of them were afterwards adopted by the wearers; and in many cases in triumph.

☞ Our Exeter correspondent informs us that an omission occurred in his account of the Fair. He designed to return thanks to the board of managers for numerous favors shown him, and especially to acknowledge the polite attention of Geo. S. Sullivan, Esq., one of the committee of arrangements, whose exertions in endeavoring to render the occasion an agreeable one to contributors as well as visitors, were deserving of all praise.

☞ Harper's New Monthly Magazine for October, 1855, contains Nicaragua, a good article on the central region of our continent, illustrated; Bears and Bear Hunting, containing a great many fine bear stories, veracious as travellers tales: A Trip on the Panama Railroad &c. Boston; sold by Fetridge & Co. Portsmouth, J F. Shores, jr.

The friends of free speech are under the most profound obligations to Cassius M. Clay for the manly and persistent courage with which he maintains the right of every man to declare his opinion. An attempt was recently made in Kentucky to expel a Methodist preacher named Fee from his county for his opinions on slavery. Mr Clay came to his rescue, and not only sustained Mr Fee, but made a tour in the excited district in company with him, both of them speaking to large assemblies without hindrance.

On the question of slavery there may be two opinions, but on the right of a freeman to express his opinion at a public meeting there can be but one.

WHARF CAVED OUT.—At Portland, Sept. 27th, the stone work near the end of Brown's Wharf gave way, letting a large portion of the Wharf into the dock. It took away one end of the new storehouse entirely, the walls and roof still standing, although twisted badly. Part of a cargo of coal and about 3000 hogsheads of salt fell through the opening into the harbor. The pressure was so great as to move a large ship lying aground at the wharf, breaking her hawser. A large force of hands were at once employed to save as much property as possible. The total loss is estimated at from $12,000 to $15,000.

LOCAL.

COURT REPORT CORRECTED.—A party to the suit State v. Lawrence promised the following corrections to our last Friday's Court Record: First, that the Rock Rose Co. did not entertain any suspicions of L. Second, that L. shew his possession of property at the time of his failure to be $16,000 (including his receipts) instead of $10,000. Third, that the letter of 1851 to Quackenboss did not set forth that L. owned real estate to the value of $7000 or $8000, but real estate, stocks, &c., &c., to the value of $7000 or $8000.—Fourth, that the cross examination did not disclose the fact that the material witness held much of the property of the respondent as collateral, but rather that a witness held but some $600, thus showing it a very erroneous record, in each and every paragraph.

Further complaint is, that no report whatever should be published during the time of trial; and lastly, these remarks are not intended to impeach the veracity of the reporter, but rather to correct the last Friday's report, and guard reporters against making other than a careful report during the excitement attending the trial. *

THE PORTSMOUTH ALMANAC AND ROCKINGHAM REGISTER.—This work, now in press, and soon to be issued from the New Hampshire Gazette office, will be one of the most valuable works ever published in this locality. Besides the usual astronomical calculations, which have been prepared expressly for Portsmouth by Mr. A. M. Hoyt, our well known teacher of Mathematics, it will contain statistics of every town in Rockingham County, and a list of town officers, postmasters, justices of peace, state and county officers, terms of the courts, and a great variety of other statistical information, and matters of constant reference to every person in the county. It will make a book of 75 pages, a portion of which will be occupied with a business register of Portsmouth, and all our traders who wish to avail themselves of an opportunity to put their cards before the public extensively and permanently, should not omit this method. Of the first edition three thousand copies will be printed.

POLICE COURT.—Monday, Oct. 1.—Before Justice Odell,—James Hansey, for being found drunk in the street was sentenced to 10 days in the House of Correction, and to pay costs, $4,42.

☞ Commodore J T Newton, the new commandant, arrived at the Navy Yard on Monday at noon, and was received with the usual honors, including a salute of artillery.

☞ The body of Mr. George Rose was found on Monday forenoon, near the place where he fell overboard.

Messrs. Editors:—I have been pleased to observe the elegant display of book-binding, and fancy articles with which Mr. P. Wenzel has adorned the window of his store on Congress street. These articles have recently taken the first premiums at the State and County Fairs, and will well repay a half-hours examination by our citizens. L.

A letter from the Crimea says: "Vultures are very numerous here. They smell the powder and await the end of a fight to throw themselves on their victims. After one of the recent combats, an English officer was found on the battle field, who had just expired, pressing in both his arms one of these birds of prey, dead, like himself, and which he had crushed in a last effort of agony.

The story that a lady teacher in the Webster School at Cambridge had received $70,000 from a "dying lover" in South America, is wholly denied by the Cambridge Chronicle.

Several manufacturing establishments in Rhode Island have suspended operations for want of water.

SCARCITY OF SHIPS.—There is felt and increasingly so, a great scarcity of shipping. Ships are scarce all the world over, and it is beginning to be experienced here to our very great inconvenience. Few ships have been built of late, while a large number have been burned or wrecked, and many withdrawn to the Crimea for the carrying trade which has increased in that direction.—N. Y. Post.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Sunny Side Parlor Cook.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum.—has been the cause of much and unbounded effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

ARRIVAL OF THE STAR OF THE WEST.
Twenty Days Later.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—The steamer Star of the West arrived at quarantine at 3 o'clock P. M., from San Juan, with California dates of the 5th inst., $1,150,000 in specie and 650 passengers.

Trade at San Francisco with the interior was dull, but goods arriving, were taken readily. Provisions had advanced. Pork—Mess $28, clear $30, hams in brine 18 1-2c, bacon, extra clear, $24; lard, kegs, 18c, tins, 20c; butter 55 a 60c; cheese 22c; hams 24c.—Crushed sugar declined. Domestic liquors, flour and coffee, drooping. Small lots of Gallego and Haxall flour have been sold for $13 50. Brown drills $10 50. Wheat crop short and inferior.

The miners were doing well. The State and County elections were progressing when the steamer left; the result was doubtful. Great political excitement prevailed.

The know nothing party, it is asserted, had bought up the Mormon vote in San Francisco county for $38,000, payable after the election. The Mormons have 800 votes. The whigs of San Francisco have reorganized and nominated a ticket which would detract from the know nothing vote.

A riot occurred at the sixth ward primary election on the 21st ult. Over twenty pistol shots were fired, and several persons were severely wounded.

Mrs. Mills, a daughter of the Chief of the Marquesas Islands, who had just returned from the Atlantic States, died 3d inst.

The Board of Examiners who were appointed to pass upon the San Francisco Comptroller's warrants, had rejected nearly $2,000,000.

The shock of an earthquake was felt along the coast of California on the 21st of Aug. At San Francisco it was very severe.

FROM THE PACIFIC COAST OF MEXICO.—News had been received in San Francisco of the success of the insurgents on the Pacific coast of Mexico. Gen. Comonfort had taken Zataplan by assault. Colima had surrendered, and the soldiers of the garrison joined the Revolutionists. Gen. Comonfort subsequently marched with 5000 troops to attack Guadalajara. The city of Zapatlan was sacked after its capture, and entirely demolished. The fight lasted two hours, during which 200 were killed, and many wounded on both sides. 7000 men were under Gen. Cevallos, and had marched for the city of Mexico.

The news of Santa Anna's flight had reached the coast, and already caused contention among the military leaders. At Guadalajara, Gen. Marques and Gamboa were fighting, the former being in favor of Gen. Uraga for President, the latter in favor of Cevallos.

The Star of the West brings the first number of Colonel Kinney's paper, "The Central American." The Colonel has been elected Governor of San Juan and its territory, and his paper contains his inaugural proclamation. He intimates that the difficulties with the Accessory Transit Company are about to be settled by amicable negotiation, and holds out the prospect that at the next session of the U. S. Congress, remuneration will be made by the American Government for the losses occasioned by the bombardment of Greytown.

Colonel Walker, with 150 men, landed at Virgin Bay on September 3d, when he was attacked by a party of 400 troops from Rivas, under General Mandiola; the latter was defeated with a loss of 50 men; Walker's loss was only five. It was reported that Col. Walker was to attack Rivas in a few days.

The Government has demanded the arms and ammunition lately received by the Transit Co., and now at Castillo.

HARRISBURGH, (Pa.,) Sept. 29.—The following address from the Central Committee of the whig, republican and American parties has been published:—

"To the people of Pennsylvania,—The whig party, the republican party, and the American party having each nominated a candidate for the office of Canal Commissioner, it became apparent that such a division of the elements of opposition to the national administration and its Nebraska fraud would inevitably lead to the triumphant election of Arnold Plummer, pro-slavery Nebraska candidate, and in view of these facts a meeting of our respective committees of said parties was held at Harrisburgh on Thursday, Sept. 27th, and their nominees having declined and been withdrawn, Thomas Nicholson of Beaver county was nominated as the candidate of the said parties, for the purpose of concentrating the votes of the anti-Nebraska party on one man, and he is hereby earnestly recommended to all the lovers of freedom in Pennsylvania as a capable, honest, and true hearted man, who is worthy of the support and confidence of the people.

By order of the Committee,
J. A. Fisher, Chairman Whig State Com.
L. Todd, " Am. " "
D. Wilmot, " Repub. " "

Dr. and Mrs. Gregorie Lamont,

THE Celebrated Physicians for DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, from 378 Broadway, New York, late of London, member of the Reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors, with a success unknown to the Physicians of this country, invite the attention of the sick and afflicted, laboring under any of the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, ulcerated or tuberculous lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, palpitation, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhœa, Piles, Fistulas, and concealed Abscesses of the Rectum, (Diseases of Kidney and Bladder) gravel, stone, &c., and all Female Complaints, such as Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, and all uterine complaints, such as Cancers, Tumors, enlargements, suppression of the Menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Scrofulous Affections, Spinal Deformities, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the Blood.

Mrs. Dr. LAMONT is the only Lady gifted with the power of telling Diseases at sight, by looking into the Eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at and those who are not able to call, by sending a card of address, they will call and give advice free, and as their stay will be short in this place, immediate attention to this card will be required to insure success.

Their terms for Medicines are very moderate in all cases. The invalid may depend on finding speedy relief by calling immediately on Dr. and Mrs. Lamont, as their stay will be short in this place.

☞ Please show this to your friends; it might be the means of saving a Valuable Life. s21

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.

Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,

76 State st., opp. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal thereof within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringements of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent. less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

Press, the Present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1854.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

G. W. STONE'S

Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the relief and affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few days time completely cure the most severe Cold As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal. It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received at this office, from those who have tested it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine: let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 25 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

PIANOS.

HALLETT, DAVIS & CO.

MANUFACTURERS of

GRAND AND SQUARE

PIANO-FORTES.

☞ Particular attention is solicited to our PATENT SUSPENSION BRIDGE GRAND AND PATENT GRAND ACTION, as applied to both Grand and Square Pianos.

WAREROOMS,

NEW FREESTONE BLOCK,

No. 409 WASHINGTON STREET,

NEAR BOYLSTON STREET.....BOSTON.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if not in the world, for brilliancy and purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make as noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

GRATIS.

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity for Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed without Medicine, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to CURE HIMSELF PERMANENTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to DR. B. DE LANEY, No. 17 Lispenard Street, New York City. a12 d&w6m*

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of STOVES:

Among which are the RAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal;

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement, has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked.

The HARP and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain and heavy, suited to our market as to quality and price;

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c.

PARLOR STOVES

Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

☞ Remember the place—No. 46 Market st. Give us a call and you shall be suited.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Save the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purchase once are sure to go again. OFFICE OF THE MARYLAND CONSOLIDATED LOTTERIES, Baltimore, Maryland, 20th June, 1855.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries begs leave to call the attention of the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F. X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor. Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address F. X BRENAN, ATTACK BY CATTLE ON A RED WAGON.—The following singular story is copird from Col. Claiborne's letters from the pine woods of Mississippi, published in the New Orleans Delta.

"I set out for Augusta (Geo.), bowling merrily along in a blood red buggy. The road was beautiful, rooted with trees and vines, and the air fragrant with the breath of flowers. There was only one drawback, the myriads of flies of every species that swarmed around and ravenously cupped the blood from the ears, neck and flank of my horse. It is appropriately termed here, "fly-time"; that is to say the period when the family of scourges have it all their own way, and neither man nor beast can venture into the woods with impunity. Now the cattle from a thousand hills, even the wild deer, seek the abodes of men, huddle around some smoking pipe, or stand in some open field to escape their periodical tormentors.

On a sudden turn in the road I found myself in one of these great 'stamping grounds,' and a simultaneous roar from five hundred infuriated animals gave notice of my danger.

It is well known that the Spanish matadores provoke the wounded bulls of the arena by flaunting the moleta or blood red flag before them. It was the color of my equipage that excited this bellowing herd.—They snuffed the air, planted their heads near the ground, tore up the earth with their hoofs and horns, and glared at me with savage eyes. The fierce phalanx blocked the road, and the part of discretion was to retreat.

The moment I wheeled, the pursuit commenced. A cloud of dust enveloped them and their tramping feet was like thunder. My horse dashed forward, frantic with terror, and on they plunged, on every side, crushing down everything in their cause, goring and tumbling over each other, filling the woods with their dreadful cries, and gathering nearer and nearer in the fearful chase. The contest became desperate. In five minutes more we should have been overturned and trampled to death; but at this juncture I threw off my overcoat, and with an awful clamor thek tore it in shreds. Driving at full speed, I tossed out a cushion; the infuriated devils trampled it into atoms and came rushing on, their horns clashing against the buggy and ripping up the ribs of my horse. At this moment we were providentially saved.

A monstrous oak with a forked top had fallen near the road, and into this I plunged my horse breast high, and he was then safe, the back of the buggy being then the only available point. At this the whole column made a dash, but I met the foremost with six charges from a revolver, two bottles of Sewell Taylor's best were shivere in their faces; next a cold turkey, and finally a bottle of old Scotch snuff—the last shot in the locker. This did the business. Such a sneezing and bellowing was never heard before; and the one that got it put out with the whole troop at his heels, scenting the blood that had been spilled, and shaking the earth with their thundering tramp. I was fairly in for it and made up my mind to remain until sunset, when they would disperse, as in fly time cattle graze at night.

I was relieved, however, by the approach of some cattle drivers, who galloping on shaggy but muscular horses, and with whips twenty feet long, which they manage with surprising dexterity, they soon drove the herd to their 'cowpens,' for the purpose of marking and branding. This is done every year in fly time. The cattle ranging, scattered thirty miles around, are now easily found collected at their stamping ground, and are driven to a common pen or pound, where their respective owners assemble and put their marks and brands on the increase of the season. Thus the Egyptian plague is turned to a useful purpose."

In Paris the telegraphs are laid under the ground, no poles being seen in the streets. A trench is dug 12 or 15 feet wide, in which the wires are placed side by side, but not so as to touch each other. Liquid bitumen is then poured on, which surrounds the wires and completely isolates them. It secures them from damage by accident, and from being deranged by atmospheric influence.

A STRANGE BEAST.—The Thomaston, Me., Journal, Sept. 27th says:

A highly respectable and intelligent gentleman writes us from St. George giving a description of a singular wild animal which has appeared in that vicinity. The writer says:—

"Last night (Sunday night) I was awakened by the barking of my dog, and on rising up in bed heard a noise in the yard which sounded like the snorting of a horse. I immediately arose and went to the window; it being a bright moonlight evening, I saw distinctly an animal of hideous shape, looking directly at the window where I stood; his eyes shone like balls of fire; the dog was very much frightened and barked loudly. I procured my gun and discharged it from the window, when the monster moved off slowly towards the river. His hind legs seemed to be somewhat shorter than his forward ones; his body was covered (as near as I could judge) with scales of a bright red and green color; his head resembled that of a hog, but a larger mouth. For several weeks past, sheep and young cattle have disappeared mysteriously,—but the mystery is now partly cleared up. The tracks which I found in my barn-yard the following morning were very large and resembled those of a web-footed bird. If I see or hear anything further of this monstrous animal I will let you know it."

A very strange bird indeed, must this be.—Perhaps a Mermaid; but more probably a Nightmare.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1855.

FAVORABLE CIRCUMSTANCES.—The Portland Argus, speaking of the Maine legislature, says:

The next legislature will be one of the ablest that has ever assembled in the State. It is composed largely of men ripe in knowledge and experience, who will have no interest to do otherwise than right, and whose strongest desire will be to perfect such legal measures as will best promote the cause of temperance.

We happen to be acquainted with the representatives from Kittery and York, and take pleasure in saying that they are men of temperate habits, we believe both teetotalers, and well wishers to the cause of temperance.—And we understand that the same thing is true of two other towns near us. Yet they were elected generally by small majorities, ever avowed supporters of the present law. In every case, they owe their election to the votes of many who wish to have rum as free as water. Under these circumstances, they may, possibly, have some little interest to please their constituents, and perhaps a strong desire to do so.—The Argus however assures us, that their strongest desire is to perfect the laws to promote temperance! If this surprises any of our readers in this city, they may read it for themselves in the Argus of last Saturday.

There will be no strife to get this, or that man's peculiar views enacted into law.

If this be so, the Millenium must have arrived, in more senses than one.

—But a general, and we believe a unanimous, earnest wish to have the law, they shall adopt, embody the combined wisdom of all. * * * Keeping steadily in view, that the object of the law is to promote temperance, we cannot doubt, that with the ability, experience, legal knowledge and sincere desire for the promotion of this object, which the legislature will possess, that it will be able to perfect a law which will fully satisfy the sincere friends of temperance of all parties!

We think this would be a difficult task.—We have seen every temperance effort opposed, even the mildest; and we have also seen every successive license and restrictive law opposed, whenever they have been attempted to be enforced, during the last forty years. And therefore we do not believe that the able legislature of Maine, with Judge Wells in the governor's chair, and the combined wisdom of all parties, can make a law that will fully satisfy all hands.

Let us look at the different parties of sincere friends of temperance. We put out of the account, here, all such fanatics as Dow and Peck, and Morrill and Stevens; and indeed all the Republican party. We will take such friends of true temperance, as the Portland Expositor, State of Maine and Argus; Shepard Cary and the Wild Cats; F. O. J. Smith, John A. Poor, and the straight whigs; Messrs Clapp and Clifford, and their kind of democrats; and Judge Wells and his kind.

Does any man suppose that all these parties of true friends can sleep sweetly together on one great mattress of a law to promote temperance? If he does, his faith is altogether beyond a grain of mustard seed.

It is needless for us to add that such a law will of necessity be free from the absurd features, and those provisions so oppressive upon innocent parties, which exist in the present law, and that it will be adapted to the character of our people. * * * *

Right; right! If it is to suit all those we have mentioned, (leaving out their opponents,) it must have no features at all.

Such a law we believe will be passed the coming winter, and will be fully sanctioned by the people of Maine. Without attempting to suggest details, we shall in future articles discuss some of the principles essential to such a law, and note some of the errors it must avoid.

Right again! It is wise to avoid details, lest we make shipwreck of the harmony, wake up the sleepers, and set the happy family in an uproar.

The principles of a law are easily suggested—but the detail, the working of a law, is the place where the shoe pinches. The whole difficulty lies there.

The lack of truthfulness, of honesty, of openness, of sincerity, of temperance, of christian self-denial, is seen and felt at every step, when men try to "promote temperance," or any good thing, by the force of law. We learned, long ago, to rely but little on any human enactments, for the promotion of any virtue. The best that any such statute can do, is to punish an offender for some overt act of wickedness, and thereby keep some other wicked man in check. We hope the new legislature of Maine will make the best laws ever devised by man. But we shall know more about it if we live a year. In the mean-time our expectations from that quarter are but moderate.

A change of parties, or some little change in laws, for the better or the worse, cannot greatly move our hope or fear for the progress of temperance, which is a thing quite distinct from statute law. The restrictive laws of the present time, are the natural result of the moral and Washingtonian efforts of the last twenty or thirty years.

The laws are rather the effect and measure of progress, than the cause of it. The moral principle, without the law, is something;—the law without the principle, is nothing.

LETTERS FROM GERMANY.—No. 8.

BONN, August 21, 1855.

Messrs. Editors:—Between Cologne and Bonn there is but one object worthy of notice, and that is an old palace once occupied by the Archbishop of Cologne, who stood at the head of the Electors by whom the Emperor of the German States was chosen. The palace stands near one corner of a park, containing, I should judge, fifty or sixty acres, mostly covered by beech, lyme and ash trees, transplanted about one hundred and thirty years since, and presenting at the present time the appearance of an old forest. Near the centre are two artificial ponds of water, covering together perhaps half an acre. In the centre of one of these rises a jet of water about sixty feet, in which, as it falls, rainbows are constantly seen when the sun shines, ever shifting and changing, as it dancing to the music of the falling waters. In the other is an old swan, a great favorite with visitors, who often carry with them pieces of bread, cakes, &c., for his especial benefit. The old schloss, or castle, is itself quite a curiosity, especially to an American. I spent two or three hours one afternoon, in company with a little family from Bonn, in viewing its various apartments, now stripped of all their furniture and decorations except a few full length portraits of former emperors, princes, princesses and electors. In one wing are the rooms occupied by Queen Victoria, who was received here by Frederic William IV., the present King of Prussia, in 1842 I think, and entertained a few days, while she attended the Beethoven festival at Bonn, and honored with her presence the erection of an iron statue to the memory of that great musical composer. Two tables and a few chairs still remain in the room used as her parlor. The tops of the tables are slabs of white marble, the frames and carved legs are completely covered with gilding, and they would appear quite gaudy and elegant were it not for a heavy clumsiness that characterizes all the furniture I have yet seen in Prussia.

Bonn lies on the left bank of the Rhine, about seventeen miles from Cologne by railway. It is a very old town, and the admiration of every traveller; not that the city itself is so beautiful, but the surrounding country. Here the beauties of the Rhine commence.—Of the various objects of interest around Bonn, I must, however, write at another time. The city itself claims first attention. Bonn was probably first settled by the Ubii, the aborigines of the banks of the Rhine. The Romans afterwards occupied it, and Drusus Germanicus erected a bridge here across the river. He also founded a castle which the Emperor Julian afterwards enlarged. In the fifth century it was held for a short time by Attila, king of the Huns, but after his defeat by the Romans and Goths at Chalons, he retreated beyond Bonn and destroyed every thing as he went. Passing over several events we find Bonn destroyed again in 882, and again in 892 by the Normans. From 1056 to 1260 this region was the scene of terrible conflicts between Count Henry the Furious, and Archbishop Hanno of Cologne. From 1197 to 1207 the contest between Philip of Swabia, and Otto, son of Henry the Lion, again desolated this whole region. Cologne embraced the cause of Otto, and Bonn that of Philip. In 1240, the city was surrounded with walls by Archbishop Konrad, and about ten years afterwards was received into the Hanseatic and Rheinish Confederacy. Toward the end of the 16th century, in the war that followed the conversion of Archbishop Gebhard to the Protestant faith, Bonn was again laid in ashes. In 1673 the French were besieged here by the Dutch, Austrians and Spaniards. In 1689 the city was bombarded by the Brandenburgians. In 1703 it went over to Marlborough, and, besides many other changes it has undergone, in 1813 a number of Bonaparte's troops were quartered here.

These are only a part of the conflicts, desolations and revolutions through which this little city of Bonn has passed. I have mentioned these that the peaceable, quiet, undisturbed inhabitants of Portsmouth may have a glimpse of the history of an old European town, and be able to form some idea of the scenes through which a people ruled by despots and ever at the mercy of the strongest party, must pass; scenes too, which if the visions of European politicians are true, are yet in reserve for the now happy, unalarmed cities and villages of the United States. A politician of no mean distinction said to me a few days ago, "the future of America is hard." And who indeed can doubt it, if the principles of the pro-slavery oligarchy are to direct and control her destinies? Give such men as Pierce, Douglas, Atchison and Stringfellow the reins of government, and there is no doubt whatever that it requires only time to have the history of Bonn repeated in the history of many a city in the United States. Hoping, however, for very different results, I remain Yours, &c., T. M.

LOCAL.

☞ Mr Mozart's Concert, with his fine quartette, will take place this evening, at the Temple.

The Boston Transcript calls them "our favorite quartette," has no hesitation in recommending them as in the highest degree worthy of patronage, and bespeaks for them a full house.

The instrument to be used is one of the rich and powerful Grand Pianos from the unexcelled establishment of Hallett, Davis & Co., Boston; and from what we are promised in Mr Lang, we have no doubt he will bring out its beauties, and fill the Temple with the richest harmony.

MASSACHUSETTS.—The Bee gives the following item of speculation on the coming election in Massachusetts.

American Ticket,	71,250
Democratic,	29,675
Whig,	17,075
Republican,	13,150
Scattering,	1,125
Total,	131,275

The Bee is the American or K. N. organ; and of course its estimate must be qualified accordingly. Other papers make their guesses as favorable to Beach or Rockwell, as the Bee does to its candidate yet to be nominated. We give the guesses for what they are worth. A plurality elects; and in the multitude of parties there is no probability that any one will have a majority. We regard the election rather in the light of a lottery.

NEW PERIODICALS.—Mr R. B. Marsh, agent for periodicals in this city and vicinity, has laid on our table the Ladies' Keepsake and Home Library for October, with two beautiful engravings; and the Ladies' Wreath and Parlor Annual for October, with a view of Brownwood Female Institute.

Both are cheap monthlies of established reputation, and of good moral tendency.

INCENDIARY FIRES.—The Boston Times informs us that on Saturday morning, Constable Sprague of Medford, arrested four young men named Charles W. Richardson, James E. Beck, Samuel P. Merrill, and Alonzo Sherman, charged with the offence of setting the various fires that have occurred there lately.

The arrests are made in consequence of the confessions of one of the gang (Richardson) and his exposure of the rest. It has been the practice of the four to meet, generally, on Saturday nights, and set fire for the purpose of getting out the engines, of which, they were all members. They were partially examined on Saturday afternoon, when it was ascertained that they had set fire to several barns in the vicinity, and that on Tuesday night last, it was their intention to have burnt the Railroad depot in Medford, to effect which they had torn a clapboard from the building and filled the opening with light articles of combustion saturated with turpentine, but as they were about to apply the match, Richardson suggested the idea that the wind was too high and might endanger too much other property, and persuaded the others to defer it till Saturday night. Their arrest prevented a conflagration that might have destroyed the whole square. Merrill and Richardson also made charges against each other of attempting to burn the Methodist meeting house in Medford. In default of bail in $1000 each, they were taken to Cambridge jail to await examination. It is thought that more are concerned in the affair who may be brought out at the examination. Three of the parties arrested are painters, and have all borne a good character but Merrill, who has been for some time suspected. Sherman is a very young man.

Twice, within our recollection, the Fire Department of Boston has become a nuisance so intolerable, as to make it needful to break it up. In one of these cases, we remember distinctly, that several engine houses were used as stands for drinking, gambling, and loafing, especially on Sundays and evenings.

We know nothing of these Medford boys, except what we learn from the Times as above: but we hazard nothing at all, when we guess that every one of these, notwithstanding their "good character," belonged to that class of nice young men who despise all fanatics and hypocrites, and who claim the right to eat and drink what they please.

A SAD SCENE.—We saw last evening about 6 o'clock, a lad not over 12 years of age, reeling along the street so drunk he could not stand erect. Some of his companions were trying to get him home. The father of this boy, we understand, has been before our Courts more than once for illegally selling intoxicating liquors.—Portland Advertiser.

Yes, a sad scene truly! Are we indebted to the present liquor law for the exhibition?—Argus.

No, sir: we are indebted to the liquor, and to the father, who disobeys the law.

It appears by the official register of the U. S. new Naval School for boys, at Charlestown, Mass., that Valorous Hobbs, son of Mr John Hobbs of Great Falls, stands one of the highest two in the roll of merit.

☞ Steamer George Law arrived at New York on Tuesday, with the California mails, $775,000, and 490 passengers. She brings no news of importance. $700 were raised among her passengers, for the sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va.

☞ The Whig Convention of Massachusetts, met at Worcester on Tuesday, and nominated Samuel H. Walley, of Roxbury, for Governor.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Samuel Willard of Sanford, Me., on Friday, the 14th ult., while on business at Alfred, died very suddenly, probably from some organic disease of the heart. He was in conversation with a friend of his, and dropped down and died instantly. Mr Willard was a very promising young man; he was twenty-five years of age, and apparently in perfect health at the time.—Saco Dem.

A LONG SENTENCE.—Patrick Lormy was sentenced in the Court of Common Pleas, at Dedham, Mass., on Monday, to sixteen years confinement in the State Prison, for burglary. He was found guilty on three indictments.—According to his confession, he committed nineteen burglaries in Roxbury. He is 19 years old, and is represented as a most desperate character.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Asthma and Consumption, is universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

TO obtain a PARLOR OVEN STOVE, that would combine the two qualities of a truly good and ornamental Stove, and at the same time could be relied upon to bake and boil when required,—from the demand for and the convenience of such a desideratum,—has been the cause of much and continued effort among manufacturers. With these facts in view, the proprietor of this patent has, this season, perfected and brought into the market, a Stove that proves to be THE Parlor Cook wanted. The demand for this Stove exceeds the supply, and all who desire the handsomest and best Stove in the market, are invited to examine the "Sunny Side" of the picture here so imperfectly portrayed.

o2 THOMAS S. NOWELL.

BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—The Investigating Committee found, among other things, that the system of borrowing, for the payment of dividends, commenced in 1854, and that money was borrowed for the purpose of putting the Company in funds to pay each of the last two dividends.

The causes of this departure from the established policy of the road, the Committee inquired into, and give at length. The operations with the Danvers and Georgetown roads are, in their opinion, the principal cause of the present difficulties. They also sought to discover why the assets of the road had not been converted to the purpose of furnishing funds for these advances to the Danvers line, instead of diverting current receipts to that purpose. The astounding fact that $132,985 32 of the notes receivable are overdue and dishonored, must be qualified by the facts that some of the sureties are making arrangements to compromise a part of their liabilities, and that collateral to some extent exists. Also, some of the past due have been paid since the Annual Report.

The prospect of the Company in reference to the dividend next January, is stated, and, without expressing any opinion, they intimate that unless it can be paid out of the earnings, without resorting a third time to borrowing, it had better be passed.

The Committee express their regret that a rivalry in business between the Eastern and Boston & Maine should ever have led these corporations into the policy of building or sustaining roads from one line to the other, whose legitimate business was inadequate to their support, and which could only become profitable or valuable by diverting traffic from the other great road leading to Boston. The expenditure incurred in creating these causes of reciprocal annoyance, amounts to over $2,500,000, a large portion of which has been drawn from the treasuries of the two roads. Not only may this capital be considered absolutely sunk, but the leases taken by the respective trunk roads compel them to the performance of a continued onerous duty of running such roads, at an annual loss, of which we cannot see the end.

The committee recommend an advance in the rates now charged manufacturing corporations and connecting roads. As to the expediency of building a new freight house, as recommended by the directors in their report, the committee say:

They are not disposed to advise that the real estate of the Corporation should not be improved; nor that the proposed freight house would not be a valuable building when erected; but they do distinctly say that they see no reason for borrowing money to build, at this time, more than a half-acre of warehouse, and an acre and a half of bridging and filling, to accommodate freight which has diminished in the past year.

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—There is a rumor current in our political circles that the hard and soft State Committees have had a meeting and agreed to a fusion, dividing the State nominees between the two parties.

The republican Central Committee met on Saturday evening, and endorsed the platform and ticket of the State Convention.

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 1.—An important amendment to the Constitution was voted for in this State to-day. It prohibits the making of any more voters that cannot read. There was much effort made here. The result is for the amendment 1608, against 1168, making 440 majority. In Hartford 390 majority, Waterbury 197, Derby 111, making over 1000 majority of affirmative votes in four towns. The general belief is that the measure is carried by a large vote.

The collections in the churches of Newburyport, on Sunday, for the Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. sufferers, were very liberal. The total will reach $1000.

Patents.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN OFFICE.
Agency for business with US Patent Office, Washington,
76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby our Specifications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent. less than others in the profession,) but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries: besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, secured through agents of the highest respectability.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assisting inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.

Dr. and Mrs. Gregorie Lamont,

THE Celebrated Physicians for DISEASES OF THE THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, and all DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, from 378 Broadway, New York, late of London, member of the Reformed Medical College, New York, and the first who advocated inhalations for diseases of the Lungs, treat all diseases of the Chest by the inhalation of Hot Medical Vapors, with a success unknown to the Physicians of this country, invites the attention of the sick and afflicted, laboring under any of the various forms of diseases, such as Coughs, ulcerated or tuberculous lungs, chronic catarrh, night sweats, nervous complaints, palpitation, ossification or dropsy of the heart, dyspepsia, liver complaint, chronic diarrhœa, Piles, Fistulas, and concealed Abscesses of the Rectum, (Diseases of Kidney and Bladder) gravel, stone, &c, and all Female Complaints, such as Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb, and all uterine complaints, such as Cancers, Tumors, enlargements, suppression of the Menses, excessive menstruation, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Scrofulous Affections, Spinal Deformities, and poisonous inoculations, and all diseases of the Blood.

Mrs Dr. Lamont is the only Lady gifted with the power of telling Diseases at sight, by looking into the Eye, without the patient saying a word to her. She can tell them how they are affected in every particular, and prescribe for their immediate relief and permanent cure of their complaints. They can be consulted for a short time, free of charge, at and those who are not able to call, by sending a card of address, they will call and give advice free, and as their stay will be short in this place, immediate attention to this card will be required to insure success.

Their terms for Medicines are very moderate in all cases. The invalid may depend on finding speedy relief by calling immediately on Dr. and Mrs. Lamont, as their stay will be short in this place.

☞ Please show this to your friends; it might be the means of saving a Valuable Life. e21

REMARKABLE ACCIDENT AT THE MAINE RAILROAD DEPOT—A RUNAWAY ENGINE.—A singular accident occurred at the Maine Railroad Depot in this city, Thursday morning. The locomotive Bay State had been, as usual, when approaching Causeway street with an inward train, disengaged from the passenger cars in order to switch off upon a side track and allow the cars to pass along. The engineer however, soon discovered that the switch had not been altered, and he shut off steam. This brought the train behind, which was under headway, upon him, and a collision of some severity occurred, in the confusion of which the engineer and firemen jumped from the engine. The force of the collision, however, moved the machinery of the engine so as to put on the steam again, and the locomotive commenced moving up the track towards the passenger depot at a great speed, which was increasing every moment, and with every probability of passing with terrible momentum through the passenger depot filled with cars and passengers.

Fortunately a switchman at the Traverse street crossing saw the approaching engine, and knowing that something was wrong, promptly and with much presence of mind changed the switch and turned the locomotive off the track. The engine ploughed up the street plank platform for a considerable distance, and passed half through a wooden shed. No one was injured. One man saw the engine approaching and had just time to leap upon a wood pile, almost covering him with wooden fragments. The engine was not much injured.—Boston Traveller.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now generally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America. If in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be produced by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Transcript.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Forte, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Morning Herald.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can wholeheartedly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Piano.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

G. W. STONE'S
Cough, Consumption, and Bronchitis ELIXER.

THE Proprietor would respectfully call the attention of the public to his invaluable Remedy for all Affections of the Throat and Lungs and begs of those who are undecided what to select, from the numerous medicines advertised, and recommended for such complaints, to give his ELIXER a trial. Having done so, they will no longer hesitate what to take themselves, or recommend to others. A single trial will prove to them that this is the most valuable remedy ever discovered for the various affections of the Throat and Lungs; it will immediately relieve the most violent Cough, and in a few hours completely cure the most severe Cold. As a Preventive and Cure for Consumption, it has no equal.—It is purely Vegetable, contains no poisonous ingredients, is quite agreeable to the taste, and may be given with perfect safety to the most delicate child. The numerous testimonials received almost daily from those who have been cured by it, fully justify the assertion that no family should be without this Medicine. Let Mothers give it to their Children who have the Whooping Cough or Croup, and they will alleviate at once the sufferings of their little ones. Price 50 cts.

Call for G. W. Stone's Cough Elixir, and see that his name, and Cough Elixir, with the words Boston, Mass., are blown upon the Bottle, without which none will be genuine.

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indisposition and Incapacity for Study and Labor, Dullness of Apprehension, Loss of Memory, Aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities in man

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to CURE HIMSELF PERFECTLY, AND AT THE LEAST POSSIBLE COST, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Sent to any address, gratis, and post free by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. B. DE LANEY, No. 17 Lispenard Street, New York City. s12 d&w6m*

Cook and Parlor Stoves!

E. A. Stevens, 46 Market Street,

WOULD invite attention to his Stock of
STOVES:
Among which are the BAY STATE, an old favorite of seven years' standing, thoroughly tested and approved for wood or coal.

The Providence BANNER, a first class wood or coal Stove, very beautiful in form and design, and perfect in arrangement; has had three years' trial in this city and proved satisfactory in every instance.

The LILY DALE is a neat cheap Stove for coal or wood, brought into market last year, and is very much liked.

The HARP and SWEET HOME are new Stoves, brought out this season; they are plain, but recommended to our market as to quality and price.

FUNNEL, COAL HODS, &c.

PARLOR STOVES
Of every kind, for wood or coal, with or without ovens; Box Stoves; Cylinder Stoves; Pyramid Stoves in great variety. All of which will be sold Cheap for Cash.

☞ Remember the place—No. 46 Market st. Give us a call and you shall be suited.

Potter's Hair Balm.

THE Proprietor offers this Balm to the public with entire confidence, from the fact that it has produced new hair on the heads of those who have been bald for years. It also purifies the head from Dandruff, cures diseases of the Scalp, preserves the hair from falling off or becoming prematurely gray. For the toilet the ladies will find this an invaluable article, as it removes all unnatural harshness and dryness of the hair, and at the same time imparts a very brilliant and glossy appearance. Says the Concord Freeman—

"POTTER'S HAIR BALM.—This valuable preparation for the hair is meeting with the success which it so well deserves. The sales are constantly increasing and those who purcease once are sure to go again. The proprietor has certificates from many of the most respectable persons in this and the neighboring towns, testifying to its excellence. We invite all who wish for a first rate preparation of baldness and the diseases of the head, to obtain a bottle of Potter's Hair Balm."

25,000 Bottles sold the past year. Price 25 and 50 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State in the new Constitution to conduct and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F. X. BRENAN, General Agent for the Contractor, Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address F. X. WONDERS OF ELECTRICITY.—A French paper, the "Echo du Nord" publishes the following story:

A peasant recently received from Sebastopol a missive from his son in which he said: "All goes well, I still keep on my two legs, and see with my two eyes, but I have no shoes, send me some new shoes, but send them quickly. If you can send me a hundred sous piece also it will make me happy for a long time. Embrace my mother, my sister Nicola, Catherine, &c., for me.

The father hastened to get the shoes made and started to carry them, but where should he go? He had no idea, all he knew was that the shoes must be sent and that quickly. He was ruminating on the best way, when he espied in front of him the wires of the electric telegraph. "Good, this is the thing," said he, "the boy will not complain of delay, for they say this goes quick enough."

There was an address on the sole, and the happy father climbed to the top of one of the posts which sustained the telegraphic wires, hung the shoes, which were held together by a strip of leather, to the post, descended and returned to the village saying "thanks to the telegraph."

Two hours after a company of journeymen masons passed that way returning from their work. One of them perceived the shoes dangling in the air, and wishing to profit by his fortunate chance he ascended the pole, seized the shoes, put them on his feet and his old shoes in their place—"Mine will be good enough to be killed in," said he, and he went his way.

Who knows if the old shoes of the mason would not have been still hanging on the telegraph wires, if the next day the old peasant had not been desirous to see the effect of his attempts to send the shoes. At first he began to doubt the efficiency of this mode of conveyance, for at a distance he saw the old shoes still hanging in the same place, but on coming nearer he discovered the exact state of the shoes, and his astonishment became still greater. It was with profound amazement he cried out, "A miracle, a miracle, he has got the new, and sent me back his old shoes, already."

FISHING BUSINESS IN GLOUCESTER.—Last week, one of the inspectors had at his wharf seven vessels to be packed out, with over 1800 barrels of mackerel. The fleet from Gloucester in the British waters this year is very large, one firm alone having 26 vessels, and many others having from 6 to 15 each. The quality of the mackerel brought, thus far, this year, is not so good as in former seasons, being principally small No. 2s, worth about $7.50 per barrel. There are a few exceptions, however, one vessel returning last week with principally No. 1s, selling them at $19.56 per barrel, and the trip amounting to $4200! To man the vessels now from Gloucester at the bay requires about 3000 men.

CRANBERRIES.—The growers of cranberries on the Cape, have this fall been realizing enormous prices for their produce. In the early part of the season a Boston merchant bought up what he could at $10 per barrel, in some of the towns. Last week an advance of $2 upon the previous price was offered, accepted by some of the growers, and still it is believed that higher prices will yet be realized, and such is the force of this conviction that a few are holding back, hoping that $14 will yet be obtained.—Yarmouth Register.

One of the curiosities of Paris is the enormous vine which ornaments the court of a house in the Rue des Marais, St. Germain. It is said to have been planted by Racine, and supposing that he did it in the last year of his life, it must be now about 156 years of age, as that celebrated writer died in 1639. It is this year in a flourishing condition, and covered with fruit.

DONATION PARTY IN THE OLDEN TIME.—In a copy of the old Cumberland Gazette, printed at Portland, and dated May 8th, 1789, is the following account of a Spinning Bee held at the house of Rev. Samuel Deane, who for many years was pastor of the First Parish Church in Portland. It shows how donation parties were conducted in the olden time:

On the 1st instant, assembled at the house of Rev. Samuel Deane, of this town, more than 100 of the fair sex, married and single ladies; most of whom were skilled in the important art of spinning. An omulous industry was never more apparent than in this beautiful assembly. The majority of fair hands gave motion to not less than sixty wheels. Many were occupied in preparing materials, besides those who attended to the entertainment of the rest—provision for which was mostly presented by the guests themselves, or sent in by other generous promoters of the exhibition, as were also the materials for work. Near the close of the day, Mrs Deane was presented by the company with two hundred and thirty-six seven knotted skeins of excellent cotton and linen yarn, the work of the day, excepting about a dozen skeins which some of the company brought in ready spun. Some had spun six, and many not less than five skeins apiece. She takes this opportunity of returning thanks to each, which the hurry of the day rendered impracticable at the time. To conclude and crown the day, a numerous band of the best singers attended in the evening, and performed an agreeable variety of excellent pieces in psalmody.

We might possibly get up as good singing now—but as to the spinning—that day is gone never to return. The donation party in some form, however, is seen to be an old institution.

Editorial Correspondence of the Chronicle.

NOTES OF A PLEASURE TRIP—No. 5.

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., Sept. 28.

Taking the cars again at Myricks, from Freetown, a ride of a dozen miles over the New Bedford & Taunton road, brought us to New Bedford. This flourishing city, of oily celebrity, is finely situated on the sloping west bank of the Acushnet river, and is seen to great advantage from Fairhaven, on the other side of the river. The two towns were one till 1812. A fine steam ferry boat runs between, and a noble bridge, 6000 feet in length, which cost $30,000, connects them.—The inhabitants have been engaged in the whale fishery ever since 1764, except when interrupted by war; and have amassed great wealth by this business, in which most experimenters from other parts of the country have failed. There are now upwards of two hundred and fifty ships owned here, engaged in whaling, besides a few vessels of smaller size. In 1843, (which is the latest data we have) the number of barrels of oil brought into this port, was upwards of one hundred thousand; and we were told that the stock now in the hands of dealers there, is twenty thousand barrels. The value of the imports of oil and whalebone in 1843, was about two and a half million dollars.

The business part of New Bedford is not very imposing, consisting mostly of wooden buildings, and those not of the best style; a few fine blocks have recently been erected, however, and others are in course of construction. Many of the residences on the hill, above, are very attractive, and there are also many fine gardens. That attached to the residence of James Arnold, Esq., is continually open to the public. It is very extensive, and tastefully laid out. One singular feature we noticed—the training of peach, pear, and other fruit and shade trees, on walls and arbors, similar to vines—by which a large tree is confined in very narrow limits, without detriment, judging from their thrifty appearance and full bearing.

It was the day of the Bristol County Fair, and tour balls were filled with a creditable exhibit of agricultural, mechanic and manufacturing products. A marrowfat Squash vine grew to the length of 344 feet, and brought forth fruit to the amount of 433 pounds, the largest specimen weighing 151. One gentleman exhibited 130 varieties of Pears, and two others upwards of 120, all from private gardens. The display of Apples was fine, one man's collection embracing 118 varieties. Grapes appeared in an abundance, and perfection which would not bring discredit on the land of Canaan. One of the most beautiful articles to us, was a circular shield, perhaps a yard in diameter, covered with about two hundred dahlias, the colors tastefully arranged, and the whole fringed with oak leaves.

It is singular how fashion prevails everywhere, ruling everything. In Boston much of the teaming is done on trucks; in New York the little carts or drays almost entirely take their place; while in Providence and New Bedford, nearly all the team carriages are four wheeled platforms hung beneath the axles. In New Bedford it is not uncommon to see three team horses harnessed abreast.—The two wheeled jumpers, or two seated gigs, so popular down east, are much used here.—The sidewalks of New Bedford are exclusively of stone; which though well laid and regular, we regard as inferior to brick.

The new Point Road, laid out by the city a year or two since, at an expense of $60,000, for a pleasure route, offers a most superb chance for a drive. It is a mile or two from the city, and four miles in extent, round a point of high land extending out into Buzzard's Bay; is uniformly eighty feet wide, and beautifully level, and runs for the entire distance within a few rods of the water. Salt works abound here, the wind-mills used for raising the salt water to the vats, giving an appearance of life to the scene.

Two daily papers are printed in New Bedford—the Mercury (morning) and Standard (evening). In the general mussing-up of politics, both seem now to occupy pretty nearly the same ground, that of the fusion or Republican party. It may be, that the confusion in the State, will result in the election of the "liberal" or rum candidates—of which many here are fearful.

A whale ship had just returned from a successful voyage—the captain of which tells a queer story of his cook, a young fellow from the rural districts. On applying to the owners for the cook's birth, he was told to bring specimens of his cookery, which proving satisfactory, he was shipped. After getting to sea, the captain was enraged to find that he knew no more about housekeeping than a modern boarding school butterfly, and giving him a dose of rope's end, sent him into a boat's crew—he having confessed that his cookery specimens were from the larder of his landlady!

We were pleased to find the venerable Rev. Moses Howe, now nearly three score and ten, seemingly as young as when located in Portsmouth. He is busily and advantageously engaged here, as Bethel preacher—an arduous and responsible situation. He is very frequently called upon to officiate in the matrimonial line, and has married upwards of sixty couples during the current year. Long may he wave!

Our visit to Middleborough, old Plymouth, &c., so interested us, that we must make it the subject of another letter. P.

EXTRACTS.—A writer, (?) supposed to be a man of mark, in the State of Maine newspaper, says:

1. Now we submit that the principle of prohibition has had a fair trial. * * * *

2. Having passed through the fiery furnace of the last several times, it has at last been consumed. * * * *

3. All that now remains is to try the effect of moral suasion, and constitutional, reasonable legislation. By neither of these means alone, not by both of them combined, can the curse of Intemperance be removed from our land. But the "Samaritans" of our State have taken courage again. * * * *

4. These men and these societies can be greatly aided by legislative interference, provided it be judicious and temperate. If it should be found expedient to introduce the principle of prohibition, with proper modifications and restraints, we should despise the man who would let his former dislike of the measure control his opinion of its efficiency under any and all circumstances.

We cut these little chips out of a long piece, numbered them, and put them together, that the writer may tell us, if he can, what he means by them.

Chip No. 1. gives the principle of prohibition a fair trial; and Chip No. 2. condemns it to be consumed, which we suppose meant utter destruction. But we read on; and Chip No. 3 puts moral suasion exactly into the place where we use it. And strange to say, in Chip No. 4. we are informed that it may be found expedient to introduce again the principle of prohibition, that was tried and found wanting in No. 1, and burnt up in No. 2. Not only so, Mr * tells us he would despise the man who would entertain a bad opinion of it.

The wisdom of this, to us is past finding out. Do tell us how we are to take the sense of it? Is the principle burnt up? or only the prohibition? or how?

LIBERAL LEGISLATION.—The Bangor Democrat says:

They [the people of Maine,] have determined that its unconstitutional provisions, search, seizure, and destruction of spirituous liquors, shall not longer disgrace our statute books—they have determined that hereafter the sale of spirituous liquors shall be regulated, not prohibited. We trust the miserable humbug of purchasing spirituous liquors for medicinal and mechanical purposes when in fact the use intended is a different one, will not outlive the next session of the legislature. We sincerely trust that the Maine Law will be cut down root and branch, and such an act passed that will protect the liberty of the citizens and at the same time promote temperance.

THE LAW.—The Springfield Ms. Republican says the Supreme Court has made this important opinion in the course of their decisions upon liquor cases:

"That members of the 'Carson League,' and also members of any Society for the defeat of any statute of the Commonwealth, who were banded together and contributing money, &c., to effect their object, were equally unfit to serve as jurors." The Republican thinks this will diminish the candidates for the jury box very sensibly.

☞ The North American Review for October is laid on our table by the editor. The critical notices are valuable: the short but sharp cut on Abbott's Life of Napoleon is only just; and will, we hope, be followed up by a more extended criticism of the same sort. The tribute to the memory of Sydney Smith is peculiarly grateful to us, as it is well deserved by its subject.

Of the other articles, the Life of Amos Lawrence is the most pleasing. The History of the Crimea is a valuable contribution to our stock of knowledge, at the present moment, when it will be read and remembered. Laurence Sterne, Victor Hugo, and Westward Ho, are able reviews.

KENDALL'S THERMOMETERS.—These thermometers have a high reputation among our most scientific men, for their entire accuracy.—making them the most reliable instruments to be had, for determining absolute and relative temperatures. We are therefore highly gratified by the presentation of one of them through Mr James F. Shores, jr. who has them for sale. See Advertisement.

SYRACUSE, 2d.—The fourth Anniversary of the Rescue of the Slave Jerry was celebrated in this city yesterday at Wieting Hall. Gerritt Smith presided. The hall was densely crowded with ladies and gentlemen.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Whig Convention of Massachusetts met at Worcester on Tuesday, and nominated Samuel H. Walley of Roxbury, for Governor, and Moses Davenport of Newburyport, for Lieut. Governor.

The committee on credentials reported 124 towns represented by 718 delegates, besides delegates from other towns without credentials.

The resolutions declare that the Whig party should now, more than ever, keep itself aloof from all entangling alliances; that they are now as ever the party of the constitution, and declare that the pending election is a State matter; they repudiate the personal liberty bill, and advocate its erasure before a collision ensues; they declare that the present liquor law is a failure, and go for a law which is constitutional, and will promote the cause of temperance; that the organization of a Northern national party on the single issue of opposition to slavrey would endanger the existence of the Union, and the defeat of it would paralyze the existence of Northern sentiment;—if a union of parties should ever become necessary, it must be a union of national patriots of all parties of the Union to resist the aggression of fanaticism.

We copy the 4th and 5th resolutions entire.

Resolved, That the statute known as the Personal Liberty law, passed by the Legislature in such an extraordinary manner, by fanatical and reckless majorities, without the Executive assent, and in defiance of the highest judicial authority, is an enactment disgraceful to a body of men sworn to support the Constitution, and should be erased from the Statute book, before collision with the federal authorities and bloodshed shall follow any attempt to carry its provisions into effect.

Resolved, That the Maine Liquor law, so called, was passed in the hope by the friends of temperance that it would suppress the deadly vice of drunkenness—that in this hope they have been bitterly disappointed; and after trying that measure fully, they have found that it increases the evils it was meant to obviate, lessens the attachment which all good citizens should have to law as a rule of conduct, and in its operations is harsh, vindictive, and opposed to the spirit of the Constitution; therefore we call upon all good citizens and friends of temperance to rescue this great cause from the machinations of self-seeking demagogues, and to unite for the enactment of a law upon this important subject which shall at the same time promote temperance, respect the natural and constitutional rights of the citizens, and which public sentiment shall co-operate in supporting.

SCOTT ON POPERY.—Respecting the Popish influence and tendency, Sir Walter Scott used the following comprehensive language.

"I have travelled in Popish countries, and have seen Popery too closely, to be friendly to its tenets. The bigotry of the laymen, the persevering arts of the Priesthood, their perpetual intrigue for the extension of the form, without the spirit of religion, the usurpation of that Church over the consciences of men, and her impious pretensions to infallibility are as inconsistent to my mind as they can seem to yours, with common sense, rational liberty, freedom of conscience and pure religion."

Nearly all Protestants will grant this to be true. It is to be hoped that it can in no degree be applied to any other than the Romish Church.

There is a report, that Salmon Falls, about eight miles by direct road above Saco, and one mile below Bar-Mills, the present terminus of the York & Cumberland Railroad, has been purchased by a Boston association for the purpose of establishing a Manufacturing Company, and thereby improve the immense water-power at that place. Salmon Falls is the greatest Fall at any one place on the river—92 feet in the course of three quarters of a mile, the stream coursing with railroad speed down a narrow gorge, between high and bold rock banks the entire distance. Building materials, excellent granite, and clay for brick abound in the immediate vicinity, and timber on the adjacent lands and in the river, at all times, suitable for frames, or to be sawed for dimensions of boards—Saco Democrat.

BALTIMORE, 2d.—The deaths from fever in Norfolk on Saturday were four. On Sunday seven, and three new cases.

The deaths in Portsmouth on Saturday were thirteen. On Sunday nine, with but few new cases.

Fifty less doctors and nurses from other places have returned home.

The wife and daughter of Judge Taney died on Monday.

SIZE OF THE RUSSIAN FLEET DESTROYED AT SEBASTOPOL.—According to the Courier des Etats Unis, the Russian fleet counted at Sebastopol, in the month of September, 1854, seventeen ships, five of 120 guns, the remainder of 84 guns; four frigates of 60 guns; four corvettes or brigs; twelve steamships; and eighty two ships of inferior rank; in all 108 ships, carrying 2200 guns. This colossal armament was destroyed by the Russians themselves, to prevent it from falling into the hands of their enemies.

LARGE ROBBERY OF GOLD.—his morning, Capt. Wainwright of the U. S. Army, obtained $1700 at the Sub-Treasury office, to pay off some soldiers under him. This gold he placed in a valise and deposited in the bottom of a wagon; he then told the driver, an Irishman, to go to various places and to meet him at the Tremont House, but when he got there it was found that the valise had been taken from the wagon by some dexterous thief, probably while the wagon was blocked up at the head of State street.—Boston Traveller.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Bronchitis, Whooping cough, Asthma and Consumption, it universally known as the best remedy ever yet discovered for every variety of Pulmonary disease. So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons whom the public may have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the Lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the dangerous and distressing affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate By its timely use many, nay almost all attacks of disease upon the Lungs or throat, are arrested and thus are saved many thousands every year, from a premature grave. No family should be without it, and those who do neglect to provide themselves with a remedy which wards off this dangerous class of diseases will have cause to deplore it when it is too late. Proofs of the surprising efficacy of the Cherry Pectoral need not be given to the American people.—they have living proofs in every neighborhood. But those who wish to read the statements of those whose whole health has been restored and whose lives have been saved by its use, will find them in my American Almanac, which the Agents below named have to furnish gratis for every one.

Kendall's Thermometers.

J. F. SHORES, JR, No. 1 Congress Block, has just received a full supply of KENDALL'S CELEBRATED THERMOMETERS, 8, 10 and 12 inches.

It is known to many scientific men in this country, that the late Thomas Kendall discovered a process, by which the graduation of the Thermometer scale may be made accurately to correspond with variations which unavoidably exist in the calibre of the tube; thus overcoming what has been considered the insurmountable obstacle to the construction of the perfect Thermometer.

Professors Silliman and Fisher, Yale College; Prof. Caswell of Brown University; Prof. Avery of Hamilton College, and other scientific men having examined this process, concur in saying that it is correct on mathematical and philosophical principles, and the only known way by which the difficulty referred to can be obviated.

These Thermometers are now made on this principle by John Kendall, and are offered to the public as the only ones to be relied upon for accuracy. o4

7 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF STEAMSHIP PACIFIC.

SANDY HOOK, Oct. 3.—The Steamship Pacific, from Liverpool Sept. 22, arrived last night.

Dispatches from Gen. Simpson, from the seat of war, has been received by the government, describing the assault and capture of the Malakoff.

Gen. Pelissier's dispatches had not arrived.

4000 cannons, 50,000 balls, and immense stores were taken possession of by the allies at Sebastopol.

The Czar Alexander, in a letter to the King of Prussia, says he will accept of no conditions of peace derogatory to Russia. The Czar, in company with the Grand Dukes, has signified his intention of proceeding to the Crimea.

The Turks still hold Kars, having repulsed the Russians on the 7th of August with considerable loss, the Russians retiring to Erzeroum.

No later news from the Baltic had been received.

The Emperor of Austria had congratulated Queen Victoria and Louis Napoleon on the success of the allies.

There were more rumors about Austrian negotiations. The latest were that Austria was willing to undertake the work of mediation at Vienna, and France at Paris.

At Paris there was considerable excitement in regard to the high prices of bread.

The King of Naples had sent apologies to England and France for recent insults.

LATEST NEWS.—London, Saturday morning. No later war news.

It is rumored that Baron Prokesp had arrived at Paris with an ultimatum from Austria, which if the Western Powers agree to, she proposes sending to Russia; if the latter Power declines to accept, Austria will declare war.

The allies were quiet and no new attack is announced, but it is considered almost certain that the Russians cannot hold their position on the North of Sebastopol, on account of the scarcity of provisions.

It is said that the Czar, on learning of the disaster at Sebastopol, sent a telegraphic despatch to the King of Prussia, saying that Russia never made peace after a defeat.

A despatch from the Crimea of the 11th ult., says the greater part of the southern fortifications left standing by Russians, have been blown up by the allies.

A report says, when the Russians saw the French were masters of the Malakoff, they blew up the Redan. All the towers were ruined; but they had not time to blow up the Malakoff.

It is rumored that Gortschakoff has received an order from St. Petersburg to evacuate the Crimea, on condition of being allowed by Marshal Pelissier to quit the North fort with arms and baggage.

Nothing new in the money market. Consols 90 a 90 1-2. Breadstuffs firm but inactive. Weather fine. Pork rather higher. Beef firm. Lard slightly advanced.

LIQUOR SEIZURE IN BOSTON.—The first seizure of liquor under the new Liquor Law that has occurred in this city, took place on Saturday evening last, when quite a quantity of the article was seized and taken to the City Storehouse, in Williams Court, by the Police. No resistance was made by the owner of the property. The liquor, which was Medford rum, now remains in the custody of the Police.—Transcript.

A VALUABLE LOAD.—A team was found in Broad street, Boston, Saturday night, in which was a variety of jugs, demijohns, &c., containing Medford rum and brandy, together with a barrel of lager beer, a lot of watermelons, &c. The whole was taken to Station 2.—Times.

WOBURN.—A few days since, an Irish woman, named Mary Mann, residing on Railroad street, East Woburn, Mass., was arraigned before Justice John Nelson, of Woburn, upon complaint of Thomas Mann, charged upon six or seven separate counts with violating the liquor law. As many sales were proved, the woman was sentenced to pay fines amounting to $80, and to be imprisoned in the House of Correction five months. The woman had been married but a week, and the case was the result of some family feud, the complainant being her husband's cousin.—Boston Times.

Two barrels of liquor were seized at the Great Falls and Conway Railroad depot, in Great Falls, under the new liquor law, on Saturday last. As the value of the same exceeds $13,33, it is beyond the jurisdiction of a justice of the peace, and the trial must be before a higher court.—Great Falls Jour.

Self-Feeding Hay Cutter.

WHITE'S Patent Selffeeding Hay Cutter stands unrivalled in several important particulars. The knives are so fixed as to be easily adjusted and sharpened. The power, by means of a balance wheel, is sufficient to carry the knives through hay or corn stalks, the thickness of 64 square inches, with a very rapid motion. A boy, 10 years of age, can operate it with ease. Attached to the machine is a Feeding Apparatus, which can be set so as to cut at equal distances of from 1-2 to 5 inches in length. One other advantage which this machine has over others in the market is, that corn stalks and like heavy fodder, can be cut with perfect ease. The manufacturer would assure the public that this is THE BEST MACHINE IN USE.

Numerous recommendations can be produced from those who have used it and satisfied themselves, frankly stating the superior advantages of this machine over all others in the market. But it is deemed sufficient to publish but a small portion of them—the machine is a sufficient recommendation in itself.

This certifies that we have used White's Patent Self-feeding Hay Cutter, and we do not hesitate to say that it is decidedly the best machine for that purpose we have ever seen. Its superiority over all others consists in the ease with which it is propelled, the great amount of feed it will cut in a given time, and the less liability of getting out of repair. (Signed)

To the Press.—We have been inserting for a few weeks two advertisements, one sent us by Le Brunn & Dufton, and the other by Dr. M. Weipan, of New York, under promise of pay whenever our bill should be presented. During our stay in New York, we learned that three blacker hearted villains never drew breath than these three, and that they have victimized the press to the tune of thousands, and others much more. Under assumed names, they have been receiving orders and cash for goods and counsel for a long time, yet no one ever could find them. Will the press generally help them into the notoriety they so much covet!—Athens Gazette.

Country editors should inform themselves of the reliability of strangers before publishing their advertisements. Misled themselves they mislead their readers, and the public get deceived. Any city acquaintance will cheerfully and promptly answer such questions as an editor at a distance may wish to ask.—Life Illustrated.

Failure of Crops in France.—We have received from a private source, intelligence of a most important character, in relation to the condition of the crops in France and England. It was communicated to us through a quarter entitled to the highest confidence, on the arrival of the last steamer from Europe. The intelligence to which we refer is that the Government of France are now, and have been for some time, aware of the fact, that the present crops in that country are enormously deficient, and that extraordinary importations from some quarter will be absolutely necessary. Extensive orders have therefore been sent to this country, and they are now being quietly executed as fast as freight can be obtained.—N Y Independent Sept 27.

Try it! Try it! Try it!

G. W. STONE'S

LIQUID CATHARTIC,

—AND—

Family Physic,

The most important discovery ever made in Medical Science, being a compound of Barks and Roots, which forms the most powerful, safe and agreeable Physic ever offered to the public.

THE necessity of such a Medicine has long been felt both by the heads of families and Physicians. Its advantages over cathartics given in the form of Pills or Powders, must be obvious to every intelligent person. It operates more immediately and effectually upon the system, and at the same time is infinitely less difficult to administer, being quite agreeable to the taste. It not only supplies all the effects where physic is required, but completely removes habitual Costiveness, leaving the bowels perfectly free. It expels all humors from the blood, is a certain cure for the Piles, regulates the action of the Liver, frees the Stomach from Bile, invigorates the whole Nervous System, and removes the cause of all local pains, such as

It may also be relied upon in all diseases of the Bowels; Dysentery, Diarrhea and Cholera Morbus yield at once to its magic influence. Again we repeat, TRY IT!—it needs no other recommendation. No family will be without it after they have properly tested its merits. Reader, if you have tried other remedies, without success, despair not—relief is now at hand. Are you suffering with Scrofula, six bottles of my Liquid Cathartic will cure you. Would you be relieved from habitual Costiveness?—three bottles will effect all that you desire. If you are afflicted with Rheumatic, Neuralgic, or other local pains, two bottles will free you from them. All humors will be eradicated from the blood by the use of from one to six bottles. In short, if you require a physic for any purpose, this is the most reliable, safe and agreeable to the taste that has ever been placed within the reach of the public.

PRICE $1.00.

HAYES'S MEDICINES.

Allied Ointment and Humor Syrup

will cure you just as sure as you use it. Take not our assertion for it, but the testimony of a thousand living witnesses. All it wants is a trial—it advertises itself. One bottle has sold a hundred in a single town. Reader, do you ask how you shall know these statements are facts, when there is so much humbuggery in advertisements? We will inform you: call on any of our agents, get a circular, select any name you please, address a time to that individual—they will speak—they are living witnesses. It will cost but a trifle, and must convince the most skeptical. We subjoin one from among the many:

Read the following, it speaks for itself:

Lawrence, June 12, 1854.

We the undersigned, citizens of Lawrence, having used the Vegetable Allied Ointment prepared by E. D. HAYES, of this city, and being personally acquainted with the inventor, feel pleasure in adding our testimony to all the doctor claims for his medicine. Unlike other remedies in the market, this preparation performs its office speedily and with certainty. The Ointment we have used with the most happy results—we cheerfully recommend it as the free use of Sarsaparilla, Salves, &c.

Our experience fully justifies us in confidently recommending it as the article, and the only one known to us, as performing all it claims.

A. S. BUNKER, A. STARNS,
S. I. THOMPSON, ASA T. SANBORN.

It cures Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Erysipelas, White Leprosy, Cancerous Humors, Ring Worm, Scald Head, Burns and Scalds, Chilblains, Piles, the preparation expressly for Barber's Itch, Fever Sores, and all old Memorial Sores, however long standing. It removes all those vexatious Pimples, Eruptions and Moth or Mildew from the face leaving the skin perfectly soft and smooth, adding greatly to the beauty of the complexion. In a word it will leave a mark or scar. It improves the sight wonderfully, where the eyes are troubled with humors, by removing the difficulty and restoring the sight.

Price of the Ointment, $1; Syrup 50 cents.

CHARLES H. KENT, General Agent for the United States and Canadas, Lawrence, Mass., to whom all orders should be addressed.

Just Published: A New Discovery in Medicine!

A FEW WORDS ON THE RATIONAL TREATMENT, without Medicine, of Nervous Debility, Low Spirits, Lassitude, Weakness of the Limbs and Back, Indigestion; and Incapacity for Study, Labor, Business, Nervousness, Loss of Memory, aversion to Society, Love of Solitude, Timidity, Self-Distrust, Dizziness, Head-Ache, Pains in the Side, Affection of the Eyes, Pimples on the Face, and other infirmities.

FROM THE FRENCH OF Dr. B. DE LANEY.

The important fact that these alarming complaints may easily be removed without Medicine, is, in this small tract clearly demonstrated; and the new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly, and at the least possible cost, avoiding thereby all the advertised nostrums of the day.

Opinions of the Press.

It is now universally acknowledged that the Pianos manufactured by Hallet, Davis & Co. are unrivalled in America, if in the world, for brilliancy or purity of tone.—Boston Daily Times.

An immense volume of sound can be educed by these Pianos without shattering the tones, as they send forth the most perfect, bell like notes, and we must confess that we have never listened to their equals for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and purity of action.—Boston Herald.

The Pianos of Hallet, Davis & Co. deserve more than a passing notice. They are truly splendid instruments, very powerful, and of the purest and richest quality of tone.—Boston Traveller.

In regard to purity of tone, power and sweetness, being fully equal to any instrument that has come under our observation.—Boston Courier.

Owing to the beautiful elasticity of the action of your Grand Piano Fortes, I think it would be impossible for any Pianist, who plays properly, to break either a string or a hammer.—Extract from a Letter from Wm. Mason.

The peculiar feature of Hallet, Davis & Co.'s instruments is, they make no noise. Nothing but pure tone is produced by the vibration of the strings; and the construction of the sounding board, and action are such that skilful pianists, after once testing their merits, dislike to use any other instrument in the Concert room.—Philadelphia Sunday Mercury.

I find them to be very superior instruments—as well in tone as in touch.—Extract of a Letter from L. M. Gottschalk.

I can unhesitatingly say that I find them superior in quality and quantity of tone, to those of other makers; also in the elasticity and easy touch; and can cheerfully recommend them to any one who wishes to own or play on the best Pianos.—Extract of a letter from Robert Heller.

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

THE Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the Public against the numerous Swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise, fraudulent Lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioner elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries, and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature of R. Barnum, General Agent of the Contractor, Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent. For full information on the subject of these frauds, address R. X. FAIR PLAY.

There have been statements and counter statements, about the State Fair at Manchester, as to its morals and order, especially on the subject of temperance. A correspondent of the Mirror says:

Never in the course of my life, have I seen so much open selling of liquor as I saw during the three days of the State Fair, in this city—and not only this, but an amount of gambling of every species was carried on with the most perfect impunity, the extent of which I never witnessed before, and hope to never again. It is true that the sale is now conducted with more secrecy than formerly, but to those who are initiated, (and it is to be regretted they comprise a majority of our voters,) there is no reservation.

But to this, the editor of the Mirror who opposes and professes to despise the law, replies in the following terms:

We cannot corroborate these statements, not having seen what would warrant any such conclusions. One thing we will state, let the credit belong where it may, that we never knew so quiet a State Fair in this State, either the two previous ones here, the one at Meredith Bridge, or the one at Keene. If much rum was sold, it was very quiet rum.—Since then we have not seen a drunken man in our streets, or a drop of liquor sold.—Doubtless liquor is sold, but it would be very difficult to find a man that would testify that he bought any.

If the reader will please to look carefully at the latter extract, he may see, with a few variations, something like a fair picture of our condition in this city. And if he will look at both the extracts, he will see a picture of the misrepresentations and exaggerations which go abroad among the newspapers, of the facts and even the legal decisions and action, in this place as well as others.

We have seen a dozen distinct misrepresentations and perversions of our well known alcohol case; one of which, about the clergymen's bonds, we corrected by Mr. Preston's request, and sent a marked copy of his note to the N. H. Patriot, one to the Eastern Argus, and one to the Boston Transcript, as each of these papers had published the error. The Transcript corrected the error forthwith; we have seen no correction in either of the others.

The Great Falls Journal of the 22d ult. said,

We think that it must be that the motive of the City Marshal in this case must have been contemptible. Of course he is an opponent of the law, or holds some petty malice against Mr Preston.

Somebody corrected this, and the next issue of the same paper says:

If the object of Mr Preston in selling the alcohol was to defy the friends of the law, &c.

* * * * * * *

But here is a thing to be considered. Justice Odell decided that the law forbids the sale of all medicines into which a tincture of alcohol enters.

We take a great deal of pleasure in contradicting these statements and insinuations.

To begin with the last. Justice Odell made no such decision. Mr Hatch, the County Solicitor, in presenting the case before the Police Court, expressed his opposition to the law, and gave it a construction something like the above quotation: but Justice Odell replied that in his view the construction was not correct, but too sweeping.

Then, we have no idea, knowing as we do all the parties, that there was any intention on the part of purchaser or seller to defy any body—nor that the city marshal entertained petty malice against any one. He certainly is not an opponent of the law; but endeavors to do his duties faithfully. The occurrences were all casual, and the parties taken at unawares. If the thing were to be done over again, it would be done differently.

As to the final decision of the case, the N. H. Gazette, 29th ult. says:

Thus is the famous liquor law practically nullified. The law is explicit in its terms, the Court interprets the statute according to its legitimate and obvious meaning, and a violation is clearly proved, yet the jury refuse to convict. Not a case under the law has been sustained in this County, and a vital blow is now struck at its provisions by allowing liquor to be freely given away. No attempt is made to enforce it in this community, and it becomes a practical nullity. Such is the effect of the temperance reform of the late legislature.

And in the same paper, in another article:

Thus we see in this city, where the Mayor issued a proclamation, declaring in advance, his intention to prosecute the law to the letter, it is daily openly and unblushingly violated. And yet the principal prosecution under the law has been that of an apothecary for selling one pint of alcohol for a sick lady, while the Marshal admits that twenty groggeries may be in full operation in this city. The inference is clear that the Know Nothing officials wish to evade the odium that attaches to the enforcement of their favorite statute. But the people will not be deceived by such hypocritical evasion. They know the party that made the law and the men who have essayed to enforce it, and these agents will find the tribunal of justice open on the 2d Tuesday of March next.

It is not for us to reconcile the two paragraphs with each other, nor either with itself.

In the first paragraph we read, No attempt is made to enforce;—in the second, we read of the men who have essayed to enforce.

The first paragraph begins by describing a law suit to enforce a law,—and ends by saying that no attempt is made to enforce it. Is not a law suit an attempt?

The second paragraph says in one sentence, that the officials wish to evade the odium of executing the law,—and in another that their principal prosecution has been of an apothecary,—which was certainly one exposing them to more odium than any other that could be named.

That the law is daily violated by some persons we are sorry to say is true—but this is not because our marshal and officers are unfaithful, but because the state of public morality is low. Three or four prosecutions have been made; but the tippling witnesses in some cases fled, and in others swore to falsehoods.

We are happy to say, however, that the more respectable portion of our traders have abandoned the sale; and that the degree of obedience which is paid to the law, is seen and acknowledged to have a good effect.

It is worthy of notice, as we close, that the juries, at our late court, not only refused to convict in the liquor case above referred to, but that they did not return a verdict of guilty in any case, except one for assault, and half in another. They cleared all, or else could not agree.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1855.

ELECTIONS.—Georgia has gone for the Democrats. Gov. Johnson is re-elected by about 3000 majority. There are probably three Americans and five Democrats elected to Congress.

KANSAS.—The one sided election in Kansas for delegate to Congress has resulted in an almost unanimous vote for Gen. Whitfield, the pro-slavery candidate. The opponents of Whitfield will have another election to choose Gov. Reeder.

Returns from three counties show a heavy vote for Whitfield. The Shawnee Indians supported the pro-slavery ticket. The entire vote of Johnson county was given for Whitfield. In Leavenworth county, Whitfield had 800 and Reeder 200. At Willow Springs 100 votes were polled, all for pro-slavery candidates. Gov. Shannon voted the pro-slavery ticket. There was no fighting or tumult at the polls, the free-soilers generally not voting.
